GUARDING AGAINST YELLOW JACK

Strict Quarantine Measures to Be Enforced in Washington—Exhaustive Review of the Work of the Present Congress.

Cleveland's Columbus Letter.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMAHA BEE, 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, Sept. 13.

Enough was said at the white house to-day about the incident at the Grand Army encampment at Columbus yesterday to almost warrant the unqualified statement that the invitation to President Cleveland to attend the reunion of the veterans and the reading of his dispatch extending his congratulations being present was worked up for political effect. The hisses and groans of the boys at Columbus when the letter was read created no surprise here. It was just what would have been expected by those who have from this point noted the efforts of Mr. Cleveland to throttle the G. A. R. as a political organization and check the tendency of congress towards a liberal pension policy.

The president's private secretary attempted to explain the incident to-day by saying that the president's telegram was sent in response to an invitation for him to attend. It is believed that the invitation extended—if indeed he received an invitation—and the telegram sent to the president were prepared by a member of the national and state democratic committees for the purpose of dissipating the reputation of the president with G. A. R. men and affording him an opportunity to make an expression of friendliness to the veterans. The action of the president and his friends in this instance is regarded in Washington as an exhibition of unprecedented unbecoming behavior in which it was repudiated with general commendation. The further explanation of the president through his secretary that the reason the invitation was not answered by mail, as is customary, was because the letter of invitation was "mislaid," is received here with a very large grain of salt.

There was some agitation around the Marine hospital here to-day over the death from yellow fever of a young man, the son of Prof. Proctor. The authorities say there is no doubt that it was a well defined case of yellow fever, and the quarantine regulations are to be stringently enforced. Several strangers from the south are stopped and examined across the Potomac just south of the city. When they are found to be free of disease they are allowed to pass. The scourge will reach Washington, the utmost precautions are to be exercised. Quite a number of New Orleans, Memphis and Jacksonville families have fled to this city.

A caucus of the democrats in the house was held to-day to consider the bill introduced by Mr. Cox, who is chairman of the caucus committee, did not receive the petition in time to-day to issue the call. He tells me that the democrats will meet in the next week on Saturday night; that it is to be on the order of business in the house and not adjournment; that the senate has not yet passed the bill, and therefore the situation is such that it will be necessary for the senate to make the suggestion if there is an adjournment. Every body is in a state of excitement, but both houses are determined not to take the initiative. Senator Paddock said this afternoon that if the house waited for the senate to take the initiative, it would take an adjournment until next March. The republican tariff bill is now promised within ten or twelve days.

The Fifteenth congress was in session yesterday at 10 o'clock. It was the first day having commenced on the 4th of December. BURENS ABBES, Sept. 13.—A sensational murder trial is in progress at La Plata, in which Padre Pedro Castro Rodriguez is charged with murdering his wife and child. Rodriguez in early life became a priest, but in 1870 forsook the church and four years later married Senora Rufina Padin, daughter of a colonel in the Argentine army. He soon suspected his wife of unfaithfulness, and deserting her, re-entered the church. He was arrested on the charge of murdering his wife and child, but he gave them poison, but as this did not act quickly enough he crushed their skulls with a hammer. He then put them both in a large coffin, and having said mass over their bodies, had them buried. Blood stains around the house and the sudden absence of the two ladies aroused the suspicions of a chore boy, who reported the matter to the police, with the result that Rodriguez was arrested. He at first denied all knowledge of the whereabouts of his wife and child, but finally broke down and confessed. Rodriguez is forty-four years old, finely educated, and has always stood high in the favor of the church authorities.
