

THE DAILY BEE.

Thursday Morning, Jan. 31. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier - 20 cents per week; By Mail - $10.00 per Year.

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway. MINOR MENTION.

Additional local on seventh page. Cheap railroad tickets at Bushnell's. Revival meetings continue with increasing interest at the Baptist church.

ROLLER SKATES--Vineyard, Henely and other styles, at Brackett's, 224 and 226 Broadway.

The A. O. U. W. yesterday sent a donation to the Home of the Friendless, of sandwiches, etc., which were left over at their anniversary Tuesday night.

Mrs. D. A. Benedict's store, on Broadway, is being enlarged and greatly improved, both in appearance and convenience, so as to accommodate the largely increased stock of hair goods and fancy goods.

Complaint is made by many that in the opera house programme the cast is printed in too small type. Otherwise it makes a very respectable appearance. We would suggest this part be printed in larger type, so those wishing to read it can do so.

George W. Hawley and Miss Grace Greenwood, both of Silver City, Iowa, were married yesterday at the Pacific house parlors by Rev. J. G. Lomen. The young couple are from prominent families in the farming district. Their parents and a few friends were present to witness the ceremony.

Four boys giving their names as Peter Bilger, Jo Bennett, William Miller and Oscar Spink, were arrested by Marshal Jackson yesterday for burglarizing the new opera house. It appears that two revolvers and some smaller bits of stage property were taken, entrance being gained by a basement window.

Sheriff Cannon, of Memphis, Tenn., came over from Omaha night before last, with the two prisoners, "doctors" Turner and Reeves, intending to take the morning train for Tennessee. Yesterday morning, however, before he got off with these fellows application was made for a writ of habeas corpus through Messrs. Sapp and Pusey, their attorneys. The case will come off this afternoon, before Judge Aylosworth, at 2 o'clock.

Invitations to the grand opening of the roller skating rink, on Friday evening last, are being distributed through the mail. The management began sending them last evening. They are a very neat invitation, and were printed at Fryer's Job office. The committee on invitations are Messrs. John N. Baldwin, Will A. Maurer, A. T. Elwell, C. C. Cook, J. A. Wheeler, W. F. Sapp, Jr., Frank Cook, J. C. Mitchell and F. S. Pusey.

Constable Fox started yesterday to arrest a young fellow named A. Perdu, who was wanted for disturbing the peace. He spied the youth standing on the corner of Broadway and Main, but the young fellow ran and Fox after him. Fox yelled to him to stop or he would shoot, and a man darted out of the alley and ran down Main street for dear life. What the man was afraid of is not known, but at last accounts he passed the K. C. depot nearly out of breath, but still running. The boy escaped also.

The Glenwood papers are loud in their praise of the recent lecture of Rev. J. G. Lomen at that city. The Gazette speaks very highly indeed, and the Journal says: "Those who attended the lecture of Rev. J. G. Lomen, on 'Abundances of Science, at the opera house, on Thursday evening, expressed themselves as well pleased with his discussion of the subject. Mr. Lomen is a brilliant orator and has proven himself master of the subject discussed by him. On next Thursday evening a continuance of the lecture will be given, when we hope to see this talented gentleman greeted with the crowded house he deserves." These are the same lectures which were so eagerly listened to here, and created so much comment.

Private lessons on china given by S. D. Rehs, Studio No. 12 N. Main street.

CRUMBS FROM CRAWFORD. A Crazy Swede Attempts Suicide--A Missing Young Man Found in Indiana.

A Swede named Lofquist, who belongs in Sac county, while visiting Mr. Enberg, of Stockholm township, Crawford county, became crazed on religion, he having been attending some revival meetings. On returning home from one of these meetings he took a large pocket-knife and cut his wrist badly, and then attempted to kill himself by cutting his throat. At last reports he was still alive, but in a critical condition.

