Thanksgiving Proclamation. In furtherance of the custom of this people at the closing of each year, to engage upon a day set apart for that purpose in special festival of praise to the Giver of all Good, therefore, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do hereby designate Thursday, the 29th day of November next, as a day of national thanksgiving.

The next Presidential candidate, of whatever party he may be, must have a fair show of carrying New York. Look to the east.

The marvellous progress made in the use of the electric light is evidenced by the fact that last week several of the carriages which conveyed guests to the Guild hall banquet in London carried electric lights in place of the ordinary lamps.

OMAHA gas lamps are very bright during these moonlight nights, and there is no difficulty in seeing them, but if the gas company would only make the gas a little more luminous the lamps might possibly become visible on a dark night.

The monumental liar who roasts around the dome of the Illinois State Capitol at Springfield is at it again. This time Lincoln's body has not been carried away, but was simply petrified.

If the present board of trade rooms were converted into a poker club-room, as were the former quarters of the board, the meetings would be more largely attended by heavy dealers, and the transactions on "call" would foot up above any deals that have ever been recorded by the secretary.

SENATOR VEST of Missouri, Congressman Carlisle of Kentucky, and several other great lights, have made a call on the Austrian minister at Washington with a view of securing a transfer of the late Vienna electric exposition to the show projected at New Orleans for next year.

LORD CHIEF JUSTICE COLERIDGE, since his return to England, has been besieged by the irrepressible reporters, but he has positively refused to be interviewed.

OUR people always refer with pride to the perfect cleanliness that prevails on the streets of the great eastern cities in contrast with the horrible mud in Omaha during the rainy season, and with the torn up and obstructed condition of the streets during the building season.

Agitation still continues in Ireland. Carl Spencer threatens to resign unless he be empowered to suppress National league meetings.

It is understood that the lord lieutenant of Ireland has been instructed to keep peace between the nationalists and Orangemen by discouraging the meetings of both parties and forbidding the gatherings of either organization if trouble is threatened.

The movement in favor of making the Parnell banquet a starting point for the new fund to pay the members is gaining ground, and it is probable that several of the five hundred guests will give large subscriptions.

abundance of the purest water from numerous artesian wells, and this at a time when it was badly needed. The supply from the Platte river was not only insufficient, but had become the cause of frequent complaint. Strange as it may seem, the man who was boring for oil and struck water was the president of the Denver water-works company, and the company are now digging several wells, which will supply their entire pipe system.

CHICAGO does not propose to remain behind Omaha in the matter of musical education. A committee of the Chicago Board of Education proposes that hereafter the study of music shall be placed on the same basis as reading, writing and arithmetic in all the grades above the first, but with the exception that this shall not apply to pupils who have defective voices, or whose parents do not wish them to study music.

The installation of the new Lord Mayor of London was followed by a banquet noticeable in several particulars. The American Minister was not invited, while the French, Chinese and other foreign ministers were. M. De Lesseps was also invited and spoke to a toast. So the French Minister, M. Waddington, not only spoke, but Mr. Gladstone showed him very marked attention in his address.

The policy of England as regards Egyptian occupation was also announced, and it favors De Lesseps' views. That is, the English army is to be withdrawn in whole or part from Egypt. This will set back the scheme for an English canal in competition with the Suez canal. Thus France and England are evidently drawing together, and their policy is changing toward harmony.

The Lincoln Journal has rendered the State a valuable service in the publication of a finely colored lithograph map of Nebraska, showing all the subdivisions by counties, as made by the last Legislature. It is in every respect the best map of Nebraska ever published.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS. The Luther celebration was one of the principal events of the week in Protestant Europe, and particularly in Germany. The most interesting celebrations were at Erlangen, where Luther was born and baptized, and at Berlin.

At the recent banquet of the Lord Mayor of London, the relations between England and France were quite freely discussed. Gladstone's statement concerning the proposed British evacuation of Egypt raised quite a breeze and created such a strong opposition that he was forced to explain in an interview.

Germany kindly offers to mediate between Bulgaria and Russia in the dispute that has lately arisen regarding Russian influence and prerogatives of the royal ruler of that petty power. In making this proposition Bismarck has the double motive of desiring to interfere with the affairs of the countries which were lately Turkish principalities and to maintain the peace of Europe at a season when war would prove exceedingly inconvenient.
