

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Monday Morning July 9.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier... 50 cents per week; By Mail... $10.00 per year.

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's spring styles. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's. Additional local news on seventh page.

The city council meets in adjourned session this evening. The spiritualists had another pleasant social Saturday evening.

The new Sixth street bridge is about completed except the approaches. Rev. Father O'Shea conducted services at the Catholic church yesterday.

Jack Penegoy, the horse, not the man, is now on the market for $4,500. High Jack.

Rev. Mr. Clakely, of Springfield, O., occupied the Presbyterian pulpit yesterday. More money is still needed to carry out all the proposed plans of the Y. M. C. A.

The annual Episcopalian lawn party is to be given on Judge Jones' grounds next Thursday evening. J. Dickey & Son, whose building was injured by the recent storm, are fast getting everything to rights again.

Mr. Paulsen discovered Saturday that burglars or sneak thieves had been trying to secure an entrance to his office, but had failed.

The doors of the calaboose should be tied with a piece of twine to keep them from flying open and letting prisoners fall out. Mrs. George T. Phelps' condition yesterday afternoon seemed a little more favorable, though she was still very low indeed.

A number of Odd Fellow enthusiasts went to Neola Saturday night to attend the public installation of the officers of the lodge there. The young folks of the various churches have arranged for union prayer meetings before the regular Sunday evening preaching services, to be held first in one church then another.

Mr. Baringer, an eccentric old lady living alone in a little house, back of the court house, reports that she has been raided by sneak thieves, who stole numerous small articles.

The trotting mare Sunshine is to remain here sometime, training at the track. If there is anything that the driving park needs especially it is sunshine, and of a staying quality.

Fidelity Council No. 156, Royal Arcanum, have passed resolutions appropriate to the sad bereavement of their brother, George H. Ferguson, whose mother recently died.

There was extra good music at the Congregational church yesterday, Miss Westcott, of Keokuk, playing the organ, and a quartette consisting of Mrs. Haverstack, Miss Joselyn, of Janesville, Wis., and Messrs. Ford and Spooner, giving the vocal music.

The Fourth in Council Bluffs this year was one long drawn out. It closed Saturday night by the promised display of fireworks, which had weather necessarily caused to be postponed until then. The display was at the corner of Bancroft and Broadway and was very fine.

Justice Abbott is an enthusiastic worker in the Grand Army of the Republic. Saturday night he planned a post at Malvern with 47 charter members, a larger number than any other post in the state has started with. Other posts are expected to be instituted soon at Hamburg, Henderson and Sidney, and the one at Glenwood is to be reorganized.

A woman from Terre Haute, Ind., arrived here Saturday and sought the aid of the police to find her husband, whom she claimed deserted her and whom she heard was in this city living with another woman. Her husband was found, he being at work in a barber shop in this city, and sure enough living with another woman. He claims that he has a divorce from wife No. 1, and she is taking counsel as to what she can do about it.

J. L. Forman's two daughters while driving about the half-mile track at the fair ground, Saturday, had a narrow escape from serious injury. A buggy, in which Mrs. Jerry Meyers was driving, struck the wheel of their phaeton, throwing them both out, but strangely enough not seriously hurting either one of the young ladies. The horse then ran away, smashing the vehicle, and cutting his hind legs rather badly.

The fellows arrested for recklessly shooting fire-works on Broadway were given a lecture by Judge Aylesworth on Saturday, and then discharged. They got off easy enough. It is to be hoped that before another Fourth the council will pass some ordinance restricting fire-works to some extent, at least preventing so promiscuous and careless shooting on Broadway and Main street, where there are always such crowds on the sidewalks and streets every holiday.

Open for work, Pryor's BEE Job Printing Office, 7 Pearl street. Dr. West, Dentist, 14 Pearl street.

Placing the Police.

The police were changed about some yesterday. Officers Brooks and Leonard now go Monday day, the others go on nights. Officer Barlyte takes Middle Broadway, Cusick Central Broadway, Clough West Broadway, and Miller South Main street. Officer Warner is on the sick list at present.

