A. Y. Plumbing Co., Council Bluffs Lumber Co.

"Columbian Day" will be observed by the Second Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Marriages at the Kiel hotel, Thursday evening, October 10, Mr. Arthur E. Miller of Farragut, Ia., and Miss Eva E. Reames of Macdonia, Ia.

The Iowa conference of the Latter Day Saints will convene in Huntington's hall, over 104 Broadway, beginning tomorrow and lasting over Sunday.

The funeral services of the late Eva Lucile Sears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sears, will occur from the family residence, 623 South Madison street, at 10 o'clock this morning.

The 25th anniversary social and entertainment of the Degree of Pechonahs, Improved Order of Red Men, will be held at the home of Mrs. M. H. Sears, 623 South Madison street, at 7 o'clock this evening.

A young man was found wandering about the streets of the city yesterday almost naked and exhibiting many signs of insanity.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following parties: Henry Johnson and D. Spaulding, both of Council Bluffs; Robert Marx and Matilda Witt, both of Council Bluffs; John Johnson and Maggie Christensen, both of Council Bluffs; Arthur E. Miller of Farragut, Ia., and Miss Eva E. Reames of Macdonia, Ia.

The cold weather is approaching, prepare yourself for the chilly nights, visit the Boston Store and look over their elegant line of comforts and blankets.

Preparo for the cold weather. The immense supply of ladies' misses' coats and children's underware at the Boston Store exceeds anything in previous years.

If you don't want to buy hard coal you had better see Bixby about those oil burners. They are adapted for use in hot air furnaces, steam and hot water boilers, with no coal or ashes to handle.

Special campaign whip sale on Monday. Your choice of a whole winter full for 50c, former price 90c, 70c, 50c and 30c each, with the finest Congressmen, Charles Probst, 215 Broadway.

Do you want a nobly coat either in ladies', misses' or children's and at the right price? If so, visit the Boston Store and look over their line. Council Bluffs, Ia.

Miss Ella Johnson has returned from a visit with friends in the east. Miss Nellie Zuercher left last evening for a visit with friends in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ellis of North Platte, Neb., are in the city for a visit with George Graves and family.

Miss Maud Virgin, who has been visiting at the home of her mother in Burlington, Ia., will leave this evening for her home in Burlington.

Judge Walter E. Hays of Dubuque, who represents the fifth district in congress, is in the city the guest of Congressman Thomas Bowman. He leaves today for Harlan, where he will speak this evening.

Dr. J. J. Stuart, accompanied by a number of other representatives of the Latter Day Saints church, left yesterday for Logan to attend the camp meeting of the Latter Day Saints, which will be held at Logan, Ia., and will make an effort to induce the elders to select Council Bluffs as the place for holding the meeting next October. A vote will be taken on the question.

Jacob Sims is in Des Moines, having come there to argue a motion before the supreme court for a new trial in the case of Arnold against the city. He has been successful in this suit is the one which involves the ownership of Fairmount park, and was thought to decide practically all the other suits involving the same questions. Sims appears for the plaintiffs.

The largest, the finest, the most artistic display of fall and winter goods ever exhibited in Council Bluffs will be shown at the Boston Store. Grand fall opening Thursday evening, Oct. 13. Doors open at 7:30 o'clock.

House cleaning time has come and so has the largest invoice of lace curtains and draperies ever received at the Council Bluffs Carpet company's.

Suits and overcoats $10.00 less than any other tailor in town; clothing dyed, cleaned and repaired. Frank James Peterson, 253 S. 10th street.

Call on Messrs. Day & Hess and ask to be shown the Klein tract of 400 acres now on sale in five and ten acre tracts. They will show it free of all.

Genuine Round Oak, Radiant Home, P. P. Stewart stoves and ranges, sold exclusively by Cole & Cole, 41 Main.

Frightened a Woman. J. R. Carruthers' house at the corner of Ninth street and Fourth avenue was entered by thieves yesterday afternoon. They got in through the basement, but were discovered by Mrs. Carruthers out of the home alone. She stole softly out of the front door, locking it after her, and went to the house of a neighbor for help.

Noting was stolen from the house, although the thieves had broken open the door leading from the cellar to the first floor, and had evidently been in the house when they were frightened away.

If in want of anything in the window shade line, curtains, curtain poles, wall paper, portieres, chenille table covers, etc., step into the Boston Store, where it is a pleasure to show goods. Council Bluffs, Ia.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Railroad Commissioners Hold a Very Interesting Session.

THEY INVESTIGATE DEPOT FACILITIES

Representatives of Several Roads Tell What Their Companies Are Doing for the Accommodation of the Traveling Public in This Direction.

The railroad commissioners met at the council chamber to hear evidence in the proceedings instituted by the city council to force the several railways centering here to furnish better depots for the use of the traveling public.

An amendment to the original petition had been filed by the mayor and the depot committee from the city council requesting the commissioners to order a union depot, but if that were not done to order all the companies, excepting the Northwestern, to erect suitable local depots. In the petition incorporated the contract signed by the railway companies agreeing to build a union depot. The effect of this was to bring the question of the union depot directly before the commission, a thing which the city refused to do or allow to be done on the first hearing.

