carefully examine the card of A. Cruickshank & Co., which appears on the 3rd page of this issue. The enterprising firm proposes to "struck a bargain" and propose to give their customers the benefit. Call early and secure bargains. They never advertise to do anything unless they can carry it out. At a preliminary meeting held at the board of trade Friday the board of directors were directed to act as a committee to take charge of, and present at the next regular meeting of the general board, such amendments and changes to the city charter of Omaha as may be deemed for the best interests of the city. Among the proposed changes are: One increasing the salary of the mayor, one to elect one half the members of the school board from the city at large, and one allowing the city to bond itself for public improvements.

A Glucose Factory. Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office, Saturday evening, by John McCormack, N. Shelton, F. K. Murphy, E. F. Test, Ezra Millard, and Samuel R. Johnson, for the Omaha Glucose Sugar company. It is understood that this company will immediately make arrangements for the purchase of grounds and the erection of the works, to be ready for operation early next summer. As the name indicates, the general nature of the business is to be the manufacturing and refining of all kinds of sugars syrups from corn, cane or other vegetable products, and also the transfection of all business that may appertain to the manufacture of starch, glucose or sugar.

The existence of the company dates from December 4th, and terminates fifty years from that date. It has an authorized capital stock of $200,000, in shares of $100 each, and is authorized to begin business as soon as the per cent of the stock is subscribed. The capital stock may be increased to $600,000. The officers of the company will consist of five directors, who shall be stockholders; a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who may be directors of the company. The highest amount of indebtedness to which the company is at any time to subject itself shall be $100,000.

Provision is made for amending or altering the articles, for an annual meeting of stockholders, on the first Monday in January, for election, etc. Saturday Night's fire. A small cottage on the hill, just east of St. Joseph Hospital, took fire from some unknown cause about midnight, Saturday night, in the midst of the terrible storm, which began early in the evening. An alarm was turned in by officer Black, from box 26, near the U. P. depot and brought the department promptly to the spot after a long and severe run. The fire was located in a cottage owned by Mr. James McVey, an employee of the Union Pacific. Mr. McVey was at Laramie at the time, but his wife was at home and awoke to find herself nearly suffocated by the smoke. She ran out of the house, without stopping to dress and was found nearly frozen by the officer, who, obtaining a blanket, wrapped it about her and found a refuge for her in the residence of Rev. Mr. Lang, across the street. Considerable of the furniture was saved by the firemen and a stream of water being got on quickly the fire was confined to the cottage, of which, all but the walls, were destroyed. The origin of the fire can only be guessed at by Mrs. McVey. She went to bed at half-past eight o'clock, and left a fire burning in the stove, and a couple of lamps lighted. The first she knew of the fire was when awakened by the smoke, and it was with difficulty that she managed to get out of doors. Policeman Black saw the lamps still burning inside, so it could not have been by a lamp explosion that the fire was caused. In all probability it originated from the stove.

GHOULS AT WORK. The Bold Bobbery of a New Made Grave at "Prospect Hill."

Warrant Sworn Out Against the Nebraska Medical School. What the Dissecting Room Revealed.

On Wednesday morning, Mr. Rufus Pratt, assistant of Mr. Geo. Meadock, the sexton of Prospect Hill, discovered in going its rounds that one of the graves had the appearance of having been disturbed. The grave was that of the late Chris Vos, who died week before last and was buried on Sunday afternoon. An investigation later revealed the fact that while the casket in which the remains were laid away was still left in the grave the body was gone, having been drawn out through a hole made in one end of the coffin.

Nothing was said about the matter, although parties at once went to work to discover the body snatchers, if possible, and recover the stolen remains. Saturday, Fred Weisman swore out a search warrant in the police court to examine the rooms of the Nebraska Medical school, lately instituted, and having their headquarters in the third story of Hellman's block.

Armed with this authority Deputy Marshal Weestedahl and Officers Ford and Bellamy proceeded to the place in question. No one was found in the lecture room except one or two students. Jerome Morzman, who is said to be janitor of the society's rooms, was not to be found and no keys could be obtained, whereupon the officers proceeded to room No. 20, on the east side of the building and with a little exertion broke open the door. A ghastly sight met their eyes. Upon the dissecting table in the center of the room, lay, face downward, the decapitated body of a man. From it all the skin had been stripped, as well as a portion of the scalp, so that it was beyond recognition. The right arm hung by the side, wrapped in a dirty bandage, while the left arm, of which only the bones and tendons remained, swung to and fro from the center of the room by a wire suspended from the ceiling. At one side of the room the skull, sawn in two and fleshless, lay upon a second table, while a wooden bucket at the head of the dissecting table was filled with a sickening mass. The whole room had the horrible odor common to such places throughout.

