COX WILL DISCUSS DOMESTIC PROBLEMS

Candidate Rushing Work on Acceptance Address.

DAYTON, O., July 31.—In addition to the league of nations, the American industrial problem and other domestic questions are to have a prominent place in the address of Gov. Cox, accepting the Democratic nomination for governor, according to information here today.

It was said a large portion of the address might be devoted to the industrial affairs, with a view to bringing capital and labor closer together. Those who have heard the governor's error said this is one of his most serious concerns and they believed he would give his views at length.

The governor today bent all efforts toward completing the acceptance address, work on which was broken yesterday by the parade and the civic celebration over choice of a Daytonite in the presidential contest.

The governor had a self-imposed schedule to have the speech printed this afternoon for mailing tonight to the nation's press.

So engrossed was the governor in completing his address that he offered no comment to the press on the statement of Senator Harding charging that powerful international interests favoring the league of nations are behind Democratic financing and that the Democrats would seek to minimize the league issue.

There was doubt whether the governor would reply before the delivery of his acceptance address, as he has said he then would answer anything deemed essential. He has stated also that he would not enter into a telegraph debate with Senator Harding.
