

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

Candles High in Paris. Candles have risen in price in France since the adoption of numerous measures respecting the consumption of gas, electricity and petroleum for illuminating purposes. Retail grocers throughout Paris generally now charge seven to eight cents for tallow candles that previously sold for three or four cents each. Small solid candles five inches long, which formerly retailed at two cents each, now cost the consumer six or seven cents.

BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP

Why take ordinary cough remedies when Boschee's German Syrup has been used for fifty-one years in all towns in the United States, Canada, Australia, and other countries, for coughs, bronchitis, colds settled in the throat, especially lung trouble. It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning, giving nature a chance to soothe the inflamed parts, throw off the disease, helping the patient to regain his health, assisted by pure air and sunshine when possible. Trial size 25c, and 75c family size. Sold in all towns in the United States, Canada, Australia, and other countries.—Adv.

Baseball in Sculpture. One of the attendants at an art gallery is a baseball enthusiast, a fact he generally manages to conceal there, though it did come out once. One afternoon a director came bustling into the room where this attendant was at the time and demanded: "How is it that Shakespeare's statue is standing on a pedestal marked Scott?" "Well, sir," answered the attendant, "he must have got his base on an error."

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You say to the drug store man. "Give me a small bottle of freezone." This will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, dries up and can be lifted off with the fingers. This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that freezone dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without irritating the surrounding skin. If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to order a small bottle from his wholesale drug house for you.—Adv.

Trying Her Hand. Patience—She spent two months at the seashore last summer, and not a man asked for her hand. Patrice—Rather disappointing? "Yes; but she's going to try her hand in Florida this winter."

Officials of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce appealed to Governor Whitman for a militia guard over the industrial plants at Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Tonawanda.

Shipping men at Newport News, Va., say 50 American muleteers were aboard the British steamer Esmeraldas, reported by Berlin to having been sunk by the German raider Moeve. The agents believe the men were among the 503 prisoners taken to Germany.

Unable longer to stand the "intolerable conditions" imposed by the German government on American relief work among destitute Belgians, the United States has withdrawn Brand Whitlock, the American minister, and the American relief workers from that stricken little country. The withdrawal was ordered by President Wilson himself.

The United States has formally denied Germany's request to modernize and extend the old Prussian-American treaties of 1799 and 1828. The state department at Washington has replied through Dr. Paul Ritter, Swiss minister, refusing to accept the protocol sent through him to this government.

The abdication of the German emperor is forecast by the former German magistrate who wrote the celebrated book "J'accuse" in an interview published at Paris in L'Oeuvre.

On orders of the federal government direct from the war department in Washington the Eighth company coast artillery of the Oregon National Guard was called into the United States service. The company immediately began preparations to entrain for a destination not yet made public.

The state department at Washington is trying its best to get full reports on the German propaganda in Mexico City, but so far has failed. More than 5,000 Germans are known to have entered Mexico recently.

Private John Poor of the Third company, Coast Artillery corps, died from a bullet wound received when he tried to halt two strangers detected near the 12-inch gun batteries at Fort Williams, near Portland, Me. Poor was the son of Robert O. Poor of Clarksdale, Ill.

Military guards were placed on the Spokane, Portland & Seattle (North Bank) railroad bridge connecting Portland and Vancouver, Wash., across the Columbia river, and the Oregon-Washington railroad and navigation bridge over the Willamette river at Portland.

Offers of mediation, to prevent actual war between the United States and Germany, are expected at Washington among the next developments. Administration officials heard that a European neutral was contemplating such a plan, and they frankly regarded it as another effort, backed by Germany, to divide sentiment in congress and embarrass the president. It was declared authoritatively that no proposals of mediation or for discussion will be considered unless Germany first abandons the campaign of ruthlessness.

Albert O. Sander, and Charles W. Wunnenberg, who pleaded guilty at New York to conducting a military enterprise in this country against Great Britain, were sentenced to serve two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta and to pay fines of $2,500 each.

