Prescriptions a specialty, Opera House Pharmacy, 211 S. 15th Street. Judge Beneke had on two cases of intoxication before him yesterday morning. Highest cash price paid for second-hand furniture at Abram's & Lewis', 1121 Douglass street. A rare chance to obtain a good paying business. See special column. Enquire at South 14th street. Miss Pries, who died Saturday evening, was buried in the Holy Sepulchre, from her residence on Eleventh street yesterday afternoon.

In one of the show windows of the Washburn office a beautifully colored representation of the new court house is exhibited. It attracts much attention from passersby. ATTENTION—Pickles, Pickles, Pickles, for now is the time to put up your catsup and preserves, cucumber pickles, green and red tomatoes, small pickling onions, melons, red peppers, etc., supplied on order in any quantities. TUESDAY BROS. Stole a Castor. Last Saturday evening three young men committed a robbery of a potty nature in Tivoli gardens. They entered the gardens early in the evening and ordered some beer and supper, which they consumed and then made off without paying and at the same time took a silver plated castor with them. Mrs. Thiele, the wife of the proprietor, happening to see them running away, managed to secure the man who had the castor. He at once gave up the castor. He, however, succeeded in escaping with his two companions. Julius Thiele, the proprietor of the gardens, issued a warrant yesterday afternoon for their arrest.

PERSONALS. D. O. Clark left for the west yesterday. E. A. Benson, of Davenport, Iowa, is in the city. Col. J. E. McClure left for the west on business yesterday. B. E. B. Kennedy left for a hunting trip. Bishop Clarkson has returned home for his trip to the east. U. S. Marshal Bierbower went to Lincoln yesterday morning on business. Mr. and Mrs. Cruickshank and Mrs. Sheriff Guy leave for the east yesterday. A. E. Touzalin, general manager of the B. & M. returned from his trip to the sea-side yesterday. J. N. Reynolds, the county clerk of Nance county, is in the city. He returned home yesterday. Mrs. Lee Estelle will leave for a trip to her old home in Kentucky. She will be absent about a month. Frank Brown, cashier of the U. P. and family arrived home yesterday morning from a visit to Painesville, Ohio. Warren E. Hamlin, of New York, is at the Canfield. David Anderson, the Columbus stock man, is in the city. W. W. Finch, of Chicago, is in the city. He is registered at the Canfield. John W. Dellman and family, of Denver, are in town. They are at the Withnell. M. M. Hamlin, a prominent citizen of Nebraska City, is in the city. He is staying at the Withnell. Geo. McCullough, a young attorney, formerly of Monmouth, Ill., has decided to open an office in this city. J. P. Dexter, proprietor of New York's dainty Bijou theatre, who has been visiting in this city and the west for some time, took the Wabash train for home yesterday. Hans Schlenker, who has been visiting Peter Goss for several months, will leave on Saturday for New York, where he will take the steamer Herder for his home in Hamburg.

A Collision. Last night at about 8 o'clock there was quite an accident on the lower track of the U. P. An engine with cars attached was going from the shop yards to the upper yards, and it had reached the Ninth street crossing when its farther progress was prevented by several cars running down grade in an opposite direction without an engine attached. The trains collided, and one of the freight cars was pretty well smashed up and several thrown from the track. The accident stopped the passage of street cars across Ninth street for nearly half an hour. Messrs. Witmer & Bro., druggists Philadelphia, Pa., so we see by a Philadelphia exchange, tell that a customer of theirs said he would not take one thousand dollars for the remainder of his bottle of St. Jacobs Oil if he could not get another. This speaks.

"BLACK-DRAUGHT" makes chills and fever impossible. Smythe & Stull, attorneys, removed No. 12 Orlington block.

THE SEWER COMMITTEE.

It Was the Only Thing Discussed by the Council Last Night.

Intellectual Misunderstandings Between Members.

On the call of Mayor Boyd a special meeting of the council was held last evening, to consider the report of Geo. E. Warring on the Omaha system of sewerage. The first thing that came up for consideration was a resolution by Mr. Kaufman that President Dailey be added as a committee on waterworks and sewerage. This was amended to make the gentleman chairman during the absence of Mr. McNamara.

