

A WOMAN THE CAUSE OF IT.

Why Two Lincoln Men Were Arrested and Lodged in Jail.

WAR DECLARED ON MEDICAL QUACKS.

The Lancaster County Medical Society and the Capital City Board of Health Join Issues—News and Notes.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Harry Holman and E. C. Hartshorn both love the same grass widow, and this is said to be the cause of both young men getting arrested last night. Holman is a music dealer and Hartshorn an upholsterer. The woman in the case is Mrs. Anderson, a dressmaker on Ninth near L. Although the woman is on the shady side of thirty, she will be over without a lover. A few months since Holman was reported a solid man of the charming "widder," but his inclination about her resulted in his arrest and the final cooling of her affections for him. Later, Hartshorn an upholsterer, is said to have been basking in the widow's smiles, and this is said to have rent the jealous heart of Holman.

At any rate, Hartshorn says he was awakened at 2 o'clock this morning by somebody knocking on the side of the house near his window. He looked out and beheld Holman with a long whip, with the butt of which he was making the disturbance. Whether Holman had come with the intention of threatening his successful rival has not been learned, but at any rate Hartshorn armed himself with his revolver and went to the door prepared to meet the fellow.

The officer of the nickel plated shooter proved too much for Holman's courage and, applying into his carriage he attempted to drive away. He ran against the curbstone instead, upset the buggy and was expelled. He resolved to return, but the place where Hartshorn stood, and did so.

Meanwhile Hartshorn had called the police and when the jealous and jittered lover returned Hartshorn was arrested. This three Holman into a great rage and he insisted on having Hartshorn arrested for carrying deadly weapons, and as the fellow still had the gun in his hand he had to be arrested. Holman passed the night in jail, but Hartshorn was released to appear today.

AFTER THE QUACKS.

The Lancaster Medical society in conjunction with the board of health has commenced a raid upon the quacks of Lincoln and the surrounding country. Today the board of health held a meeting and thoroughly discussed the matter and determined to make things hot for all unregistered physicians. The city attorney was instructed to act in conjunction with the board of health and arrest all medical practitioners not properly registered. There are said to be thirty-five such physicians in the county.

SAYS HIS BIRTHDAY.

Dr. Hooker who has gone on the bond of J. R. Conklin for his appearance Tuesday to answer the charge of committing a criminal assault on Mrs. Mary Reed, resorts to the usual method of evading the law by paying money. He denounces her as a base character and declares that her action in the matter would be mine, provided I should issue a writ of habeas corpus. He also declares that he will furnish for $500, even after the arrest was made.

CHOOBER GETS LEFT.

J. C. Crocker's record for Marlow W. C. Smith, has been broken in his effort to retain a portion of his late ward's estate. Judge Chapman has decided that the action and powers of the court should be transferred to the appointment of his successor. The ousted guardian will therefore have to give up the thousand dollars belonging to the girl and which he had been endeavoring to hoard for her.

AN OMAHA ENTERPRISE.

The East Omaha Improvement company filed its articles of incorporation today with the secretary of state. The object of the association is to handle real estate and Omaha is to be the center of activity in the city on the business. The capital stock is limited to $1,000,000. The incorporators are William Coburn, John E. Bates, Fred Tom Bellinger, L. V. Curtis, John L. Linderholm, R. M. Richmond, P. M. Black, Emmet Finley, George Legg and Alexander Wood.

THE FOLLOWING ATTORNEYS WERE ADMITTED TO PRACTICE: FRED E. WOODS, ESQ., OF KEITH COUNTY; W. F. EVANS, ESQ., OF TOPEKA, KAN.; MRS. ADA M. HILLMAN.

THE FOLLOWING CAUSES WERE CONTINUED: Baker vs Fairbury; Davis vs Noaghtella.

WHERE TRAY WILL TAKE.

Governor Thayer has appointed a commission for Madison, where he is billed to talk on the political issues of the day. Tomorrow he will deliver an address at Battle Creek, another at a banquet Friday and still another at Stanton on Friday.

ODDS AND ENDS.

C. M. Hunt, a banker from South Omaha, in company with his wife, has been visiting Judge and Mrs. Foxworthy since Friday. Today Mr. and Mrs. Hunt returned to South Omaha and were accompanied by Mrs. Foxworthy.

CHARLES H. HOLMES, CLERK OF THE STATE BOARD OF TRANSPORTATION, BECAME A FATHER TODAY.