A special examination on June 27 of candidates for admission to the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., as midshipmen has been ordered by the navy department. The extra examination is due to the national crisis.

With the entire nation preparing for any eventuality, New England has taken the lead in voluntary work in the cause of national defense. States and individuals contributed money and services.

Domestic

J. M. Studobaker, Sr., of South Bend, Ind., left an estate valued at more than $1,000,000. This became known when his last will and testament was filed for probate with the St. Joseph circuit court. He provided handsomely for Trinity Presbyterian church.

The Iowa state senate at Des Moines by unanimous vote adopted a concurrent resolution by Senator Frayle calling upon Iowa senators and congressmen to at once pass a bill for general military training.

Between twenty-five and fifty persons were killed and 100 or more were injured by a storm which swept over New Albany, Ind., demolishing scores of residences and several industrial plants. The property damage is estimated at $2,000,000. Twenty-five bodies were recovered.

The submarine N-5, built by the Lake Torpedo Boat company, was launched at Bridgeport, Conn. Military guards excluded from the premises all but employees of the company.

European War News

Another important advance has been made by the French in their movement against the strongly defended town of St. Quentin, the Paris war office reported that the position embracing Castres and Essigny-le-Grand, extending over a front of about two and a half miles, has been taken.

An additional list of vessels, 24 in number (110,000 tons), attacked by the German auxiliary cruiser Moeve, which recently returned to Germany from a second cruise in the Atlantic, was issued by the admiralty at Berlin.

From internal troubles and the problems of reconstruction the attention of Russia has suddenly been diverted to a new danger, which threatens from without. There now is indisputable evidence, says a Petrograd dispatch, that the Germans are massing great numbers of troops along the northern front ready for an effort against Russia's capital.

The French government has charged its representatives in all neutral countries to protest against "acts of barbarism and devastation on the part of Germans" in territory evacuated by them in northern France.

Heavy losses were inflicted by the Germans upon French troops who had crossed the Somme-Croizat canal in the vicinity of St. Simon, army headquarters in Germany announced. The French were repulsed and 230 prisoners and several machine guns were taken.

The Petrograd war office announced that after a Turkish army had been beaten in a 16-hour battle outside of Kerind the Turks had retreated to the vicinity of Kurind.

The French forces operating to the northeast of the St. Quentin canal have pushed back the Germans between one and a quarter and two and a half miles, and also have gained additional ground on the heights northeast of Tergnier, overlooking the Oise valley, according to the French official communication issued at Paris.

The German auxiliary cruiser Moeve has returned to a home port of the navy from a second cruise in the Atlantic ocean, it was announced by the German admiralty at Berlin. The Moeve, according to the statement, captured 22 steamships and five sailing ships, aggregating 123,100 tons, gross.

Premier David Lloyd George telegraphed from London, England, to the Russian premier saying he believed the revolution in Russia was the greatest service the Russians had yet rendered to the allied cause.

A British official communication issued at London says that for the week ending March 18 sixteen British ships were sunk and eight of a tonnage under 1,000 tons. Twenty-one fishing vessels also were sunk.

Germany has started a new and elaborate recruiting campaign in Poland. Under the new scheme 17 main recruiting offices, 74 district offices and 400 local bureaus have been opened.

British troops made further progress in the region of Croisilles and Ecoust, southwest of Arras, says a London dispatch.

Foreign

"If peace negotiations were begun," says the Journal de Geneve of Switzerland, which does not reveal the source of its information, but declares it is absolutely reliable, "Germany would offer to restore the territory she occupies in France, except in the mining district of Briey, in exchange for a channel port, Calais or Dunkirk, and an indemnity of 15,000,000,000 francs."

The German emperor and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg have been denounced in the reichstag at Berlin by the socialist Deputy Kunert as the originators of the war. The incident occurred during a debate on the public health estimate.

Emperor William is on the verge of a nervous collapse, it was stated in private dispatches to The Hague from Berlin. It is said that the kaiser has gone to Hamburg to take the cure.

Two hundred adherents and counters of the former emperor are under arrest at Tsarskoe-Selo, Russia.

