

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

STOCKS--To-day's stock market has been decidedly more active than yesterday's, but there has been a continuation of the weakness of yesterday from the opening until near the close. First prices were generally a little lower than the closing quotations of last evening, but they were at or near the highest quotations reached to-day, and there was early developed a decided weakness, particularly in Omaha and Northwestern. There is not a single active stock that shows any advance. It is claimed that the rec at advance in Northern Pacific was for the purpose of assisting a syndicate in disposing of $15,000,000 second mortgage bonds taken by it some time ago, and that the profits of the recent heavy shipments to that country, which came over the Northern Pacific route, was little or nothing, for the reason that the Pacific mail canal ocean rates about fifty per cent.
