

THE CITY.

The internal revenue collections yesterday amounted to $7,436.35. C. H. Sloman, who has been running a private bank on Fifteenth street, has retired from the banking business. Julia Doran has begun suit in the district court for divorce from her husband, Timothy Doran, on the ground of desertion. Christian Bjornstad asks for legal separation from her husband, Martin, alleging cruelty and desertion. Louis Goldsmith, the assistant garbage master, was overcome by the heat about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was carried to the central station, where he was cared for. The case is not a dangerous one.

Personal Paragraphs. Senator Van Wyck was in the city yesterday. W. D. Welch, of Lincoln, is a Paxton guest. E. W. Moore, of Des Moines, was in the city yesterday. J. V. Burns, United States army, is a guest of the Millard.

Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, of Nebraska City, are at the Paxton. Harry H. Wright, of Fort Robinson, United States army, is at the Paxton. Colonel A. W. Swalm, of the Oskaloosa (La.) Herald, was an Omaha visitor yesterday.

A. B. Davenport, who for years has been the best known and most widely appreciated hotel clerk in this part of the country, after many years of faithful service at the Millard, goes to Kansas City, where he will be found behind the desk of the Centropolis hotel. He will assuredly be a great success as he has been in the past, a gentleman who will materially aid in increasing its patronage.

Frick's Love. Referring to the Frick affair, Mr. Chris Specht wishes it understood that his connection therewith was merely in a charitable relation to the man. He gave Frick employment and paid his child's expenses at the hospital, and when matrimony was proposed told him that he ought to be ashamed to think of such a thing while his first wife was hardly cold in her grave.

A Filthy Hog Pen. A lengthy petition was handed in to the chief of police yesterday morning, that a horrible nuisance in the way of a filthy hog pen, on the premises of Frank Lange, near the driving park, be abated. Lange was arrested and taken to the police court for this same offense, but since then has alarmed the neighborhood by the assertion that he intended to keep forty pigs there heretofore instead of three or four.

He Got It Back. A young man named Frank Groves hired express No. 47 to take his trunk to the Burlington depot yesterday but instead he delivered it at the St. Paul station. Consequently Frank concluded that the expressman had stolen it and complained to the police. While Officer Reynolds was notifying the central station the young man came back just in time to see his action was a mistake.

Lottie Kicks up a Fuss. John Alexander is a colored man and Lottie Brown is a colored woman. They live on North Tenth street. Tuesday night John's boy hit Lottie's girl in the back and raised a big bump, and Lottie went over to John's house and had a very good time in the neighborhood while doing so. Lottie was arrested. John told the court yesterday that her language was so "copious and scathing" she was fined $2.50 and costs.

Prisoners at the Wash tub. The work of placing the machinery in the county's new laundry in the jail has been concluded and the first washing was turned out yesterday under the direction of Jailer Miller. It consisted of the heavy jail blankets. The machinery in this new department is located in the basement and consists of one large washer and wringer with the necessary machinery to operate them. The cost was in the neighborhood of $2,000. The washing for the jail will be done by the prisoners and they will be busy enough to keep themselves and their building clean.

HE WAS DRUGGED. A Cowardly Trick Practiced on a Soldier at the Fort. John B. Kelly, of Company B, second infantry, who was reported as having been so overcome by the heat on Monday last that he actually became mad, running blindly into fences and against trees, yelling like a demon, is at present in a very critical condition. It is the opinion of those attending him at the fort that he was drugged. He exhibits no effects of a sunstroke now, but on the contrary there are evidences that he was foully dealt with. The doctors are treating him for the latter.

Free Masons, Attention. The Freemasons of the city are requested to assemble at Freemasons' Hall at 1 o'clock today (Thursday) to join with Capital Lodge in services for our deceased brother, Lorin Miller. The Knights of Mt. Calvary Commandery will attend and act as escort to the railroad station. All who can bring carriages are requested to do so. Vehicles will be provided for those on foot. Colonel Lorin Miller's remains will lie in state at Freemasons' Hall until sent east and may be visited by his friends after 9 o'clock this morning.

