MINOR MATTER.

N. Y. P. Co. Burhom's for watches.

Council Bluffs Lumber Co., coal.

Christmas trees for the benefit of children drew great crowds at nearly all of the churches last evening.

Subscriptions to periodicals at wholesale prices. Drop me a card and I will call on you.

The Bee is urged to request the ladies to come to the Foster drug store building in Everett block at 1 o'clock today and assist in securing the hundreds of poor children who will be provided with a royal banquet through the generosity of the business men.

The committee who has charge of the distribution of a large number of chickens and turkeys desire to have the names of all needy families left at The Bee office before noon today, and if the number is not too great they will endeavor to send each family the material for a nice Christmas dinner.

Several hours of the time of Justice Barnett was occupied in hearing the case of the state against Albert Sayers. This was the case where the defendant was charged with assault and battery on one Thomas Naylon near Island park, a few miles out from this city, on the 18th day of this month.

The defendant was charged with assault and battery on one Thomas Naylon near Island park, a few miles out from this city, on the 18th day of this month.

From the records on the case it appears that the occasion of the fracas was a charitable party given to the station agent, Mr. Lively, who had just been married.

Both Naylon and Sayers were members of the party, and as they were returning they became involved in a dispute, in which Sayers assaulted Naylon, and as Sayers declares, Naylon tried to assault him.

C. R. Hannan, J. F. Kimball and other gentlemen who have arranged to give the poor children of the city a royal banquet and a free motor ride today over the two cities, desire the assistance of all the ladies serving the banquet and looking after the children. The rooms formerly occupied by Foster's drug store have been adapted to the purpose of banqueting the children.

They are large and clean and have entrances on Pearl street and Broadway. In addition to the $200 and $300 that have been raised to pay for the dinners a large number of turkeys and chickens have been donated, and the committee desire to have these given to the worthy near all over the city.

Many of the Bee readers in Council Bluffs know of any poor family not provided with the customary Christmas turkey, the address of the committee office before noon will result in the want being supplied.

A. D. Foster has removed from the Everett block to the Archer building, No. 51 Broadway—ten doors west of his former place of business.

Arrested for Attempted Murder.

About two months ago O. L. Wilson and A. V. Turner, two men who on the 16th of farm several miles south of Council Bluffs, became involved in a quarrel over some matters connected with their business. The quarrel resulted in Wilson making a savage attack upon Turner with a singletree. Turner received several injuries, and was under the care of a physician for some time. The assault was so vicious and the implement used was of such a murderous character that Turner had reason to believe that Wilson meant to take his life, and with this conviction signed an information charging him with assault with intent to commit murder. The information was filed in Justice Schurz's office and the warrant was given to Constable Wesley. When the officer reached the scene of carnage Wilson had flown without leaving any announcement of his destination. Turner recovered from his injuries and the search for Wilson was not prosecuted very vigorously. A few days ago Wilson returned to the farm and Turner came to town and recovered the information which was the basis of the indictment against him. At the same time applied for an injunction from the district court restraining James Coyle, the owner of the farm, Constable Wesley and others from selling or disposing of any mules over which there had been some controversy. Constable Coyle served the notice of injunction upon Coyle yesterday and his inside pocket of the case was the arrest of Turner on the old charge. Turner was found and brought to town and locked up in the county jail to answer the charge of attempted murder. The case was set for hearing in Schurz' court on Friday, but Turner's lawyer moved for a change of venue to Hamont, and the case was heard in the latter tribunal on the date fixed. The district court granted the injunction asked for by Turner.

The Frainey Case.

