PEACEMAKERS OF WORLD IN ACTION.

Pictures of Men and Scenes Connected With Great Conference Will Be Found In This Issue of The Expressor.

The Expressor presents this week some very interesting pictures of scenes and persons connected with the great peace conference that is just now beginning work in France. They will be found on another page.

The opening of the peace conference is an epoch-making event, the importance of which will be recognized even more clearly in the future years than it is at the present time. The Expressor obtained these pictures because it recognizes the great interest its readers have in this event and in the world leaders who will remake the map of Europe and endeavor to establish a permanent peace.

President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau of France and Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain undoubtedly will be the dominant figures in the peace congress. They will exercise the power that in former peace congresses was wielded by emperors. Policies which these three men agree upon doubtless will be embodied in the final peace treaties.

The pictures of the Versailles palace are of particular interest because of the history that already has been made within its halls. It was here that French autocracy received its death blow more than a hundred years ago, and it was here that William of Prussia was proclaimed emperor of the newly formed German empire after the defeat of the French in 1871. It is in these same halls that the final sessions of this greatest of peace congresses will be held.

Red Cross Nurses

A most urgent request has come from the Government that the Red Cross take up the work immediately of the registration of nurses; nurses aids, practical nurses, and mid-wives.

In accordance with the request, registration will be held in Red Cross rooms, over First National Bank, this city, Saturday afternoon, from 1:30 to 5:00 o'clock. Attendants will be on hand to look after the registrants.

We do not want one practical nurse to escape registration. In view of the health conditions of the country at the present time, and of the future, this is very necessary.

Letters From and Items Concerning Yale Boys Who are in the Service of Their Country

Come, Isle of Wight, Eng. December 23, 1918

Dear Father, Mother and Will:— How are all you people? Hope it is not too cold back home. It seems as if it is warmer here. We went without our overcoats all day Xmas.

I will try and tell you what happened Xmas. We had two days leave and went to London Tuesday. It is about 100 miles from here. We went out in the afternoon to look the city over. There were quite a number of most interesting things and sights to see. I saw the King's palace, and all the parliament buildings, the old castles and also a couple of German subs—there is a captured sub at anchor within a few hundred feet of our ship. They are real funny to look at. Also saw the King's Guards.

It seems as though the people were quite good to the U. S. sailors sometimes. We could hardly move Tuesday night, as the women and girls would grab hold of us and tell us "President Wilson is coming tomorrow" and some would say, "your Uncle Sammie will soon be here." They had miles of decorations up, all kinds of flags—Old Glory and the rest of the Allies. Xmas dinner free at Y.M.C.A.

In the afternoon a Y. M. C. A. hostess stopped us and said she had a place to send us where we would be out of mischief. She took myself and another Jack to the "Y" and turned us over to a young man and his sister. Believe me, I did not want to go, but there was no balking. They were wealthy people from an old ancestral family. Their home would nearly cover one of our city blocks. It was out in the St. George Court. When we first went in we were introduced to their mother and two sisters. We both felt like running, but we stuck it out.

The house was full of curious paintings and old-fashioned furniture. It was like walking on air cushions to step on the rugs.

We had tea at five o'clock and then enjoyed a few games until supper, at seven o'clock. Had everything anyone could think of to eat—candy, nuts and all kinds of dainties, but it was not like home. They made us tell all we knew about the U. S. Then some more games and a visit until we left at 12 o'clock.

I have been called to go to work, so will mail this letter now.
Your loving sailor boy,
Carl Bidlemu

Albert Monerey has returned from overseas and is spending the week in Yale with his mother and many friends. Albert spent about four months in France but did not get into action. Nevertheless he has some very interesting experiences to relate and enjoyed the trip immensely. He will go to Detroit Saturday to accept his old position.

Henry P. Ohmer received a letter Wednesday from his son Henry, who has been in active service in France for about a year. The letter was written Dec. 22, 1918, and states that his company was anxiously awaiting transportation home, and he expected to reach the good old U. S. A. some time in January.

Annual Meeting.

The stockholders of the Yale Milling Company, with the exception of Mrs. Ira Bricker of Bay City, who was unable to be present, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McGill on Wednesday evening of this week.

An elaborate turkey dinner was served at 6:30 which was heartily enjoyed, after which a social time was passed and then the annual business was taken up. The same officers were re-elected as follows:—President, James McGill; Vice-president, T. U. Wharton, Sec-treas. and Manager, W. F. Ruh.

Minnie's Cash Market

Yale has two meat markets that our people should be mighty proud of and we think they are. Both shops are kept neat and sanitary and carry at all times a full assortment of everything in their line.

The youngest of these two institutions is Minnie's Cash Market, and it is the main changes which Mr. Minnie has made in his market during the past few weeks that we wish to call your attention to.

One of the things Mr. Minnie had been trying to figure was how he was going to make room to accommodate his growing business, and he finally solved the problem. To the rear of the building stood a shed which has been thoroughly overhauled and fitted up as a workroom. A cement floor has been laid therein, benches built and the room made as sanitary and handy as possible.

Many changes have been made in the front shop. The old partition has been taken down and a much larger ice box installed. At the north side of the room, to the front is a fine "silent salesman" counter, and then comes the meat counter and blocks. Along the south side of the room shelving has been built, and here the Market will display its full line of canned goods. The interior has been given a coat of white paint which certainly gives it a neat appearance.

The general proprietor, T. J. Minnie, invites the public to call and see the new shop.

Women Must Register to Vote

The Spring Primaries will be held March 5th, at which time the following State candidates will be nominated:— 2 Regents of the State University, 1 Supt. of Public Instruction, 1 Member State Board of Education, 2 Board of Agriculture Members, 1 State Highway Commissioner.

In addition to these there are numerous county, township and city officials in their respective localities. These nominees will compose the candidates for Republican, Democratic and Socialist tickets.

If a woman voter desires to name a candidate at the primaries she must be registered before Feb. 11th. It is just as important to vote at the primaries as at the general election, for if desirable candidates are not selected at the primaries, it is too late to do much in the way of effecting a change.

After the primaries there will still be time to register in order to vote at the general election April 7, but every man and woman should feel it a duty to vote at the primaries March 5th and help name the best men possible for the offices they are to fill.

WHERE TO REGISTER

In cities go to the city clerk; in townships go to the clerk. You cannot vote unless you are registered, and you must have registered since Dec. 5, 1918.

Old registrations such as were formerly made by women are void under the new Constitutional Amendment granting the full suffrage to women.

"Victory Liberty Loan"

Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass has officially announced from Washington that the name of the next (Fifth) war loan will be the "Victory Liberty Loan."

Originally it had been planned to call the next issue the "Fifth Liberty Loan, Victory Issue," but Secretary Glass, after giving the matter due consideration, finally brought forth the happy combination—

"Victory Liberty Loan."

So "Victory Liberty Loan" it is, and it is believed that every worker will be inspired with renewed zeal to back it up to a victorious finish, and every consistent American patriot with the determination either to start saving or continue to save in order to acquire "Victory Liberty" bonds when they are offered next spring, and thus contribute to two patriotic ends, viz:

(1) Bring the victors home.

(2) Finish the job.

The honor flag of the "Victory Liberty Loan" will bear a blue "V" on a white field, surrounded by a red border, the "V" denoting both "victory" (Fifth Loan) and "victory."
