ROTTEN TRAIN SERVICE

STARTING MONDAY THE PERE MARQUETTE CUTS OUT ONE TRAIN A DAY EACH WAY. --WILL PUBLIC STAND FOR IT!

The following information has been received at this office:--

"New schedules will go into effect on the Pere Marquette Railway beginning Sunday, March 5. Certain trains are withdrawn and in some cases the service is radically changed.

"On the Port Huron-Saginaw line the service will consist of one train each way. Train No. 2 will leave Saginaw at 7:10 a. m., and arrive in Port Huron 10:30 a. m., and train No. 27 leaves Port Huron at 1:05, and arrives Saginaw 4:20 p. m. Service week days only."

In other words, in order to get to Port Huron and do any business one must either get the bus—some in less than three hours, or they will have to stay there until next day. Nearly as good service as in the good old days when the ox teams made the trip.

This radical change will cause consternation in Yale and all points on the Saginaw division. It is expected that a strong petition will go to the officials protesting the withdrawal of the second train each way daily, which is an absolute necessity to the convenience and welfare of the travelling public.

Millersburg In Storm

Millersburg, Feb. 25, 1922

Friend Jas.:— Just a few lines. Don't know when you will get this letter for we have not had a train here since Tuesday morning, and it will be Sunday before they can get thru. The snow is from one foot to ten feet deep. There is six feet of snow in my back yard and around the house and barn.

I see Warren Roadway every day. He is getting along fine and has a farm near here.

Remember me to the boys. Find enclosed $2.00 for Expositor. Very truly yours, Charles Welch.

Made Firm Member

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of The Ballentine Dry Goods Co., Edison E. Palmer, who has been with the firm 23 years and who has recently acquired stock in the company, was made a director and vice-president of corporation. Ed is a Yale boy, is the son of Wm. H. Palmer, and a graduate of our High School. It is with a great deal of satisfaction that the Expositor learns of our boys going out and winning in their chosen vocations.

STOCK SWINDLE VICTIMS OF ROMEO TESTIFY

Ellis Goldberg, 26 years old, who is alleged to have milked Macomb county residents out of $80,000 through the sale of alleged worthless film company stock, was arraigned Tuesday afternoon of last week before Judge Swan on the charge of selling stock which had not met with the approval of the Michigan securities commission.

Alleging that they had been defrauded of $8,000 through the sale of worthless stock, Mrs. Kate M. Loud and her daughter Flora, both of Romeo, took the stand Saturday against Goldberg in Justice Swan's court.

Goldberg had explained why the stock was not listed on the regular exchanges, they testified by declaring that the securities were so closely held and traded in so seldom that listing was impossible.

When they met Goldberg in Jan. 1921, they said, he represented a Detroit brokerage company and sold them stock in the Invader Oil company. This transaction is not under investigation.

Later, however, both witnesses stated, he represented himself as a field agent of the Detroit company and persuaded them to exchange their Invader stock for Capitol Film stock of Indianapolis. This was the stock which the state alleges was unapproved and practically worthless.

Justice Swan overruled a motion made by Attorney Ricks for the defendant to bar testimony by Albert A. Town, representative of the state securities commission. Ricks contended that this testimony should be in the form of a properly attested certificate under the seal of the commission.

Examination was adjourned until Wednesday. Goldberg is held without bail.

YALE IS FORTUNATE

The fates were kind indeed to residents of Yale and vicinity when we escaped the severe storms experienced in the Thumb district and throughout all Northern Michigan from Tuesday night to Friday of last week.

Heavy winds rushing to gales, rain turning to freezing sleet and ice, snow in great drifts all became a menace to business life of the whole region. Shade trees which became mutilated by their iced branches breaking, fell cluttering the streets. Fruit trees will likely bear no fruit this season.

Telephone and telegraph poles were down by the thousands of miles. Electric light and power plants were cut off and towns and cities were in darkness and isolated from the outer worlds. While the upper part of the lower peninsula were fighting ice, the upper peninsula lay buried under a heavy snow fall.

We say again that we were fortunate indeed to escape so heavy a toll. Just a disagreeable windy day and night with a little rain and a light coating of ice was our portion.

Two St. Clair county men are among the beneficiaries of a $500,000 estate left by their grandfather, Capt. J. W. Steinhoff, who died recently at his home in Wallaceburg, Ont.