An overcoat stolen from Mr. Chappell was found in Goldsmith's tavern shop. The police are now looking for the thief.

HON. J. L. WEBSTER OF OMAHA WILL DELIVER ONE OF HIS ROUSING ANTI-PROHIBITION SPEECHES IN BELMONT'S HALL ON FRIDAY EVENING.

Judge O. P. Mason will speak at Union, Cass county, on Thursday night.

JOSEPH EGGS WAS ARRESTED IN JUSTICE FOXWORTH'S COURT THIS MORNING ON A CHARGE OF PERJURY, BUT MANAGED TO SECURE A CONTINUANCE UNTIL NOVEMBER 11.

THE MODERN YANKEE DOODLE.

Mayor Dickinson shows up the Prohibitors in a Very Undignified Light. Waioo, Neb., Oct. 27.—To the Editor of THE BEE.—I enclose you a song that was gratuitously distributed, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. in the opera house here to the audience gathered to hear Mrs. Lathrop in her work for prohibition.

THE MODERN "YANKEE DOODLE."

Once on a time old "Dickie Doodle" Flaw a rascal in the town of Waioo And said the people of Waioo "I'll never see you here again." That Brother Wagon spoke too strong And used too much abuse, sir. But when "Dickie" looked up pawlils He looked just like a goose, sir.

YANKEE DOODLE, JUKE OF CORN, YANKEE DOODLE DADDY.

There's a nigger who's without its thorn Yankee doody doody. For a nigger yeller "Sit down, he thorn" "Somebody take him out, sir." But "Dickie Ball," true to his name, Stood up and looked down at him. He drank without a white, sir; And seemed to like the drink as well as "Bossy" would the white, sir.

Still Brother Wagon went ahead And gave them a good dressing; And if you've seen the way they squirmed, You'd say it was a lie, sir. So now I guess I'll write no more, Because it's rather risky.

But when "Dickie" looked up pawlils, And "Dick" was with the whiskey.

As you were present and witnessed all that transpired as foundation for this working up the issue of the prohibition party, it occurs to me that it is not much more than a foot for much thought and also enables me to remark that the object of this issuance today, Saturday night, must have been to furnish Rev. Wagon's church suitable music for his Sunday morning's discourse, which was preached by this sensational minister from the text of "The Liquor Traffic as the Boasting Criminal of the Age."

Just how the modern Yankee Doodle is being sung in the modern Methodist style by the Christian minister before the lambs of his flock, I am not informed, but the fact that the song was encored and called upon the pulpit for popular applause, but true it is that the aims of the song portrays so faithfully the needs and feelings of the Women's Christian Temperance union and the prohibition supporters in this neck of the woods that it would look selfish for you and I to keep all these "great things and modern ways of christianizing the state to ourselves, hence I send it to you for publication knowing that the brilliancy of the prohibition party does not offer a chance to ornament the wings of THE OMAHA BEE.

I have always lived under the impression that the presiding officer should preserve order and prevent bad conduct, vilification and abuse, both among the audience and on the part of the debaters, but in these modern days of intolerance and prohibition it is said to make a man look like a "goose" if he rules a speaker out of order who has just sent his opponent on a long journey to hell, and twice in five seconds called him a liar.

Just how a "goose" resembles a "bull" my memory does not serve to inform me. There would seem to be about as little familiarity between the two as there is in difference between a hen-pecked prohibitionist and a man built in God's image, one able mentally and physically to see the right and to do it. I do not intend to say anything about the grammar used nor yet about Brother Wagon going ahead in the twice told language of the stream, hence it is not much wonder we see such muddy productions as this modern Yankee Doodle has begotten.

Freedom of thought is a commodity the average prohibitionist does not permit in this vicinity, but as I have been a resident of Nebraska now for twenty-two years, I have a few thoughts I want to express while I am upon this subject. First, intolerance is a great evil and all avenues leading to such a public thoroughfare should be carefully guarded, but it is not a coercive measure is the only remedy that can reform this gigantic evil. We are all apt to be mistaken in our treatment and application of the law, hence it is not much wonder we see such muddy productions as this modern Yankee Doodle has begotten.

