

WORK DOES NOT BOTHER HIM NOW

Oklahoma Man Suffered Five Years—Is Relieved By Taking Tanlac.

"I am certainly glad to recommend Tanlac, after the wonderful way it helped both my wife and myself," said J. N. Flightmaster, of the Flightmaster Baking Co., who lives at 918 North Dewey street, Oklahoma City, Okla. "For five years or more," he continued, "my stomach had been out of order and I couldn't eat anything without suffering from indigestion. I would blast up with sour gas and would get so nervous and upset that I couldn't attend to my business properly. My sleep was broken and I felt tired and went out most all the time. I just managed to keep going, but felt my condition was getting more serious every day. "I noticed an improvement soon after I started taking Tanlac, my appetite picked up, gas stopped forming and my food now agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are stronger, I sleep like a log and am able to look after my work now without any trouble. My wife had been in a weak and rundown condition for some time, but Tanlac has helped her and we are both simply delighted with the way Tanlac has benefited us." Tanlac is sold in Memphis exclusively by Weiss Pharmacy and Warnock Drug Co.

Informal Dinner-Dance.
Among the interesting social affairs of the week will be the informal dinner-dance at the Country club where a delicious holiday menu will be served. The guest list for the evening will include many of the debutantes and the visitors in the city.

Weddings
Gronauer-Magnus.
The Hotel Gayoso was to be the scene of a pretty wedding, very quietly solemnized Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Ike Gronauer were to give in marriage their daughter, Alice, to Mr. Alexander S. Magnus, of Cincinnati.
A bower of palms and giant white chrysanthemums banking an improvised altar, mark the place of the ceremony, which was to take place at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. W. H. Pineschrier officiating in the presence of relatives and a few specially invited guests.
For the ceremony the bride, who was to enter with her father, was to wear a handsome tailored suit of blue duvetyn, trimmed in squirrel, with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of white rose buds and valley lilies.
The ceremony was to be followed by a reception and wedding banquet at one large table and four smaller ones, adorned with roses and lilies.
For the occasion the bride's mother, Mrs. Gronauer, was to be gowned in a handsome jetted robe over rose satin and Mrs. Sam Gronauer was to give in marriage their daughter, Alice, to Mr. Alexander S. Magnus, of Cincinnati, who was to receive with them, was to be gowned in a black jetted robe over King's blue satin.
Following a bridal trip, Mr. and Mrs. Magnus will be at home to their friends after Dec. 15 in Cincinnati.
Among the guests from a distance who were to attend the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Magnus, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Magnus and Mr. Julian Magnus, all of Cincinnati.

Clancy-Reilly.
A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church by Miss Edna Marguerite Reilly, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Reilly, became the bride of Mr. Frank D. Clancy, Jr., of Helena, Ark.
For the occasion the church was decorated in pink and white chrysanthemums in tall wicker baskets with the altar banked in palms and ferns and festoons of snail's twisted around the railing and held in place by large bows of pink tulle. The pews were marked by pink satin and tulle bows.
The bride, gowned in white Duchess satin, fashioned with a court train, with silver lace and white net overdresser in Premier effect and an imported veil worn in Grecian style with a band of pearls and caught with real orange ribbons and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies, entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.
Mrs. Mark Wagoner, the matron of honor, wore a handsome model of white Princess lace with pink crepe netting overdresser and trimmings of blue ostrich, and a French hat of pink and blue georgette with ostrich tips in the

EUROPE FEARS AMERICA IS OUT OF NEAR EAST
LONDON, Nov. 21.—The news that President Wilson is suffering from a nervous breakdown, which is sufficiently serious to necessitate his taking a real rest, has been received in some circles with something like consternation, says the periodical, The Near East, editorially. It continues:
"Rightly or wrongly, it is argued that the president's breakdown is likely to react unfavorably upon the chance of America becoming willing to accept a mandate for Armenia; and if that view should prove correct, it would be highly unlikely that America would accept any mandate at all in the near East."