Mr. Danham, in speaking of the matter, said that the waterworks committee had done nothing up to the present. They had done nothing in the matter of filling up holes caused by rain showers. When Mr. Corby, chairman of the committee, called at the waterworks office he received no more attention than any other man.

Mr. Hornberger said if Mr. Danham expected members of that committee to act like police he was a little "off." Mr. Dailey said he had no ambition to become chairman of the committee. He hoped the amendment would be withdrawn as he would probably be out of town while the committee was doing its hardest work.

Mr. Danham said something ought to be done as he had noticed holes left unfilled for several weeks at a time. He himself had reported several of these and no attention was paid them. The committee had been in existence several months and had not held a single meeting.

Mr. Corby considered this a slur upon him as chairman of the committee and asked that Mr. Danham be substituted in his stead. After a motion to table the resolution and amendment had been lost Mr. Kaufman suddenly jumped up and said he wanted to withdraw from this waterworks committee if Mr. Danham was appointed chairman as that gentleman had just remarked that he would rather serve with a lot of bootblacks.

"I didn't say anything of the kind," said Mr. Danham bristling up. "You did, you did," said Mr. Kaufman excitedly. At this moment President Dailey's gavel came down sharply and ended the discussion. The resolution and amendment was carried.

Mr. Danham moved that the report of Engineer Warring on the question of sewers be given to the waterworks and sewer committee with instructions to see the city attorney and confer with him as to the necessary steps for its adoption at a meeting to be held this evening. Mr. O'Keefe amended to lay the matter over a week.

The amendment was lost and the resolution was carried. The committee will meet in the city clerk's office at 9:30 this morning. Mr. Kaufman moved that the city clerk be ordered to have 40 $1,000 bonds lithographed. Mr. Baker thought this matter had better be postponed until the sewer committee had discussed the matter and reported to council.

Other members thought so too. Council then adjourned until this evening at 7:30 o'clock. OMAHA MEDICAL COLLEGE. Fall session begins Oct. 10, 1881. Address, G. B. AYLES, M. D., Sec. Visiting in Ohio. Some time ago Mr. Thomas McShane and wife, of New Lexington, Ohio, arrived here on a visit to their sons and daughters. Upon their return about sixteen members of the family accompanied them for a short visit to the old home. The party consisted of F. J. McShane, wife and child; Mrs. Ed. McShane and three children; Martin Cannon, wife and two children; Tom McShane, wife and two children. The entire party are still in Ohio, with the exception of Messrs. F. J. McShane and Martin Cannon, who have returned to the city. The old couple will probably come to Omaha to live permanently some time in October.

Sprinkling Tenth Street. Thomas Smith says he will be ready to sprinkle Tenth street from near Farnham to the depot, and Sixteenth street to the bridge, by to-morrow afternoon. The water company will be discharging water from the hydrants by that time, thus rendering it possible. The sprinkling of Tenth street will especially be a boon to pedestrians and visitors to the city who will not have anything to complain of in the matter of dust. Chicago Operators. Half a dozen telegraph operators arrived in this city over the Rock Island road from Chicago yesterday. They consist of Messrs. Hutchinson, McGill, Smith, Huey, Spencer and Stormhill, and come here in anticipation of a press of work in the event of the president's death.

"The Revere House Council Bluffs is the best second-class hotel in the west." A fine package of "BLACK-DRAUGHT" for sale. For nice fresh meat go to GULL, Meat Market on Tenth street, near the U. P. depot.

New Jersey Sharp.

The appended letter was received from Trenton, N. J., yesterday, directed to THE BEE:

"For some time past a young man priding himself on the sweet-sounding title of Wm. C. Fosset has been successful in duping several of our citizens by fraudulent transactions in real estate. His last feat was perpetrated at the expense of a poor Italian harp-player named Pascolina, who was defrauded out of several hundred dollars in his deal. Finding matters pretty warm, this young 'sharp' skipped the city about August 1st, just as the authorities were about to rake him in. His destination is believed to be Omaha. He is about 5 feet 7 inches in height, with smooth face and eyes of blue, and has a youthful appearance. One of his front teeth is much discolored. I trust you will publish this, so that the people of Omaha may be on their guard. Yours, &c., EARLY MORGAN."

