THE NEW RAILROAD.

Completion of the Omaha Extension of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railway.

At twelve o'clock, noon, on Saturday, the last spike was driven on the Omaha extension of the St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern railway, from Pattonsburg to the Union Pacific transfer. The ceremony took place near Walnut Creek, in Fremont county, Iowa. A special train was run out from this end of the line, having on board a large number of excursionists.

The distance to St. Louis over this road is 405 miles, which is 88 miles shorter than by any other. It is substantially built, and is laid with a steel track.

The first passenger train over the new road will arrive at the Union Pacific depot from St. Louis on Thursday morning next, the 16th instant. It will contain the high officials of the road, who will proceed slowly and make a careful inspection of the extension from Pattonsburg, 147 miles, to this point. Returning, the train will probably leave here Thursday evening or Friday morning. On and after that date it is expected that trains will be in running order and regular trips made.

An Effort to Be Made to Secure the Running of Trains into Omaha.

On Saturday afternoon a private meeting of business men was held in the parlor of the State Bank to take some action towards inducing the St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern Railway to run its trains into Omaha. A letter, embodying substantially the relations between the Union Pacific and Omaha, was sent to Jay Gould, chief of the mogul, asking him to bring the trains of the new roads into Omaha, and pledging the patronage to that line in case it was done.

The Presbyterian Synod.

On Saturday, Standing Bear, the Ponca chief, addressed the Synod upon the subject of the wrongs of his people, and the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the Synod, having heard the statement of Standing Bear, and a member representing a church of our own order, established among these people, desires to express its sympathy for him and his people, and assures him and them of its effort they are making, to be understood and to obtain their rights before the law.

The Committee on Education reported that the Presbytery of Omaha had one young man in preparation for the ministry under his charge. The Synod was then addressed by Rev. E. Benson, in behalf of the Freedmen's cause. Rev. J. A. Hood offered a resolution, which was adopted, recognizing the needs of the work among the Freedmen, and urging its presentation to the churches. Rev. D. S. Shaff opened the discussion on the subject "Utilizing the Eliaership."

Rev. Dr. Kendall addressed the synod on Home Missions. A resolution was offered, expressing the sincere gratitude of the synod to the great Head of the Church, that He had permitted it to enjoy the presence, acquaintance and Christian exhortations of four of the secretaries of the benevolent boards of the church. The place of holding the next synod was appointed at Brownville.

In the evening session a resolution was adopted, to appoint a committee to call a Sunday School Association to meet in connection with the Synod of 1880, and to arrange a programme and appoint speakers for it, with a view to effecting a permanent Sunday school organization. A resolution was adopted heartily extending the organization of the the Woman's Missionary association.

The Synod was addressed by Rev. Dr. Worden, superintendent of Sunday school work of the church, on the best methods of directing teachers' meetings and normal schools. John Wesley, to-night, at the Presbyterian church. Be sure and go.

The committee has been in session at Topeka since Saturday, September 27, and having concluded its labors so far as could be in Kansas, an adjournment was taken on Wednesday to meet again in Washington at the convening of Congress. At this time, December, the Western Union Telegraph Company is expected to produce certain copies of telegrams bearing upon the Ingalls election, and then this committee submits its report to the Senate.

South Bend Bridge. Celebration in Honor of Its Completion.

The wagon bridge over the Platte river, at South Bend, which has been in process of erection for some time, has reached completion, and will be thrown open to the public for business to-day. A mass meeting of the citizens of Cass and Sarpy counties will be held at South Bend to-day to celebrate the opening of this bridge, which is a very important enterprise, as it connects two very rich and populous counties, hitherto separated from each other, and opens up to Omaha a large extent of territory. A hundred men are employed in the stone-quarry, across the river from South Bend, and up to the present time all the stone had to be boated over the river.

AN OMAHA INVENTION.

An Improved Car for the Transportation of Live Stock.

The American Humane Association of the United States brought its labors to a close in Chicago on Friday after a three days session.

On Friday the association listened to the reading of a report of the committee appointed to examine and report upon the merits of an improved stock car, which was invented by D. L. Moody, of this city, his partner in the enterprise being Mr. Charles J. Karbach. The model of the car was presented to the society for examination, by Mr. E. D. Pratt. It met with a very favorable reception, and the probability is that the proprietors of the invention will eventually make considerable money out of it, as it is destined to come into general use at no very distant day.