GENTLEMEN—Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering with debility or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOUTZEL, 683 Fulton st., Chicago, Ill.

Maudie's is the place to get big bargains in furniture, household goods, etc. Only 25 cents a meal at Mrs. Gray's. Casady & Orcutt keep a full assortment of carpets the year round.

A. H. Mayne & Co. will remove to their new office and coal yard to the new quarters, at 539 Broadway, opposite the Nonpareil.

THE OLD STORY.

A Kansas Young Man Pays Fifty Dollars for One Lesson in the Ways of the World.

It seems almost useless for the press to warn people not to give up their money to strangers under any circumstances. The old, old game has been played again, this time on a young man from Kansas, who came to this city on the Kansas City train. While en route here he formed the acquaintance of a gentlemanly appearing, solidly wealthy looking sort of a man, who made himself very genial, and won the young man's confidence. The latter was going to St. Francis, and the stranger by one of the strange coincidences which, however, always happen, was going there too. He was a big merchant there. He looked like it. The merchant expected to find a pass awaiting him in Omaha, and in that case would sell his ticket, which he had bought, to the young man for little or nothing. On reaching this city, a pretended railway official tackled the merchant for payment of some freight bill in advance. He wouldn't wait and as the merchant had not quite cash enough he borrowed $50 of his young friend, until they could get across the river. He then went to look after the goods and their shipment, and is probably still looking after them; as he has not reported to the young man since.

It seems passing strange that men will thus lend their money. If a friend or neighbor wants a loan, even for a short time or small amount, the lender will think it all over, and the chances are he will demand security, hunt up the abstract of title, and take every precaution, but in this case the sort of fellow will lend to an entire stranger, in a strange city, with no security, and with hardly an inquiry. One common excuse is that "I had no idea he was one of the confidence fellows. Why, he was nicely dressed, and talked just like a gentleman, and he seemed so honest. A great many have an idea that a confidence man is a monstrosity. He may be so morally, but as a rule, they disguise this fact by fine feathers and an honest strut. At least they play their part well enough to deceive the uninitiated.

The railway companies could do much to stop this robbery of the public, if they chose. It appears frequently that railway employes themselves, and especially "the peanuts," give the confidence men on the train "pointers." By selling their wares, getting a bill changed, and in other ways, they find out who can be worked and what money a passenger has, and then give this information to the sharper for a consideration. The latter then proceeds to work the victim as best he can.

Conductors, too, being sharp observers, often know that confidence men are on the train, and yet fail to warn the passengers or watch proceedings. It is believed that if the company would hold conductors personally responsible for all games turned on their trains, the confidence business would end very speedily. As to the railway and depot policemen, they do not apparently consider themselves in any way concerned, at least so far as the protection of the public is involved. They do very well for guide-posts to point out trains and the ticket windows, but somehow they seldom or never arrest any confidence men. If this is because they do not know them, their ignorance is deplorable. If it is because they do not want to arrest them, their conduct is suspicious. They try to justify themselves by saying that they cannot give brains to fools who do not know enough to keep their money. Perhaps they have no such gift to spare, but it is the feeble in mind and body whom it shall be their special duty to protect, instead of protecting the sharp, cunning classes.

Mrs. J. A. Gray has refitted her restaurant, 21 and 23 Bryant street, in fine shape, and is serving meals at only twenty-five cents.

Mayor Lyman at Oakland.

