Be Young for Your Years

You were taught at school that your body undergoes a complete change of structure every seven years.

This tearing down and building up process of body tissue continues without a moment's pause throughout life.

And when a man gets into a physical condition that the tissues keep breaking down and wasting away faster than Nature can replace them, right then he begins to grow "old".

This doesn't necessarily mean, however, that he has reached an advanced age. Thousands upon thousands of people begin to break down, their vital organs giving evidence of fast approaching decay, long before they reach middle age simply because they fail to give Nature, at the proper time, the needed help to rebuild.

If you are beginning to show the slightest sign of a physical "let-down"—if you are losing your old time "pep" vim and vigor—if high tension energy and nervous strain are beginning to tell on you—it's a sure sign that you are growing "old"—too old for your years. You've reached that stage where your vital forces need rebuilding. Don't make the serious mistake of postponing until too late the assistance Nature requires; commence today to take

UNCOVER PLOT TO STEAL PLANES TO SELL TO MEXICO

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 18.—With a lieutenant in the air service in the stockade at Kelly field, near San Antonio and a former lieutenant in the air service held by the federal authorities at Houston, high officials of the Southern department of the army believe they have uncovered a plot, possibly with wide ramifications, to steal airplanes from the service of the United States and sell them to the Carranza government in Mexico. Lieut. George P. Sharkey is the officer held at Kelly field and M. G. Robinson, the former lieutenant held by the federal authorities at Houston.

Collectively the men are charged only with stealing a motor and other parts of an airplane at Ellington field, Houston, where Lieut. Sharkey was in service. Sharkey, it is said at Southern department headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, has admitted his part in the affair and has expressed willingness to testify against Robinson, whom he claims was the leader in the plot. Robinson, according to the information of officers at Southern department headquarters, has not yet been indicted by the federal grand jury at Houston.

The plot was to obtain 12 airplanes at $10,000 each, according to the story said to have been told military intelligence officers and agents of the department of justice by Lieut. Sharkey, who is said to have reported that Robinson came to him and told him Carranza would pay $10,000 for each airplane.

Robinson attempted to build the first plane, but did not have a motor and several other parts and took up with Lieut. Sharkey the matter of obtaining those parts at Ellington field, according to the story Lieut. Sharkey is said to have told Robinson accompanied Lieut. Sharkey when the two took the motor and other missing parts, according to this story.

The first plane had been constructed and was ready for shipment when the plan went awry, an agent of the department of justice who has worked with military intelligence officers on the case, said today.

The plane was crated and loaded onto a wagon for transportation to the railroad station at Houston. Lieut. Sharkey, hiding under the canvas wagon cover, according to this story, Christian, who is said to have known the driver, bailed him and bounced onto the motor load for a ride. He said down on Lieut. Sharkey and conducted what an air service lieutenant was doing under the wagon canvas, and his curiosity led to the investigation which brought the arrests, this officer stated. Because of the seriousness of the case and the small personnel from which to pick a court-martial at Ellington field, Lieut. Sharkey was brought to Kelly field for confinement and trial. It was said at Southern department headquarters today.

TELLS OF GREAT WASTE IN TIRES

Army Captain Says $35,000,000 Worth Was Allowed to Run.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Automobile tires worth more than $35,000,000, thrown in a pile many feet deep, and covering more than 100,000 square feet, were ruined through exposure to the weather at the motor transport corps camp at Varnell, France, Capt. Robert Clewinger, an officer at the camp yesterday told a home committee investigating war department expenditures during the war.

No coverings of any kind were placed over the tires for more than 10 months, Capt. Clewinger declared, although there were many canvas tarpaulins scattered around the camp or being used for less important purposes. Approximately 2,500 motorcycles, after being placed in perfect repair for use by the A. E. F., were parked at the camp and allowed to stand exposed to the weather for months, until they became useless piles of junk, other witnesses told the committee.

Automobiles, including passenger cars of various kinds and hundreds of trucks, were thrown into piles along the railroad tracks until the "junk" piles covered acres, Earl Tromley, of Detroit, formerly a sergeant in the tank corps, asserted. The former sergeant expressed the belief that no inspection was made of the cars before they were discarded and that many of them could have been placed in perfect repair for less than $50.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD FOR SOLDIERS

JACKSON, Tenn., Dec. 18. (Special.)—Memorial services in honor of Sgt. George F. Miller, former Jacksonian, who made the supreme sacrifice on Oct. 24, 1918, from wounds received while his division was making the death struggle with the vaunted Hindenburg line at Bellecourt, France, on Sept. 25, 1918, were held in the Dixie theater at Paris, Tenn., last Sunday afternoon and the distinguished service cross presented to his father, E. G. Miller, by Maj. H. J. Landers of Nashville.

The medal was a post-mortem presentation for exceptional valor displayed by Sgt. Miller at Bellecourt, France, on Sept. 25, when he, after sending two subordinate soldiers to carry an important message to the rear of the line under open shell fire, and those two soldiers were killed, volunteered to take message himself and received five wounds while bearing the message, which later resulted in his death. Sgt. Miller enlisted in the army at Evansburg, Ind., July 1917, and was transferred overseas in May, 1918. His brother, L. E. Miller of this city, was in the Argonne forest on the same morning that he was fatally wounded.

L. G. Miller formerly lived in Jackson with his family. He moved to Evansburg, Ind., several years ago and later to Paris. An annually large assembly of the Paris citizenship witnessed the presentation of the distinguished service cross Sunday. Maj. Landers gave a very fitting eulogy to the honored soldier in connection with the presentation of the medal.
