BERLIN, Sept. 13.—The extension of the triple alliance to May, 1897, has been accepted by Emperor William at the request of the Austrian government.

The revised treaty increases the guarantee of both Germany and Italy to support Austria in the event of Russian invasion of the Balkans. Modifications of the treaty virtually confirm Austria's possession of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The renewal of the treaty before its expiration is due to the assistance of Count Kalnoky, who feared that the Italian case would cripple Signor Crispien and cause a change in Italy's foreign policy.

Count Kalnoky's fine Italian hand is credited with the renewal of the triple alliance. He is credited with the renewal of the triple alliance to May, 1897, has been accepted by Emperor William at the request of the Austrian government.

Semi-official communications in St. Petersburg announce that Russian political circles are confident that Emperor William, in conference with Francis Joseph and the king of Saxony, has consented to prevail upon him to harmonize his policy in the Balkan peninsula with that of Russia.

Emperor William in his after dinner toasts made constant references to the great deeds of Prussians. Dining with the officers of a regiment of cuirassiers he alluded to the battles around Bismarck during the period of Prussia's deepest humiliation.

The proposal, which was approved at socialist meetings held here and in Hamburg, to have the first of next month on the night of October 1 in honor of the expiration of the anti-socialist law is opposed by the moderates.

Diphtheria is epidemic in this city, and there are numerous cases of typhoid fever. The hospitals are crowded with patients. This condition of affairs is largely attributed to the high price of meat, driving the poorer portion of the population to eat garbage and diseased food.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to The Bee.]—Andrew Carnegie, Pittsburgh millionaire, must have passed several millions of dollars in English papers attentively since his recent diatribe against the country to which he is indebted for such generous hospitality.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—There was a long consultation today by wire between the president and Cresson Springs, acting Secretary of the Treasury, and Assistant Secretary Nettleton at the treasury department, concerning the stringency in the money market, during which the whole situation was thoroughly gone over. The president, it is understood, stated that it was his desire to avert a panic in the money market and that no step shall be permitted to occur if the treasury department can prevent it.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to The Bee.]—General Booth of the Salvation Army has undertaken to settle offhand, in a book he is about to publish, some of the great social questions that have perplexed philosophers, theologians and political economists for ages.

It is either the result of his own fault or the result of the circumstances in which he is placed, that the Salvation Army is the only body that has been able to extend indefinitely. The women could, by a gradual system of care, protection and training, be made respectable members of society again.
