In compliance with the above you will give your Indians the notice required by this act of congress, advise them that while the government is disposed to treat them kindly, and generously, and to extend to them every needed assistance to enable them to make a comfortable living for themselves and families, yet they must remember there is now no treaty or other obligation on the part of the government to support them; that what they are now receiving is purely gift; that there must come a time when they will be expected to labor for their own support the same as white men do. Say to them that labor is not degrading, but on the contrary is exalting, that if they expect to become rich and powerful as the white race they must learn the lessons of industry and economy. (Signed), J. H. PRICE, Commissioner. PERUVIAN AFFAIRS. Senator Elmore, Peruvian minister at Washington, received this evening a cable dispatch from Guayaquil, Ecuador, dated to-day, advising him that Garcia Calderon, constitutional president of Peru (who during the last eleven months has been a prisoner in Chile), and Dr. Logan, (newly arrived United States minister in Chile) are in Arequipa, Peru, treating for peace. In commenting to-night upon telegram, Minister Elmore said Arequipa is a well known city in southern Peru, which was lately made the seat of the Peruvian government by Vice President Meuter, who has been acting as president of Peru since the carrying away of President Calderon in November last. Mr. Elmore said the news did not much surprise him, because he had been expecting something of the kind in view of the solid union of Peruvians under the provisional government of Calderon, of the loyal attitude of the United States, as Peru's ally, and of the firm position taken by the United States during the whole war as an impartial friend of all belligerents. He had always believed, he said, that a lasting peace could be made only by the Calderon government, under the auspices of the United States. A SICK OFFICER. Judge Larbell, acting first comptroller of the treasury during the absence of Mr. Lawrence, has been for several days confined to his home by illness. To-day he was unable to per-

The weather was fine, and breeding and road trotting elements were well represented. Those present, however, were disappointed, as the time for the first heat was 2:32, all five of the starters being placed, while in the second heat the time was 2:27. Meander was second in both heats. In the second heat Senator Sprague, Ernest Maltraves and Lucy Walter, and three others who started, were distanced. CRIMINAL NEWS. Frank James Voluntarily Surrenders to Gov. Crittenden. A Back Brute in Alabama Speedily Lynched by the People. Deliberate Murder of a Farmer Near Palmer, Illinois. An Unusually Large Number of Bloody Deeds. Surrender of Frank James. Special Despatches to The Bee. KANSAS CITY, October 5.—Frank James surrendered to Gov. Crittenden at Jefferson City at 5 o'clock this evening and will be brought here to-morrow morning to be delivered to the Jackson county authorities. Gov. Crittenden telegraphed that officers will leave to-night with the prisoner. Officials here express some surprise at James' action, as no overtures had been made on their part towards surrender. They think Frank had become discouraged having in various ways lost all of his old confederates and concluded it was useless to attempt longer to live in outlawry preferring to trust to the leniency of the law in voluntarily giving himself up. St. Louis, October 5.—The Anzeiger special from Jefferson City says when Frank James surrendered to Gov. Crittenden he had his pistols and stated he (the governor) was the only man except himself who had touched them for twenty years. Frank was at the McCarthy house this evening and many prominent citizens were there seeking the honor of shaking hands with him. Kansas City, October 5.—The Times Jefferson City special has a letter from Frank James, addressed to Gov. Crittenden, dated St. Louis, October 1st, and the latter's reply. The letter from James is a proffer to surrender. It is a lengthy document. He says he is prompted to this act through consideration for his wife and children and a desire to retrieve his name from the shadow which has been cast upon it and through it upon a good many in western Missouri. He makes a plea that he is not so bad as he has been painted; that an outlaw has the thoughts and impulses of man and he has decided to return to the home of his parents and there with his family to pass his days in peace and thus gain respect of his fellowmen. He thinks it unnecessary at present to recount the history of his life. Those who are his friends are already acquainted with it. The public at present is not disposed to judge him charitably. He thinks that his sufferings have already