

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil).

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

FEDERAL ARMY; Total of 1,100 Troops in Steel Town With 500 More on Way From Omaha After Strikers Defy Authorities.

GARY, Ind., Oct. 7.—Gary, site of one of the United States Steel corporation's greatest plants, is being held for more than two weeks by the nation-wide strike in the steel industry. Today was under military control of approximately 1,100 federal soldiers, commanded by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the central department of the army. Five hundred troops, fresh from their duty at Omaha, Neb., were on their way here today.

The course of the strike here has been marked by little violence. With the reports during the past week that strikers in increasing numbers were resuming their old places in the steel mills, the attitude of pickets whose numbers also increased, became threatening and for a time it seemed as if a serious clash would be unavoidable.

With the parade yesterday, however, according to a statement by Gen. Wood, the situation became so threatening that it was deemed advisable to ask for federal troops. The governor acted on the advice of Mayor Hodges, of Gary, and Harry B. Smith, state adjutant-general, both of whom expressed alarm at the attitude of the 10,000 strikers in Gary, and said they feared that the small number of state troops stationed there was insufficient to cope with the situation," read the governor's statement.

Upon the arrival of the federal soldiers and the issuance of a proclamation by Gen. Wood proclaiming military control, the state militiamen were ordered to Indiana Harbor and East Chicago, Ind., where Gov. Goodrich declared martial law. The approximately 1,000 men under Gen. Wood are regarded as sufficient to force his dispositions that no public meetings or assemblages be held and forbidding parades and demonstrations. Carrying of weapons of any description by persons other than the police military authorities, and members of the city government also was forbidden.

Following the action of several score men wearing the uniform of the United States army in leading the parade against orders of the mayor and police yesterday, Gen. Wood's proclamation ordered that "all men in the uniform of the United States, whether in the service of the United States or in the forces on duty within the city limits will be examined and those who are in the United States will be attached to an organization on duty in the city limits and continued on duty during the present disturbance."

It was made plain that martial law had not been declared. The federal troops, it was stated by a member of Gen. Wood's staff, will use the city as a reserve order, working in conjunction with the civilian peace authorities. Arrests made by the military force will be patterned after that put into effect at Omaha, the officer stated, or like that in the occupied port of the city, where many of the federal soldiers here recently saw service. The military rule will be directed through the regular constituted authorities.

Immediately upon their arrival here the soldiers began patrolling and early today Gary showed no indications of disorder. The troops wore steel helmets but did not walk their posts with fixed bayonets.

Ample reserve forces were on hand, it was stated, to check almost any outbreak, no matter how extensive. Four one-pounder guns and a machine gun detachment were among the force. The usual infantry equipment and reserve supplies made the strength of the command, it was said.

Picketing by strikers at the various plants will not be stopped, Capt. Charles Boite, officer of the day, stated today. It was not intended to interfere with the general control of the strike, but to prevent any disorder and destruction of property were concerned.

The federal troops here are from the Fourth and Sixth overseas divisions.

extremism on the employer side. But representing the public are certain men, identified with big business to be sure, but tinged with a certain amount of the Wilsonian spirit of conciliation who will be a vital factor in the settlements that issue from the conference.

Well-Known Men.

Take only a few of them as examples. There's Gavin McNabb, of California, who has had remarkable experience in conciliating labor and capital on the Pacific coast—a big hearted, broad-minded citizen with a progressive viewpoint as the West has, which is saying a great deal. Then there's Bernard M. Baruch, who has spent most of his life in the atmosphere of Wall street making money, but of whom it is said nowadays that "when he came to Washington he found his soul." He gave up his seat in the stock exchange and dedicated his life to public service. He handled the war industries board during the war which had much to do with keeping labor satisfied.

H. B. Edicott, shoe manufacturer, was one of the first to proclaim the 8-hour day, has had remarkable success as an arbitrator between capital and labor in Massachusetts.

N. T. Meredith, of Iowa, is another business man of prominence who leaves in the co-operative idea as between employer and employee.

Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, is a personal friend of Mr. Wilson and a dominant figure in the zinc industry, is imbued with the Wilson idea of bringing about compromises in industrial troubles.

Then the socialistic writings of John

Spargo and Charles Edward Russell are well known.

Men like these will not permit the labor conference to wind up after prolonged debate in merely a majority and minority report or lack of specific recommendations altogether. They are not extreme radicals, any of them, they will in the end, like compromising legislators, get as much as they can. And they will sacrifice some things to get unanimous agreement and nation-wide support.

