

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS

OFFICE, NO. 12, PEARL STREET.

Delivered by carrier in any part of the city at twenty cents per week.

H. W. TILTON, Manager.

TELEPHONE: BUSINESS OFFICE, No. 42. Home Editor, No. 25.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co.

New spring goods at Reiter's, tailor.

Park avenue sewers were being flushed yesterday.

The popular resort is the Manhattan 418 Broadway, Budo & Yenawine.

The married ladies' progressive euchre club met last evening at the residence of Mrs. W. C. James.

The weekly meeting of Manawa Gun club will take place at the driving park at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

A progressive hearts party was given last evening by Mrs. Rockwell and Mrs. Fuller at the residence of the former.

The Bavarian band gives the second of its Bayliss park concerts this evening. Several pleasing solos are on the programme.

The funeral of Mrs. A. G. Wickens took place yesterday from the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Newton, on Benton street.

The pool tournament will begin to-night at the Manhattan and will last nine evenings. It is for the championship of western Iowa and has some seven or eight entries.

City Marshal Ganella yesterday did the handsome thing by Chief of Police Mullen and Captain'Brien. He pinned upon the chief's breast a gold star, a beauty, and a handsome silver one upon that of O'Brien. The gifts were duly appreciated, and were worthily bestowed.

The city council meets Monday night, next pay-day, at 7 o'clock, for the consideration of the city's financial affairs.

There are very few who claim that they are assessed for over forty per cent of their real valuation, but the burden of complaint is that some one else is assessed less than they.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve dinner and supper on Monday, May 30, Decoration day, at the Blue Front, No. 508 Broadway. Dinner will be served from 11 a. m. till 2 p. m.; supper from 5 to 10 p. m. Strawberries and ice cream will be served at both dinner and supper.

The Devil's Auction" was presented a second time in the opera house last evening, by Gilmore's company, numbering sixty or more. The great spectacular was given in a manner far superior in all its details than any previous presentation in this city. The scenery is fine, and the mechanical workings magical. The acrobats, gymnasts and ballets are sprightly and graceful, and more variety could hardly be crowded into an entertainment.

Colonel E. A. Consigny, of Avoca, will watch the hymenometer more closely hereafter. Only a week before the marriage of Jacob Sims, the colonel was joking him, in his usual ignorance of the approaching nuptials, as to why in the world he didn't get married, and the latter replied that he might if he got sufficient inducements offered. Thereupon the innocent colonel told him that if he would get a mail order for him a barrel of his best flour. A week or so later the happy event was announced, and since then Consigny has been waiting for Sims to be in a condition to see the flour. Mr. and Mrs. Sims having gone to housekeeping the barrel of flour has come along, the colonel gladly keeping his word, as he is a great friend of Mr. Sims. The present is a practical one, and is doubtless well appreciated.

Personal Paragraphs.

Hon. C. R. Bolter, of Logan, was in the city yesterday.

Mayor E. Eichart, of Neola, was in the city yesterday.

Postmaster Lavenburg, of Armour, was in the city yesterday.

H. S. Watkins, of Neola, one of the oldest citizens, was in the city yesterday.

C. S. Keenan and George Bogart, of Shenandoah, visited the city yesterday.

Sam Noble left last evening for St. Paul to close up the estate of his father.

Mr. Zink, of Lemars, one of the attorneys who are prosecuting saloons, is in the city.

C. H. Converse, of Oakland, visited the Bluffs yesterday in the interests of his clients.

Dr. R. Ludlam and Mrs. Dr. Reynolds, of Chicago, were at the Ozden yesterday, called hither by professional duties.

J. W. Green, who has one of the most important carrier routes in the mail service, has gone to Davonport on a few days' trip. Green is the most accommodating and faithful carrier ever on this route, and the business men appreciate his willingness to do extra work in order that they may be accommodated.

Lime, cement, plaster, hair, coal, etc., Council Bluffs Gas company, No. 539 Broadway, telephone 138.

Latest improved gasoline stoves at No. 504 Main street, W. A. Wood.

Hardman, Peck & Co. will move into their new warehouse this month. The front of the building is now up and already some idea can be gained of the appearance of the place. It will be, when finished, one of the finest piano warehouses in the city. The Mueller Music company No. 103 Main street Council Bluffs are the general western agents of these celebrated pianos.

Drs. Hanchett & Smith, office No. 13 Pearl st., residence, 130 Fourth st., Telephone No. 10.

Tally One.

When a dealer says he has a new thing in gasoline stoves, it means another experiment. Ours is the reliable Quick Meal. It has never gone back on our guarantee.

COLE & COLE, 41 Main St.

The Hambletonian stallion, Arbitrator, can be seen at my stable on Fourth or Benet streets, three doors south of Hattenhauer's carriage repository. He is a grandson of Bysdyke's Hambletonian on the sire side, and a grandson of Membrino chief on the dam side, the acknowledged principal products of speed and general purpose horses in America, and Arbitrator is no exception to the rule. He is a horse of great individual merit and speed, and for the purpose of convincing the breeders of high bred horses that he is all that is claimed of him, I will speed him a ten or twenty-mile dash on the road to 600 pounds weight with any stallion owned in the country. Breeders of high bred horses will make a note of this and carry it in their hats, as the owner of these horses puts all the money he has or can borrow into straight horses, and not into books, pamphlets and newspapers, talking about their forty-second cousins' performances.