VISITORS COMPLIMENTED AT FITZGUGH'S LUNCHEON.
Two attractive visiting girls were complimented by Mrs. G. T. Fitzgugh on Wednesday afternoon, when she was the charming hostess at a luncheon appointed at the Country club, the honorees being Miss Henrietta Yergor, of Jackson, Miss., and Miss Shirley McAvitt, of St. Louis, the guest of Mrs. Charles Wesley Goyer, formerly Miss Lida Belle Brango, of Jackson, Miss., which is Mrs. Fitzgugh's former home also.
Covers were laid for 25 on a circular table, where a yellow color scheme was artistically carried out in clusters of pompon chrysanthemums and autumn garlands arranged in French baskets.
Mrs. Fitzgugh was handsomely gowned for the afternoon in black velvet with trimmings of seal. Miss McAvitt was gowned in bronze lace with hat and accessories to match. Miss Yergor wore brown velvet with a brown picture hat, and Mrs. Goyer was gowned in black velvet trimmed in seal with a black picture hat.

Luncheon At Country Club.
Among the pretty affairs at the Memphis Country club on Wednesday was the luncheon given by Mrs. Richard G. Bunting, complimentary to Miss Marianna Robinson of Baltimore, Md., the lovely guest of Mrs. Richmond McKinney.
The table was artistically arranged, the centerpiece being a Thanksgiving pumpkin filled with delicious fruit resting in a bed of autumn foliage and bright red berries. The bonbons were in crimson shades and the place cards were turkeys and other Thanksgiving suggestions. Mrs. Bunting had as her guests the following: Mrs. Richard G. Bunting, of Baltimore; Misses Lewis Donelson, Richmond McKinney, Louise McRoberts, of Louisville, Louis Haskell, W. S. Lawrence, M. C. Smith, E. C. Turner, Howard Willey, Fontaine Moore, Chas. G. Goyer, and Miss Josephine strong, W. T. Fridge and Miss Josephine Maudlin.

In Honor of Daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Clark White Doherty will entertain with dancing party Wednesday evening in honor of their daughter, Meta Sarah, the affair being in celebration of her twelfth birthday anniversary.
Autumn decorations will be used in the rooms, where the guests will be seated from 8:30 to 10 o'clock, when a delicious ice cream and bonbon buffet will be served. The guest list will number 50.

ORPHANS AND OTHERS BENEFIT THROUGH ANNUAL CHARITY BALL
The annual Vantilly Fair ball Tuesday evening at the Hotel Chisca proved a brilliant success, both from a social and financial standpoint. The members of the club do not know yet just what will be the amount of the receipts, but they do know that it will greatly exceed all their past efforts. The receipts the past year were remarkable for war time, amounting to $5,450, exceeding the receipts of the previous year by $1,000.
The sum reported at the last meeting of the club before last night's ball was $9,000, which does not include all of the individual subscriptions, nor the sum received the night of the ball. Not only the orphans of the city, but the old folks homes and Crippled Children's hospital, with other institutions, and the Shelby County Tuberculosis society will be the beneficiaries.
Socially the ball proved more thoroughly enjoyable than ever before. The heavy downpour of rain kept away many of those who only go to look on, so that there was more room for dancing, and never have the dancers had better music than that rendered by the jazz band, which played every minute of the evening without any intermission. When the sounds of Home, Sweet Home, were heard shortly after 2 o'clock, every couple was on the floor having just as good a time as when the affair started.
The president, Mrs. John Price Edgington, and her efficient co-workers in the club, are to be congratulated upon the success of the evening.

DECLINE OF AUSTRIA IS CAUSE OF RIBBON SLUMP
PARIS, Nov. 21.—News from Vienna has it that the rapid decline and fall of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy has caused a slump on the ribbon market. Manufacturers of ribbons of the various colors of the former dual monarchy found themselves with large stocks left on their hands, until one enterprising merchant hit upon the idea of turning these gaudy bands into men's trouser suspenders. And so the gilded youth of Vienna are wearing the ribbon of Maria Theresa of the Iron crown or St. Stephen that way, according to individual fancy.
"Why not," they say, "In England they have the ribbon of the Garter. In our democratic country we wear the ribbon of the Kew-Garden."
