Governor Bredes would have done himself more credit in his inaugural message if he had come out flatfooted in a recommendation for the adoption of the Australian ballot law.

General Butterworth will resign his position as solicitor general of the World's fair. This is prima facie evidence that General Butterworth's political ambition is reviving.

The two-mile limit saloonkeepers must not be permitted to continue in business contrary to law. Perhaps a little attention at the hands of the grand jury will expedite the taking out of licenses.

The navy has rather the best of the army thus far, though actual war might help out the military establishment.

Chicago is entirely out of water, the source of supply having been frozen. Chicago is not disturbed about the matter except from fear of fire.

Ex-Senator George F. Edmunds is the only lawyer in the United States who would dare to call in question the sublime wisdom of that oracular and corpulent body of stuffed prophets known as the United States supreme court while they are in full session.

Deadwood is elevated over the prospect of a $200,000 federal building. The bill has passed the senate, and as Senator Pettigrew is backing it with his usual vigor the Black Hills metropolis can feel reasonably certain of its passage.

A Boston democrat has been looking at the prospect of war with Chili through Objector Holman's spectacles and reaches the conclusion that it would cost $2,000,000 at the very first clash of arms.

A suit is to be brought by the government against the venerable General and ex-Speaker Banks for the recovery of $4,000 lost during his term as United States marshal years ago.

Shoemaker should be sustained. Every respectable and law-abiding citizen of Omaha will concur that the efforts of ex-Assistant City Attorney Shoemaker to enforce the laws and ordinances against the sale of obscene papers are commendable.

The Fifth Ward Taxpayers' club objects to the proposed sale and lease of the Board of Trade building. What have the taxpayers of the Fifth ward to do with the Board of Trade building?

PERPETUATING ITSELF.

The annual meeting of the bankers, implement dealers, lawyers, politicians and kid-gloved farmers, who for the most part compose the State Board of Agriculture, is over, and, as usual, the members have re-elected themselves or their immediate friends for another year.

In this connection it is of interest to observe that among the members of the board elected for the next two years the following are patrons of husbandry: L. A. Kent, banker, Milford; J. D. McFarland, B. & M. capitalist, Lincoln; Captain J. M. Lee, farmer, politician, O'Neill; S. M. Barker, political farmer, Silver Creek; J. B. McDowell, farmer, politician, Fairbury; R. R. Gross, political farmer, Kearney; M. L. Hayward, lawyer, Nebraska City; J. R. Cuthbert, agricultural implement dealer, North Bend; W. D. Wildman, politician, Culbertson; and five real farmers not so well known.

People must not be surprised at finding many familiar names on this board. One of its chief objects, as before remarked in these columns, is to perpetuate itself and promote the interests of its members. Agricultural development is a secondary consideration.

MR. MILLS IN THE RANKS.

Congressman Roger Q. Mills has done what he expected to do. He has notified the speaker of the house that he will not serve as chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. This is one of the best committees of the house, affording opportunity for useful and creditable work to a man of moderate ambition.

Mr. Mills resigned his chairmanship after due deliberation, and taken in connection with his recent utterances the action cannot be regarded as having no significance. He has very recently indicated that he is not in favor of giving the country tariff revision in installments, as Mr. Springer proposes still being done.

retary of the treasury for an explanation of his course regarding the 44 per cent bonds, a part of which were continued at a reduced rate of interest.

The plea that the law cannot be violated except by the sale of indecent literature to minors is futile. The fact that the indecent Kansas City sheet has been sold on the street corners by newsboys affords ample proof of its sale to minors and would so be regarded in any court of justice.

Down in Kansas City the people have sought protection from professional liars and blackmailers through the grand jury and it may be that they shall have to emulate that example in Omaha. To subject the people of this city to systematic defamation that invades the family circle, incites violence and sooner or later, is liable to result in a bloody tragedy.

PROPOSED NEW STATES.

Bills have been introduced in congress to confer statehood on the territories of New Mexico, Utah and Oklahoma, and doubtless Arizona will receive like consideration. What the chances are for the admission of any of these territories by the present congress cannot now be determined, but it will be interesting to consider what claims they present for statehood.

The last census gave New Mexico a population of 153,000, and it is doubtless somewhat larger now. The last report of the governor made a very good showing in regard to material development. The agricultural industry is growing, the mining industry is increasing, and in other respects the territory is realizing a steady progress.

Utah's population, by the census of 1890, was close to 208,000, and the governor's report for 1891 placed it at nearly 211,000. The assessed value of property, real and personal, in 1891 was in round numbers $21,000,000. B. H. as to population and resources Utah has an unquestionable claim to statehood, and the only obstacle in the way of attaining it is the political influence still exercised by the Mormon church.

the United States is not a case for arbitration.

Chicago Times: If the president send a warlike message to congress, let him be instructed, as becomes the mighty strength of the nation, and the genius of an age that transcends the glorious triumphs of peace, to refer the whole subject matter to arbitration. We may have peace with honor. Let us not have war without dishonor.

Chicago Tribune: Diplomacy has been exhausted. The Chilean case has not advanced since the first protest was made. Further negotiations are useless. It is now time to do something. There is no question that when the president sends his message to congress that body will stand behind him. There will be no republicans or democrats at that question. It will be considered by Americans, who are determined that Chile shall be taught a lesson in decency.
