BRIDE-TO-BE FROM OVER SEA WILL MARRY YANK WAR HERO

MISS HELENA PHILAW MAXWELL.

The engagement, recently announced, of Miss Helena Philaw Maxwell to Lieut. Clifford Carver, U. S. A., is of unusual interest because the bride-to-be, instead of the future bridegroom, hails from across the Atlantic. Miss Maxwell is the daughter of Gen. Sir John G. Maxwell, who has been active service in France, Egypt and Ireland during the late war. Lieut. Carver is a native of Locust Valley, New York.

Twilight Picnic.

A twilight picnic, with all the mid-summer magic which belongs to such affairs, will be given by the War Camp Community Service league at Riversdale park on Wednesday evening.

The members of the league will leave the center at 6:30 o'clock and go in special cars.

The members of the league are a lucky and happy crowd, for they haven't been a dull moment for them this summer. The War Camp Community Service is truly a fairy godmother in disguise.

For Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Mark Waggoner will entertain with a 500 party at Overton Park casino on Wednesday, Aug. 19, in honor of her sister, Miss Elroy McMahon, a bride-elect.

Here and There

Mrs. Max Borchow and daughter, Ella, of 211 Paul, Tenn., and Harry Friedman and daughter, Sarah, of Caruthersville, Mo., are guests of Mrs. Alex Sasarone.

Mrs. Lucille Cooke left Tuesday evening for a two weeks' visit with relatives in Somerville. She will be accompanied home by her daughter, Camille, and son, Malcolm, who have been spending the summer in Somerville.

Mrs. Henry Nobrey has as her guests her niece, Miss Freda Ray Krieger, of Metropolis, Ill., and her nephew, Albert Krieger, of Dubois, Mo.

Miss Blanche Dugan left Monday for Louisville, Ky., where she will be the guest of relatives until September.

Mrs. Adam Somers is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Colyar Reese, in the latter's cottage on Lookout Mountain.

Mrs. Jacob Pressberg, of Dallas, Tex., is the guest of Mrs. Meyer Gattman and her mother, Mrs. E. J. Miller, at 157 Peabody avenue. While Mrs. Pressberg will be the honoree of a number of informal social affairs.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Simpson, who have been spending the summer in Colorado, are expected to come the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hart Whitney, of Atlanta, Ga., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ward, left Wednesday morning for Chicago.

Miss Frances Hall has been welcomed home after a visit of several months in San Antonio, Tex. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Joe Bibb, who was formerly Miss Betty Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Harwood and daughter, Elizabeth, are at Blount, Miss., for the remainder of the summer.

Miss Dean Davis left Wednesday for Chicago, Ill., where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Forrest.

Miss Mamie Lelloy, who has spent some time with her aunt, Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Jones in Chicago, has returned home.

C. K. Bothwell, of Little Rock, division passenger agent for Missouri Pacific railroad, was in Memphis Wednesday.

Charles Lillard, Jr., chief clerk in the office of the Price of several months in San Antonio, Tex. He is in the city today.

J. L. Kendall, of Wynne, Ark., superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railroad, was in the city Wednesday.

TRUE STORIES OF SUCCESSFUL WOMEN

By EDITH MORIARTY

What happened when Peggy Callahan gave up her fifteen-dollar a week position as stenographer to clerk at the Black Co. for twelve.

Peggy Callahan was twenty-one when she made the decision which changed her whole life. Her family and friends all thought she was making a grave mistake. Peggy and Mr. Black of the Black company thought differently. It was Mr. Black who had persuaded Peggy to leave her position as stenographer for Mr. Maxwell, his lawyer, where she was earning $15 a week, and accept a place as clerk in his large department store for $12.

He had asked Peggy to try her hand at salesmanship many times, but always in a joking way. Finally he really made her a proposition and talked to her seriously about it she accepted. She had been working for her father for three years. She started in at $10 and at the time she left her father's store she was getting $12 a week. According to her way of thinking, there were no prospects of bettering herself in the future, and according to Mr. Black's ideas there were unlimited opportunities at his store. And so Peggy started to sell neckwear on the first floor at Black's.

