OMAHA.

Tuesday Morning, Feb. 27

Weather Report.

(The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations mentioned.)

Table with columns: STATIONS, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, State of Sky. Rows include Denver, Cheyenne, Omaha, Plattsmouth, etc.

LOCAL NEWS.

There will be a regular meeting of the Social Art Club at 3 p. m. Tuesday in place of the sociable.

A telegram was received yesterday announcing the death of Mr. Benjamin Braash, of Schwabens, Posen, aged 87 years, father of Miss Rosa and Lewis Braash of this city.

The masquerade ball given at Turner Hall on Saturday evening by the Danish association, was well attended and a highly successful and enjoyable occasion.

Mr. N. S. Mahan, a compositor in The Bee office, and one of the best, best known and best liked printers in the west, has been elected as delegate to the International Typographical Union, which meets in Cincinnati in June next.

Also elected delegate last year. He was also elected delegate last year. He was also elected delegate last year.

In Judge Benke's court yesterday there were five prisoners, charged with intoxication; two paid, two went to jail and one was discharged.

About 11 o'clock yesterday a young man, who resides on Sixth and Pacific streets in South Omaha, fell in a fit on the street in front of Max Meyer's store.

John Shannon has been arrested on the complaint of Robt. Noble, who charges him with an assault with intent to commit murder.

The residence of Miss Anna Richardson was the scene of a very pleasant social party on Saturday evening, given by her friends.

In the course of his lectures Mr. Mills called attention to many curious survivals, among which he placed many beliefs and customs common in the churches, and which he proved had remained from the time when man was a naked, hairless barbarian.

Another earth and father sky dwelt in contact, so that the creatures dwelling on the earth had no freedom of motion; and on consultation the forest declared that it would improve matters, so placing his head on the earth, with his feet far above the earth, and the creatures remaining with their mother gained the freedom which they desired.

Rolling Stock for the West—Notes in General.

Two fine passenger engines, Nos. 190 and 191, for the Northern Pacific, went west on train No. 7 Sunday. They weigh forty tons each and are from the Portland locomotive works.

In referring recently to the Grand Mogul engines, the Tanager works were credited with their manufacture, but they were, we understand, of the Portland make.

A party of distinguished Kansas City railroad officials arrived in this city last evening and registered at the Metropolitan.

UNITY LECTURES.

The Late Visit of Prof. C. D. B. Mills.

A Brief Synopsis of His Two Lectures.

Prof. C. D. B. Mills comes to Omaha every year with no flourish of trumpets, but gives to those who attend his lectures an intellectual treat accorded by few, if any lecturers who visit this city.

"Man, No Originator." "Man," says Mr. Mills in the common arts "originates nothing, he has what nature supplies and then improves on his gifts."

On the assembly of the district court, the attention of the judge and members of the bar was called to the death of one of their number, and on motion it was resolved to adjourn court at 12 o'clock until 9 a. m. Tuesday as a mark of respect to the deceased.

On the night in question, which was soon after the raids by the masked burglars last week, one of the ladies was awakened by a noise which she at once supposed to be some robber who was trying to get in the house.

Mr. Mills is no pessimist; he believes in evolution, is assured of a constant progress, predicts a good time coming, not far away, when man shall have learned to know himself and the laws which control his surroundings.

THE SKY WENT, and the tears falling on the earth, were called by man dew-drops. The nursery tale of Red Riding Hood was explained as one of the many fables relating to the dawn; night, the wolf, swallows the gloaming, with its ruddy tint, as the sun disappears.

The examination of Mrs. Ward on the charge of improper conduct was set for yesterday, at the proper hour the church party announced themselves in readiness to proceed with the inquiry but the defendant, Mrs. Ward, desired more time in which to formulate her defence.

The following deeds were filed for record in the county clerk's office, February 24, reported for Tax Bux by Ames' real estate agency:

W. S. McCLELLAN. Death of a Prominent Young Attorney—Action of the Bar.

A CURIOSITY CATCHER.

Hunting For Human and Animal Oddities.

An Exciting Life Spent in All Parts of the Globe.

Nebraska's Resources the Last Drawn Upon.

A few days ago THE BEE chronicled the arrival in this city of Mr. J. R. Davis, general agent for P. T. Barnum, the greatest showman on earth.

Mr. Davis is a man of perhaps 35 years, with a full grown beard, a very pleasant face and most genial and charming in connection.

For the past ten years Mr. Davis has been traveling all over the world in search of animal and human curiosities and monstrosities.

Another attraction is a nine year old boy of Italian parentage, who has two perfect heads growing from one shoulder and the rest of the body one perfect organism.

Mr. Davis has brought a troupe of Numidians, the only Numidians ever seen in America, who bring with them a drove of camels from their own country.

THE POISONING CASE. An Investigation Liable to be Ordered by the Coroner.

The announcement in Saturday's Bee that Coroner Jacobs was being urged to investigate a case of alleged poisoning created no little excitement in the portion of town in which the parties reside.

THE CHURCH TRIAL. The examination of Mrs. Ward on the charge of improper conduct was set for yesterday, at the proper hour the church party announced themselves in readiness to proceed with the inquiry but the defendant, Mrs. Ward, desired more time in which to formulate her defence.

A FEARFUL FALL.

Of Earth at the Florence Out-Off.

Narrow Escape from a Great Catastrophe.

Capt. J. P. Vincent, of the Florence Out-off, who was in the city yesterday, informs us of a narrow escape they had out there Saturday noon from a catastrophe that would have cost probably a score of lives.

It was at the noon hour and they had all quit work and gone to camp for dinner, the camp being situated right at the south end of the south cut on the new line.

FATAL PARALYSIS. A Carpenter Dies from a Fall from a Scaffold.

A few days ago THE BEE had an item concerning a fall received by a carpenter working on Cuming street, whose name was then unknown.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

The Grand Concert at Turner Hall Sunday Afternoon.

The Musical Union Orchestra which has brought about so marked a change in their interesting branch of public entertainment has never achieved more deserved success than that won in their recent concert at Turner Hall.

The programme has already been published, and need not be repeated. The house was filled with an elegant and appreciative audience, and the numerous encores evinced the sympathy, between players and audience.
