INCENDIARY PROCLAMATIONS.

Special Dispatch to This Box.

PARIS, October 30.—Proclamations were posted on the walls of St. Sulpice appealing to the people to commit acts of violence against the "slavering bourgeoisie." Affixed to the proclamation as a signature is a representation of drawn daggers. The documents end thus: "Mors aux exploiters vive revolution sociale." The police removed the proclamations. The newspapers of Paris say the Anarchist society has correspondents in Boston and Montevideo.

THE RIVER SEINE IS RISING rapidly. A water spout destroyed seven bridges at St. Raphael. Floods stopped traffic between Marseilles and Cannes. The latter town is inundated. The dykes at Digne were carried away.

EVENTS IN ENGLAND.

Special Dispatches to This Box.

THE THAMES VALLEY.

LONDON, October 30.—The continuation of heavy rains in the Thames valley have caused inundations in every direction. At Hampton, villas are only approachable by boats. The suburbs of Windsor, Eton and Staines are flooded, and Somerset, Lincoln and Midland counties are inundated; railway traffic is largely suspended. Damage immense, and much suffering will ensue.

Special Cable to Western Associated Press.

DEMANDING HIGHER WAGES.

LONDON, October 30.—The Staffordshire mail makers association, at a meeting to day resolved to give employers fourteen days' notice for an advance of ten per cent on wrought nails, three pence per thousand on horse nails. A strike will involve 30,000 nailers.

IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, October 30.—In the commons this afternoon, Dilke stated the composition of the indemnity commission to determine what was an equitable return for the Alexandria conflagrations in foreign quarters during the Bedouin riots, had not been fixed upon. The English government were not parties to any treaty or alliance or contract which would prevent the Egyptians exercising control over their own taxation.

Hanneman, financial secretary of the war office, stated the death of Prof. Palmer in Egypt had not been fully confirmed. His mission carried $150,000 specie to purchase camels. Children, secretary of state for war, said he declined to appoint a royal committee of inquiry into the condition of the medical department of the army during the campaign in Egypt. He thought the department commissions now appointed would suffice for that purpose and will reach the actual facts and abuses if any existed.

Gladstone made mention that application had been made by the Egyptian government for British officers in Egypt for aid in suppressing the Sudan rebellion. The application was under consideration.

Sir Michael Hicks Beach asked whether any steps had yet been taken, as had been proposed by Earl Granville, in March, 1881, for the purpose of establishing in concert with the United States such regulations for coast fisheries in Newfoundland as would serve to prevent collisions between the fishermen of that section and those from the United States; also whether the $60,000 agreed upon as compensation for violence done American fishermen in Fortune Bay has ever been paid by the Colonial government.

Astley, political secretary of the board of trade, replied there had been considerable correspondence touching the matter, with the United States government, but no regular understanding had yet been obtained. The money for indemnity, advanced by the government of Great Britain, had not yet been paid by the colonial government of Newfoundland. Such repayment will be recommended at the next meeting of the Newfoundland chamber.

A HOSTILE ORDER.

BERLIN, October 30.—The order issued by the Russian government recently, prohibiting the export of horses from Russia, is regarded, particularly in political circles, as being more decidedly hostile to Germany, since the cavalry of this empire is mounted almost exclusively from Russia. Considerable ill-feeling is manifested which is not abated by the suspicion of unfriendliness in Gen. Ignatieff's mission to Paris.

THE ZULU CHIEF.

The Nickel Plate.

Special Dispatch to This Box.

CHICAGO, October 30.—The latest theory in regard to the purchase of the Nickel Plate, one which is generally credited by western railroad men, is that the purchase was by Vanderbilt, the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, Hocking Valley & Litchfield Valley roads jointly. Vanderbilt thereby got rid of a rival. The Three C's & Land Lohig Valley secure direct routes to Chicago and Hocking Valley outlet to both Buffalo and Chicago for its coal.

A Gentle Squal.

Special Dispatch to This Box.

SALT LAKE, October 30.—Judge Hunter this morning delivered a decision in the mandamus cases of Douglas and Pratt to compel the Salt Lake sheriff and territorial auditor to surrender their books and offices to Douglas and Pratt, appointed by the governor to the respective positions, under the Edmunds law. The judge rendered a writ on trivial grounds. His decision has caused great disgust among the Gentiles. Many openly declare Judge Hunter was bought by the Mormon church. An indignation meeting is talked of to publicly denounce him and call for his removal. At Ogden, to-day, in a similar case, Judge Emerson decided in favor of the governor's appointees. They will be at once installed. His decision receives highest praise from law-abiding people, in marked contrast with that of Hunter.

A Polite Suggestion to Army Beats to Pay Their Debts.

Common Law and Court Martial Applicable to Their Case.

The Department of Justice Again Forced to Explain Itself.

Interesting Items from the Annual Report of Asst. P. M. G. Hutton.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Special Dispatches to This Box.

ARMY OFFICERS MUST PAY UP.

WASHINGTON, October 30.—Judge Advocate Swain, in reply to an inquiry of the secretary of war, takes ground that an officer of the army who refuses to pay his debts is liable to processes of common law the same as civilians, where these costs tend to bring discredit upon the army or in any way impair the efficiency or discipline of the service they constitute sufficient cause for court martial.

