TALENT FOR TACOMA

A Bunch of Good People Secured
From a Bureau

Dr. Eastman, John Temple
Graves, Col. Ham, all
Stars

Last week a representative of one of the best Chautauqua bureaus in the country dropped into the city and from a list of over sixty, six stars of the first magnitude in that line were engaged.

John Temple Graves, the brilliant editor of the Atlanta News, was engaged for one day. Since the death of Henry W. Grady no orator-journalist in the south is the peer of this distinguished gentleman whom the association fortunately is able to present to the patrons of the park this year.

Col. H. W. Ham, another southern orator, who spoke in the city last year and was one of the best entertainers who ever spoke in the city, will also fill a date this year. His negro dialect, songs and stories created a sensation here and his engagement has been a piece of good luck.

J. Lorenzo Twickey, a chalk talker, a novelty at the park, whose lecture consists largely of pictures drawn before the audience with lightning like rapidity, will fill two dates.

Zanton, magician, illusionist, slight-of-hand man and mind reader is of a class of entertainers not heretofore represented at Tacoma and will appear. A man in this line must be pretty good to be taken up by a bureau to fill engagements with chautauquas.

Dr. Charles A. Eastman, the celebrated Sioux Indian scholar and writer, is in the list and South Dakota people should listen to the doctor with great interest as he talks of his own people, native to these prairies.

Sidney Landon, known to the chautauquas the country over as "Happy Sid" is a great delineator of character and will read at each session during the entire assembly.

It is expected that Governor La Follette will be engaged but no definite arrangement has been concluded.
The management is expecting to arrange an engagement of local singers well known to many of our people.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by contin-ing to fail to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.
Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Creamery at Columbia

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Gaskin's Hall on Wednesday afternoon Feb. 1st, for the purpose of organizing a co-operative creamery. Fred Tyson and Geo. Shank, of Hecla, met with them to confer on the proposition of buying the plant now standing at Houghton. Figures and estimates were given, also on the cost of a new plant. F. N. Lewis, Thos. Tollofson, H. Schliebe and W. H. Davenport were selected as a committee to negotiate the sale of stock. Adjournment was taken until February 8th, when subscribers for stock will meet and form a permanent organization, appoint a committee to draft by-laws, take necessary steps to incorporate the company and decide on the purchase of a new plant or the one at Houghton.

STRAYED OR STOLEN from my place, four and a half miles north of Westport, about the 21st of September, one three year old gelding, broke and showing collar marks, black, weighing about 1100; also a gray two year old gelding, halter broke, and weighing about the same. Send information to me at Westport. Dave Vaughan.

N. Geib in Charge

The actual sale and transfer of the Aberdeen Hardware store did not take place until last Friday. It was generally supposed that Mr. Geib was in charge but as a matter of fact the past few weeks have been spent by him and Mr. McCaughey in closing up the deal.
Mr. Geib will be welcomed by Aberdeen business men, among whom he has already made many friends.

BE ACCURATE.

One of the Best Motives For a Young Man Entering Business.

The head of one of the largest dry goods commission houses in this city was asked the other day how it happened that his partner, upon whom the principal responsibility of the business rests, came to attain that position while not yet thirty years of age.

"Purely and simply on his own merit," he replied. "He came into my office one morning some ten or twelve years ago and told me that he had just finished school and was looking for a position. I happened to have a position open at the time for an office boy and started him in at $5 a week. His rise from that position to the one that he now occupies was steady and rapid and was due entirely to the fact that after having received an order or instructions he could be relied upon to carry them out, and do it correctly too.
He never started off on anything 'half cocked,' so to speak. He was not afraid to ask questions and thus get his instructions straight before undertaking the work in hand. In fact, I might say that he owes everything to the fact that he was always accurate in all that he did. You may think that I am preaching a sort of sermon, but if young men entering business positions, whether high or low, would take for their motto the two words, 'Be accurate,' and would live up to it there need be no fear of the ultimate outcome of their undertakings."—New York Commercial.

A VERSATILE WOMAN.

Some of the Things For Which Phoebe Bown Was Famed.

Phoebe Bown died something over half a century ago, aged eighty. This extraordinary woman, who lived with her mother in a cottage nearly opposite the High Tor, at Matlock Bath, England, could walk nearly forty miles a day when young, could lift a hundred-weight in each hand and carry fourteen stone. She undertook any kind of manual labor, as holding the plow, driving the team, thrashing wheat with the flail and thatching the stacks. Her chief avocation was breaking horses at a guinea a week. She always rode without saddles and was considered the best judge of horses and cows in the peak.

But Phoebe had also a liking for sport and for art. She was a good shot and carried her gun on her shoulder.
She was fond of Milton, Pope and Shakespeare and performed on several instruments, including the flute, violin and harpsichord, and played the bass viol in Matlock church. She was a carpenter, mason and smith and mainly by her own hand labor built another room to the cottage for the reception of a harpsichord which a lady presented to her. At her own request a local cler-gyman wrote her epitaph, and here it is:

Here lies romantic Phoebe, Half Gannymede, half Hebe;
A maid of mutable condition,
A jockey, cowherd and musician.

Muscles That Shut Out Cold.

"The muscles of the skin need training to educate them to contract vigorously on the slightest cold," says a medical writer, "to shut the blood out of the skin so quickly that the precious body heat will not be lost. You notice that when the skin is cold there is a 'goose skin' appearance. This is due to the contraction of the little muscles of the skin. The contraction of the muscles compresses the external blood vessels and drives away the blood from the surface, hardening and thickening the skin, which thereby becomes a better nonconductor. Thus the body temperature is maintained.

"It is because of the constant exposure to cold that the Indian's body is 'all face.' The skin of his whole body, not only that of the face, has learned to take care of itself."

