

LINCOLN NEWS AND NOTES.

Bochos from the Lancaster County Republican Convention.

THE TROTTING MEETING CLOSED.

Incorporation of the Bartley Canal Company—Supreme Court Cases—New Notaries—General and Personal.

LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMAHA BEE.

THE ECHOES OF YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION still reverberate.

The echoes of yesterday's convention still reverberate. Odd stories are afloat. Queer combinations are alleged, and there is almost as much excitement this morning as when the convention battle was raging hottest.

The stranger and political novice are hoodwinked into the belief that the railroads have won a great victory. The country is full of combinations against them. But the facts laugh at the idea. The only thing on earth captured by the railroad gang was the county commission, and that was due to the misplaced confidence of the farmer delegates, and a misapprehension of the real issue in this contest.

Alva Brown is a good man, and president may have captivated him to a second term. That the claim that Thomas Benton captured the state delegation for state auditor, and the climax of the first Mr. Benton trained with the Charlie Hathaway-Gere crowd, and his delegate ticket, peddled by his own hand, was defeated, most in fact, as true that a few men were elected who were on his ticket, it is because their names were on divvys tickets before the convention.

A gentleman on the streets last night offered to bet $25 that he could obtain a proxy to the state convention. There is no doubt that he will move heaven and earth to accomplish that end.

The delegation is believed to be made up of honest men, and the boys who fought the fight and won the victory have every confidence in their integrity. Besides General McBride introduced the resolution and it carried by a unanimous vote.

The Bartley Canal company has perfected its organization and as soon as one-half the subscribed capital stock is paid will commence business. The proposed business of the company will be transacted at Bartley, Red Willow county, and the authorized capital is $100,000, which may be raised to $150,000 as necessary may require.

The purpose of the corporation is to construct a canal from some point on the Republican river at or near the town of Hartley for water power and irrigating purposes, to extend to some definite place or point, but especially to extend through North Valley precinct of Red Willow county, and authority is granted the company to negotiate bonds of this precinct or any other place to aid in the construction of the canal.

The Bank of Petusburg, of Petusburg, Nebraska, also filed articles of incorporation this morning. The company will do a general banking business on a subscribed capital stock of $15,000. Business was commenced on July 15, when $10,000 of the stock was paid up, and the balance is to be paid on July 15, 1890. J. A. Riechenbach is the president and Frank Jovanita is the cashier of the bank.

The second annual meeting of the Nebraska Breeders' and Trotting association closed today. While the races may not have been what all visitors had a reason to expect, they were quite good and gave assurance that the development of speed in the Nebraska horse is marked and bids fair to rival that of any other state of the union.

Cases as follows were filed in the supreme court this morning by Clerk Wheeler: William R. Marshall vs. National Bank of Plattsmouth vs. Jane R., Deborah H., William B. and Alva A. Porter; appeal from Cass county.

The Union Pacific railroad company vs. Lars Rasmussen; error from Dodge county. Emma Jamieson vs. the state; error from Douglas county.

COMMISSIONED NOTARIES. The following notaries public were commissioned to-day by Governor Thayer: Charles G. Ryan, Grand Island, Hall county; John P. Davis, Omaha; Anthony P. McCauley, Papillion, Sarpy county; Martin McGuire, Whitman, Grant county; Joseph P. Bron, Omaha.

THE BANKS OF THE CITY closed today at 1 o'clock to attend the meeting of the Nebraska Breeders' and Trotting association.

Thirteen members of the delegation to the state convention have been interviewed, and they say they have no use for Thomas Benton for auditor or public accounts. Benton is not a candidate.

The races here were fairly well attended from the first. The association has some good points and a few bad ones. The races were well attended from the first. The association has some good points and a few bad ones.

She Couldn't Understand It. "What in the world has happened to you since the last time I saw you?" asked one lady of another when they met on the street the other day.

More Victims. Ploiced by the Snide Auctioneers on Tenth Street.

The snide auctioneer took up on Tenth Street, and better known as the "Cold-coin place," did a thriving business yesterday. Two men from the country were yesterday duced to pay $12 for brass watches, while another gave up a $10 bill for 50 cents' worth of cheap jewelry. A fourth who had many more dollars than sense paid $50 for a cheap plated watch that would be dear at $5.

A LAMENTATION.

How T. J. Potter's Death Has Affected Omaha and Her Mechanics.