Also Colonel Dodge, bred by W. H. H. Colby, of Fort Dodge, Ia., sired by Starlight, by Star of the West, dam by Compton, Jr., by Compton, by Bysdyke's Hambletonian. This colt is a stranger in a strange land, but his breeding is certainly all any man could wish for. His great and positive individuality, his powerful and powerful stride, his wonderful constitutional powers, and his powerful steel-converted frame work, insure for him a career that will place him among the grandest stallions in the west.

D. GRAY.

THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS.

Jonathan Jones On His Third Trial for Murder.

A STRAY LAD CARED FOR.

A Slight Manawa Accident—Quarrelling Over Dried Apples—Waiting for Bridge News—The Saloon Cases.

On Trial For Murder.

The trial of Jonathan Jones, on the charge of murder, opened in the district court yesterday. This is an old case, but still interests many. The bloody affair occurred in February, 1878. Jones and David Roberts, the deceased, were neighbors in Hazel Dell township. They had some difficulty and it is claimed that Jones shot him on the highway, killing him almost instantly. Jones has been tried twice. On the first trial he was found guilty and sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary. A new trial was obtained, and on this second trial he was found guilty and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. Another trial was obtained, and that is now in progress. Attorneys Mynster and Daily are prosecuting, and Colonel C. R. Scott, of Omaha, with Lyman & Hunter, of this city, are defending. The jury in the case are: John Kittering, J. P. Hess, J. E. Brooks, A. M. Miller, C. C. Despain, F. M. Williams, Robert Warburton, James Vosey, John Booth, A. Hart, L. Williams, E. Lawkowski.

Most of yesterday afternoon was spent in taking the testimony of Mr. Wager, who twice before has told on the stand all that he knew of the tragedy. He saw from his house two men running, and the other was an accident. Soon after he saw one of the men, who is supposed to be Jones, going to Jones' house. He afterward found the other man, Roberts, lying in the road shot in the head. Roberts was breathing, but did not speak and only lived a short time.

There are several defenses outlined in Jones' behalf. One is that there is no evidence that he shot Roberts. Another is that if he did shoot him it was in self-defense, and still another that Jones was insane. Jones is now a man past the prime of life. He sits apart from his attorneys, and looks on with a vacant stare, having a little concern in the case as if it was a civil suit and between other parties. No one looking over the crowd in the court room would pick him out as the defendant. It is said that he is in a stupid condition mentally, and has no appreciation of the situation.

The case is being sharply prosecuted, and will be strongly defended. Every possible advantage will be covered, and the legal battle will be in keeping with the importance of the case. The trial will last several days.

A Stray Lad.

A twelve-year-old boy named Wesley Post, not being able to find his parents was compelled to spend Wednesday night in the city jail.

It seems that Young Post's parents removed from Omaha to this city on Wednesday and the boy followed with work and clothing, and being lost at the Broadway dummy depot which he failed to do. He wandered up town and went to the city jail and was yesterday taken care of by Mrs. Bradbury of the Essex house.

A Manawa Accident.

On Wednesday evening Miss Jennie Cook, who was riding horseback, was thrown off Hump Back bridge into the railroad sough. Near the bridge lay several logs, and George Hobbington's horse shied to one side, striking the horse of Miss Cook, knocking him over. Miss Cook fortunately escaped with the sprain of a finger and a ducking.

A Fight Over Dried Apples.

Yesterday a traveling man, representing Steele & Johnson, of Omaha, was showing up samples in Jacob Appel's store. The talk turned upon dried apples, and while the traveling man was discoursing upon the peculiar merits of some dried apples which he had for sale, Spi Miller, who was standing by, joined in the talk. He had been drinking some, and was not only talkative, but disagreeable so. He contradicted the salesman's glowing account of dried apples, and the salesman offered to back up the truth of his assertions by a bet of $10 to $1. Miller at once flew into a rage, and calling the traveling man a liar hit him. In the first round Miller got the best of the man of the grip, but the latter, rallying from the unexpected onslaught, began going in for the wire especially with mention. The trip of both men being somewhat bloodied in the encounter.

Waiting On Washington.

"What have you heard from Washington?" The question was asked more often than answered yesterday. The citizens are very eager to hear the result of the protest filed by the Milwaukee & St. Paul road against the location of the Broadway wagon bridge. There is a general feeling of confidence that there will be no permanent obstacle in the way of the Broadway Bridge company, and as to the future, it is conceded that the bridge will surely be built as planned. The annoying feature of the situation is the delay. Every day seems an age to those who want to be certain before proceeding with other enterprises dependent upon the bridge being built. There were no tidings to be had yesterday, but they were hourly expected.

A Bee representative asked John N. Baldwin last evening, if he had heard from Washington in regard to the hearing before the secretary of war. He replied that he had not and that he did not expect any news for a few days. "It will take some little time to look over the papers in the case and I think it will be taken under advisement. From a legal point I can see no reason for any fear; the Milwaukee railway certainly has no right to the location. I prepared the brief here for the attorneys at Washington and have a pretty good idea of the condition of the case and am not alarmed."

Engineer Moore was then called on. He expressed himself satisfied that the case would be determined favorable to the wagon bridge, and said: "I have not expected a decision before Saturday at least. You know there is a great deal of red tape in Washington City." Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.

The affidavits have been filed in the forty new saloon injunction cases. They are quite interesting documents, although there is a certain sameness which runs through most of them, and by them it appears that two men, H. Darville and A. P. McLereb, have been rounding up the loons in Washington City. Mr. Moore acknowledged having received a telegram from Washington in the morning, but stated that it was purely a business telegram.

Swearing at the Saloons.