Freedom of thought is a commodity the average prohibitionist does not permit in this vicinity, but as I have been a resident of Nebraska now for twenty-two years, I have a few thoughts I want to express while I am upon this subject. First, intolerance is a great evil and all avenues leading to such a public thoroughfare should be carefully guarded, but it is not a coercive measure is the only remedy that can reform this gigantic evil. We are all apt to be mistaken in our treatment and application of the law, hence it is not much wonder we see such muddy productions as this modern Yankee Doodle has begotten.

Continuing in his search for clerical opinion on the subject of November 2 being observed as a prohibition field day by the churches, and a collection being taken to defray the campaign expenses of the party, as projected in a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the ministerial union, a Ben reporter called on Dr. Duryea, pastor of the First Congregational church, who spoke as follows:

"I will not support the resolution. I did not vote for it, and I hope that a minister has no right to interfere in such a matter without consulting his congregation. The resolution was passed through the votes of those who wanted it, and those who did not want it held their tongues. It was brought up during the last few moments of the meeting and many, like myself, did not have time to discuss it or speaking against it. Altogether it was a one-sided affair and did not receive the support that some of the clergy accord it. Our people are not in sympathy with anything of the sort and shall not preach for prohibition on the day named, nor shall I take up a collection for the campaign fund."

Rev. H. W. Bruechert, pastor of the First German Free Evangelical church, said: "Having been repeatedly urged by friends of the cause to take a public stand in regard to the proposed field day, I have decided to do so. I do not intend to use my pulpit for such a purpose—my opinion on this all-absorbing political question is not to be decided by the coming election. I reluctantly comply with their wish and briefly state my views. No ecclesiastical law can force a minister of the gospel to preach for prohibition. There is a law of our commonwealth which can force a man to vote for one or the other, nor will the common sense of a free man submit to the control of such a law. The resolutions passed by a ministerial meeting are wise nor can they pass a dividing line in the church that is on the prohibition question. Let the churches, whether they wish to meddle with one another's opinions or conscience. Has the world not already been divided into two camps by the church? Shall this political question, for the worst of God be brought before the people to save them?"

Rev. W. R. Henderson said: "I am not a member of the ministerial union, but I will say that the association is not an ecclesiastical body. It is a political organization to map out a programme for the churches to follow. The resolutions passed by that body in relation to services on Sunday, November 2, are not in the nature of a declaration of war upon the so-called ministerial association. It is not a representative gathering of the clergy of the city, that is, it is not a large number of representatives of ministers who do not belong to it, and who do not expect to connect themselves with it, consequently it does not represent the church, but is to be observed as the resolutions directed."

Hon. John L. Webster's Opinion.

Hon. John L. Webster, who was on the stump on Mr. Holt's "prohibition field day" resolution. In his speech at Boyd's opera house Saturday night Mr. Webster said: "I see that it is reported through the public press that certain ministers of the gospel, in the city of Omaha, have taken a resolution to observe a 'prohibition field day' on Sunday previous to election and to take up a public contribution to aid the prohibition party. It is not the business of the church or of our government, but the church and the state shall remain separate. Here seems to be a combined effort on the part of certain ministers of the gospel to take the control of the state government and to add an amendment to our fundamental law. It should be remembered that the prohibition party in this state is a political organization. It assembled in a state convention, and it is not the business of the church to take the control of the state government, and to add an amendment to our fundamental law. I have been requested on two occasions to speak against it, but I have refused to do it for the reason that there are sufficient worldly days, during the week, to talk politics and that the Sabbath day should not be desecrated by any such procedure."

More Attempted Bribery.

The disclosures which have, from time to time, been made in these columns regarding the attempted bribery by prohibition hirelings of registrars, census enumerators and other officers, have not yet done their worst. The following are some of the latest disclosures.

Men's Undershirts and Drawers.

Men's natural gray undershirts, 75c. Men's heavy all wool undershirts, 95c. Men's natural gray all wool undershirts, $1.25. Men's fine seamless shirts, 50c. Men's fine seamless shirts, 55c. Men's night-shirts, 75c. Men's superb British Sox, 25c. Men's heavy gloves, Sox, suspenders, etc.

Sole Agency for the DR. JAEGER underwear, Sox, suspenders, etc.

Boys' clothing is in the same wing and on the same floor as the men's furnishings, and for tomorrow we offer a special lot of BOYS' OVERSIZES AT $2.75, worth July 84 cents. We have also a lot of BOYS' SUITS AT $2.90, worth 85c. We have also a lot of SCOTCH CAPS 50c, for men or boys.