MILLIONS OF BRICK. Piled in the Deserted Yards of Omaha's Brickmakers. The announcement made in The Bee of a few days ago of the probable closing of one of brick yards in this city has been realized and the following have ceased operations: Eclipse pressed brick yards, Omaha Brick and Terra Cotta Company, Youngman Brothers, Wolfe & Co., Fred Smith, Richard Smith and R. E. and Henry Livesey. The yards of Withnell Brothers, Bailey & Oleson and McLean & Son are still running at half their capacity. Some of the brickmakers estimate that this shutting up will throw about three hundred and seventy-five men out of employment. It is computed that there are now in the yards about twenty-four million bricks, which the owners intend to hold until the market becomes remunerative. They say they will not sell at the present ruling prices, which is about $5 per 1,000. The bricks they claim are worth from $7 to $7.50 per 1,000.

When the Energies Flag. Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate. Dr. T. C. Smith, of Charlotte, N. D., says: "It is an invaluable nerve tonic, a delightful beverage, and one of the best restorers when the energies flag and the spirits droop."

DRINK MALTO, 25 cents a bottle. HE WANTS AN ACCOUNTING. A Disbarred Son Asks the Court for a Settlement. The case of Sardius H. Browster against the executors of his mother's estate came up for a final hearing yesterday in Judge Shields' court and drew to the answer to the original petition in the case. The parties to the suit now reside in Grand Island, but are well known in this city. Elias Brewster was one of the first settlers in Omaha, and entered a large amount of land in this and adjoining counties and in western Iowa. He resided where John D. Creighton now lives, at the corner of Twentieth and Chicago streets. He died in 1863, leaving a widow and two children, Sardius H. aged six years, and Frederick, aged eight years. The mother, by an order of the court, was named administratrix of the estate and guardian of the children. Before the latter became of age, the mother, at different times, sold all of their property under the direction of the court, for their education. Keeping a school ten years ago Mrs. Brewster moved to Grand Island, and before her death acquired considerable property. She died last summer, leaving a will which she bequeathed all of her property, valued at about $3,000, to her son Frederick. Sardius came to this court and filed his petition, setting forth that property belonging to him had been sold in this city for which no accounting has ever been made, and asks the court that the executors of his father's estate be made to file an accounting of the sale of the Omaha property. He claims that there was at least $1,000 worth of his property in Omaha sold for which no returns were made.

The defendants, in their answer to the petition, set up that the claim for an accounting or any part, or recovery of money from the sale of the Omaha property has been outlawed. The plaintiff's attorney demurred to the answer. The demurrer was argued by prominent Grand Island and Omaha attorneys, and passed upon by the court. The demurrer was sustained and an accounting ordered.

District Court. Judge Danae was occupied hearing the application of Patrick and others for an injunction to restrain the city from paving Twenty-sixth street from Half Howard to St. Mary's avenue with asphaltum. The grounds upon which the application was based was that the petition for the asphaltum had been circulated for signatures and presented to the council before the property owners had been fully consulted in regard to the paving of the street, and that a majority of them were in favor of cedar block pavement. The contract for the work had not been let when the second petition asking that it be done with cedar blocks was circulated and submitted to the council.

Another injunction suit for hearing was that of Kirkpatrick against the city to enjoin the council from paving Twenty-sixth street from Thirty-sixth street to Saddle Creek. The application states that the grade is inadequate and will in a measure destroy his property and the buildings upon it, which alone cost over $20,000. His ground is in block 9 and 12, near Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets.

Whitten, Bartlett & Young, of Boston, have begun suit for attachment in the district court against S. L. Andrews & Co., for $740 for goods sold the latter. Simons, Hatch & Whitten, of Boston, have begun a similar suit for $750.

A POINT TO SETTLE. One That May Be Brought Before The Courts. The report of J. J. Fentis has brought the question of the road before the commissioners as to who runs the financial end of the office of register of deeds. The committee on finances of the county commissioners think they are running the finances, and that as the register of deeds is a county office they are to have the say as to how it shall be managed in regard to help. Mr. McGeath's report, as shown, contains a statement of clerk hire to the amount of $30,240, which the financial committee has no objection to, but the register of deeds has some trouble in the adjusting of this question.