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE denies the truth of the published statements charging extravagance in the employment of special assistants to attorneys. It makes the following explanation: Under Attorney General McVeagh's administration four attorneys were specially employed in the management of star route trials—Brewster, Bliss, Cook and Gibson. Now only three—Bliss, Merrick and Kerr, are employed. The services of several detectives have been dispensed with. The expense of the department in connection with these cases, which have also been reduced in other respects. The statement that W. A. Cook is now engaged as special counsel in the Hovgate case, is incorrect. That case was taken from his charge by Brewster on the 15th of June last, and turned over to District Attorney Corkhill.

THE SIOUX RESERVATION. Newton Edmunds, president of the commission to visit the various Sioux Indian agencies in Dakota, endeavoring to obtain consent of the Indians to surrender a portion of their reservation, telegraphs as follows: "First Lt. JOHN ARMSTRONG, D. T., October 29.—Chief and head men of this agency this day unanimously agreed to separate the reservation, with good feeling and satisfaction, Red Cloud and his friends joining."

POSTAL MATTERS. The annual report of First Assistant Postmaster General Hutton gives the number of postoffices in operation June 13, 1882, as 46,231; increase, 1,719 during the year; 1,951 of these offices are known as "presidential" offices, the remainder 44,280 filled by appointment of the postmaster general. The free delivery system was in operation during the year in 122 principal cities and 3,116 carriers employed. Total appropriation for this service $2,225,000, an increase of $125,000 over the previous year. Total cost of service $23,262, leaving an unexpended balance of $1,737. General Hutton recommends free delivery system be extended to towns within short distances of one another which have not singly required the qualification of population or gross revenue entitling them to service, but which have in the aggregate more than the required population or revenue. Returns from all parts of the union show a very gratifying, general increase of business. The sum necessary to pay the increased salaries of postmasters, including 335 special adjustments, amount to $263,400 or 18.14 per cent. more than last year.

As the train was pulling through one of the numerous cuts in that vicinity, the engineer noted it standing on the bank of a cut eight masked and armed men, who seemed in great confusion. Several of them made motions as if to stop the train, but finally retreated into the woods. It is generally believed that it was the work of local crooks.

THE BEAUTY'S DEBUT.

Abbey's Theater Burned to the Ground with Mrs. Langtry's Costumes.

The First Appearance Postponed Till Monday.

Special Dispatch to This Box.

NEW YORK, October 30.—Abbey's Park theater took fire this afternoon and was totally destroyed. The fire started in the proscenium in the rear of the second tier of boxes on the right of the stage, believed to have been caused by gas explosion. The flames spread with great rapidity, caught the drop curtain and drove from the building the stage hands, who were setting the stage. They had previously made vain efforts to put out the fire with an extinguisher. Henry Clark, a stage hand, was severely burned in an endeavor to lower the drop curtain. He jumped from the rear window into Broadway from a height of 20 feet and had a leg broken. William Doran, aged 27 years, scenic painter, was badly bruised. Mrs. Langtry's costumes for "An Unequal Match," the play in which to-night she was to make her first appearance in America, were burned, together with the costumes of all other members of the company and very valuable scenery. Nothing saved. Loss over $100,000. Mrs. Langtry and Mrs. Labouchere watched the fire from the balcony of the Alhambra hotel, two blocks away.

FURTHER DETAILS. The loss is now estimated at $250,000. The origin of the fire is obscure. It started in the proscenium box behind the private box, apparently in the partition wall, perhaps caused by the bursting of a gas pipe. The rumor that the scenic painter upon the lamp is not substantiated. The fire swept on rapidly and was beyond control when help arrived. Much delay was caused by failure of the automatic alarms on the stage to work, likewise the fire extinguishers. Ten minutes elapsed before the arrival of firemen. Then the flames were bursting through the roof, and the building was doomed. Mrs. Langtry just finished packing her wardrobe in which she was to appear in the evening, and was in the very act of sending it to the theater when the fire broke out. Abbey immediately made an arrangement

TO OPEN MONDAY NIGHT in the Grand Opera house with Langtry in "An Unequal Match." The theatre was small and elaborately decorated. The main entrance on Broadway was through a three-story building, in which were stores, clothes, and on the third floor the property room. It was an old building, the theatre itself having been built in 1874. It had been newly frescoed and upholstered in preparation for Langtry's debut. The scenery for the play was costly and elaborate, especially that for the second act, being painted on satin and hand-embroidered. All was destroyed. There had been no rehearsal to-day, but merely some settings for Langtry. The fire spread so rapidly that the valuable paintings could not be removed.

Hamilton Weaver, stage carpenter, says the stage hose worked all right and the stage was flooded, but the fire had reached the flies. Abbey's loss he estimated at over $100,000; insurance, $105,000. The building belonged to the McComb estate. Abbey was on his way to the theater when the fire broke out. He hastened to inform Langtry of his misfortune. She is now suffering from

NERVOUSNESS AND DEAPPOINTMENT. Jefferson was to follow Florence at the Grand opera house Saturday week, but Abbey thought under the circumstances he would cancel his dates. Florence had another week to run from Saturday night but surrendered his rights. In regard to tickets sold everything will be made satisfactory. Other losses are estimated as follows: C. H. George Murat, decorator, who occupied a store under the theatre, $75,000, insured $45,000; Parsons & Scarlett, tailors, $30,000, partially insured. The building suffered to the extent of $40,000, insured. To-night John Leo, stage carpenter at the theatre, is reported missing. It is thought he perished in the flames.