THE FAIR.

It Will Be the Biggest One Ever Held in Omaha.

All the Arrangements For the Event Nearly Completed.

Preparations for the present state fair are far greater than any that have ever been made heretofore. The indications now show that the state fair of 1881 will be far superior to that of any previous year. At the fair grounds everything is bustle and activity. The new buildings are all well under way and will soon be completed. The contract for building the tower and pole for the electric light were let yesterday, and work on them will be commenced to-day. The lower portion will be seventy-five feet in height, while the pole which will be placed on top of the tower will be sixty-five feet, thus giving a total height of 140 feet, upon the top of which the light will be placed.

The apparatus for the electric light has already been shipped from Cleveland and will be here in a day or two. An electrician will also be here in a few days to superintend the setting up of the light. It has not been generally understood that the electric light feature of the fair is a private enterprise, but such is the fact. When the question was first brought before the state board it was decided that it would be too expensive an experiment. Thereupon J. C. McBride & Co. submitted a proposition that, in consideration of one-half of the gross receipts of the night exhibitions, they would furnish the light. The proposition was accepted by the board, and Messrs. McBride & Co. ordered the light. So to the enterprise of these gentlemen is due an important feature of the exhibition. There will be sixteen lights, each of 3,000 candles power. Five of them will be set upon the tower pole, which will be placed in the centre of the exhibit, so that the exhibits in the different halls may be viewed at night as well as day. The state board are at no expense save the furnishing of the motive power for the generation of the electricity, which is trivial. The state board have under way a permanent building for the exclusive use of the president and board of managers. Mr. Mount's dining hall is nearly completed, and will be a spacious building. The track is being put in good condition, and the grass on all parts of the ground has been mowed down.

A Fractious Animal. Mrs. Powell, the wife of Charles Powell, the justice of the peace residing at 621 South Fifteenth street, met with a little accident yesterday. While driving down Fifteenth street, just as the horse reached the Withnell, he reared around wildly on his hind legs, and would probably have upset the buggy had it not been for the intrepidity of Walter Kelly, who seized the horse and with some difficulty quieted him. Mrs. Powell got out of the buggy and went home, leaving the horse and buggy in charge of George H. Fitchett.

Horse Badly Hurt. Mr. Bennett, of the Pullman Car Company, was driving home to dinner yesterday. The street had been undermined near the corner of Davenport and Twenty-first, and the horse broke through. It was taken out with considerable difficulty and was found to be badly sprained in both fore and hind quarters. The physicians say, "We feel justified in recommending the 'Conrad's Balm' to the public, because we know it to be perfectly pure and healthy, being manufactured of the very best hops and malt that can be found."

DIED. P. J. JOHNSON—At the residence on 19th, between Clark and Grace streets, Saturday, August 27th, at 6 o'clock p. m. Aged 29 years and 11 months. Funeral from residence to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends of family invited. HULTMAN—This morning at 1:30 o'clock, Frank Edward Arthur, infant son of Frank A. and Jenny Hultman. Funeral services at their residence on Cass street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, to-morrow at 9 o'clock a. m.

ARMSTRONG—August 25, Margarette, infant daughter of E. L. and Mattie Armstrong. Chicago papers please copy. Forty years' trial proved "BLACK-DRAUGHT" the best liver medicine in the world. At F. C. Goodman's.

CROW DOG,

The Murderer of Spotted Tail, on His Way to Trial.

What He Looks Like and What He Says of The Affair.