done punishment for his acts. He denies the authorship of any letters threatening assassination in retaliation for the murder of Jesse, which have been attributed to him. He submitted the question whether Frank James, humbled, repentant and reformed before the world, will not be an example more fraught with good to the rising generation than Frank James, the outlaw and wanderer. He says this letter is the result of a determination formed during the past four years of industrious farm life, which he has spent. He asks for amnesty, if possible, and states an answer will reach him through his wife, who is at Independence, Mo. On receipt of the letter, Governor Crittenden replied, but would recommend that James present himself before the courts where indictments are against him, and answer them as best became a man. In accordance therewith James appeared before the governor to-day, accompanied by Maj. J. W. Edwards, of Sedalia, as counsel, and formally surrendered himself. He will arrive at Kansas City to-morrow and have a hearing at Independence, the county seat. Another Internal Machine. Special Despatches to The Bee. WASHINGTON, October 5.—The approaching session of the supreme court was the means to-day of unearthing an incident in the history of Associate Justice Field which has probably not yet been published. Passing down the avenue your correspondent was stopped by a dealer in fire-arms, sporting traps and other paraphernalia, and asked if he had seen the infernal machine that had been sent to Judge Field. He was taken into the rear of the store and a case of daguerotypes was lying on the counter. "Examine this," said the dealer, "and tell me what you think of it." A close inspection showed that concealed in this case were ten metallic cartridges with their sides filed exposing powder and firmly embedded in wax. An ordinary piece of sand paper was connected with the rap in the case, which if opened from the front would cause the ignition of a bundle of matches. The case, however, had been opened from the back, and the infernal instrument had failed to accomplish its design. A clipping from a newspaper pasted in the case detailed an account of a decision by Judge Field regarding the title to certain property in San Francisco, and it is supposed that the machine was the contrivance of some disappointed litigant. Further inquiry showed that the packages came by mail, but was regarded with suspicion by the inmates of Field's residence, and the parcel was placed over night in a pail of water. Afterward it was pried open from behind, and the deadly nature of its contents disclosed. Had any one forced the flap open, as is the custom in handling small cases of this kind, nothing short of a miracle could have prevented the discharge of the metallic cartridge. Phipps, the Boss Villain. Special Despatches to The Bee. PHILADELPHIA, October 5.—The confession of Thos. J. Owen, clerk to the officers of elections held in the alms-house division, 27th ward, last February, just made public, shows that the boss villain, Peter Phipps, carried open the ballot box and altered the election returns. The result of this was to defeat two independent republicans and elect two democrats. The charge of conspiracy, it is said, will be found against several city officials on the strength of this confession. A Dirty Brute Hung. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHATTANOOGA, October 5.—A special to The Daily Times from Anniston, Ala., says: Two days ago a burly negro named John Brooks, brutally assaulted a little girl on the outskirts of the town. He was captured on the 4th and lodged in jail at Jacksonville. This afternoon, on preliminary trial, he confessed his guilt. The judge ordered him to jail. A large crowd took the prisoner out of the sheriff's hands, carried him to the outskirts of the city and hanged him. The crowd was quiet and determined. Arrest of a Forger. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHICAGO, October 5.—James E. Moran alias J. O. Clark, was arrested here on complaint of the bank of St. Johns, Mich. He is agent for the Porter manufacturing company, of Syracuse. It is alleged that Moran, as agent, forged and disposed of duplicates of notes taken to the amount of $7,000. Cold-Blooded Murder. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHICAGO, October 5.—A dispatch from Taylorville, Ill., says a cold-blooded murder was committed one mile north of the town of Palmer. Jno. Leitch and James Rigby, two farmers, quarrelled about possession of some land, became involved in a lawsuit, from which Rigby came out victorious. Yesterday afternoon Leigh's son approached Rigby and, pretending he desired to effect a peaceable settlement, suddenly opened fire with a revolver. One bullet produced a fatal wound. Leigh escaped, but a posse is in pursuit, and an excitement runs high lynching is probable. Murderers have usually escaped the law in this region. The Kawance Bank Robbery. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHICAGO, October 5.—A Kawance special says a detective arrived with bank robber Dunkley yesterday this morning after a walk of a couple of miles east of town returned with a sack of gold containing $5,000. This account for all the money and all the robbers are in custody. The Harless Tamam C. Hildes. Special Despatches to The Bee. NEW YORK, October 5.—The coroner's jury investigating the causes and the responsibility of the late collision on Harlem river tunnel, find the New York Central and Hudson River railroad company guilty of the crime of criminal negligence; also the conductor of the New Haven & Hartford train and the telegraph operator of Ninety-sixth street station. The jury condemn the management of the roads and censure the engineers. Bloody Bankers. BROWNSVILLE, Tex., October 5.—Bandits entered the house of the tax collector at Tumbuya, Mexico, at midnight, murdered the collector, mortally wounded his wife and robbed the safe of $4,000. The Tariff Commission. Special Despatches to The Bee. NEW YORK, October 5.—Peter Cooper called upon the tariff commission at Windsor hotel, and after an informal conversation of an hour's duration the commission was called to order by President Hayes and listened to the reading, by Mr. Cooper's secretary, of "an open letter" on the tariff question. It opens with a proposition (as the result of his own experience) that all trade with foreign nations is a kind of commercial war; war of interests from which evils may result and have resulted, that are only comparable with the evils of actual war. Thomas G. Sherman, representing the executive committee of the Brooklyn Revenue Reform club, addressed the committee as a representative of the moderate section of the club, and held that taxes ought to be reduced $120,000,000 or $150,000,000 annually. Mr. Oliver offered the following resolution, which was adopted. Resolved, That on account of the limited time at the disposal of the commission, the order concluding the taking of testimony at Philadelphia October 16 cannot be changed. Therefore, all persons interested will take notice that the open sessions of the tariff commission for testimony, statements, etc., will end on the date above named. Adjourned till to-morrow. Anti-Chinese Opinion. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHICAGO, October 5.—The Tribune has an editorial on the Chinese question in England, which admirably answers the glaring misstatements and mendacious sentiments which appear in The London Standard. According to that paper family life in California would be impossible without the Chinese, the Pacific railways would never have been built, and the vast population of Americans in California are in favor of them, and there is scarcely any disease among them, etc. The Tribune says the importation of Chinese in England would breed revolution and even the queen might find herself in jeopardy should such an act of injustice to English labor be sanctioned. The Arctic Inquiry. Special Despatches to The Bee. WASHINGTON, October 5.—The naval board to inquire into the loss of the Jeannette, convened at the navy department to-day.

and formally surrendered himself. He will arrive at Kansas City to-morrow and have a hearing at Independence, the county seat. Another Internal Machine. Special Despatches to The Bee. WASHINGTON, October 5.—The approaching session of the supreme court was the means to-day of unearthing an incident in the history of Associate Justice Field which has probably not yet been published. Passing down the avenue your correspondent was stopped by a dealer in fire-arms, sporting traps and other paraphernalia, and asked if he had seen the infernal machine that had been sent to Judge Field. He was taken into the rear of the store and a case of daguerotypes was lying on the counter. "Examine this," said the dealer, "and tell me what you think of it." A close inspection showed that concealed in this case were ten metallic cartridges with their sides filed exposing powder and firmly embedded in wax. An ordinary piece of sand paper was connected with the rap in the case, which if opened from the front would cause the ignition of a bundle of matches. The case, however, had been opened from the back, and the infernal instrument had failed to accomplish its design. A clipping from a newspaper pasted in the case detailed an account of a decision by Judge Field regarding the title to certain property in San Francisco, and it is supposed that the machine was the contrivance of some disappointed litigant. Further inquiry showed that the packages came by mail, but was regarded with suspicion by the inmates of Field's residence, and the parcel was placed over night in a pail of water. Afterward it was pried open from behind, and the deadly nature of its contents disclosed. Had any one forced the flap open, as is the custom in handling small cases of this kind, nothing short of a miracle could have prevented the discharge of the metallic cartridge. Phipps, the Boss Villain. Special Despatches to The Bee. PHILADELPHIA, October 5.