The coroner was at once notified of the discovery and an assistant sent to take the poor remnant of humanity away. The discovery was not made until 3 o'clock nearly, and as no officers of the association were about it was impossible to learn what they had to say in the matter. While it will be impossible to positively identify the remains, there seems to be many circumstances to indicate that it is the one stolen from Prospect Hill. A man connected with the institute is said to have remarked a few days ago that they expected to have a "stiff" soon. The same party is said by one of the officers to have been out all night Tuesday night, and to have given as an excuse that he was at one of the hospitals. Great indignation was expressed by all who were present after the horrible discovery was made, and it will undoubtedly create a tremendous sensation. A city official informed our reporter that there were several cases of the kind of late but that this was the first which had come to light.

There will no doubt be further developments Saturday. The penalty for "body snatching" is very severe, we understand from $100 to $1,000 fine. In some states imprisonment for two years in the penitentiary is added, but we believe not in Nebraska.

If you want a nice visiting card, call at the BEE job rooms, and leave your order. Mr. S. Jonason, the jeweler, 410 South Thirteenth street, has quite a novelty in the way of musical albums. SOCIAL SALT. Wherewith is Seasoned the Dull Diet of Our Daily Life.

Resume of the Society Events of the Past Week. There was a temporary lull last week in the number of parties and entertainments that of late have been of such frequent occurrence, although there were one or two, quite notable social events. The first of these was the very successful entertainment given by the ladies of TRINITY GUILD, on Tuesday night, at Standard Hall. Considerable time and labor were expended in preparing for this affair, which proved a source of both pleasure and profit to the society and its patrons. The hall was appropriately decorated with flags and wreaths, and was occupied in the center by rows of tables loaded with fancy articles, which sold quite rapidly. An elegant supper was served in an adjoining room. The music for the occasion was furnished by the military band from Fort Omaha, and was, as usual, a pleasant feature of the entertainment. A gypsy dance was performed by some of the young ladies and gentlemen, who were dressed after the ideal costume of the wanderers. They also sang spirited songs and choruses during the evening.

STANDARD CLUB. On Wednesday evening at the same place the fourth party of the series given under the auspices of this club took place, being the closing one of the first series. Another series will be given, the parties succeeding each other at intervals of two weeks until May. During the holidays a grand ball will be given and very likely a Ball Masque in February.

SILVER WEDDING DAY. On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Poppleton celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage, at their new and elegant residence in "Elizabeth Place." The occasion is reported to have been one of the most interesting and brilliant that has been enjoyed by the good people of this city for many years, and was attended by a select number of friends of the fortunate couple. The floral decorations of the new mansion were profuse, fragrant and beautiful, and everything that could be done to give pleasure to the guests who were present, was anticipated. An orchestra furnished exquisite music for those who preferred to tread the merry dance, while the more sedate could amuse themselves at cards in the music room. A common centre of attraction was the supper room upstairs where a sumptuous repast was spread. There were no presents, that condition being inscribed upon the invitations sent out some days before the event took place.

Mr. A. J. Poppleton, of Omaha, and Miss Carrie Sears, of Council Bluffs, were married Dec. 2nd, 1855, by Rev. Mr. Rice, of the latter city, who with his wife were present at this anniversary jubilee. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson, of Council Bluffs, who acted as groomsmen, and bridesmaid a quarter of a century ago, were also present. The ceremony was again performed, and in the presence of the same minister and witnesses the vows were again spoken, after which Rev. Mr. Rice made some very beautiful and appropriate remarks. The guests included many prominent visitors from abroad and a very large number of citizens, both old and young, of Omaha.

CHURCH SOCIABLES. The third social given by the ladies of the Congregational Society occurred at the residence of Mrs. George W. Ambrose, on Farnham street, Thursday afternoon and evening. An entirely new programme was arranged for the evening, and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. A pleasant social gathering was held in the parlors of the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening. Among many pleasant features of the evening was the singing by Miss Ella Spover and Mr. J. L. Smith. Miss Harbridge, the young elocutionist, who has recently come to this city, read three selections, in a pleasing manner and with fine dramatic effect. Refreshments were served during the evening and everything passed off in charming style.

