

YET ANOTHER MURDER TRIAL

Nick Fox, the South Omaha Fiend, Will Be the Subject.

SHOWS INSANITY OR A GOOD IMITATION

The Rock Island Sued for $25,000 for the Loss of a Foot—Damages for Lost Fingers—Contempt of Court.

The witnesses on who testified about the criminal division of the district court patiently waiting for an opportunity to listen to the testimony in some sensational trial will have their fill today.

It will be remembered that last February this man shot his wife and then attempted to cut his own throat.

Fox is either insane or playing his part to perfection, as most of the time since his confinement in the county jail he has sat in the corner of his cell mumbling over the most unintelligible things.

Wants $25,000 for a Foot. Judge Keyser is laboring with the facts in the case of Patrick McCarthy against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad.

The plaintiff charges that during October, 1891, he was the employer of the defendant, working with a steam shovel near Topeka, Kan.

Late in the afternoon of that day the foreman, J. B. Butler, commanded him to jump upon the gravel train, which was just moving out of the pit.

On December 21, 1891, while in the employ of the Union Pacific railroad, E. A. Wilkins, while switching cars at Valley, was crushed between two freight cars and killed.

In Judge Doane's court John J. Ryan is telling a lot of jurors the reasons why he should recover $1,999 from the George H. Hammond Packing company of South Omaha.

KETCHAM FURNITURE. Not up to Contract and the City Council Will Probably Reject It.

The campaign made by the Ketcham Furniture company in pursuit of a contract with the city covering the furniture necessary for the city hall is fresh in the minds of the citizens of Omaha.

Developments made by the newspapers and in the council investigation have not inspired the taxpayers of this city with a high degree of confidence in the proposed furniture company.

A little more than a month ago the Ketcham company put the furniture in the comptroller's and city clerk's offices in the new city hall building.

There was a "stiff" kick made at that time on the quality of the work and the failure of the contractor to abide by the specifications upon which the contract was made.

The council and other officials preferred, however, to wait until the greater share of the furniture had been delivered before making a formal protest.

The furniture is reaching the city from the factory piecemeal. As one consignment follows another it has become more and more apparent that the makers have had little regard for the specifications in any respect, and that some action must be taken on the part of the city.

Mayor Bemis, in company with other city officials, has made an inspection of the furniture already placed in the city hall.

It is stated on good authority that not a cent has been paid for the furniture and that there will be until the city inspectors and the committee, the mayor and the president of the council that the contract has been strictly adhered to.

Be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children's little teething. 25 cents a bottle.

LIVERYMEN IN ARMS. Undertakers May Have to Use Lumber Weapons for Hearings.

The liverymen of the city are in a neck of trouble. License Inspector Vaughn has caused the arrest of several of them because of their refusal to pay a license of $10 a year on each rig owned and operated by them.

The ordinance which he now seeks to enforce is an old one passed ten or twelve years ago, and has always been honored in the breach and never in the observance.

The liverymen's union has taken up the matter, and it is given out cold that just as soon as one of the defendants is fined the public stables of the city will be closed and the streets for any purpose.

about it. If the ordinance is held to be good and is allowed to stand, and we are fined for refusing to pay such a license, it will cause a big kick, and we won't be the only kickers.

We won't let a wheel roll out of doorways either for funerals or anything else. Corpses will have to do the best they can. The business don't pay any too much at it, and we can't stand a license, to say nothing of the injustice of it."

LATEST BUILDING PROJECTS. Business Block at Sixteenth and Chicago—Plans for a Big Apartment House.

It is now known that before the snows of winter begin to fly a $50,000 brick block will be reared upon the vacant corner at Sixteenth and Chicago streets.

Yesterday afternoon George N. Hicks let the contract for a three-story and basement brick and stone apartment house, costing $75,000, to be erected at Thirty-first and Pacific streets.

New Library Board. Some months ago when the library board sought to take arbitrary action in matters pertaining to the new library building the board demurred, on the ground that the board had no legal right to exist.

This position was contested by members of the board, and finally the board was dissolved. It is understood that the mayor may, within the next thirty days, make one or two appointments for the library board.

New Corporations. The Red Men's Improvement association, with a capital stock of $5,000 divided into shares of $250 each, has filed its articles of incorporation in the office of the county clerk.

The company has for its object the building and furnishing of halls for rental to civic societies and the investment of money for the members of such societies.

The American Silicon Wall Plaster company filed its articles of incorporation in the office of the county clerk.

PLANS FOR THE VIADUCT. Board of Public Works Adopts the Engineer's Drawings for Sixteenth Street.

The members of the Board of Public Works met in special session yesterday afternoon to consider the plans of the new Sixteenth street viaduct, prepared and presented by City Engineer Rosewater.

The blue prints were brought out and laid upon the table. Major Furray opened the ball by saying that there was time enough to bid the devil good morning when he was met upon the street.

able cost of the viaduct if the roadway was narrowed from fifty to forty feet.

The engineer informed him that the cost would be reduced only about 17 per cent.

The board wanted some information regarding the safety of the present viaduct along Sixteenth street.

Over the Street Payroll. J. H. Winspear handed in his payroll for the month of June.

The chairman warmed up and got back by stating that he knew as much about the city affairs as the other members and that he looked after the interests of the public as closely as some gentlemen that he could name; gentlemen who were talking a good deal and not doing anything.

Colonel Egbert pleaded for harmony. He said that he would not sit with the board again and that he hoped a feeling of brotherly love would take possession of the minds of the two men.

The pleading had its effect, for the two gentlemen at once subsided and commenced talking upon the subject of permanent walks.

Chairman Birkhauser stated that stone walk had been ordered on Harney and Farnam west of Twentieth street, and along Farnay in front of the Tom Murray property.

Major Furray said the chairman should designate what was to be laid.

Chairman Birkhauser thought not. He wanted suggestions from the board and then he would follow out the suggestions.

City Attorney Connell wrote that the board should designate the material, and hereafter the board will have the say.

Artificial stone was ordered laid at Ninth and Dodge and Sixteenth and Dodge.

A statement filed showed that Ford & Hughes had laid 710 yards of artificial stone, and that J. W. Furness & Sons had not laid any walk, simply because they had not made any application.

What Others Say About The Bee Bureau of Claims.

A correspondent of the New York Evening News recently wrote to the editor for information about pensions.

The following answer appeared in the query column:

"A. S.—For any information about pensions we would advise you to write to The Bee Bureau of Claims at Omaha, Neb. This office is under the administration of a syndicate of newspapers, including the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, the San Francisco Examiner and others."

This is an illustration of the manner in which the Bureau of Claims has been advancing to the position of one of the standard institutions of the capital.

No newspaper worth the name of advising a correspondent, outside of its advertising columns, to write to John Smith, attorney, for information about pensions. It is no part of a paper's business to advertise private claim agencies for nothing.

But the fact is recognized that the Bee Bureau is not a private agency, but an institution which, although not connected with the government, is managed in the public interest.
