CAR POLL R A YEAR

OLDEN TIME

Twenty-one Years ago this Week in Aberdeen and Brown

County.

From the Files of the Kepublican.

caught an antelope in a bear trap a ope afive and well and it is as tame as a calf. It eats hay with the rest of the stock, and seems entirely satisfied and domesticated. They have set the trap again.

"The James River Navigation Company", says the Columbia Sentinel "has ordered a passenger boat with a capacity for carrying forty passengers runs seventeen miles a minuteor an hour we forget which-and only draws eighteen inches of water" If that boat didn't "draw" so much it might run over a heavy Dakota dew, The Navigation Company will also run a steam tug to tow wheat barges up and down the river(?) thus securing cheap transportation.

There appeared the full text of the bill providing for the division of Brown into four countys. Two ranges 66 and 67, were to be taken from Edmunds and Mc. Pherson counties, and range 59 was to be added on the east side. Brown was to be divided into four equal parts. The two counties on the west were to have twenty townships each and the east counties sixteen each. The county of which Groton was to be the Countyseat was named Edgerton; that with Frederick in it was to be Inman county; that with Columbia in it was to retain the name of Brown; and the south-west one, created for Aberdeen's benefit, to be called Mc-Cauley. The question was submitted to voters of the proposed counties on the first Tuesday of May following. Elias McCauley of Spink represented this district in the teritorial council and introduced the bill to create the new counties. In the bill the southwest county was called Richmond but on passage was amended by substituting McCauley for Richmond. A. A. Rowley, at that time an attorney of Abcrdeen, read some verses at a meeting which indicated that the success of the bill was a foregone conclusion. It reads as follows:-

Ta Ta dear Columbia thou art gone like a With thy wounderous mill dam and navigable stream. We tried very hard our ambition to curb, For we hated to part with so fine a suberb. But we said "get there Eli" let naught And Eli got there to oblige Aberdeen,

Looking over the issue following the election a report of the vote is found to be as follows:

RANDOM SHOTS

Some business men are like the man who lved in Arkansaw who had a roof wnich was very much in need of repair. In the dull time they say they can not afford to advertise and when trade gets lively they are too busy and do not need to.

Editor Donald, of the Mashall County Sentinel, is certainly playing the shrewdest politics of any Democrat in this state. Every mean thing he can find in the state press about Coe I. Crawford he prints, and on the other hand every complimentary allusion to the has set its approval on the Thrice-a- better to prevent than to cu e. It has alleged candidacy of Senator MoDougall is lkewise faithfully repro- week World, which is widely circu- been fully demonstrated that pneuduced. What better service can he do the party than to aid in turning down the popular idol of the republican party, who would, if nominated draw democratic votes as sure as fate. He is working tongue. This paper for the coming the use of Chamberlains Cough Remto have the weakest man in the whole bunch put on the opposition ticket, and at the same time keep solid with his ambitious townsman.

When the public come to see the court room of the new court- promptly. house there will be much astonishment at its beauty. But among the lavish decorations is a mural painting on the inner wall which will certainly be the subject of much misconstruction. It is symbolical of an appeal or justice. Justice is represented as an angel with wide spread wings held in a manner to best display her ample plumage. The plaintiff is a female who sits dejectedly at the feet of Justice. Her attorney is evidently in the heat of his argument. The defendant does not appear in person or by attorney, so that it is publican allke can obtain in its pages, in the chest, then it is announced unquestionably a default case. There are no spectators, indicating that it may be a case in chambers. Justice stands with drawn sword all the news, the Thrice-a-week World lains Cough Remedy as soon as the ready to sever the knot, indicating a complacent court. The lady in the case should be more chic of air and smart of garb.
