

The Daily Bee.

OMAHA.

Thursday Morning, Aug. 24.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The weather is more sultry than ever. There was a big train in from Denver this morning. Twenty cars of sheep arrived at 4 p. m. yesterday from the west. The Omaha Gymnasium club held a practice meeting Tuesday. Fenney & Connolly's new store will be completed in a day or two. The Mendelssohn Quintette Club at Boyd's opera house this evening. Hobbis Bros., will build a handsome two story brick store on 16th and Cass. Meadlimer & Daily have laid a nice sidewalk in front of their carriage factory. The 16th street people would like to know if Mr. Balcombe intends to lower his block? John A. Creighton is about to build two fine dwelling houses on California street, near 10th. There were two cases of plain drink in police court yesterday. One was committed and the other case continued. The county commissioners have postponed the letting of the other two bridge contracts until Thursday next. There will be a meeting of the Douglas county republican central committee Friday, August 25th, at 2 p. m. Mother Dillon was released from jail at a late hour last night. The police judge thinks she was more cranky than intoxicated. Geo. Gans, a farmer residing seven miles west of this city, had four stacks of oats, the product of twelve acres, set fire to and burned Sunday morning about 4 o'clock. The C. B. and Q. train was several hours late yesterday. The Denver train on the U. P. waited until 9:15 and then pulled out. The "Q" was thirty minutes late yesterday. Sixteenth street is terribly torn up by the work now in progress there and the business men are suffering from the impassability of this important thoroughfare. It ought to be cleared off in time for the fair. It is reported that a band of Gypsies have been encamped for several days in the brush near the head of St. Mary's avenue, and that there is also a band west of Haecall's place, and also one in the northwest outskirts of the city. Trinity Guild contemplates giving a grand "Harvest Home Festival" at the residence of Bishop Clarkson on the 29th inst. The celebrated "Broom Brigade" will appear on the occasion in full dress. The wife of Chas. Dyer, the tailor who was sent up to the county jail Tuesday for beating his better half, went to the police judge, paid his fine and had him released. Dyer signed a pledge to abstain from drink for three years. Walter Bogert's Base Ball Combination Board is now open at Joe Blake's, and at the Canfield House for next Saturday's league and local games. Walter's board is a very ingenious arrangement and calls forth numerous complimentary remarks besides being well patronized. A number of our citizens were acquainted personally with John Freeth, the splendid bass singer who has appeared in Omaha with Haverly's and Emerson's Minstrels. He sang at one time in the San Francisco Quartette and again with Welling Bros., Dixon and Freeth. The poor fellow died recently in San Francisco, of quick consumption and was buried by Haverly's Minstrels. When last here he sang at the San Francisco Quartette at Carrier's art gallery, over Williams' store, the Arion Quartette, of this city, being present and singing with them. The game of Friday, August 25th, on K. & M. grounds promises to be the best of the season. The Leadville Blues, the champions of the Rockies, have lost only one game in twenty-nine played this year. The game lost was with the Longmont Utes when the Blues have batted six times out of seven. The game on Tuesday with the Hastings Reds stood 14 to 2 in favor of the Blues. Every game won was won on the score of a single inning. The three soldiers, Flintwell, McDonald and Dawson, implicated in the highway robbery of Saturday evening, which resulted in the shooting of Shrader, had their examination before Judge Anderson yesterday and the first named was bound over in the sum of $1,000 and the latter two $500 each, to appear before the October grand jury, failing to give which, they were committed to jail. The proof against Flintwell is very strong and shows that he had more to do with the holding up of Squires and Wolsey than was at first supposed. Mr. F. E. Brown, assistant adjutant general of the Grand Army of the Republic, has received a beautiful banner to be presented to the Illinois veterans in Nebraska, and it is now on exhibition at his office, in room No. 4, Union block. It was manufactured by order of J. H. Wilson & Co., an eastern firm, and the presentation will take place at the Grand Island reunion.

LET US HAVE PEACE.

White Thunder Set Down on Red Cloud's Schemers.

And Warns Him to Expect No Aid From Other Indians.

The Pine Ridge Agency Trouble at an End. Col. Martin, adjutant general of the department of the Platte, has received a letter from Capt. M. C. Foote, dated Fort Niobrara, August 20th, enclosing a letter written by "White Thunder" to "Red Cloud." White Thunder is considered the best man now in the Sioux nation, and Capt. Foote thinks he would be a valuable ally in case any of Red Cloud's band should attempt to make trouble. The letter is as follows:

FOOT NIORARA, Neb., Aug. 20. To Red Cloud, Ogallala Sioux, Pine Ridge Agency, Neb. CHIEF RED CLOUD:—"Mahk-peah-tah"—I speak to you as a friend. Listen to what I have to say to you. We want to look for the hereafter, not only for the present. We are growing old and we want to look out for the good of our children. I hear you want to go on the war path again, but I do not want you to do anything of the kind, or even talk that. Whoever is a chief should always do as the Great Father at Washington wishes him to do. I was a chief and they tried to put me out, but I paid no attention to the foolish remarks of some. So I have remained a chief as I always was. My friend I hear some bad news about you that makes all your friends here ashamed of you. We receive benefits from the Great Father at Washington, and we want to fight him afterward. Who would not be ashamed of such conduct? We have always heard that you had very good agents, but now we have heard that you are not. If you will try and help your agent stand by him and keep him, you will get along a great deal better than if you change, as you may get a bad one. Since the first day I have known you, you have always been talking about war and fighting. Friend that is a very poor idea you have in your head, and if you claim to be a friend of mine, you must stop such foolishness, you will always find me helping the whites. We get our food and clothing for ourselves and our children, and all our assistance from the Great Father, and if you should turn and attempt to fight, you will never get any aid or assistance from me. Red Cloud, you know you have been several times a prisoner, and I have been to see you when you have been in prison. I don't want to see you there any more. Now make peace with your agent, and let us all be friends together, and stop this foolish quarreling. Whatever is wrong the Great Father will make right. Red Cloud, you know there is no use in resisting the soldiers, for they will destroy you the same as we would cattle, as I have told you before, and this is the last time I will tell this to you. I will always watch my own people and Sitting Bull's people, who are with me, and I will see that none of them go with you, as you will only get them in trouble, and if you think they will help you, or join you, you are mistaken. I write this to you from Fort Niobrara. I am here to attend a sale of government horses. Your friend, "WHITE THUNDER, (WAH-KEAUB-SKA.)"

COMPANY K. Departure of Troops for Fort McKinney. A special car attached to the noon train yesterday conveyed company K, of the Ninth infantry, en route to their new station at Fort McKinney. Capt. Hay and Lieut. Stembel and Palmer were the officers, and they took out forty-three men in all. The company goes to Rock Creek on the U. P., and there takes a day's rest to await transportation. Fort McKinney is at the foot of the Big Horn mountains, on Clear creek, a branch of the Powder river. It is over 200 miles north of Rock Creek. Company K takes away no man whose loss will be more universally regretted than the general first sergeant, Mr. W. L. Allison, who has a host of friends in this city and vicinity. Sergeant Allison has been in the service for nineteen years, and for seventeen years of time has been in the department of the Platte. His last enlistment was a little over a year ago. He is a magnificent-looking man physically, a natural born gentleman, and one who would grace a much higher rank in the service. He is a member of St. John's lodge, A. F. and A. M., of this city, and he carries the good will not only of his fellows in the lodge but of all who have known him.

ST. PHILIP'S GUILD. A Splendid Time at Standard Hall Tuesday Night. The St. Philip's guild entertainment, which came off at Standard hall Tuesday, was perhaps the most enjoyable one that ever occurred in this city among the colored people. The only thing that can be said in the way of criticism is that the concert exercises were begun too late, and this seems to be a very common difficulty in connection with all entertainments of this character given by colored societies. The programme, as published in THE BEE a few days ago, was carried out with one or two exceptions. The recitations and songs were all rendered with such liveliness and nicety as made them very enjoyable to those who listened. The choruses were the best rendered that we have had the pleasure of hearing for many a day, considering the number of those who assisted in the singing. This also solo by Miss Mamie Williams was well sung. The same is true of Miss Dope's soprano solo. Mr. A. K. Jones' organ and was kept up with good effect, but he came near being "blown" on the lower "E" Miss Dorsey's recitation, "My Mother," was beautiful. But little Jessie Merriam's "Whippoorwill" won the palm for excellence. Bishop Clarkson and Dean Millsburgh with their ladies graced the occasion with their presence. The Rev. Mr. Rickett, of the A. M. E. church did the Guild the honor of his presence, and added much to the enjoyment of the evening by a short address. The bishop and dean also responded to calls very graciously. Mr. Orceal delivered a short practical address, which was listened to with great attention. Mr. M. A. Rickett's address was a "tip top". This feature of the entertainment being closed, dancing by the young people began and was kept up until nearly 2 o'clock. Mr. Bell wishes to express his sincere gratitude to the public for their liberal patronage of this, the Guild's first entertainment. To Mrs. Merriam, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Hendricks and others, the Guild expresses many thanks for kindly encouragement and aid.