Crow Dog, the murderer of Spotted Tail, passed over the U. P. Sunday in charge of deputy U. S. marshal of Dakota and two officers of the U. S. army, on his way from the Rosebud Agency, D. T., to Deadwood, D. T., where he will soon be tried for his crime. The party came from the agency via Yankton to Missouri Valley junction, thence to Fremont, on the U. P. At Sidney they will take a stage for Deadwood. Crow Dog is a heavy set, good looking Indian, and does not look like a blood-thirsty or quarrelsome person. He was dressed in a blue army coat, blue pantaloons and moccasins. He wore upon his coat the shoulder straps of a first lieutenant of the U. S. army. The version of the origin of the shooting has already appeared in THE BEE, which is probably the correct one. Crow Dog, however, gives quite a different story of the feud which existed between himself and Spotted Tail. He said that he had repeatedly tried to conciliate Spotted Tail, but without effect. A short time prior to his dismissal as Captain of the Indian police he went to Spotted Tail and endeavored to make up the differences existing between them, and offered his hand to Spotted Tail, which he refused to take. Shortly after he was dismissed, this action angered Crow Dog, still he held his peace and was determined not to have any personal encounter with Spotted Tail. When the invitation from the secretary of the interior came to have Spotted Tail and subordinate chiefs go to Washington to hold a general conference with relation to the affairs of the Pawnee nation, Crow Dog and his friends were completely ignored in the selection of representatives which was made. To this action he protested, and asked Spotted Tail to allow him and some of his friends a place in the delegation, but that chief refused to do so. He attended the council held for the purpose of selecting the Indians for the Washington trip until the hope that he would be allowed to go, but although he was there no notice was taken of him by Spotted Tail. This so enraged him that he determined to kill the chief, and did so as he left the council meeting on his way home. Crow Dog does not express any alarm for the result of his trial for the murder, but on the contrary thinks that he will be set free, as his action was perfectly justifiable.

Narrow Escape.

E. L. Bergquest, of 1709 Cuming street, had a very narrow escape from death yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m. He is one of the carpenters employed at Boyd's opera house. A plank, 2x8 and fourteen feet long, fell a distance of thirty feet, just grazed his head and struck him on the foot, the tissues of which were very badly bruised. Dr. Merriam dressed the foot and advised him to lay off for a few days.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

Proceedings of Their Last Meeting.

The county commissioners at their last meeting directed the county treasurer to pay $8.58 in taxes for Isaac W. Burgman, on account of work on the road. The following amounts were taken from the road fund: Peter Cassidy, $12, work on road; Geo. Bell, same; John Rowhen, same $19.50; Luke McDermott, account Cuming street grade, $297.5; C. A. Jensen, grading block 141, $50; Wiley Taylor $3 and Jerome Powell $1.50 for work on road; H. C. Thomas, balance for grading, $24; D. M. Boyd, account of grade near Bagley's, $20; Eli Johnson, building bridges, $150. From the general fund: Henry Pundt, goods for poor, $1 25; J. H. Butler, repair to court house, $9; John C. Gatz, witness fees, $2; A. Hoop, Jr., picture frame, $20; C. H. Willard, agent, transportation paper, $13 80; J. R. Manchester, on account of 1881 tax list, $400; Wm. Kroner, tax refunded $8.88; John G. Jacobs, coffin for poor, $15; Omaha foundry and machine company, bridge castings, $223.52 and W. H. Jiams, fees as clerk of insane board, $103.75. It was resolved to levy a district school tax of three mills on the dollar valuation in school district No. 3. Proposals for furnishing coal for the next year were opened as follows: Geo. Paterson for hard coal, immediate delivery, $11 per ton, after Sep. 1st $12; soft coal $5.25 per ton and 25 cents extra on lots less than one half ton and for delivery at the poor house. Pratt & Towle, for hard coal, $11.30 per ton; soft coal, $5.20 per ton and 25 cents extra for delivery at the poor house and in lots less than one-half ton. W. S. Street, hard coal, $11.50; soft coal, $5, with extra charges as before. B. F. Troxell & Co., for small egg hard coal, $10.70 per ton. The contract for furnishing hard coal was awarded to Troxell & Co., and for soft coal to W. S. Street.

TAKEN IN.

A Young Scotchman Bilked Out of all His Money.