A Tarpon Scarecrow.

Times and places there are where the tarpon have been so numerous and so free in their antics as to be a pest to the small fishermen, who in a certain bay once harpooned a lordly fish, lashed him to a keg and pointed him to the open sea.

Drawing the floating barrel, he went, slashing terror to his kindred, an aquatic scarecrow. And as the militant hogshead, ferried by a leaping twelve stone fish, went marching down the bay all tarpon, great and small, took warning that they must keep their performances within the bounds of decency.—Country Life in America.

Using a Coat Hanger.

Many years of hard work on the farm had made the old man round shouldered, and his coat fitted badly.
His son in the city sent him a coat stretcher on which to hang the coat at night. On his next visit to the farm the young man asked how the coat stretcher worked. His father looked a little embarrassed and then confessed.
"I can't stand it on," said he. "It was real good of you to send it. Your mother fastened it to my coat with tape, but I wasn't comfortable in it, and I had to take it off."

A Dream.

"I found I had saved up a thousand dollars without pinching myself."
"Without pinching yourself?"
"Without pinching myself."
"Then how did you know you were awake?"—Puck.

"Playing" Poker.

Harry—Do you really love to play poker? Dick—I never play at the poker table; I work. It is the chap that loses his money who plays.—Boston Transcript.

If you haven't much sense—and a lot of us haven't—talk as little as possible and go slow.—Aitchison Globe.

THE FIRST PRINTING.

Some of the Earliest Examples of the Art Preservative.

The following are the earliest known examples of printing—two indulgences, printed usually on one side only of a single piece of vellum and two magnificent Bibles. Of these one is known to be the first complete book that ever was printed by the wonderful new invention, which, as the early printers so often proudly state in their colophons, produced "letters without the aid of any sort of pen, whether of quill, of reed or of metal."

The first piece of printing which is actually dated is the famous indulgence of Nicholas V. to such as should contribute money to aid the king of Cyprus against the Turks. This indulgence has the printed year date 1454, and a copy in The Hague museum has the date "Nov. 15" filled in with a pen.
Mr. Duff tells us that "in the years 1454 and 1455 there was a large demand for these indulgences, and seven editions were issued. These may be divided into two sets, the one containing thirty-one lines, the other thirty lines, the first dated example belonging to the former."

This thirty line edition is shown to have been printed by Peter Schoeffer de Gernsheim by the fact that some of the initial letters which occur in it appear in another later indulgence of 1480, which is known to have come from his press.—Saturday Review.

TREATING A SPRAIN.

Perfect Rest and Hot Fomentations
the First Requisites.

The question of how to treat a sprain is often raised. Everybody understands the nature of a sprain; that wrenching of a joint whereby some of the ligaments (those very useful bands which unite the bones forming the joint) are violently stretched or perhaps even ruptured. This kind of injury is rarely, except through unusual complications, dangerous in its nature, but it is certainly very painful and when of a serious nature may result in the permanent impairment of the joint.
Such an injury, if at all severe, is immediately followed by marked swelling of the parts, and prompt attention should be given anticipating the surgeon's coming. The very first item in the treatment of a sprain is perfect rest of the limb until a doctor can be summoned. Reduce the swelling by applications of hot fomentations as hot as can be endured, changing about once in every three hours. If a piece of oilskin be not at hand use common newspaper. Wind it carefully outside the hot cloth. This will prevent the escape of the steam and prevent the cloth from cooling. A good way to save the hands from being scalded is to place the hot, dripping flannel in a towel, then, taking hold of each end of the towel, to wring it until the flannel is dry enough to apply.

THE WHITE CZAR.

Russia's Ruler Owes This Title to the Slip of a Pen.

The czar of Russia owes one of his titles to a slip of the pen. The Chinese character pronounced Hwang, meaning emperor, was originally compounded of two elements, meaning "oneself" and "ruler," by which it was intimated that an emperor or ruler of men should, before all things, be master of himself.

In after ages, however, by the omission of a single stroke, this character assumed its present corrupted form, in which the component elements signify "white" and "ruler," white having taken the place of the original "oneself."

Some years ago it was pointed out by a St. Petersburg correspondent of the London Times that this had been literally translated by the Mongols into tchagan klan, and then by the Russians into biely czar, or the "white czar," by which name the emperor of Russia is now known throughout the whole of Asia.—London Telegraph.

A Thoughtful Beggar.

J. Stanley Todd, the portrait painter, was talking about the beggars of different lands. "I have met," said Mr.
Todd, "beggars of every description—shy beggars, blustering ones, old beggars, robust ones—but the most remarkable beggar of the lot was a man whom I never met, yet whom I never assuredly will forget. All I saw of this beggar was his hat and his chair. The chair stood on a corner of the Rue St.
Lazare in Paris. The hat lay on the chair, with a few coppers in it, and behind the hat was a placard reading, 'Please don't forget the beggar, who is now taking his luncheon.'"

A Humble Apology.

Conversation overheard in a London street; scene, laborer working on a scaffold, contemplating surrounding view, when his foreman comes along down below and, looking up and seeing him idle, calls out to him: "So yer 'aving a look round! What do yer think of the weather?" Workman (looking down with contempt)—Noa; I'm a-working! Foreman—Oh, I beg yer pardon! I'm sorry I stopped yer!— London Globe.

MEAT SMOKED IN A MINUTE

By the improved method of smoking meat with a brush you can smoke 300 pounds an hour, but that is the least important advantage. In addition to the time saved the meat is better protected. The new way, it has a finer and more uniform flavor, there is no shrinkage (sometimes 20 percent in the old way) the meat is not softened and you do perfectly on a few minutes what you used to do imperfectly with a weeks work and worry.