NEBRASKA SUPREME COURT

Tuesday, August 22, 1888. Court met pursuant to adjournment. Hamilton vs. Williams. Continued. King vs. Bell. Submitted. Ex-parte Cottrell. Writ denied. Opinion by Maxwell, J. A proceeding under the bastardy act, while in the nature of a civil action, is properly a police regulation, requiring the putative father to furnish support for his child and to indemnify the public against liability for its support. The sum which the putative father is required to pay for such support is not a debt in the sense in which that word is used in the constitution, and in case of his failure to comply with the judgment of the court, he may be committed to prison. Crane & Hazlett vs. Steele. Error from Clay county. Affirmed. Opinion by Maxwell, J. An affidavit in replevin may be amended by leave of court at any time before the trial, or on the trial, when such an amendment will be for the benefit of justice, but the court may impose the payment of reasonable costs as a condition of making the amendment. Property exempt from attachment execution may be claimed at any time before the sale. Grosely vs. Steele. Error from Gage county. Reversed and remanded. Opinion by the court. A bill of particulars in a justice's court, in the form of an account, claiming damages to grain in the field, filed subsequent after trial and judgment. Section 297 of the code applies to justices of the peace, and where a jury is waived in a justice's court, and the cause tried before the justice, there must be a finding of facts. A judgment without a finding is not void, but voidable. We desire to call attention to our large and attractive assortment of Chamber sets. CHARLES SHIVERICK. m-6-a-t-mon-14

UTAH'S MINES.

Good Outlook for Crops—Why the Territory is Unrepresented—Other Matters. Correspondence of THE BEE. SALT LAKE, Utah, August 21.—This season has been rather a remarkable one for Utah. First the spring was about one month later than common, and yet the season has been such that all kinds of cereals produce largely. Corn never looked better than at present; the wheat and oat crops are very large, and the product of potatoes and all kinds of vegetable will be unusually large. Heretofore it has been truthfully said that it never rained in this valley during the summer, but this has been the reverse this summer. Through June and July we had several good showers of rain, at times so heavy as to give the ground a good soaking, and during this month we have had shower after shower. These rains have been accompanied by lightning and heavy peals of thunder. Cloud bursts have occurred in various localities, doing much damage at some places to property. The mining outlook of Utah is brighter than ever before. At the Denver exposition, the display of Utah ores appears to attract as much if not greater attention as any exhibits there. This whole Utah exhibit was collected in a very few days, and only a few mining men contributed funds to pay the expense of sending commissioners to Denver to watch over the display of Utah products. It was at first intended to make a display at Denver of all the various kinds of Utah products including agricultural and manufactures. Governor Murray was asked to appoint a commissioner to represent the territory and to secure articles for exhibition. A meeting was called to take action in the matter, and there was no representation whatever at this meeting of the agricultural and manufacturing interests. The mining interest was well represented at that meeting, and for the purpose of securing harmonious action, a committee was appointed to confer with the leaders of the other interests and secure their co-operation. Now it happens that the agricultural and most of the manufacturing industries of Utah are conducted by the Mormons. When the leaders of these interests were approached by the committee they were promptly informed that the Mormons would not take any part whatever towards exhibiting at Denver, because they do not like our government. This is the reason that at the Denver exposition there is no show of Utah wheat, oats, and other grains, cotton and silk, which are grown in Southern Utah, the products of the silk, cotton and woollen looms, and various manufactures. Utah could have made a very creditable showing in these, which would have added much to the laurels she is winning through the display of metals and mining products. The output of metal from the mines of Utah this year will make a very creditable showing. The great Heron silver mine has already sent to market bullion of the value of $2,000,000 since January last. This mine is located at Brisco, 243 miles south of this city, and the ore is reduced at smelters six miles south of here, the base metal being sent to Chicago for sale at the works of the company. This bullion is laid down at Chicago at a cost of only 40 per cent. of its value, thus giving the company a surplus of 60 per cent. of the gross product. This is the best result we have ever known in mining and reducing ores on a large scale. The company has just paid a dividend aggregating $30,000. The Ontario has sent $1,500,000 worth of bullion to market this year, and pays regularly each month its dividend of 50 cents a share, aggregating $75,000 per month. It costs the company $65,000 per month for expenses in running the mine and mill, while the extensive improvements on the mine, in the way of tunnels, pumping and hoisting machinery involve large outlays of capital. There are numerous mines in Utah which are soon being large ore producers. The celebrated Emma has been lying idle for some time, but is now being put in condition for mining on a large scale. This mine has turned out between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000, and under the new management promises to yield many millions more. Two weeks ago J. D. Farmer, a prominent merchant of this city, was at Black Rock, having in his party Sam Taylor, who is well surrounded by probably 100 persons. When the train was about to leave on the return to this city, he was missed and supposed to have been drowned. Search was continued every day since and no trace of him can be found. His clothing was found in the dressing room he occupied. There have been many theories as to what happened, but the most plausible is that he was in the water of which contains about twenty per cent of salt, and is so buoyant that a person floats easily on the water. Like bathing this season has attracted many thousands of people to Gardfield and Black Beach. The late act of congress empowering the governor of Utah to fill the territorial and county offices of Utah by appointment will be put in operation within the next few days. The commissioner appointed under the Edmunds' bill arrived last Friday evening, and on Saturday evening were given a grand reception in the parlors of the Walker opera house. The Denver & Rio Grande Western is pushing their line eastward with all the dispatch in the power of the company, and in a few months we will have a through line to Denver over that road. Business is good in this city, and many buildings are being erected. All the hotels and tenements are crowded, and there is a large demand for residences and business houses. O. M.