Some months ago a young man, an acquaintance of Sam Perry, of Washington township, visited him for a day or two, and suddenly disappeared. At the same time an overcoat, watch, sleeve-buttons, and other articles belonging to Mr. Perry disappeared. Sheriff Jones has been on the hunt for the young man ever since, and last week captured him at Pearson, Indiana. He has been brought back, and waived examination, so he will have his trial at the March term of the district court.

Mrs. A. Bryan, dressmaker. Cutting a specialty, 604 S. Main st., up stairs. Mr. A. A. Parsons left town last evening on a business trip.

WARD WARDENS.

They Decide to Have Another Test of the Water Works.

The Office of City Jailor Created.

Contracts Let for Street Work.

At a special meeting of the city council, held yesterday afternoon, bids were opened for laying brick sidewalk and curbing Broadway between Eighth and Eleventh streets.

John Hammer proposed to do the work for $2.15 a foot, but not specifying the quality of stone, except that it would be in accordance with advertisement, which makes it equal to Sagetown or Fort Collins.

The bid of J. & O. P. Wickham, for doing the work, was $2.48 a foot.

Chris. Straub proposed to do the curbing from $1.05 to $1.15 per foot, according to quality of stone, and the brick work at $1.10 a foot.

The contract was awarded to John Hammer, on condition of the work being done by June 1st.

A proposition was received from Raymond & Campbell to build the Madison street bridge, 70 feet long, the same kind of a bridge as that at Bryant street, for $1,875.

Alderman James moved that committee be authorized to enter into a contract with Raymond & Campbell to build a bridge at Madison street, and also to repair the Broadway bridge and the bridge at Eighth avenue.

On motion of Alderman Wood, the engineer and committee on streets and alleys were instructed to have the piles on upper Broadway driven down to within four feet of the water line and the crooked ones cut off and new ones put in their place, and that they also make such other improvements as may be necessary to protect the banks.

Alderman Keating, of the committee to whom was referred the reorganization of the fire department, reported in favor of retiring both steamers and selling one; also distributing the hose carts in different parts of the city; selling what horses are not needed, and cutting down the employes as far as possible; one hose cart to be located on Upper Broadway where the present hook and ladder company is, the latter being located in the engine house by the creek; one hose cart to be located near the Crystal mills on Main street; one located by the Coy house on Broadway, and the present two horse hose cart located in the engine house by the creek.

At Siedentopf's objection to the report as to indefinite. He did not believe in laying both steamers off duty. One might be needed even with the water works. On the other hand it was claimed that there ought not to be so much expense for a fire department while the water works are running.

The matter was finally laid over until the meeting for next Monday evening.

Alderman Keating said that there was a desire among many citizens, and, as he understood, also by the water works company, that another test be made of the water works. He therefore moved that such test be made, in the presence of the same committee as before, at such time as the water works company and the mayor shall agree upon.

Alderman Siedentopf suggested that before another test be made there should be some agreements as to heights--say one stream should be by the Methodist church, one by the Bloomer school building, etc., so that the heights can be measured.

Mr. George F. Wright suggested that theodolites could be used at other points.

The following points were selected for the tests: The Methodist church, Bloomer school building, court house, Harkness Bros. store, Empire Hardware company's building on Main street.

For test on the high elevation, the high school was chosen for one and the other to be on Madison street.

It was also decided to have the tests made through one inch nozzles, strictly in accordance with the contract, instead of an inch and a quarter nozzles as before.

The motion of Alderman Keating, amended so as to embrace these suggestions was then carried.

Attention was called to the fact that loads of wood obstructed the streets. It was decided to use the vacant lots between the two city buildings, for the stacking of hay and wood wagons. The committee on streets and alleys, was authorized to fill up and level off the lots so as to make them suitable.