They will not attempt too much in the beginning. But they will endeavor to get agreement on certain fundamentals affecting the relation of employer and employee to which men can turn as they would to a charter or constitution in any political state or private organization.

The opportunity to write a peace treaty between capital and labor appeals to the conferees and has had an opportunity as the delegates had at Versailles. A feeling of bitterness, of distinction, of importance, of transient prestige enveloped the conference at its opening—an encouraging sign.

For the delegates felt the backing, the compelling voice of the constituent bodies which they represent.

Pragmatically every interest involved in industry is represented but the disorganized, disorderly, lawless elements which have no common council of affiliation with the American federation of labor or allied bodies, no agreements and no understanding but also the sneers of industry were naturally not invited. Their strength was diminished according as the achievements of the conservative, orderly, but nevertheless aggressive leaders of labor are successful in making the average working man believe that in discussion and counsel lies some advantage to the employer, for employers usually are willing to grant advantages to make concessions, if they can be certain of efficiency, of stimulated production, of the validity of any contract made with labor and of an era of stability instead of the intermittent menace of strikes and extremist agitation.

Both sides in the conference know the principles, they are not new. They know the basis of a reciprocal understanding. The problem is to get all employers everywhere to subscribe to them and also to get all employees everywhere to respect them.

The dominant note of the conference is optimism because the mere getting together in an advance over the past and the willingness to agree, the desire to work something out that will be mutually helpful and stabilizing in its effect.

How Lack of Iron In The Blood May Change A Woman's Appearance And Break Down Her Physical Strength

While Plenty Of Iron Makes Rich Red Blood Corpuscles That Gives Health, Vitality and Beauty

Every Woman Who Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn Should Have Her Blood Examined for Iron Deficiency—Administration of Simple Nuxated Iron Will Often Increase the Strength and Endurance of Weak, Nervous, Careworn Women in Two Weeks' Time and Make Them Look Years Younger.

Longing for the keen activity, the youthful step, the fresh, rosy cheeks and the sunny disposition of buoyant health is making many a woman an unhappy, discontented, wrinkled and old before her time. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with and habit-forming drugs and narcotics and useless attempts to brace up with strong coffee do not help the real cause of their trouble, which may be nothing more than lack of iron in the blood. For want of iron a woman may look and feel old at 30, pale, haggard and all run-down—while at 50 or 60, with good health and plenty of iron in the blood, she may still be young in feeling, and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age.

That women may become stronger, healthier, more beautiful and better able to meet the cares of home, social and business life by increasing the supply of iron in their blood, is the opinion of Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon of Monmouth Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: "What women need to put roses in their cheeks and the springtime of life into their steps is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs, but plenty of rich, pure red blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood-builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, re-blooded women as Nuxated Iron. From a careful examination two weeks ago, I Glen B. McCorkle, county commissioner, has been kept busy looking after the interest of the Dyer county public roads for the past week.

DRINKING IN FRONT OF CHURCH COMES HIGH PINE BLUFF, Ark., Oct. 7. (Sp.)—According to a report coming from Star City, drinking of liquor in front of a church comes high. Ed Atkinson and Rlato McIntosh recently stopped in front of the Presbyterian church during these critical days of reconstruction. Officers who arrested them, and Mayor Roberts fined them $50 each for bringing liquor into the town and $100 each for disturbing religious worship.

TWO TOWNS IN CHICAGO DISTRICT HAVE ARMY RULE

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The general industrial situation at most of the great steel mills of the Chicago district, as regards reports on increased operation or diminished output showed no notable change in the past 24 hours. However, found two steel centers—Indiana Harbor and East Chicago, Ind.—under martial law, patrolled by state military troops. The city, Gary, under military control of federal troops.

A generally threatening situation, rather than violence itself, led to the action of Gov. Goodrich, of Indiana, ordering state troops to Indiana Harbor and East Chicago and to Gary, where Maj. Gen. Wood, commander of the central department of the army, to take control at Gary.

CAPITAL TRYING TO BE FRIENDS WITH LABOR UNCLE TOM

Lawrence Discusses Optimistic Outlook as Big Industrial Conference in Washington Gets Under Way.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Special Correspondent of The News Scimitar).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Capital and labor, hitherto antagonistic enemies, yesterday to become friends—possibly partners. Certain that industrial war and chaos was coming, President Wilson called employer and employee into conference. Discussion, he thinks, can prevent wars between classes as well as between nations.