MEN'S AND BOYS' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

THE MORSE DRY GOODS CO., 16th and Farnam sts.

A Peddler of Obscene Pictures.

Rose King, a habitue of the burnt district, appeared at the police court yesterday to prosecute Seth Turfson, who she accused of having stolen $7 in money from her. The defense had been busy and had rustled a picture of the prosecuting witness in an entirely nude condition into court and wanted her arrested for circulating obscene pictures. Sergeant Ormsby filed the complaint and in less than time it takes to tell it the court had imposed a fine of $30 and costs. The defendant did not pay it and in default was sent to jail.

Officers of Omaha at home and abroad should remember that the remaining days of registration are Friday, October 31, and Saturday, November 1.

MINISTERS FALLING IN LINE.

One After Another Denounces Prohibition and Holt's "Field Day."

HON. J. L. WEBSTER ON THE SUBJECT.

A Prohibitor's Attempt at Bribery—Disgusted Female Workers—Voicing Employees—Capitalist Workers.

Continuing in his search for clerical opinion on the subject of November 2 being observed as a prohibition field day by the churches, and a collection being taken to defray the campaign expenses of the party, as projected in a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the ministerial union, a Ben reporter called on Dr. Duryea, pastor of the First Congregational church, who spoke as follows:

"I will not support the resolution. I did not vote for it, and I hope that a minister has no right to interfere in such a matter without consulting his congregation. The resolution was passed through the votes of those who wanted it, and those who did not want it held their tongues. It was brought up during the last few moments of the meeting and many, like myself, did not have time to discuss it or speaking against it. Altogether it was a one-sided affair and did not receive the support that some of the clergy accord it. Our people are not in sympathy with anything of the sort and shall not preach for prohibition on the day named, nor shall I take up a collection for the campaign fund."

Rev. H. W. Bruechert, pastor of the First German Free Evangelical church, said: "Having been repeatedly urged by friends of the cause to take a public stand in regard to the proposed field day, I have decided to do so. I do not intend to use my pulpit for such a purpose—my opinion on this all-absorbing political question is not to be decided by the coming election. I reluctantly comply with their wish and briefly state my views. No ecclesiastical law can force a minister of the gospel to preach for prohibition. There is a law of our commonwealth which can force a man to vote for one or the other, nor will the common sense of a free man submit to the control of such a law. The resolutions passed by a ministerial meeting are wise nor can they pass a dividing line in the church that is on the prohibition question. Let the churches, whether they wish to meddle with one another's opinions or conscience. Has the world not already been divided into two camps by the church? Shall this political question, for the worst of God be brought before the people to save them?"

Rev. W. R. Henderson said: "I am not a member of the ministerial union, but I will say that the association is not an ecclesiastical body. It is a political organization to map out a programme for the churches to follow. The resolutions passed by that body in relation to services on Sunday, November 2, are not in the nature of a declaration of war upon the so-called ministerial association. It is not a representative gathering of the clergy of the city, that is, it is not a large number of representatives of ministers who do not belong to it, and who do not expect to connect themselves with it, consequently it does not represent the church, but is to be observed as the resolutions directed."

Closing on Election Day.

At the closing of the registration the merchants and manufacturers of this city to close their stores and shops on election day in order that all their employees might be afforded all the time possible to both vote and work against prohibition. The recommendation has received considerable attention from the parties who are directed and there is little doubt but that on election day this city will devote its energies to crushing out the fanaticism which would have the people of this city vote for prohibition. The Morse dry goods company will close at noon. Every voter in its employ has been given the day off. Max Meyer & Bros. company will give a half day off and see that every man votes. A. D. Morse will give his men all the time they need to vote. Milton Rogers & Sons are willing to close their store a week if necessary to get their men to the polls. The clothing company's men are registered and every one of them will vote early. Chris Specht will close up his shop all day on election day. His fifty-five men will not only vote but will be in the streets to help the cause. W. J. Broth's men have been given time to register and will also be allowed every opportunity to vote. Henry Gibson will close up all day and his men will vote the right way. The American Hand Sewed Shoe company will close all day and bring their men in off the road to vote with the home ones. The Western Newspaper union will send a force of men in relation to the polls, and among them will be the editor of the Bee, George J. Sterndorf and James C. Brennan will positively be present and make addresses.