The ordinance providing for a city jailor and fixing his salary and defining his duties, was read for the second time and amended. The salary was fixed at $200 a month, and he is required to reside and sleep at the jail, and see that it is kept open at all hours. The jailor is to be appointed by and with the advice and approval of the council. The rules were suspended and the ordinance passed.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for sale at public auction, February 9, the old city building on Broadway. Council then adjourned.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. H. Friedman will leave to-day on a trip to Chicago, Des Moines and several other cities.

Mrs. John Eppenstein, who has been suffering for some time past with neuralgia, has had several severe attacks of late.

Dr. A. J. Cook has gone to Nebraska for a few days on business, expecting to return Saturday.

N. D. Sandford and wife, of Avoca, were in the city yesterday.

Dubuque, Dito.

A few days ago THE BEE published letters from the city clerks of various cities in Iowa, of 10,000 inhabitants and upward, all stating that in their cities the cost of filling streets is paid for out of the general fund, instead of being taxed up to the abutting property, as is done here. Not a city in Iowa as yet heard from, is doing as Council Bluffs is now doing. Yesterday another city was heard from as follows: Dubuque, Ia., January 28.--In reply to yours, I would state that all grading of streets and alleys is done at the expense of the city, but all other improvements are assessed to the abutting property, such as paving, curbing, guttering and macadamizing. The ordinance authorizing the treasurer to sell property for special assessments for improvement of streets was passed in 1875. All such improvement must first be ordered done by a resolution of the council which must be adopted by a two-thirds vote. We have had no litigation upon this question. Yours respectfully, JOHN W. HALPIN, City Recorder.

PRACTICAL PIETY.

What the Home Has Done for a Young Woman.

Another Case Still Pending.

Almost daily some instance comes to light illustrative of the work being done by the Home of the Friendless in this city. An interesting one is now given as illustrating not only the need of such an institution, but the practical and successful manner in which it is meeting this need.

About six months ago there was gathered into the home a young woman who was in a sad condition, indeed. In the face of approaching motherhood, without the title of wife, with no friends nor money, and the man who was the cause of her disgrace and her ruin turning coldly from her, she had no brightness to look back to, and no hope to look forward to. It was in this critical period of her life, when many a young woman has yielded and sought death, that she found shelter in the Home. She has been there cared for, time, money and comforts being bestowed upon her, until, from a financial point of view, it seemed that the heart of the management was running away with the judgment. After nursing the young woman back to life, from a very severe and complicated illness, attention was then paid to the task of hunting up the young man who had caused her ruin. Rev. J. G. Lomen, the manager of the home, kept after him and finding that he had disposed of his property for the purpose of evading any forcible payment of money, correspondence was opened with his relatives who were well-to-do, and the situation laid before them. As a result of this persistence and correspondence, the young man's relatives have forwarded to the Home the sum of $200 for pay for the expenses of caring for the girl and to provide her with care until she was able to leave the Home. This amount will offset the expense the Home has been to, so that while doing a great work for the young woman and relieving her distress, the affairs of the Home are not come as a heavy drain on the charitable contributions of the citizens. The policy is to make those pay for such care as have been the cause of the suffering. It took persistence, pluck and tact to make those parties come to time and pay for caring for the poor girl. It was until the strong arm of the law was invoked, and an attorney hired to see to the case that the check of $200 was forwarded to the home.

ANOTHER CASE which is now being attended to is that of another poor woman who is being cared for at the home. It appears that she has still some $400 due her from an estate, but the administrator has been holding back the money which she so much needs. She is being taken to recover this money and with good prospects of success.

As long as this kind of work is being done by the home, there certainly can be no idea entertained that sickly sentimentalism prevails. Practical sort of piety it is indeed, which, while looking after the immediate needs of the distressed, plans and works for their future.

Such instances inspire confidence among the business men especially, and hence they contribute so freely. The institution is fast growing up to its ideal of not being a mere local institution, but one of state importance and usefulness, and runs beyond the bounds of state.

At Glenwood much interest has been stirred up among the business men, and there is talk of organizing a local board there. The institution as thus reaching out is becoming of more and more value to the city and to western Iowa.