Yesterday a young man was made the victim of a confidence game by a couple of men at the U. P. depot. The young man, whose name is Alexander McQueen, arrived in Omaha yesterday from Scotland. This afternoon he went down to the depot to look after his baggage and while there was accosted by a well dressed man with a red face and about six feet tall. The man asked young McQueen where he was going and he replied that he was looking for work. The confidence man said his father was a Scotchman and was looking for a young man of his own nationality to take care of his horse. After some talk the confidence fellow engaged McQueen to go to work for his father. At this juncture another individual appeared, who presented what purported to be a bill for freight against the first confidence man. The man last appearing said he had left them at the freight depot and would not haul them up town until he had got his money that he had advanced for freight charges. The first man said he had a check for a large amount, but no cash. He asked young McQueen whether he had any cash, and being answered in the affirmative, presented a check on Caldwell, Hamilton & Co.'s bank, drawn in favor of George N. Hamilton for $720, and signed by Howard & Son. The young man advanced the money on it, to the amount of $60, all the money he had on earth. After the men went away he began to suspect that all was not right, so he went into the U. P. office and asked a person there if it was. The man saw that the young man had been duped, and telephoned to the bank about it. The bank replied that the check was a forgery. The young man rushed up town and got Officer McCune to his assistance. The officer looking for the man.

Miraculous Escape.

H. Nelson, teamster for Welshans & Bro., was driving in the southern part of the city delivering goods yesterday. The ring on the neck yoke broke and let the tongue drop to the ground. The horses took fright and started on a run. Crossing a ditch the tongue caught in the ground and the jar pulled Nelson off his seat. The wagon wheels passed over his chest and abdomen. One rib was fractured and he was badly bruised. It was a miracle he was not crushed as the wagon was an immense one, capable of carrying three tons. He was taken to his home Twenty-second and Leavenworth street. Dr. Stone was called to attend him.

SATISFACTORY.

The Trial of The Fire Hydrants Yesterday.

Yesterday the firemen, under the supervision of Chief Galligan and the official eyes of Mayor Boyd and N. Shelton of the water company, tested fire hydrants in various portions of the city. The test was made under an eighty-pound pressure. The first stream was turned on at Ninth and Farnham streets and worked very satisfactorily. The second trial was made before a large and interested audience at Eleventh and Farnham streets. The firemen experienced no difficulty in sending a stream over the top of Creighton hall. When the nozzle of the hose was held vertically the stream was discharged to about one and a half times the height of that building. The only other trial made before noon was at Boyd's opera where everything worked very satisfactorily. The pressure on the mains this morning burst only a single pipe far as heard from. That was a four-inch main at Twenty-first and Davenport streets. In the afternoon various tests were made in different portions of the city, and the pressure was raised to about 150 pounds. The mains will now be kept filled, and should a fire occur, Chief Galligan thinks he is well prepared to tackle it.

BOYD'S OPERA HOUSE.

A Performance to be Given There on October 12.

Everything Will be Completed in Time, the Contractors Say.

Shaw & Field, who have the contract for the entire work on Boyd's opera house, say that they will have the edifice completed and ready for occupancy on October 12, when it is designed to open the theater. The heavy part of the work is now done. The roof consists of a series of nine self-supporting trusses, of the Howe pattern, which leave a clear, open space under the ceiling. All the heavy system of joists which go to form the basis for the several floors and when looked on from above seem like the carcass of an immense leviathan so complicated yet systematic do they appear, are now all in place. The stage is now about the only open space about the structure. This will be a fine affair, being 74 feet across, 50 feet to the rigging loft and fourteen feet from that point to the roof. The drop curtains will be raised directly up without being run over a series of rollers, which allow the curtains to become creased and filled with dust. This week the contractors will engage a force of about sixty men, just so soon as they can get the roof covered over. Most of the fancy wood work and moldings for about the stage and proscenium boxes have been prepared at the shops, and the rapidly with which it will be placed in its proper position in the opera house will astonish the natives. The contractors feel confident that they can perform the entire work and turn the keys of the completed building over to Mayor Boyd by October 12. As soon as the roof is covered over men will be worked day and night. Shaw & Field are the contractors who transformed a church edifice into what is now known as Pope's theatre, in St. Louis, placing it in a condition to be opened in four weeks' time after the work was begun. They also erected the English opera house in Indianapolis, and when they say they will have Boyd's completed in a certain time, they know what they are talking about. Both the gentlemen say that the character of work done on Boyd's theater will compare with any in the country, and that the opening will give a pleasing surprise to every citizen of Omaha.
