

THE DAILY BEE, PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Morning Edition including Sunday...

OMAHA OFFICE, No. 914 and 916 FARMAN STREET...

ADVERTISING: All communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to the Editor of the Bee.

ALL BUSINESS LETTERS AND RESISTANCES should be addressed to THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY...

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY, PROPRIETORS. E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

THE DAILY BEE.

Table with 2 columns: Date and Circulation figures for various dates from Saturday, July 16 to Friday, July 22.

Sworn to and subscribed in my presence this 23rd day of July, A. D. 1887.

Geo. B. Tzschuck, Notary Public.

State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss Geo. B. Tzschuck, being first duly sworn, deposes and says...

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of July, A. D. 1887.

It is now estimated that the world's wheat crop, although apparently not much below the average, will again be a short one.

The colored man of St. Joe who has been sleeping for three days, and is proof against being roused should be placed on the police force.

If there is any good reason why the council should any longer withhold its approval of the bonds of the police commission, the citizens of Omaha would like to know it.

KANSAS CITY is already crowding over her fall boom. The papers proclaim an "unparalleled activity in the real estate market," in black type.

A PORTABLE telephone has been invented by two Belgians, whereby telephoning may be performed on the open ground from "anywhere to anywhere."

THE prohibition people should take charge of the St. Louis committee which called upon President Cleveland yesterday.

The queen graciously allowed W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht, Alva, to bring up the rear in her majesty's recent maritime procession.

The opinion of the inter-state commission that railroads cannot discriminate in the sale of thousand mile tickets to commercial travelers, is an element not a privileged class is a blow to the traveling merchants who for a great many years have enjoyed privileges and luxuries beyond the reach of ordinary people.

Not in Love with the Reform. A conspicuous and significant fact in connection with the recent democratic convention of Ohio, which should not be lost sight of, was the very plain evidence it furnished that the party in that state is not in love with civil service reform.

Old John Hobson, of Bear Lake in New Brunswick, seems to be a second Noah. He prophesied the great floods now raging in New England and had fitted himself out with a canoe which is moored at his little log cabin ready for business.

Georgia, the home of wonders, has acquired another marvel, this time from the regions of infinite space. A smooth ball of an unknown metal came blazing through the air and buried itself five feet in the soil near Clayton, the other evening.

It is noted that the establishment of a silver market in this country has already had its effect in London financial circles. A movement is reported to be now on foot there to introduce speculation in silver bullion certificates on a plan similar to that inaugurated in New York.

It is noted that the establishment of a silver market in this country has already had its effect in London financial circles. A movement is reported to be now on foot there to introduce speculation in silver bullion certificates on a plan similar to that inaugurated in New York.

It is noted that the establishment of a silver market in this country has already had its effect in London financial circles. A movement is reported to be now on foot there to introduce speculation in silver bullion certificates on a plan similar to that inaugurated in New York.

It is noted that the establishment of a silver market in this country has already had its effect in London financial circles. A movement is reported to be now on foot there to introduce speculation in silver bullion certificates on a plan similar to that inaugurated in New York.

The Alien Land Law.

The opinion rendered by the attorney general regarding the alien land law, just made public, agrees in all essential particulars with that given some time ago by Judge Payson, of Illinois, the author of the law. They concur in saying that the act is applicable to mines, and that henceforth mineral lands cannot be acquired by aliens.

Sworn Statement of Circulation. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss Geo. B. Tzschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company, does solemnly swear that the actual circulation of the Daily Bee for the week ending July 23, 1887, was as follows:

State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss Geo. B. Tzschuck, being first duly sworn, deposes and says that the actual circulation of the Daily Bee for the month of July, 1887, 12,314 copies; for August, 12,436 copies; for September, 12,950 copies; for October, 12,950 copies; for November, 12,950 copies; for December, 12,950 copies; for January, 12,950 copies; for February, 12,950 copies; for March, 12,950 copies; for April, 12,950 copies; for May, 12,950 copies; for June, 12,950 copies; for July, 12,950 copies.

It is now estimated that the world's wheat crop, although apparently not much below the average, will again be a short one.

The colored man of St. Joe who has been sleeping for three days, and is proof against being roused should be placed on the police force.

If there is any good reason why the council should any longer withhold its approval of the bonds of the police commission, the citizens of Omaha would like to know it.

KANSAS CITY is already crowding over her fall boom. The papers proclaim an "unparalleled activity in the real estate market," in black type.