Council Bluffs furnished many congratulations in this vicinity with oratory. Among them was Oakland, Mayor Lyman being the chosen orator there. The Acorn of that place says "the oration was pronounced the best ever delivered in Oakland," and proceeds to summarize it thus: "He reviewed the history of the American colonies in their struggle for independence from the oppression of Great Britain. He dwelt upon the change wrought in our government by the late rebellion and showed how up to that period we were a free nation only in name and not in reality. He paid a tribute to the loyal dead who fell upon the field of battle in defence of their country. This part of his speech brought tears to the eyes of many an old soldier present. He spoke of the progress made by the United States in the past century; how the locomotive, the reaper, the sewing machine, the telegraph, and the telephone had superseded the old-time stage coach, the sickle, the needle and the letter carrier. He urged upon every citizen the importance of taking part in American politics, for through he did not wish to be understood as advocating partisan politics, yet no man could justify himself as an American citizen who did not crystallize his sentiments through the medium of the ballot box. He gave some good advice to the boys about leaving the farm for the city, and then closed with an appeal to every man to do his duty to his country at all times, and all will be well."

Our New Loan and Improvement Co. Investigation into the matter convinces us that one of the most equitable, reasonable and feasible plans of building houses is that proposed and in operation by the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improvement company of this city. By investing in shares in this institution, which is backed by some of our best and most reliable business men, it becomes possible and comparatively easy for a man of moderate means to secure a comfortable home for himself and family. In taking a certain number of shares, at a certain monthly payment, in a few years a man can own a house of his own for about the same as he pays monthly for rent. We believe the Mercantile Loan and Trust company, by organizing and opening up for business, have filled a long felt want in Council Bluffs. Their plans and system of loans will bear the most careful scrutiny and examination, and we have no hesitancy in pronouncing them reasonable and equitable, and backed by gentlemen of honor and integrity. As the company exists it becomes at once an institution of value as credit to our city and those who desire homes. Their president is T. A. Kirkland; vice president, Judge Peake; secretary, I. R. Beery; treasurer, Col. Beebe; and their office is in the basement of Shugart & McMahon's new block, corner First avenue and Pearl street. Jan 27-ly.

FINISHING THE FUN.

The Closing Races at the Driving Park, and the Winners.

The Driving Park association certainly merits much praise for the pluck and perseverance shown in arranging and carrying out so excellent a programme as they provided for the entertainment of the public. It is to be regretted that their enterprise was not more heartily appreciated, and more practically supported. When such an entertainment as that offered on Saturday is given to all at the nominal sum of 25 cents, it seems as though there should be enough in attendance from the city alone to pack the amphitheater and crowd the grounds. But such was not the case, the attendance being only fair. Of course threatening weather, and the experience of the drenching rain of the Fourth, had something to do with it, but aside from that there was too much apathy.

THE FREE-FOR-ALL was won by Big Soap, the following being the summary: Big Soap.....1 3 1 1 Little Sioux.....2 1 3 3 Little Sioux.....3 2 2 3 Time, 2:24, 2:24, 2:24, 2:27.

THE 2:34 CLASS proved a very exciting contest. The starters were "Comanche Boy," J. H. Belan, Kansas City; "Caledonia Chief," T. Hallock, St. Clair, Mich.; "May Clark," S. M. Beardsley, Omaha. The result was as follows: May Clark.....1 1 1 1 Comanche Boy.....2 2 1 3 Caledonia Chief.....2 3 3 1 Time—2:40, 2:37, 2:35, 2:36.

In the ladies showing of graceful riding and skillful horsemanship there were but two entries, Miss Ada Rich and Mrs. Hall. Both ladies rode very finely, but the latter met with a mishap in following out the instructions of the judge to ride around in a small circle. She was on a strange horse, and a rather spirited one, and in turning short she was thrown to the ground, but fortunately escaped injury. Miss Rich was given the first prize, a saddle and bridle, and Mrs. Hall a silver cup. The race for gentlemen's roadsters, double team, proved quite interesting and amusing. George Wisner's team won a straight heat. P. Boyette's team, second, and Moses Wise third in the first heat, and distanced in the second. N. L. Hall's team was distanced in the first heat. The time was 3:23 and 3:12.

It is seldom that you will feel unwell or suffer from indigestion if you use Brown's Iron Tonic.

It seems impossible that a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hop, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., should make so many and such great cures as Hop Bitters do: but when old and young, rich and poor, pastor and doctor, lawyer and editor, all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try them yourself, and doubt no longer.
