One of Our 22 Packing Plants in U.S.A.

Unlike Topsy— Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Grown"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of a half a century.

Because of all of these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in this story of the packing industry will be mailed on request to

GOOD SHEPHERD TEAMS CONTINUE CANVASS

The 12 teams, seeking to raise quickly the fund of $25,000 for financial relief of the Home of the Good Shepherd, and to provide money with which to carry that institution through 1919, continued their canvass of business and professional interests throughout Memphis Tuesday.

The workers will meet at committee room at Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday afternoon, to make reports. They will decide at that time just how long will be necessary to continue active solicitation of funds.

Before completion of the campaign, letters will be sent to business men and women in position to contribute to the fund, not only in Memphis and Shelby county, but in every county within the Memphis territory. Those in charge of the campaign feel that everybody in Memphis that can do so will be glad to aid in this cause, and that those who reside in counties maintaining close business relations with Memphis, will appreciate an opportunity to help an institution that has done so much for girls and women from their own sections.

The teams, together with the interests to be solicited by each, are given herewith:

S. M. Williamson, Bolton Smith, A. D. Mason and John H. Russell, banks, insurance and loan companies.

Charles Gerber and Joseph Summerfield, retail district on both sides of Main street.

R. L. Mallory and Frank N. Fisher, automobile, transfer and hotel companies and real estate men.

Edward P. Longinotti, J. D. Cella and O. K. Houck, fraternal organizations.

Walter Franstoll, secretary of the Merchant's exchange, cottonseed products and grain interests.

George A. Canale, Hardwig Peres, S. H. Phillips and Simon Levy, wholesale grocers, brokers and produce interests.

Leon Sternberger, W. P. Mabry, Elias Porter, Hugh Wynne and Daubey H. Crump, cotton men.

Martin J. Condon and Milton Binswanger, building material, hardware, bakers and manufacturing interests, exclusive of lumbermen.

R. L. White, Col. A. H. Egan, cigar, tobacco and railroad men.

Thornton Newsum and W. S. Lawo, wholesale drug trade, drug stores, taurants, men's clothes and haberdashers.

C. M. Bryan and M. E. Rose, lawyers.

J. F. McSwain, J. D. Allen, Jr., S. B. Anderson, James E. Stark and Ralph May, wholesale lumber manufacturers and dealers.

URGES SAVING FARM AND GARDEN WASTE

The farm development bureau of the Chamber of Commerce is urging saving in waste in the garden and on the farms. H. M. Cottrell, agricultural expert for the bureau, has issued this statement:

"Save the waste on the farm and in the garden. The food and feed that the garden, the farm and the field produce would, if saved, make a fair dividend on the operating expenses for the season."

"A man with a 100-acre farm, fenced it hog light on the outside and inside. He has lost more than $100 worth of food and feed. The food and feed which he has gathered to pick up the waste on the whole farm. Their gain in weight was worth $100 and every pound of the feed would have been lost if the pigs had not gathered it."

"In the field, peas or velvet beans have been planted in the corn, each acre will furnish feed worth $10 to $20 after the corn has been gathered."

"On many farms there are odd patches of sorghum, corn, grass and other forage crops, each of which is worth several dollars if saved and fed. In the garden are green tomatoes, beans, burnt heads of cabbage and other crops that should be saved. Pull up the tomato vines, pick off all small and decayed tomatoes and hang up the vines by the roots in the basement, garage or attic. The tomatoes will ripen in good condition."

VIENNA WILD WITH JOY OVER ARMISTICE

GENEVA, Nov. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Vienna was delirious with joy when it was learned that an armistice had been declared. The streets were crowded with men and women and children, crying and embracing each other.

The general opinion is that food will follow peace. The report that Emperor Charles has abdicated aroused little interest. The Austrian press is attempting to calm the population, emphasizing the fact that the armistice terms are of a most severe nature and involve great sacrifices to the empire and the people.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 5.—The German press is evincing considerable disquiet over the Bolshevik danger in Germany. The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung publishes a long statement today concerning Bolshevik activities which it attributes to the Russian embassy at Berlin. The newspaper says its object is to incite soldiers to disobey military commands.

We'd Like to Have You Understand the Quality Principle of Ours

THE store that succeeds is the store that serves—we're rendering true service by confining ourselves strictly to quality merchandise. Such merchandise wears longer and looks better—eventually its cost is less.

THE quality goes clear through the clothes—you'll find it in the "in-nards"—nothing has been skimped.

GOOD Dressers have long since learned the advantages our clothes offer—better style, better wear, better appearance.

Insurance Losses From "Flu" Exceed Those From War

The influenza epidemic that has been sweeping the country will cost American life insurance companies nearly $50,000,000 in settling death claims. In the opinion of Warren Pullen, Memphis agent for the Guardian Life insurance company.

"One of the big companies recently announced that during a large part of October its losses from pneumonia and influenza alone were considerably greater than all war losses since the outbreak of hostilities, including several large policies covering passengers on the Louisiana," Mr. Pullen stated.

"The loss now from influenza is estimated at approximately $25,000,000, but the epidemic is not over and there are still many claims to be recorded. It believes that the loss to life insurance companies will near the fifty million mark."

BERLIN PAPER ADMITS MONEY CRISIS BIGGER

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung discussing the financial picture in Germany says it is of a more stubborn character and greater in extent than at the outbreak of the war.

The note circulation of the Reichsbank has risen to 16,500,000 marks as compared with 2,000,000 marks at the commencement of the war, and the loan banks now are circulating $9,000,000,000 marks in notes.

The newspaper says the vice-president of the Reichsbank asserted that recent hoarding had attained unprecedented dimensions. He warned the public that a continuation of hoarding would mean the complete cessation of the economic life of Germany.