A PORTABLE telephone has been invented by two Belgians, whereby telephoning may be performed on the open ground from "anywhere to anywhere."

THE prohibition people should take charge of the St. Louis committee which called upon President Cleveland yesterday.

The queen graciously allowed W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht, Alva, to bring up the rear in her majesty's recent maritime procession.

The opinion of the inter-state commission that railroads cannot discriminate in the sale of thousand mile tickets to commercial travelers, is an element not a privileged class is a blow to the traveling merchants who for a great many years have enjoyed privileges and luxuries beyond the reach of ordinary people.

Not in Love with the Reform. A conspicuous and significant fact in connection with the recent democratic convention of Ohio, which should not be lost sight of, was the very plain evidence it furnished that the party in that state is not in love with civil service reform.

Old John Hobson, of Bear Lake in New Brunswick, seems to be a second Noah. He prophesied the great floods now raging in New England and had fitted himself out with a canoe which is moored at his little log cabin ready for business.

Georgia, the home of wonders, has acquired another marvel, this time from the regions of infinite space. A smooth ball of an unknown metal came blazing through the air and buried itself five feet in the soil near Clayton, the other evening.

It is noted that the establishment of a silver market in this country has already had its effect in London financial circles. A movement is reported to be now on foot there to introduce speculation in silver bullion certificates on a plan similar to that inaugurated in New York.

It is noted that the establishment of a silver market in this country has already had its effect in London financial circles. A movement is reported to be now on foot there to introduce speculation in silver bullion certificates on a plan similar to that inaugurated in New York.

subject. What conspicuous leader is there who is an avowed and unqualified friend of the reform, and yet it is the only policy to which the administration is unmistakably committed and with which it has been able to accomplish anything. In respect of other policies to which it had pledged itself or was pledged by the party its career has been utterly barren of results, and promises to continue so until the end.

Three years ago when Jewett was city clerk his salary was $1,300 a year. The force in his office was a solitary clerk at $900 a year. With this assistant Jewett kept up the records of the council, prepared copies of official documents, performed the clerical duties of the license board, audited the city's accounts, and made out all city warrants, besides accommodating gentlemen by copying and preparing resolutions, ordinances, etc.

Under the present administration, the democratic leaders of the government have had to expect and meet the greatest part of their ingenuity and strength in trying to violate the spirit while seeming to conform to the letter of the civil service act.

So far, under the present administration, the democratic leaders of the government have had to expect and meet the greatest part of their ingenuity and strength in trying to violate the spirit while seeming to conform to the letter of the civil service act.

These are not the only glaring instances of extravagance as shown by the city payroll. An analysis of some of the bills incurred would furnish an exhibit of even worse management.

No More Trifling. The citizens of Omaha will tolerate no more trifling by the council with the police commission. The prime object of creating the police commission was to give Omaha better police protection by divorcing the management of the police from politics.

Why can't the city come to a settlement with the gas company. Its claims are said to run up into the tens of thousands and are constantly increasing.

Our afternoon contemporary is mistaken when it quotes City Attorney Webster as drawing $185 per month. The city attorney gets $250 per month, and his assistant $125.

What has become of the Council Bluffs wagon bridge project? The decent and honest members of the council must separate from the bunners and boddlers.

Fortune and Misfortune. Peter De Lacy, of New York, has made $300,000 on the race course, bookmaking. The venerable Parke Godwin is at Bar Harbor. He is worth over $100,000, and is still stout-looking.

Just forty years ago Robert Bonner was foreman of New York Evening Mirror, at $18 a week. He is now worth $2,000,000. Stanley Brown, now a carpenter in Washington city, was once the private secretary of President Garfield, on a salary of $5,500 a year.

Henry Stafford Little, who is called the "pistol king" of New Jersey, is a bachelor and worth $1,000,000. Ex-Secretary Bristow gets an income of $20,000 from his real estate investments in New York, and his law practice nets him $40,000 more.

Additional remark, having made $200,000 in the last two bet rats on Wall street, thinks he can now afford to take a fortnight's rest at Newport. Mrs. Christine Nilsson owns two buildings in Boston that are assessed at $123,000. It must not be supposed that this property was bought for a song.

Just forty years ago Robert Bonner was foreman of New York Evening Mirror, at $18 a week. He is now worth $2,000,000. Stanley Brown, now a carpenter in Washington city, was once the private secretary of President Garfield, on a salary of $5,500 a year.