—The confession of Thos. J. Owen, clerk to the officers of elections held in the alms-house division, 27th ward, last February, just made public, shows that the boss villain, Peter Phipps, carried open the ballot box and altered the election returns. The result of this was to defeat two independent republicans and elect two democrats. The charge of conspiracy, it is said, will be found against several city officials on the strength of this confession. A Dirty Brute Hung. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHATTANOOGA, October 5.—A special to The Daily Times from Anniston, Ala., says: Two days ago a burly negro named John Brooks, brutally assaulted a little girl on the outskirts of the town. He was captured on the 4th and lodged in jail at Jacksonville. This afternoon, on preliminary trial, he confessed his guilt. The judge ordered him to jail. A large crowd took the prisoner out of the sheriff's hands, carried him to the outskirts of the city and hanged him. The crowd was quiet and determined. Arrest of a Forger. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHICAGO, October 5.—A dispatch from Taylorville, Ill., says a cold-blooded murder was committed one mile north of the town of Palmer. Jno. Leitch and James Rigby, two farmers, quarrelled about possession of some land, became involved in a lawsuit, from which Rigby came out victorious. Yesterday afternoon Leigh's son approached Rigby and, pretending he desired to effect a peaceable settlement, suddenly opened fire with a revolver. One bullet produced a fatal wound. Leigh escaped, but a posse is in pursuit, and an excitement runs high lynching is probable. Murderers have usually escaped the law in this region. The Kawance Bank Robbery. NEW YORK, October 5.—The coroner's jury investigating the causes and the responsibility of the late collision on Harlem river tunnel, find the New York Central and Hudson River railroad company guilty of the crime of criminal negligence; also the conductor of the New Haven & Hartford train and the telegraph operator of Ninety-sixth street station. BROWNSVILLE, Tex., October 5.—Bandits entered the house of the tax collector at Tumbuya, Mexico, at midnight, murdered the collector, mortally wounded his wife and robbed the safe of $4,000. The Tariff Commission. Special Despatches to The Bee. NEW YORK, October 5.—Peter Cooper called upon the tariff commission at Windsor hotel, and after an informal conversation of an hour's duration the commission was called to order by President Hayes and listened to the reading, by Mr. Cooper's secretary, of "an open letter" on the tariff question. It opens with a proposition (as the result of his own experience) that all trade with foreign nations is a kind of commercial war; war of interests from which evils may result and have resulted, that are only comparable with the evils of actual war. Thomas G. Sherman, representing the executive committee of the Brooklyn Revenue Reform club, addressed the committee as a representative of the moderate section of the club, and held that taxes ought to be reduced $120,000,000 or $150,000,000 annually. Mr. Oliver offered the following resolution, which was adopted. Resolved, That on account of the limited time at the disposal of the commission, the order concluding the taking of testimony at Philadelphia October 16 cannot be changed. Therefore, all persons interested will take notice that the open sessions of the tariff commission for testimony, statements, etc., will end on the date above named. Adjourned till to-morrow. Anti-Chinese Opinion. Special Despatches to The Bee. CHICAGO, October 5.—The Tribune has an editorial on the Chinese question in England, which admirably answers the glaring misstatements and mendacious sentiments which appear in The London Standard. According to that paper family life in California would be impossible without the Chinese, the Pacific railways would never have been built, and the vast population of Americans in California are in favor of them, and there is scarcely any disease among them, etc. The Tribune says the importation of Chinese in England would breed revolution and even the queen might find herself in jeopardy should such an act of injustice to English labor be sanctioned. The Arctic Inquiry. Special Despatches to The Bee. WASHINGTON, October 5.—The naval board to inquire into the loss of the Jeannette, convened at the navy department to-day.