Demagogue's Rally.

The local demagogue is making preparations for the largest meeting of the campaign this evening in Germania hall. County Attorney T. J. Mahoney, Patrick Ford, Judge Joseph J. Brown, Warren Switzer, C. L. Nelson, James C. Sheldahl, George J. Sterndorf and James C. Brennan will positively be present and make addresses.

Took His Friend's Wagon.

George Brassfield, residing at Thirty-second and L streets, reports to the police that one William Glick, formerly of Custer county, and whose friends live in Cheyenne county, went to his house, hitched his team to a lumber wagon and drove off with the vehicle.

Personal Rights League Meeting.

At the meeting of the personal rights league to be held Thursday evening County Attorney T. J. Mahoney, W. Wappler and Warren Switzer will be present and make addresses. It is expected that John L. Webster will be present.

Injured by the Cars.

James Costello, a railroad switchman, in attempting to get on a moving car at the exchange crossing Monday, was thrown to the ground and injured. An ugly cut at the left ear and some bruises were the result of his fall.

Hit by an Elevator.

Claus Grotzky, an employe of the Armour-Cudahy packing company, was hit on the head yesterday by the elevator and received a painful cut and bruise above the right eye. A surgeon dressed the wound.

Notes About the City.

Twins have been born unto Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Albion.

Notes About the City.

A meeting of the trustees of the Presbyterian church will be held this evening.

Notes About the City.

John C. Koeshan lost two checks, one for $3.40 and the other for $1.25, made by McCormick brothers.

Notes About the City.

J. G. Knapp, manager of the Maple City cornet band, Monday evening celebrated his thirty-ninth birthday and entertained his many friends in an acceptable manner.

Notes About the City.

The horse of Balhaus Jetter, stolen last Friday night, was found in Iowa near Papillion and has been brought back home. The prize was evidently taken by some persons wanting a ride and not with the intention of stealing it.

Notes About the City.

Mrs. C. C. Vaughn has gone to Fremont to visit her parents.

Notes About the City.

James Lynch of Platte Center is the guest of William S. Cook.

Notes About the City.

Mrs. J. La Rue of Fairmont is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brock.

Notes About the City.

William P. Hurd will be present to visit friends in Tipperary, Ireland.

Notes About the City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cluser of Watertown, S. D., are the guests of Postmaster and Mrs. John M. Glasgow.

Notes About the City.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Jamison and son of Chicago and Miss Farrar of Washington, D. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Saxe.

Notes About the City.

Mrs. M. Schenberger, Beaver Dam, Wis., writes: "We have used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in our family for coughs, colds, croup and rheumatism. It cures every time."

phase the prohibition sneak, who skulked from the registry with the air of a robber, whose scheme has been frustrated, but who consoles himself with the fact that there are many other victims with whom he may be more successful.

This overture has been made to other registrars beside Mr. Lane, and so far as is known, without success. It is said that it will be able to seduce from the path of rectitude and self-respect any registrar who may have been given charge of the books. Nevertheless, the duty of all supervisors of registration to guard against these frauds. Under no circumstance should the registrars be allowed to pass out of the control of the regularly appointed officers. If they should be, it will be found that they will be tampered with in such a manner as to make the lists so doctored on the day of election.

Crustallem Female Prohibs.

There was a secret meeting of prohibitionists in a small room on Sixteenth street, near Farnam, a few days ago. It was attended by half a dozen free-whiskyites, and three of them did not own a cent's worth of real estate in this city.

Nevertheless, they resolved that high license was destined to ruin the great state of Nebraska and they were in duty bound to work to have it annulled by prohibition. They admitted that they could not go to the polls and work, because they would thus run counter to public opinion and perhaps injure their masters. They would, however, work in some fellows to work at the polls, but those ought to be supplemented by the "crustallem" female prohibs.

Finally, it was decided to appeal to the ladies. Two days later, there was a meeting of women held in the same place, ten or fifteen being present. They voted the same as the men, and they were in duty bound to work to have it annulled by prohibition. They admitted that they could not go to the polls and work, because they would thus run counter to public opinion and perhaps injure their masters. They would, however, work in some fellows to work at the polls, but those ought to be supplemented by the "crustallem" female prohibs.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Proceedings of the City Council.