Her family was horrified. They thought stenography was so much more "genteel." It was not long, however, although it seemed ages to Peggy, before she was put in the gown department. In three years the family had become reconciled to the saleswoman in their midst, for she was earning $30 a week, more than either of her older brothers.

Then she became discouraged. She always had large sales and a "big book" but there was something lacking. Mr. Black seemed to sense it even before Peggy did, and he gave her the best remedy possible. He piled more work upon her and gave her more responsibility and of course an increase in pay. She rose to the occasion and, bending every effort, soon had made a record of her new tasks. But in another year she was again becoming dissatisfied. This time she was on the verge of leaving when Mr. Black offered her the position of buyer for the misses' dresses. She accepted and so it was that she climbed in five years from a $12 a week clerk in the neckwear department to buyer of the misses' dresses at a salary of $50 a week.

Her family and her friends also were now fully aware of the foresight she had shown when she gave up stenography. There was not one girl from her class in business school who was earning more than $30 a week at stenography.

Peggy was by far the best business woman in the Black company and it was really amusing to see the salesmen from the large New York houses who asked for the buyer of the dresses when Peggy Callahan, a pretty black-haired young woman of 28, put in her appearance. Sometimes the men would not believe that this very youthful and unsophisticated looking young girl was the head of so large and important a department. It never took them more

Class Entertains.

The Royal Daughters of the Bellevue Baptist church held their regular business and social meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hill and E. A. Jones, on North Bellevue boulevard.

The social feature of the afternoon was planned as a surprise for two elder members of the class, Mrs. Mmes. Giles and Alexander. After several impromptu talks the honorees were presented with a gift and a corsage bouquet from members of the class. A delightful ice course in the class colors of lavender and white was served.

Church Lawn Party.

The annual lawn party of the St. Thomas church will be given by its members on Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock, on the attractive church lawn at the corner of Trigg avenue and Lauderdale street. Cards will be enjoyed and splendid music has been secured for those who care to dance.

During the evening laces and other refreshments will be served and a cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the church.

MORNING SESSION OF POLICE COURT CLOSING

One session of city court, instead of two, will be the regular order, starting next Monday.

Heretofore the custom has been to hold a morning session at 9 o'clock and an afternoon session at 4 o'clock. The one-time-a-day court will convene at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The change was decided upon at a conference Wednesday morning between Mayor Johnson, Police Commissioner Quinn, police and fire commissioner, L. T. Fitzhugh, judge of the city court. The reason assigned for the change is that a vast majority of the cases tried in city court are night arrests, which under the present arrangement come up in the afternoon session.

The practicality of the new plan will have to be worked out. How it will be regarded by night policemen will be the main test. These men report for duty at 7:30 o'clock. Officials believe that under the new plan, a policeman on night duty can get his morning sleep, going off an hour early in the morning and leaving the ward to be patrolled by his partner. Then he can appear in 2 o'clock court, and go back home if he so desires.

JACKSON MAYOR TO TALK FOR A CUP

The mayor of Jackson, Tenn., J. D. Johnson, has just informed the local office of the Cotton States Merchants' association, that he expects to attend the convention in Memphis, Aug. 19, 20 and 21 and that he expects again to carry away with him the loving cup which will be given to the community representative who makes the best five-minute talk on the subject. Superfluous Hair, Roots and All, Quickly Go!

(Absolutely New Home Method.)

For the first time in a hundred years a genuinely effective method of removing unsightly hairy growths has been discovered. The new pelacetic process does not merely take off the hair, but actually removes the roots! It does this quickly and harmlessly. It does not act anything like the depilatory, electrical, or other methods. The pelacetic is non-poisonous, non-irritating, get a stick of it from your druggist, follow the simple instructions, and have the satisfaction of seeing the roots themselves removed at the source.