Henry Stafford Little, who is called the "pistol king" of New Jersey, is a bachelor and worth $1,000,000. Ex-Secretary Bristow gets an income of $20,000 from his real estate investments in New York, and his law practice nets him $40,000 more.

Additional remark, having made $200,000 in the last two bet rats on Wall street, thinks he can now afford to take a fortnight's rest at Newport.

aire, and director of nine banks and four railroads. He is less than five feet high and went to Michigan twenty-five years ago with less than $100 in his pocket. Jonathan H. Grosvenor, a famous lecturer to thousands as the "Reformed Gambler," reached his seventy-fifth anniversary last Monday. His life has been full of strange vicissitudes, and for years past he has had a severe and perpetual battle with poverty.

MASTER WORKMAN POWDERLY is at work gathering statistics and data upon which to base a plan for dealing with the immigrant question. He thinks this will be a knotty problem for the statesmen to solve in the near future. This problem will not only be a difficult one to solve, it is already so.

Keep An Eye On Harrison. Ex-Senator Harrison is practicing law in Indianapolis. Though still smarting from the knotted lash of defeat in his own state, he hopes that the fortune of politics may again force him to the front.

Nobody Believes It. Nobody believes that Thomas Powell will be elected governor of Ohio, because, generally speaking, Ohio is a reliably republican state, and, further, because it is not without reason supposed that the Enquirer and its faction will knife him.

A Hammock Story. My lady dreams with unshut eyes, Under the apple bough I see, Where on her breezy-blossom she lies, The fairest thing beneath the skies— Ah! dare I hope she dreams of me?

I cannot leave her musing there, And so my way, when only she Meets, and I must love and share— Ah! lady fair, dear lady fair, I come to thee! I come to thee!

There was a tender thrill of bliss From the brown nest above the two, As, with a love love would not miss For heaven, she said, "I dreamed of you!"

Chadron pays taxes on $40,000. Ainsworth is valued for tax purposes at $61,486. Filley has subscribed a bonus of $4,000 for a flouring mill.

Active work has commenced on the Burlington bridge at Nebraska City. The tide of emigration has turned to Kansas. Clouds of chinch bugs passed over Fillmore county last week bound for that region.

A round up of Hastings shows that butchers cost $335,100 are now under way. The third city is keeping up with the procession in line shape.

Seven out of fourteen head of cattle belonging to a settler in the western part of Cheyenne county were killed one day last week by a forward stroke of lightning.

One of the Custer county gang of thieves, attacked by the sheriff's posse a few weeks ago, crawled into the brush and died. The body was discovered last week.

A Callaway boy, mounted on a pony, was attacked by a number of hooting playmates. The animal was frightened and threw the rider to the ground, killing him instantly.

Mr. C. L. Hall, of Central City, has been arrested on a charge of defrauding the native and acquired advantages of soil, climate, industries and material interests of Merriam county. The pamphlet will prove an excellent immigration agent if liberally distributed.

Fred D. Williams utters a farewell kick in the Rising City Independent, which has been sold to D. R. Neville. Williams proudly proclaims that he has never been "down and out" since he was a boy.

Self-interest is the balance wheel of opinion. A few months ago the Fremont Tribune objected to the use of force as a multiple in figuring the directory population of Omaha. Now the same paper thinks three and a half is the proper multiple, as it gives Fremont a population of 8,235. "We do boom."

The Broken Bow Times says: "Every young, hoodlum and worthless whelp, young or old, in the city is supplied with his gun or other deadly weapon. If the officers would commence a general 'pulling' matinee of this class it would be a blessing to all law loving people. There is no necessity for these two-legged animals being allowed this privilege, unless they are to be used for the purpose of blowing their own worthless brains out pretty soon."

Doc Middleton, the notorious, is running a tent saloon at Galtman, the end of the river. He was caught at his old tricks. He stole a consignment of liquor from a rival, who traced them to Doc's nose. He said, "I have five minutes to live unless you tell me where that whiskey is." Doc denied knowing anything of the stolen property until after looking down the barrel of the gun for about three minutes, when he said, "I am only two minutes to live." At this Doc weakened and told where the goods were. Middleton is said to have almost recovered from the wounds he received while he was captured three years ago for horse stealing.

Verdict declared, why is he not arrested? was the comment fired at a Bee man by a prominent railroad-raider. "Bowler is laying around Lincoln," continued the raider, "anxious for a trial, which he believes will prove his innocence. In justice to a man of his standing, the authorities should press the case to trial and place the blame where it belongs. I don't believe they dare do it, because if the truth were known the responsibility might fall on the shoulders of the authorities that night. He gave Bowser orders to run through from Waverly to Lincoln, and discovering his mistake after the east bound train had left Lincoln, he attempted to reverse the train, and the sleepy operator at Havelock, who put out the signal to stop after the engine had passed the station. Let them try Bowser and bring out the truth!"