The long drawn out Frainey case was submitted yesterday afternoon, and Judge Macy will now have the task of going through a mass of papers and deciding the matter. The case is brought by one Smith, as administrator, against Mrs. Frainey. It is claimed that Frainey used $1,000 of the money secured from his father's estate and used it in building a house in which he now lives and which stands in Mrs. Frainey's name. It is urged that the money did not belong to Frainey, and that Mrs. Frainey should be compelled to relinquish the house, the deed conveying it to her being fraudulent. Mrs. Frainey claims that the $1,000 was money which she had been saving little by little. It was shown that when Frainey went south to attend his father's funeral he secured certain notes belonging to his father's estate and sold them and sent $1,000 by express to his wife in Council Bluffs. The same day that she received the money she deposited $1,000 in a bank here, and used it in paying for the house in controversy. On the other hand it is claimed that she concluded that day to put it in the bank instead of concealing it around the home any longer.

THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS.

All Arrangements Perfected for a Merry Christmas for the Poor.

A FREE MOTOR RIDE FOR THE CHILDREN.

Cleveland a Member of a Hard Gang—Arrested for a Murderous Assault—Held Down and Robbed—The Frainey Case.

Today will be a "green" Christmas, but it will be a happy one for the thousands of people in Council Bluffs. In all the churches elaborate preparations have been made for observing the day and the tables of all the charitable institutions in the city will groan under their burden of luxury. The chief event of the day and one that will be remembered for years by hundreds of poor children, to whom Christmas might otherwise be only an empty name, will be the grand free banquet and ride that has been arranged for them.

Mr. Hannan of the Citizens' bank and Mr. Kimball of Kimball & Camp were yesterday afternoon soliciting the necessary funds and making the needed arrangements for a free Christmas dinner for the poor children of Council Bluffs. In about an hour they secured the needed money, the citizens responding promptly and generously to the appeal. As a result, the announcement is made this morning that any and every child in the city who is poor has had no excuse for a Christmas dinner at home is invited to come to the Everett block, corner of Pearl and Broadway, this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The room formerly occupied by Foster's drug store will be used for the occasion, and a free dinner will be served to all the poor children who may come.

In connection with this dinner the citizens have arranged for a ride on the motor, the motor company generously agreeing to furnish all such children with a free ride and return. The children must secure their tickets of either Mr. Kimball or Mr. Hannan at the time of securing their dinner, and without such tickets they cannot ride.

St. Paul's church has been beautifully decorated for Christmas. A roof screen has been placed in front of the chancel arch, trimmed with holly, the background being white and spangled with diamond dust. The sanctuary has wreaths of evergreens and bunches of holly around the walls and the reredos and altar are decorated with the same materials. Running along the organ on a background of scarlet, edged with green are the words, "Go to the Highest on Earth Peace and Good Will to Men." Festoons of evergreens adorn the pulpit, front and choir stalls, making a beautiful effect.

The service will be held at 10:30 and the following programme will be rendered by the full choir: Professional Hymn—"We March to Victory Anthem—"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

Venison plain chaut..... Rev. E. W. Hall To Be Done..... Clarke Whitefield in E. C. Anthony—"Behold I Bring You Good Tidings"—"Kyrillics"..... E. C. Anthony, Harby H. H. Case Upon the Midnight Clear..... Recessional..... The "Thousand"..... Bert Sims, original

The public and strangers are cordially invited to attend the Christmas service. High mass and German sermon at 6 o'clock a. m. The girls' and boys' choir, under the management of Sister Thekla McGuire, will sing Latin mass and German mass at 8 o'clock a. m. K. of A. and other societies. At 10:30 high mass and English sermon. Cecilia's mass, given by members of the church choir under the efficient management of the organist of the church, Mrs. Margaret Dillon, ably supported by the Misses Rief and Kirscht and Messrs. Valentine Farnakes, the excellent tenor, Leonard Kirscht and Wenzelans Wetzelng, fine bassos.

TOO BUSY TO WRITE ADVERTS.

That is What Henry Eisenman & Co. Say, But They Must Let the People Know It.

A COMMERCIAL PALACE CROWDED.

A Glance Through the Largest Commercial House in the West—Santa Claus' Headquarters—A Fortune in Bargains.

To THE OMAHA BEE AD. MAN: It is impossible for us to write out the large advertisement that we spoke of, as our store is so full of customers that it requires all of our time and attention to wait on them.