"We want the register to have all the help attending to the books," says the committee in regard to the clerical help. The law defines the duties of the register very clearly and it is the duty of the county commissioners to see that they are governed by it. I don't know yet what we will do with this report. I think it will come out all right."

The UNION PACIFIC is the only road running through Pullman Cars between the Missouri River and Portland, Oregon. INACCIDENT DUPED. A Laborer Loses $100 in a Snide Auction House. Another name is added to the long roll of auctioneers of snide watches. The lamb was a railroad laborer, who had been at work on the Grand Island road for three months and saved $100. He was passing Golden's shop in the Occidental block, while a safe was being moved in, and stopped to watch the performance. The sharpers sized him up at a glance, stopped operations, and began to work their snipe, one crying out the bargains offered. The unsuspecting customer induced the stranger to invest $10 in a brass watch that looked like gold, and which the buyer probably thought was gold. A caper told the laborer that his watch was worth $100, and in the role of a disinterested spectator induced him to invest $10 in a silver piece. The buyer had shoved the balance of his money about $80, carelessly into his pocket, but after leaving the place he found the cash was missing. The inference is obvious. The loss was reported to the police, but no recovery has yet been made.

At the Mercy of Sharks. Speaking of these denizens, the mayor said that it seemed almost impossible to suppress them. He had refused licenses to several of them, but all of them seemed to be running notwithstanding. They ran under licenses procured under other names, and that was the case with respect to Golden. He was doing business in the Occidental block, just where he (the mayor) had refused permission to the latter to conduct an auction shop. There was nothing to be done except to prove a case against these sharks, and if that could be accomplished he would cancel the license. There was no use in sending a policeman down to the shops, because he could not watch all of them, and the moment he should turn his back the auctioneers would be able to fleece their victim. Proving a case against these men was not an easy matter. On one occasion when there seemed to be a possibility of doing so, the victim was induced to withdraw the watch and in another instance to leave the city.

DEARER THAN LIFE.

The New Rates of Carriages and Hearse for Funerals. E. H. Sherwood, Homan & Terry, James Stephenson, C. J. Mentor and Geo. & Ferguson, liverymen, have raised their prices on hacks and hearses to the cemetery, as follows: Large hearse from five to ten dollars; white hearse from five to seven dollars. On carriages to the cemetery the raise has been from three to five dollars. No change has taken place for the use of either of these vehicles in going to the depot.

A Bee reporter learned from one of the livery men whose name is given above, that the raise was occasioned by necessity. Their tumors did average one a day, and at the old rate, a hack could earn but $50 per month, while the expenses of the same exclusive of origin cost and repairs, $70. Hearses with harness cost about $3,000. At the old rates they could earn possibly $150. That figure was not a fair return, they thought, hence they doubled the price. On a undertaker said that he would not stand the raise. His livery bill for last month was nearly $600. He received 10 per cent from the liverymen for collecting the same for them, but that didn't pay him, even if he did get his horse boarded for nothing. He would get a hearse of his own.

Another undertaker said that the firm had averaged three funerals per day during the month, and some of the stables got more than one funeral per day during that time. The raise of course affects the people and will nearly double the expense of going to or conducting a funeral.

On the 7th of next month the liverymen will meet and form a protective association because they now understand that some of the smaller liverymen will cut under the raised prices.

The UNION PACIFIC runs two elegant trains daily from Kansas City to Denver—639 miles—and is the short line. INTERESTING TO APPLICANTS. How They May Secure Positions from the Pacific States. A local correspondent asks THE BEE for information concerning the civil service examination which must be undergone by applicants for positions in government offices. He is respectfully informed that examinations for positions in the postal employ at Omaha are held at the government building, semi-annually, and are conducted by the local board of civil service commissioners. Examinations for positions in the government employ, at Washington, are conducted by the Washington board, and are also held semi-annually. A candidate must apply to the postmaster for a blank application, not less than eight days before the examination takes place. The candidate should be a good, moral character, and in good mental and physical condition. The examination embraces practical subjects that apply to the positions sought for.