Not a Very Liberal Allowance. The two lawyers who defended Chamberlain and Taylor, the New Haven murderers, were allowed $15 each by the court. Judge Stoddard said that the state was not bound to provide two counsel, and that the limit of authorized expenses was $10 a day, which he divided between the two attorneys employed.

Keep An Eye On Harrison. Ex-Senator Harrison is practicing law in Indianapolis. Though still smarting from the knotted lash of defeat in his own state, he hopes that the fortune of politics may again force him to the front.

Nobody Believes It. Nobody believes that Thomas Powell will be elected governor of Ohio, because, generally speaking, Ohio is a reliably republican state, and, further, because it is not without reason supposed that the Enquirer and its faction will knife him.

A Hammock Story. My lady dreams with unshut eyes, Under the apple bough I see, Where on her breezy-blossom she lies, The fairest thing beneath the skies— Ah! dare I hope she dreams of me?

I cannot leave her musing there, And so my way, when only she Meets, and I must love and share— Ah! lady fair, dear lady fair, I come to thee! I come to thee!

There was a tender thrill of bliss From the brown nest above the two, As, with a love love would not miss For heaven, she said, "I dreamed of you!"

Chadron pays taxes on $40,000. Ainsworth is valued for tax purposes at $61,486. Filley has subscribed a bonus of $4,000 for a flouring mill.

Active work has commenced on the Burlington bridge at Nebraska City. The tide of emigration has turned to Kansas. Clouds of chinch bugs passed over Fillmore county last week bound for that region.

A round up of Hastings shows that butchers cost $335,100 are now under way. The third city is keeping up with the procession in line shape.

Seven out of fourteen head of cattle belonging to a settler in the western part of Cheyenne county were killed one day last week by a forward stroke of lightning.

One of the Custer county gang of thieves, attacked by the sheriff's posse a few weeks ago, crawled into the brush and died. The body was discovered last week.

A Callaway boy, mounted on a pony, was attacked by a number of hooting playmates. The animal was frightened and threw the rider to the ground, killing him instantly.

Mr. C. L. Hall, of Central City, has been arrested on a charge of defrauding the native and acquired advantages of soil, climate, industries and material interests of Merriam county. The pamphlet will prove an excellent immigration agent if liberally distributed.

Fred D. Williams utters a farewell kick in the Rising City Independent, which has been sold to D. R. Neville. Williams proudly proclaims that he has never been "down and out" since he was a boy.

Self-interest is the balance wheel of opinion. A few months ago the Fremont Tribune objected to the use of force as a multiple in figuring the directory population of Omaha. Now the same paper thinks three and a half is the proper multiple, as it gives Fremont a population of 8,235. "We do boom."

The Broken Bow Times says: "Every young, hoodlum and worthless whelp, young or old, in the city is supplied with his gun or other deadly weapon. If the officers would commence a general 'pulling' matinee of this class it would be a blessing to all law loving people. There is no necessity for these two-legged animals being allowed this privilege, unless they are to be used for the purpose of blowing their own worthless brains out pretty soon."

Doc Middleton, the notorious, is running a tent saloon at Galtman, the end of the river. He was caught at his old tricks. He stole a consignment of liquor from a rival, who traced them to Doc's nose. He said, "I have five minutes to live unless you tell me where that whiskey is." Doc denied knowing anything of the stolen property until after looking down the barrel of the gun for about three minutes, when he said, "I am only two minutes to live." At this Doc weakened and told where the goods were. Middleton is said to have almost recovered from the wounds he received while he was captured three years ago for horse stealing.

Verdict declared, why is he not arrested? was the comment fired at a Bee man by a prominent railroad-raider. "Bowler is laying around Lincoln," continued the raider, "anxious for a trial, which he believes will prove his innocence. In justice to a man of his standing, the authorities should press the case to trial and place the blame where it belongs. I don't believe they dare do it, because if the truth were known the responsibility might fall on the shoulders of the authorities that night. He gave Bowser orders to run through from Waverly to Lincoln, and discovering his mistake after the east bound train had left Lincoln, he attempted to reverse the train, and the sleepy operator at Havelock, who put out the signal to stop after the engine had passed the station. Let them try Bowser and bring out the truth!"