You can use your own judgment and write such facts as you may know about our holiday goods and let the people know that Eisenman's is headquarters for any and all kinds of holiday presents and that we will discount anybody's prices. Respectfully, HENRY EISENMAN & CO., Council Bluffs, Ia.

The above note to THE Bee advertising man, written by Mr. Simon Eisenman on a telegraph blank, was the invitation to the reporter to enter an hour in rambling through the half mile of aisles on the five floor of the Eisenman's great commercial palace. The hour was insufficient to see all that was noted for support. Mr. Eisenman's assertion that there was no person about the building who could find time to write advertisements without neglecting patient customers.

On the first floor Saturday afternoon there was scarcely standing room. The ladies were making their purchases of dress goods from the great displays of the holiday trade. It was a busy scene as Council Bluffs ever witnessed. Clerks were almost concealed behind the piles and stacks of goods, their hands being kept down to suit the varying tastes of the shoppers. Every loom in the city would have contributed to the stock, and the lady who did not buy had no excuse to plead except the single one that she had already bought too much for her purse in some of the other departments.

The greatest attraction was on the third floor, which is devoted wholly to the toy department and the holiday goods. Of itself it was as crowded as the other floors, and every foot of room that was not taken up by the crowds of people was occupied by stacks of goods designed for presents. Santa Claus, the real life old gentleman in flesh and blood, was there making his way through the crowd followed by troops of happy children. The hundreds of visitors were unending in their commendations of the toys and games, and the children especially were exuberant in their exclamations of delight at the many things, especially the mechanical and the mechanical and steam toys were particularly attractive and elicited the most vociferous exclamations of delight from the little ones. While Santa Claus was making his way through the crowded and beautifully arranged departments allotted to them, the older visitors were looking at the many articles of utility, and many articles useful and beautiful, which are always in demand.

Here is a partial list of the holiday display, about one article to a third, and the clerks tell you when you inquire the price of anything that it is just one-half what it was a week ago—that Mr. Eisenman ordered them to sell every thing at half price until after the holidays.

Soldiers and cannon, magic lanterns, trumpets that automatically play music, trombones, swinging horse, ranges and stoves, hook and ladders, fire engines, hose carts, drays, wagons, express wagons, dog carts, passenger trains, freight trains, diamond cars and horses, mouth organs, Jack in the box—fifty different kinds, tops that hum and tops that sing, rubber balls, violins, guars, printing presses, drawing slates, writing desks, drums, and a thousand others we can't think of.

The assortment in albums is really startling. Beautiful plush albums for 50c and up to many dollars. Push boxes, toilet cases, manicure sets, pen and pencil sets, ink and cut boxes, glove boxes, pin cushions, foot stoves, work boxes, shaving sets, smoking sets, etc., etc.

Ornate silver smoking sets, toilet sets, manicure sets, pin cushions, and many others too numerous to mention.

Dolls! A bewildering assortment from the low priced dolls to $15, with china, patent bisque and washable heads. Dolls that talk, dolls that cry, and dolls that go to sleep—no mere newspaper description can do them justice; a kid body doll for $1.25, a real price for only $1.25, little sailor boys; little Scotch girls.

Baskets in every conceivable shape, style and color. Japanese baskets; German baskets, Indian baskets, ranging in price from 3c to $5.75.

There are more plush goods on this floor than used to come to the city in an entire season, and everything is of the newest and handsomest design, and tacked to each is the startling legend: "Selling at sacrifice prices."

On the second floor is displayed the finest and largest line of cloaks and jackets to be found in any house in the west. The department was likewise crowded, and the fact that so many people from abroad, as well as from the city, were buying was explained by the clerks, who told their customers that the management had determined to close out the season's stock by the first of the year, and rather than carry over anything had cut the prices to the minimum of the wholesale figure. Among the purchasers were noted several dealers replenishing their stock.

In all the other departments the same busy scene is noted, proving the assertion of the management that Eisenman's is the headquarters for this western country for every line of dry goods.