King Alfonso of Spain will sign a decree at Madrid for the insuring of the safety of Spanish maritime commerce. The measure adopted will be in accordance with the procedure followed by other foreign countries.

Grand Duke Nicholas is on the way to Petrograd. The former emperor of Russia, Nicholas Romanoff, and the czarina have arrived at the Tsarskoe-Selo palace, where they are to be imprisoned, says a Reuter dispatch to London from Petrograd.

THE COLD LAND OF FIRE

MOUNT DARMIN

T IERRA DEL FUELO (Land of Ice) they should have named it, those old Spanish navigators who were the first Europeans to see that cold southland. Perhaps they would have called it that had not the Yagans had the habit of communicating with one another by means of signal fires.

We can imagine what a stir was created among the aboriginal inhabitants of the Fuenjiang archipelago when they first beheld a full-rigged ship with its great white sails gliding into their horizon from realms they knew not of, says Edward Albes in the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union.

The first to see it doubtless grew alarmed. They hastened to build a fire on some high point to signal others of their kind. There was hurrying and scurrying toward the seashore—other signal fires were kindled—from point to point the news was flashed by fires at night and smoke by day—an important thing had happened; and fire was the wireless telegraphy of the Fuenjiangs. Yagans signaled to Yagans; the Onas saw the fires and they, too, became alarmed and started their fires. They were farther inland, were hunters, and roamed the forests and grass-covered prairies and were many. Even the other canoe Indians, the Alaculofs, doubtless saw the fires and wondered what could the matter be. To the navigating Spaniards these pyrotechnics were also a source of wonder. The whole land seemed to be dotted with blazing fires, so "Tierra del Fuego" seemed to them a most appropriate name—and "Land of Fire" it has been since in every tongue of the civilized world, notwithstanding that it is preeminently the reverse.

Cold, But Beautiful. Cold—but in parts beautiful beyond comparison. Naturally one's opinion of a city or section of country visited is often colored by his first impressions. These impressions in the case of the writer may have been unusually favorable, owing perhaps to the season of the year and the exceptionally fine weather when he viewed this out-of-the-way corner of the world. At any rate, he will never forget the scenic wonders encountered on a trip through the Strait of Magellan, and especially of that section of the Fuenjiang archipelago which borders on Magdalen sound, an arm of the strait which stretches almost directly south from the elbow formed by Cape Horn, the southernmost tip of the South American mainland.

ISLAND IN THE RIO LOPEZ

It was during the first days of April—early autumn in the southern regions of South America—when we steamed into the Strait of Magellan at its Pacific end. We were en route to Punta Arenas, and the captain of the vessel had kindly consented to give us a near view of famed Mount Sarmiento, which meant a detour of some seventy miles down into Magdalen sound. It is just where the sound and Cocksburn channel meet at almost a right angle that this ice-clad eminence known as the "Mountain King of the Southernmost Andes" dominates a scene of marvelous beauty.

We had passed between Clarence island on the western and Dawson island on the eastern side of the sound when we finally floated into what appeared to be a landlocked bay. All about us were cliffs and crags and snow-covered peaks and there, just at the southeast corner of the bay, standing like a glistening monument whose cap was hidden in the circling wreaths of vapor and of cloud, we saw Sarmiento.

Magnificence of Sarmiento. The vessel's engines were stopped, and we drifted close to the foot of the prairie sections, as after leaving Punta Arenas we steamed through the second and first narrows within pistol shot of the land. This section of the island, while less picturesque than that contiguous to Magdalen sound, is of much greater utility, for it is here that the large sheep ranches are to be found. Scanty Resources of Archipelago. The physical environment of a race of people has much to do with its development, mentally as well as physically, in the course of centuries of existence. Climate, character of the land, resources offered in the matter of food, shelter, etc., all are important factors which either retard or hasten the development of the intellect and often modify even the structure of the body. Bearing this in mind, it is not at all astonishing that the Fuenjiang tribes had reached but a comparatively low stage in the process of their evolution. Especially is this true of the Yagans and the Alaculofs. The islands of the archipelago in which they had lived for many generations offered but scanty resources, while the climate was certainly far from ideal. These islands are for the most part the tops of mountains that project above the surface of the sea. According to one writer: "As one sails among them the idea that here is a mountain chain that at some time long past was suddenly submerged in the sea is irresistible. For miles and leagues one may coast along without finding a beach wide enough to furnish a foothold, not to mention a place for hauling up a rowl. That the mountain is as precipitous below the water as it is above is easily proved, for soundings with the deep-sea lead line often given 60 to 100 fathoms within 100 feet of the shore line."