Notes About the City. A traveling man, employed by the heat at Albricht, and was at once removed to St. Joseph's hospital. His name could not be learned.

Tom Donahue, employed as cook at Peck's restaurant, succumbed to the heat at noon yesterday, and is now seriously ill. James H. Vandusen has severed his connection with the South Omaha Times, after several months of successful editorial management. In future he will devote his time to the study of the law.

Tom McGuire and Sam Reomer have put up $500 apiece, to be given by the man skimming a beef of the city. It will be decided in public on the ball ground. J. P. Hayes and John Jackson are matched to shoot at fifty blue rocks next Sunday for $50 apiece.

A typographical error in THE BEE made General Cowlin's fee for advice to the city $1,100. It should have been $100. When the police court is not in session Judge Reuther will be found in his private office in Ritchie's block, N street.

A short time ago Arnone's new building was burglarized and a number of silver plated faceted and other plumbing material stolen. While looking after tramps Tuesday night officer Sexton found the stolen property in an empty house and returned it to the owners.

Only two drunks occupied the attention of the police judge yesterday and William Donner paid $2 and costs, while John McDonald will work out a $3 fine.

Skipped. J. J. Shea, clerk of the courts at Council Bluffs, reports to the chief of police that his hired girl skipped with a lot of underwear belonging to his wife. Mr. Shea says the girl, whose real name is unknown, is in Omaha. She will be looked up.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY A TRAIN. A Hot Day in the Southern Burg—Changes in the Police Detail—Usual Walk About the City.

Where You'll Find Them. The following is published for the benefit of anyone who may have to look for a policeman. In the daytime Mose Redmond will be jailer, and Tom Brennan and Rodie Redmond will do duty on "the hill." Jim Mahoney will take care of N street between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth streets, and John Sexton will patrol the depot and also from Twenty-sixth to Q street along the tracks. Pat Rice will again hold the fort at Albricht. During the lonesome hours of the night, D. Anderson will have charge of the jail, and prevent the prisoners from committing suicide. George Dixon will be captain and Pat McMahon will see that there is no harm done on N street. Joe Humbell will look after the tramps and the night boys between the depot and Q street, and Tom Looney and Nels Lundgren will hold down the noble ward—the Third.

Lost a Leg. Michael O'Brien, a laborer in the employ of Armour & Cudahy, left for his work in South Omaha, on switch engine 1159 yesterday, and when near the depot, the locomotive slipped up for him to get off. O'Brien's foot caught in a pile of cinders, throwing him down, and his right leg slipping under the driving wheels was crushed mid way between the foot and knee. He was taken to the Union Pacific hospital, where Dr. Ernhout and the injured member amputated by Dr. Galbraith, the Union Pacific surgeon, assisted by Dr. Ernhout.

Killed by the Heat. Patrick McQuirk, twenty-eight years of age, and a packing house employe, is the latest victim of the present heated term. He was engaged wheeling cinders from the boiler room of Armour's packing house, and once or twice during the afternoon complained of being tired. He did a full day's work, however, and at 6 o'clock returned to the Arcade hotel and ate his supper. He then drove the same as a Pullman berth is reserved and secured.

OH! MY HEAD. The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Ad-Ido-phoros will do for others what it did for the following parties: Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 3, 1887. Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Ad-Ido-phoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be doing me, and after taking four bottles of Ad-Ido-phoros one of Pills, I found that I was entirely cured. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure. CHAS. W. B. REED, Mt. Carmel, Ill., Dec. 26, 1887. I have used Ad-Ido-phoros in my family and find it to be the greatest medicine for neuralgia in existence, and having had it since I began to suffer from the disease, I can truly say where I speak. It was in advance of all lines in giving the people of Omaha and the West a fast mail service. It was in advance of all lines in running its trains from the East into Omaha proper.

It was in advance of all lines in reducing the time of passenger trains between Omaha and Chicago. It was in advance, and is the only line by which you can leave Omaha in the morning and arrive in Denver the evening of the same day.

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 3, 1887. Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Ad-Ido-phoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be doing me, and after taking four bottles of Ad-Ido-phoros one of Pills, I found that I was entirely cured. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.