Orville Bachus, 409 Grand River, a well-known Port Huron barber, a grandson of the former Great Lakes captain, is to receive $2,000. His brother, the Rev. Edward Bachus, pastor of the Methodist church at Goodells, was bequeathed half that amount.

The brothers are only two of a large number of relatives of the deceased who were remembered in the will. In addition to leaving from $1,000 to $10,000 to all his relatives the captain left bequests to a number of churches and charitable institutions.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB

About thirty-five members of the Music Study club were delighted with the program given them on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. F. Fead, when Miss Marjorie Browne, pianist, and Miss Fish, soloist, of Port Huron, entertained with a charming selection of group numbers.

Miss Browne is an excellent pianist with splendid training. Music is in her finger tips and she seems to make the piano talk.

Miss Fish is gifted with a wonderful voice and her selections were made with reference to the home rather than a concert hall to which her voice is so capably adapted. Her tones are sweet and clear and she sings with much feeling.

The Music Club were fortunate indeed in securing Miss Browne and Miss Fish for a recital.

On account of illness, Mrs. Maeker, the speaker from Detroit who was expected to be here, was unable to be present.

After the program a dainty buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, Mrs. E. H. Smith pouring tea and Mrs. W. G. Wight coffee.

The club will meet with Leona Holcomb on Monday evening next for election of officers and the Music Memory selections.

FORD SEDAN VOTED FOR COUNTY NURSE

Purchase of a Ford sedan for Miss Florence Murphy, St. Clair County nurse, to enable her to visit the schools more easily has been decided upon by the health committee, C. J. Rathburn, chairman, announced Monday.

Miss Murphy will visit every school in the county to examine the children who are thought by the teachers to need attention. She will recommend such medical attention as she finds is required.

The board is also considering hiring some physician who lives near the county infirmary to attend patients there, Mr. Rathburn said. Dr. T. H. Cooper, acting county physician, is unable to visit the infirmary more than once a week, Mr. Rathburn explained.

SACRED CONCERT AND ORGAN RECITAL

A Sacred Concert and Organ Recital will be given in the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening March 7th, at 8:00 o'clock, by the First Baptist Church Choir, of Port Huron, George McComb, director, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church choir. Admission, 35c.

Mr. McComb is a talented director, with a very strong choir. The occasion will be a musical treat.

EASTERN STAR PLAY

This Biblical drama given by local Star members on Friday evening last, in the Auditorium, drew a big audience, perhaps the largest ever attending a play by local talent in this city, and that is saying something as they all are liberally patronized and certainly well deserving of the highest success they can attain.

Not much more than four weeks ago Yale Chapter discussed the question of staging a play.

The matter was definitely decided in the affirmative and plans were enthusiastically made and work was begun on the committees, on the play already in mind, and on the cast of characters and in three weeks "The Dream of Esther" was produced, to the entire satisfaction and delight of the audience, and we feel we are not saying too much when we say that the promoters themselves, the artists themselves and all connected have that satisfied feeling that goes with a thing they know has been well done.

As the Expositor has already published the synopsis of the play the cast of characters and the sort of play it is, and everybody witnessed it anyway, we see no special need of going into details or of particularizing each character. The scenery was realistic and well adapted to the olden times. The costumes were copies of the Biblical robes as near as might be and the characters were splendidly represented by the various ones chosen to take the parts.

The drama was lightened by a group of Jewish children in drill and merry song on the house top, and also by eight Rose maidens with their rose wreaths, in graceful step singing the Rose song with Kazma.

An orchestra gave an abundance of excellent music before the curtain rose and between acts, and the Star play, with an all-star cast and all-star action, was over.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

Mrs. N. B. Herbert has two family birthdays in the month of February, but they happen to fall on the same date, so one celebration does for both. The fortunate ones are Mr. Herbert and daughter Katherine, and the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herbert from Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tappan, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Parmlee and Miss Mabel Herbert, from Port Huron, who came on Saturday for a week-end house party.

Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sheehy became twelve years of age on Tuesday, and her birthday was remembered with a wonderful six o'clock dinner and fourteen playmates invited to share the goodies. A pleasant time was had and many little gifts were left for Margaret.

About twenty-five friends and neighbors surprised Harvey Middleton at his new home Tuesday night the occasion being his birthday. The evening was spent in music and games after which a delicious supper was served. A most enjoyable time is reported by all present. On leaving for their homes the guests wished Harvey many happy returns of the day.