The committee reported as follows: The size of the car is 8x30 feet in the clear. It contains a series of movable bars, so arranged that they may be moved up and down at pleasure through slatted standards. After the car is loaded, and the doors closed, the bars are let down from the outside between the animals, partitioning them off separately or in pairs, as may be desired. The bars are raised from between the animals to the roof before unloading, when they are driven out in the ordinary way, and the car is left in a condition for returning freight.

The car will accommodate sixteen steers, giving each animal a separate stall. Hogs may be partitioned off in like manner, with from fifteen to eighteen in each pen, thus preventing them from piling upon each other and smothering. There is a tank underneath the car, with a capacity of ten barrels of water. This is connected with a pump on the roof of the car by means of which the water is forced through a perforated tube, which extends through the entire length of the car, completely filling it with a fine spray, which, when continued for a few minutes, amounts to a shower bath. This is designed to allay thirst and internal heat by being inhaled, and to allay heat fever and disease by keeping the pores of the skin open.

It is claimed to be more consistent with the laws of health to keep the body thus refreshed than to allow it to take large draughts of water through the stomach while in transit, which often results in stiffening and foundering the animal.

It is claimed that feed and water troughs may be attached to the car if found to be desirable at the conclusion of the experiments which are being made. But the inventor is of the opinion that to deprive the animal from being taken from the cars and afforded a reasonable time to rest, at least as often as it is necessary to partake of food and water, is inhuman, and a violation of well-settled physiological principles.

The report was adopted by an unanimous vote of the society. CAMP THOMAS.

Re-Union of Nebraska Veterans.

The reunion of veteran soldiers in Nebraska at Camp Thomas, Warren's Grove, which came to a close on Saturday, was a grand success in every respect. Col. Webster, of the Central City post, made the welcoming address, which was received by the veterans in true army style. Col. Paul Vandervoort was made commander of the camp, and John S. Wood adjutant-general.

The camp fires every evening were pronounced the best ever attended by those present. Guard mount, drill, and dress parade occupied a portion of each day. The "Mulligan Guards" were commanded by F. E. Brown of Syracuse Post, and they afforded a great deal of amusement to the boys. Hon. S. J. Alexander, Secretary of State, commanded the cavalry, seventy-five in number, who made a raid on the enemy and returned to camp heavily laden with spoils and plunder. The sham battle on Friday afternoon resulted in favor of the Union Army. Gen. Lee gracefully surrendered to Gen. Grant.

On Thursday and Friday the attendance was very large. On Thursday the wagons numbered 500, and on Friday nearly 700. J. H. Kyner, D. L. Thomas, and G. W. Brewster, represented Ouster Post, of Omaha. Nearly every county in the State was represented as well as about 200 different regiments of volunteers, also the 3d regiment of the U. S. army, and two members from the volunteer navy.

Among the amusements were walk-around

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The Presbyterians Capture Most of the Churches for One Day.

Sunday was an unusually interesting day among the churches of this city, owing largely to the session of the Presbyterian Synod.

At the Presbyterian church, Rev. D. W. Poor, of Philadelphia, preached in the morning, and Rev. Henry Kendall, of New York City, spoke in the evening on Home Missions. At 4 o'clock p. m., Rev. J. A. Worden, general superintendent of Sunday schools for the Presbyterian church, addressed a full house on the subject of Sunday schools, which was a very able and sweeping criticism on the management of the average Sunday school.

The following named ministers, attendant upon the Synod, discoursed the gospel Sunday at the several churches in the city: The services at the First M. E. Church were made up of a sermon in the morning by Rev. James Kemlo, of Lincoln, and in the evening by Rev. J. H. Reynard. Rev. E. Benson, of Seward, preached in the morning at the United Presbyterian Church, and Rev. David Street, of Falls City, in the evening. Rev. Mr. Worden preached in the morning at the Eighteenth street M. E. Church, and Rev. E. Sheffield in the evening. Rev. Wm. B. Brown, D. D., of New York City, preached both morning and evening at the Congregational Church. Rev. E. R. Davis, of Chicago, preached in the morning at the First Baptist Church, and Rev. H. F. White, of Beatrice, preached in the evening.

There is a wide-spread and well founded belief that Thomas' Eclectic Oil will cure coughs, pains, crick in the back, swollen neck, pain caused by bruises, sores or rheumatism, abrasions or cuts, corns, bunions, etc. This belief has the best possible foundation, namely, the experience of those who have used it, and of whom it is the effect. A perusal of the regular advertisement in this paper is recommended. See advertisement at another column.