Not a Very Liberal Allowance. The two lawyers who defended Chamberlain and Taylor, the New Haven murderers, were allowed $15 each by the court. Judge Stoddard said that the state was not bound to provide two counsel, and that the limit of authorized expenses was $10 a day, which he divided between the two attorneys employed.

Keep An Eye On Harrison. Ex-Senator Harrison is practicing law in Indianapolis. Though still smarting from the knotted lash of defeat in his own state, he hopes that the fortune of politics may again force him to the front.

Nobody Believes It. Nobody believes that Thomas Powell will be elected governor of Ohio, because, generally speaking, Ohio is a reliably republican state, and, further, because it is not without reason supposed that the Enquirer and its faction will knife him.

A Hammock Story. My lady dreams with unshut eyes, Under the apple bough I see, Where on her breezy-blossom she lies, The fairest thing beneath the skies— Ah! dare I hope she dreams of me?

I cannot leave her musing there, And so my way, when only she Meets, and I must love and share— Ah! lady fair, dear lady fair, I come to thee! I come to thee!

There was a tender thrill of bliss From the brown nest above the two, As, with a love love would not miss For heaven, she said, "I dreamed of you!"

Chadron pays taxes on $40,000. Ainsworth is valued for tax purposes at $61,486. Filley has subscribed a bonus of $4,000 for a flouring mill.

Active work has commenced on the Burlington bridge at Nebraska City. The tide of emigration has turned to Kansas. Clouds of chinch bugs passed over Fillmore county last week bound for that region.

A round up of Hastings shows that butchers cost $335,100 are now under way. The third city is keeping up with the procession in line shape.

Seven out of fourteen head of cattle belonging to a settler in the western part of Cheyenne county were killed one day last week by a forward stroke of lightning.

One of the Custer county gang of thieves, attacked by the sheriff's posse a few weeks ago, crawled into the brush and died. The body was discovered last week.

A Callaway boy, mounted on a pony, was attacked by a number of hooting playmates. The animal was frightened and threw the rider to the ground, killing him instantly.

Mr. C. L. Hall, of Central City, has been arrested on a charge of defrauding the native and acquired advantages of soil, climate, industries and material interests of Merriam county. The pamphlet will prove an excellent immigration agent if liberally distributed.

Fred D. Williams utters a farewell kick in the Rising City Independent, which has been sold to D. R. Neville. Williams proudly proclaims that he has never been "down and out" since he was a boy.

Self-interest is the balance wheel of opinion. A few months ago the Fremont Tribune objected to the use of force as a multiple in figuring the directory population of Omaha. Now the same paper thinks three and a half is the proper multiple, as it gives Fremont a population of 8,235. "We do boom."

The Broken Bow Times says: "Every young, hoodlum and worthless whelp, young or old, in the city is supplied with his gun or other deadly weapon. If the officers would commence a general 'pulling' matinee of this class it would be a blessing to all law loving people. There is no necessity for these two-legged animals being allowed this privilege, unless they are to be used for the purpose of blowing their own worthless brains out pretty soon."

Doc Middleton, the notorious, is running a tent saloon at Galtman, the end of the river. He was caught at his old tricks. He stole a consignment of liquor from a rival, who traced them to Doc's nose. He said, "I have five minutes to live unless you tell me where that whiskey is." Doc denied knowing anything of the stolen property until after looking down the barrel of the gun for about three minutes, when he said, "I am only two minutes to live." At this Doc weakened and told where the goods were. Middleton is said to have almost recovered from the wounds he received while he was captured three years ago for horse stealing.

ests. The former policy was but to fulfill the duties involved in membership of the house of commons. There the latter made the Irish party instrumental in the overthrow of two governments. This forward policy was hailed with acclamations in Ireland. It led, however, to the deposition of Buller as premier and Parnell to the leadership. The events of these later days of the struggle need not be recounted, so far as they concern Mr. Parnell. The suspensions in the house of commons, the suppression of the land league, and the imprisonment of Parnell are matters of recent history familiar to all.

Riddled with Bullets. St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The passengers who arrived in the city early this morning by the Vandalia express from Indianapolis had a somewhat thrilling experience near Greenup crossing, 133 miles from St. Louis. There the train, which was due at 7:30 p. m. yesterday, from reaching the city until 12:15 this morning. After the train had left Indianapolis Conductor F. M. Pfouts discovered the suppression of the land league, and the imprisonment of Parnell are matters of recent history familiar to all.