Yesterday a busy morning called at the Union Pacific shops and found that work in the foundry, as mentioned in Wednesday's issue, had been discontinued. It was the noon hour, and the newspaper man meeting one of the employes on his way to dinner, induced him to talk on the subject.

"In the death of Tom Potter, Omaha and the Union Pacific have lost the best friend they ever had. We were in mourning for his loss because during his time we were kindly treated and had all the work we wanted. If he had lived, there would this fall be 500 more men at work than at present.

"The force of foundrymen under the Callaway administration was decreased to a few men. Under Potter it was raised to seventy, and he issued an order that all Union Pacific castings should be furnished by the Union Pacific foundry at Omaha. The old Union Pacific castings were the best and cheapest on record.

"Mr. Potter was a man of business. He worked for the best interests of this company. He had no personal interests in Omaha, but he had more interest in the work which could be turned out here done in Omaha. He wanted this, because figures told him work could be turned out here to the road's advantage.

"What about the leaving out of the molders?" asked the reporter. "I know it was coming. I was told by some of the craft some days ago that they expected to be discharged. There were no more orders coming in for castings and boxes had been sent away for castings to be made elsewhere.

RICHARD IS HIMSELF AGAIN.

The Nunn Family Heard From in Business Circles.

The bit of about six weeks ago published an account of the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Richard Nunn and his brother John, and the lamentation of a number of creditors. Richard came to this city about two years ago and posed in professional circles as a graduate of one of the English universities, a doctor and healer of wounded eyes and ears, and had offices first in the Barker, and later in the Range block. He had money and an English appearance, but little medical practice.

During the real estate excitement he made some investments in real estate, which were profitable and added to his financial resources. About a year ago he set his brother up in the saloon business on Sixteenth street and furnished him with a stock of goods. High rents, no medical practice, but little saloon business, yet numerous bills about to become due drew the doctor to despondency and he left for parts unknown. His brother did likewise.

The creditors, whose bills or notes were unsecured, made the best of the situation and secured themselves. These will probably be glad to know that on the 7th of this month Richard Nunn, who is now a resident of Omaha, has returned to his former home, guided by Edward Stringer, of this city, full power of attorney over his business to close up all unfinished real estate or private dealing and attend to all his business pertaining to him. The paper has been filed for record with the register of deeds.

Without health life has no sunshine. Who could be happy with dyspepsia, piles, low spirits, headache, ague or diseases of the stomach, liver or kidneys? Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic quickly cures the above diseases. Price 50 cents. Goodman's drug store.

THE BABY'S BANK IS BUSTED.

A Servant Girl Makes an Inroad and Skips. Frank Redman, of 1134 North Eighteenth street swore out a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Annie Demorest on a charge of larceny. Annie formerly officiated as a domestic in the Redman residence. She left unceremoniously Tuesday, and now Redman is hunting for her. He says that Annie left his house in a stealthy manner. But that is not what made him desire to find her, but the fact that she took with her several of his wife's best dresses, some fine underwear and a number of his neckties. But, more than that, she robbed the baby's bank, and how much she stole is not known, but it was something like a half pint of pennies and nickels, more or less. While Redman has so far failed to locate his missing girl, she is reported to have anchored her trunk. It is at 1147 North Eighteenth street, and armed with a search warrant the complainant and a policeman will repair thither at once on an exploring expedition.

REMOVING THE OLD PIERS.

The Relics of the Old Union Pacific Bridge Being Rooted Up. The demolition of the old iron piers near the Union Pacific bridge, which has been such a barrier to navigation, has been commenced. The piers were dispensed with when the present stone abutments were put beneath the bridge. No effort was made to remove them as it was thought they would be torn down by the floating ice. It will be remembered that a few months ago the steamer Terry was wrecked on one of these piers and her owners have brought against the company a $100,000 lawsuit. The engineer who has charge of the work removing the obstruction is the same one who presided over the rebuilding of the bridge. The iron piers are anchored twelve feet below low water mark and rest on beds of cement and stone. Great hollow tubes have been fastened over the obstructions, down which the laborers go to dig out the stone and cement.

SOME DOCTORS honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but don't. Athelphoros says nothing but—cure. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 3, 1887. In my own family Athelphoros was used as the best remedy for rheumatism and neuralgia for years and having been cured by it, I think they are the best physicians in the State and Massachusetts. I can give you a list of names of persons who have been cured by it. Upon my recommendation scores of people out there are cured. I have a list of names ready to be sent to you. C. H. Watson, Dubuque, Iowa, Jan. 5, 1888.