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Farmers of Chippewa county are considering the purchase of a grist mill in Sault Ste. Marie.

Knights of Pythias of northern Michigan will have a jollification and field day meet in Traverse City, May 4.

The Union Telephone Co., which recently voted to increase its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, has decided to rebuild its plants at Corunna, Mt. Pleasant, Alma and Lakeview. The cable system will be used. The company has just completed the rebuilding of its system at Owosso.

For the third time in as many years Livingston county has been the first to return the state taxes to the state. E. N. Braley, county treasurer, has received a letter from Auditor General Fuller congratulating him. Wm. Peavey, Howell township treasurer, collected every cent of the taxes assessed against his township.

M. A. C. students who take their meals at the college's boarding clubs in East Lansing were fed during the last three months at a cost of slightly less than 15 cents a meal, notwithstanding the havoc which the high cost of living has wrought. These low rates were achieved practically without stinting students in any direction, though an experiment of substituting rice for potatoes several times a week in one of the women's clubs has been successful.

The engineering faculty of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor has petitioned the regents to tender to the government all the facilities of the different colleges and schools of the U. of M. in case of war. The chemistry department of the engineering college could, under the proposed plan be used as a source of supply of materials needed for explosives, the engineering college could turn out ammunition on whatever scale is adaptable to it, and other schools and colleges could contribute also. All branches of the university could, according to the engineering faculty, contribute in some direct way for the benefit of the country.

Home and school gardens will be undertaken this summer by pupils of the Escanaba schools. In view of the threatening war situation, a movement was launched for a strenuous membership campaign for the Saginaw Red Cross throughout the city and county. It is expected to secure 2,500 or more members.

Joseph H. Meade, a well-known farmer of Kalamazoo county, who believed himself the nephew and sole heir to the estate of the late James G. Long, and who was given the estate, must relinquish every cent of it. The bulk of the estate goes to Wallace L. Long, an inmate of the Michigan Soldiers' Home, Grand Rapids, and the rest to two half sisters. James G. Long was the son of Luman Long, who married five times. The many relationships growing out of these marriages were responsible for Meade's belief that he was a nephew of the son. The estate amounted to about $10,000.

A motor company at Saginaw has signed a contract with a Toronto concern for a quarter of a million dollars' worth of engines for tractors.

Charles Derocier, a farmer near Escanaba, has brought suit against the Western Union Telegraph Co. for $5,000. He asks damages for mental anguish caused by the delay of a message announcing the death of his father at Champion, Mich. He alleges that an extra $4 was paid for delivery charges to him in the country. The message was not delivered until after his father was buried.

"CASCRET'S" FOR SLUGGISH BOWELS

No sick headache, sour stomach, biliousness or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning. They work, while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken. Adv.

Wolfe's Sash to a Museum. A new and valued addition has just been made to the museum of the Chateau de Ramezay. It consists of a cabinet containing a portion of the garment silk sash worn by Gen. James Wolfe on the day he became the "Victor of Quebec" in 1759. In addition to the sash are the original letters that prove unmistakably the authenticity of the relic.—Montreal Star.

KIDNEY REMEDY WORTHY OF PRAISE

I am pleased to testify to the merits of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which I had occasion to use for bladder trouble, which my physician was unable to relieve. Four fifty-cent bottles of your remedy effected a complete cure.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF • HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girl! Try This! Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Adv.

It is far better to have your neighbor owe you an apology than money.