Mayor Sloan and a quorum of the council got together Monday night and held a meeting. The petitions of M. M. Palmer, claiming $500 damage for being caught in a cave-in sewer the 18th of last August, for crosswalks on K and L on Twenty-fourth streets were read and referred. The petition to create paving district No. 2 to extend from F to N streets and to pave Twenty-fourth street with asphaltum. The county commissioners agreed to pay the cost of intersections, not exceeding $15,000. Commissioner O'Keefe for the county, informed the mayor and council that the county would pay the city's expenses in grading Twenty-fourth street from V to Q street, on the estimated $3,000 city's yards of dirt, and the communication was filed with the council. The resignation as a member of Rescue House No. 1 was accepted.

The Finance Commission reported favorably on bills for $25,150 for Commissioners & Marrow and $10,100 for material furnished at the west end of the Q street viaduct was referred.

The final estimate of City Engineer E. S. Kingin favor of Contractor L. B. Stanley for the Q street sewer for $8,114.99, reserving the 3 per cent. making at present $8,201.29, was read and referred.

Twenty-second street will be graded from J to K streets at a cost not exceeding $100.

The city engineer will make an estimate of the cost of bridges on Hammond street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets and on L street and Railroad avenue, A. L. Wright, engineer, has been appointed.

The committee on fire and water will consider Persons & Berry's offer to furnish rooms for their fire department at $5 per month and $14 per month was authorized.

The city treasurer's report was read and referred. The treasurer was authorized to pay the interest due on paving bonds of district No. 1 and No. 2.

A contract with the electric light company for five years for fifteen arc lights to burn from dusk to dawn at $14 per month was authorized.

Deed of Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is prevalent in the city, not less than a half dozen well-developed cases having been reported. The first death from the dread disease occurred yesterday morning. The victim was Etta May, aged six years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gustus, No. 832 North Twenty-seventh street.

The local demagogue is making preparations for the largest meeting of the campaign this evening in Germania hall. County Attorney T. J. Mahoney, Patrick Ford, Judge Joseph J. Brown, Warren Switzer, C. L. Nelson, James C. Sheldahl, George J. Sterndorf and James C. Brennan will positively be present and make addresses.

Took His Friend's Wagon.

George Brassfield, residing at Thirty-second and L streets, reports to the police that one William Glick, formerly of Custer county, and whose friends live in Cheyenne county, went to his house, hitched his team to a lumber wagon and drove off with the vehicle.

Personal Rights League Meeting.

At the meeting of the personal rights league to be held Thursday evening County Attorney T. J. Mahoney, W. Wappler and Warren Switzer will be present and make addresses. It is expected that John L. Webster will be present.

Injured by the Cars.

James Costello, a railroad switchman, in attempting to get on a moving car at the exchange crossing Monday, was thrown to the ground and injured. An ugly cut at the left ear and some bruises were the result of his fall.

Hit by an Elevator.

Claus Grotzky, an employe of the Armour-Cudahy packing company, was hit on the head yesterday by the elevator and received a painful cut and bruise above the right eye. A surgeon dressed the wound.

Notes About the City.

Twins have been born unto Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Albion.

Notes About the City.

A meeting of the trustees of the Presbyterian church will be held this evening.

Notes About the City.

John C. Koeshan lost two checks, one for $3.40 and the other for $1.25, made by McCormick brothers.

Notes About the City.

J. G. Knapp, manager of the Maple City cornet band, Monday evening celebrated his thirty-ninth birthday and entertained his many friends in an acceptable manner.

Notes About the City.

The horse of Balhaus Jetter, stolen last Friday night, was found in Iowa near Papillion and has been brought back home. The prize was evidently taken by some persons wanting a ride and not with the intention of stealing it.

Notes About the City.

Mrs. C. C. Vaughn has gone to Fremont to visit her parents.

Notes About the City.

James Lynch of Platte Center is the guest of William S. Cook.

Notes About the City.

Mrs. J. La Rue of Fairmont is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brock.

Notes About the City.

William P. Hurd will be present to visit friends in Tipperary, Ireland.

Notes About the City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cluser of Watertown, S. D., are the guests of Postmaster and Mrs. John M. Glasgow.

Notes About the City.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Jamison and son of Chicago and Miss Farrar of Washington, D. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Saxe.

Notes About the City.

Mrs. M. Schenberger, Beaver Dam, Wis., writes: "We have used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in our family for coughs, colds, croup and rheumatism. It cures every time."

Notes About the City.