MORTUARY MATTERS. Facts About Those Who Have Departed This Life. MRS. CHARLES WASMER. The sad news was received in this city yesterday from Grand Island that Mrs. Charles Wasmer, formerly Miss Lillie Saxauer, was dead. Sunday, a telegram came saying she was very ill and her mother, Mrs. William Saxauer, started at once for her bedside. The daughter died before she reached the island, and yesterday morning, Mr. Saxauer, father of the deceased, and her sisters, Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Myers and Mr. Myers, a brother-in-law, were called to the home of mourning. The deceased was born and brought up in this city, her parents being among Omaha's oldest residents. Her husband, Charles Wasmer also lived here for many years, and was for a time engaged in the grocery business at the corner of Tenth and Howard. Some years ago he moved to Grand Island, and has been very successful in the grain business. It is not known as yet whether Mrs. Wasmer will be buried in Grand Island or here.

Reunion Supplies. E. F. Davis, chairman of the committee of the Grand Army of the Republic for supplies of wood, hay and straw, to be delivered for use in the next reunion of the soldiers of this department, is awaiting a meeting of the committee to pass upon the bids for the purchase of the bidding closed last Saturday at noon up to which time Messrs. Bedford, Nelson and Viers had presented bids for wood; Robinson and Sullivan and Sullivan and Quick for straw.

An Ordination. On last Wednesday Mr. J. Berberich, S. J. a scholastic of the Jesuit order, was ordained in Grand Island by Bishop O'Connor. Yesterday he said his mass in Helena, Montana, where his parents reside. He will return to this city in a few days where he will await orders as to his future work.

Better Milk. Inspector Hickstein reports that the milk now being sold in this city averages a better quality than any similar season for some years.

CHARLES STEWART PARNELL. The Parliamentary Career of a Great Man. Harper's Magazine for August. Mr. Parnell did not enter parliament until 1855. Few, if any, then thought of him as the coming leader of a powerful party. A landlord himself, a protestant, only half an Irishman, with aristocratic connections and an English university training, he was least likely to be the adversary of the aristocracy and the reactionists. The early fears concerning him entertained by the house rulers are quite intelligible. But he has belied their every way. He is all the qualities of an opposition leader.

READY TO-DAY. SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE. A most interesting paper on the cause of the late war, and how it was won. The illustrations are, in every respect, of the highest quality. The illustrations are, in every respect, of the highest quality. The illustrations are, in every respect, of the highest quality.

THE REVIVAL OF HANDEMAAT, by Prof. John F. Weir, of Yale College, an especially timely paper, coming at a time when the subject of manual training is exciting so much attention.

THE PICTURE QUALITY OF HOLLYWOOD, a most clever paper by Mr. George Hitchcock, delightfully illustrated by the author.

THE FIFTH INMATE OF THE UNPUBLISHED LETTERS OF THOMAS BRAY, with several Thackeray drawings, including a humorous equestrian figure of the author. The letters give a glimpse of the great London exhibition of 1851 as seen by Thackeray, and an amusing account of a trip on the continent which Thackeray took with his two daughters.

THE REVIVAL OF HANDEMAAT, by Prof. John F. Weir, of Yale College, an especially timely paper, coming at a time when the subject of manual training is exciting so much attention.

THE PICTURE QUALITY OF HOLLYWOOD, a most clever paper by Mr. George Hitchcock, delightfully illustrated by the author.

THE FIFTH INMATE OF THE UNPUBLISHED LETTERS OF THOMAS BRAY, with several Thackeray drawings, including a humorous equestrian figure of the author. The letters give a glimpse of the great London exhibition of 1851 as seen by Thackeray, and an amusing account of a trip on the continent which Thackeray took with his two daughters.

THE REVIVAL OF HANDEMAAT, by Prof. John F. Weir, of Yale College, an especially timely paper, coming at a time when the subject of manual training is exciting so much attention.

THE PICTURE QUALITY OF HOLLYWOOD, a most clever paper by Mr. George Hitchcock, delightfully illustrated by the author.

THE FIFTH INMATE OF THE UNPUBLISHED LETTERS OF THOMAS BRAY, with several Thackeray drawings, including a humorous equestrian figure of the author. The letters give a glimpse of the great London exhibition of 1851 as seen by Thackeray, and an amusing account of a trip on the continent which Thackeray took with his two daughters.

THE REVIVAL OF HANDEMAAT, by Prof. John F. Weir, of Yale College, an especially timely paper, coming at a time when the subject of manual training is exciting so much attention.