BIG CROWD SEES THE OPENING PLAY

Last evening the doors of the New Princess were thrown open to the public and one of the largest crowds ever attending a movie show in Yale was present.

The attraction was a screen production of Mark Twain's best book, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," and from the start to the finish the crowd was kept guessing what was coming next, and laughing at what had just happened. The hero in a dream goes back to the days of King Arthur and for the time being made things interesting for the aforesaid King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table. It will pay you to see this play before the closing show which is to be Friday evening.

Yale now has a neat little movie house, and with the class of shows the management is putting on, the place should become the center of attraction for theatre goers.

It is rumored that the Roseburg Creamery will be opened shortly.

Melvin was sure some busy last Saturday. The town had a fox chase, a coon chase and a street race.

Mrs. Christine McDonald died at her home in Bad Axe last week a few days following her 102nd birthday.

Ira J. Heath, aged 69 years, a citizen and pioneer business man of Richmond for nearly 50 years, died last week.

Clifford Wright is the name of the Sandusky man who claims to have seen the first robin of the season, on February 23rd.

Frank Cowan, a resident of Port Huron for many years, was killed last week when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile.

Chicken thieves are busy in St. Clair, and the state police say, in view of the many outrages, that they will take a hand in arrests, if need be.

An epidemic of small-pox in Sandusky has caused the calling of Dr. Marsden, inspector from the state department of health, to look into the matter.

Sidney Finch, a young man of 25 years, died at the farm home of Joseph Miller, near Harbor Beach last week, supposedly from poisonous liquor. The prosecutor is making an investigation.

It is hoped that daily train service on the Almont division of the Pere Marquette, will soon be restored, as a result of a conference in Detroit with E. E. Cain, general superintendent of the road, who promised he would recommend such service to the road president.

Miss Ida McLeod, formerly a resident of Melvin and vicinity, but for the past few years an employee of the Dawson-Benedict Abstract Co., at Sandusky, the first candidate and the first candidate to announce that she is going after the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds of Sanilac county, at the primaries, Sept. 12. She is well qualified for the position. There will be other candidates, it is predicted.

Steven Kotzian, a well known resident of Allenton, had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident, while he was driving his car on a steep hill south of Imlay City one day last week. The road was coated with ice and the car, unable to reach the top slid back down the hill and smashed into a heavily loaded motor truck.

Mr. Kotzian's car was turned completely around and two tires cut from the wheels, but otherwise undamaged. The driver escaped injury.

Clare Holmes, who for the past few months has had complete charge of the Marathon lumber yards, at Memphis, of which his father, E. Holmes, is proprietor, will resign as manager of this enterprise, and will launch out in a wholesale builders' supply business with J. Rice Whiting as partner. The business will be under the firm name of Whiting & Holmes Company, and will be opened in March in Port Huron. With the resignation of Mr. Holmes, Edward Klanka will resume his old position, in which capacity he served three years.

Wednesday's election was a real success so far as getting out the vote was concerned, as 572 of Yale's electors turned out at the primaries and registered their preference as to who should handle city affairs for the coming year.

For Mayor Chas. W. Jacobs, the present incumbent received 435 votes, while William V. Andreae got only 131.

The race for city clerkship was the closest contest, Mrs. Mary Beadle winning over J. H. Moore, receiving 298 votes to Mr. Moore's 265.

For city treasurer John Bright received a majority of 139 votes over Geo. McIntyre, the count standing 340 to 211.

WILL APPEAL CASE

It took a police court jury 20 minutes Tuesday afternoon of last week to find James Copeland Capac blacksmith, guilty of assault and battery against William Schoeman, of Capac.

A fine of $25 and $36 costs was imposed. Copeland was going to appeal the case.

Copeland's defense was that he was justified in "whipping" Schoeman, because the man had stolen a quart of whiskey from him. Jas. Benedict appeared for the defendant.

The assault took place in Copeland's blacksmith shop in Capac on Feb. 9. The defense maintained the affair was more of a sound "spanking" than anything else. Copeland was assisted in the "punishment" he said by his partner, Ray Genaw, who will be tried later on the same charge.

For some hitherto unexplained reason the inhabitants of Capac were greatly aroused by the punishment received by their fellow townsman, Mr. Schoeman. They turned out in large numbers at the trial. It was quite evident they expected Copeland would be found guilty.