A social of the teachers of the city mission Sabbath school was held last evening at the residence of Mrs. Van Kuren. The Congregational fair is to be held on the 16th and 17th insts., at Masonic Hall. One of its features will be the production of the operetta of "Cinderella" on the 17th.

OMAHA GLEE CLUB. In the course of a couple of weeks the celebrated Omaha Glee Club, composed of some of the finest voices in the west, will give a grand and entertaining concert at the Academy. On this occasion the club will be assisted by Prof. August Wither, one of the finest pianists in the country. Mrs. Latoy will also appear, and Miss Craunse, of Blair, will perform a fine piano solo. Semi-weekly rehearsals are now being held by the club and a delightful programme is arranged for the occasion. On December 22nd the club will give a concert at Bohauer's Opera House in Council Bluffs, where the same musical talent above mentioned will assist them in giving the people of our neighboring city a fine musical treat.

"A BOOK RECEPTION." A "book reception" is one of the fixed things in the near future for the Young Men's Christian association—probably Monday, December 13th. In order to have plenty of room for a grand social time and entertainment, the reception will be held in the parlors of one of our churches. Get your books ready. The committee, Messrs. H. W. Snow, W. W. Peet, and Col. Watson B. Smith, will leave nothing undone to make it a success in every particular.

BALLS AND PARTIES. The next Pleasant Hours party occurs on the 10th and the full dress reception on the 30th. The friends of ex-Policeman C. R. Mansfield are getting up a benefit ball for him, to be held at Masonic hall on Tuesday evening, December 14th. It should be liberally patronized. Lemiou's select socials, held every Saturday evening, have proven a grand social success. The attendance is at all times of the most select and decorous character, the music is first-class and the popularity of the parties steadily increasing. A very select and pleasant party was given at the residence of Mr. W. H. Scott, at Fort Omaha, on Wednesday evening of this week, in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Scott. The guests had the last imaginable time and their hosts did all in their power to make the affair an enjoyable one, in which they made a marked success.

VISTA CHAPTER. The third of a series of six social parties given by Vista Chapter, No. 6, order of the Eastern Star, came off Friday at Masonic hall, about sixty couples responding to invitations. The music was furnished by Hoffman and was of a high order, and a very pleasant and sociable time was had by all. One of the attractions was the new dance "Raquet" J. J. Galligan acted as prompter. The party was the best that has yet been given, and did not break up until about 2 a. m. The next party of the series occurs on the 29th instant, a day later than the printed list announces.

A pleasant surprise party occurred on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. Harry A. Haskell, foreman of the Bee job room, No. 999, Nineteenth street. About forty-five couples were present, and the usual social enjoyments, with dancing and refreshments were indulged in. The folks up in that sociable neighborhood are having a regular series of surprise parties, and a good time generally.

EXCELSIOR. Our Forthcoming Annual Illustrated Review. Splendid Engravings, Excellent Typography and Reliable Statistics.

Arrangements have been completed for bringing out the forthcoming Annual Illustrated Review of THE OMAHA BEE, which will be distributed to our subscribers on New Year's Day. All the illustrations in this annual review are to be lithographed by a first class artist. One of the most important features will be the sketches of the prominent private residences in the city, which last year were crowded out by other buildings. The statistical work, which is the most laborious part of this undertaking will be more complete in detail and more thorough if anything, than in any previous Review.

In order that no omissions shall occur in this branch, we would urge upon our citizens who have made any building improvements during the year to furnish us the desired information, either at this office or through the postoffice as early as possible. We need the name of the owner of the improvement or structure, description of the improvement or building; location and cost of same. In view of the fact that the outlay for such an undertaking is very large, amounting to nearly $1,500, we have to secure a considerable amount of advertising patronage from our merchants and manufacturers. Mr. J. H. Pierce has been employed as solicitor for advertisements in the illustrated annual review. He will call upon business men and furnish them further particulars concerning the style of the work, rates of advertising, etc. The edition will contain 16,000 copies, and will therefore be a most valuable medium for advertising.

Parties who desire to have their residences or any buildings illustrated better apply at this office at an early day. Brotherhood Love. "Be kind to thy sister, not many may know. The depth of true sisterly love." She keeps all the depth for that pigeon-tailed be. Who fastens her six-buttoned glove. "Be kind to thy brother, wherever you go. The love of a brother shall be.