When the meeting opened Commissioner Smith stated that notice had been served on all the roads of the present action and that requests for orders were in the possession of the commission. The city attorney, in the possession of the receipt of the receipt of the notices.

One of the different railway companies was called and it was found that only the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul were represented. The two first by Mr. Bessier and the last by Mr. Goodenough. A Kimball, assistant to the president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, said that he had no authority to represent his company, excepting as a spectator. The Union Pacific, Omaha & St. Louis, the Chicago & Northwestern were unrepresented.

The representatives of the companies who were present were asked if they had anything to say in defense of their depot facilities as they now are.

Attractions of Some of the Depots. Mr. Bessier admitted that his depot, the Burlington, was not as handsome, as some, but he claimed that it was clean and plenty large enough for the patrons. Kimball and Goodenough made the same plea for their depots.

Mr. Day was summoned as a witness to testify as to the condition of the depots. He testified that the Burlington, Rock Island and Milwaukee depots were badly located, and that the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific depot was in a part of the city which it was dangerous to pass through at night, and over a main from the business center of the city.

William Siedentoff testified as to the territory that was tributary to the several roads, and the condition of the depot facilities as they now are.

George F. Wright gave an account of the way in which the railroad companies had been induced to sign the contract, whereby they agreed to enter into the union depot scheme, and how on one pretext or another the fulfillment of the contract had been delayed for two years. He refused to give his opinion as to the propriety of a speedy fulfillment of the contract.

M. F. Kohler, L. Everett, City Engineer; H. E. C. Adams, Chief of Shenandoah and S. B. Wadsworth were put on the stand but little new information was gained from them.

A. T. Ewell, city ticket agent of the Rock Island, presented a statement of the business done on his road during the six months ending August 31, 1922.

M. L. Lane, ticket and freight agent of the Milwaukee, presented a similar statement. Superintendent Goodenough put him through a cross examination, in the course of which he stated that there was nothing to be gained from driving directly up to the depot, as had been charged. He gave the seating capacity of the passenger cars for the three roads. The average patronage was fourteen passengers per day, or a little less than three for each train. These figures represented the actual Council Bluffs patronage, as all trains started from Omaha.

W. J. Davenport, general passenger and freight agent of the Burlington, furnished a statement of the passenger business during the twelve months ending September 30. General Superintendent Bessier renewed his statement of the passenger business, and that the depot was near, though not gaudy, when Commissioner Day raised a laugh by inquiring quizzically if Mr. Bessier had seen his depot lately.

Poorly Patrolled. "You will see by the statement I have presented," said Mr. Davenport, "that the number of tickets sold over the Burlington averages between six and seven per train, and that includes mileage tickets and tickets sold to passengers who go to Omaha to take the trains. The depot would seat twenty-five or twenty-six passengers."

"Could it be that many people ride in a box car in one of your upholstered passenger cars?" asked City Attorney Hazelton.

"No," replied Davenport. "It is perfectly clear, at least in my opinion, although perhaps my ideas of cleanliness are not up to the standard."

"No," replied Dey, with the melancholy air of a man who had been there once, "I'm afraid they're not." And everybody chuckled pleasantly.

The question of railroad men had anything further to say, although they were given an opportunity to make any statement that they thought would give their case a better showing.

The case was taken under advisement and the meeting adjourned.

The case was considered by the commissioners at their meeting in Des Moines next week and a decision will be given as soon as possible. Immediately upon the rendering of the decision a copy will be sent to the city attorney, so that the result will be known here probably by the latter part of the week.

Fire Corner of Broadway and Benton. Our late loss by fire was covered by two policies, both in the COUNCIL BLUFFS INSURANCE COMPANY.

By 7 o'clock the next morning after the fire the secretary was on the ash heap, pencil in hand, ready to figure the loss down to bedrock, which he did, too, saying that it was his duty and no small part of his business. So long as he did not go below bedrock he had no reason to complain, consequently the settlement was not only prompt, but in every way satisfactory, so much so that in addition to $9,200.00 several policies carried by this company before the fire we now add to it $16,000.00.

Being intimately acquainted with the secretary and directors we cannot be persuaded that better indemnity can be obtained than that offered by our home company, besides we believe in patronizing worthy home enterprises, everything being equal, and unless we do we shall be dependent on foreign capital and corporations.

J. H. WHEELER, JAS. A. WHEELER.

Identified the Goods. Developed the fact that John Stewart, who was arrested Tuesday on suspicion, is a member of a gang of burglars, and that the theory of the police in regard to his trunk was a correct one. Marshal Patton and S. B. Sholz, the Villisca merchant whose store was visited the other night, called in the city yesterday after visiting Plattsmouth and taking a look at the contents of the trunk that was spirited off so quietly Tuesday morning.

The trunk, found to be full of silk, satins, and other dress goods, amounting to several hundreds of dollars, and identified them as those taken from his place. Stewart had taken to Villisca to start a trunk in the charge of a clerk. His two companions have disappeared and are not likely to be seen in this part of the country soon.

A Brilliant Event Last Evening That Attracted Large Crowds. The annual opening of The Boston Store last evening was by far the finest of the series of surprises that its enterprising managers have given the people of Council Bluffs since the opening of the big establishment. The display of goods was richer and the character more varied than at any previous opening.

On all the floors and in all the departments the richest fabrics, the newest novelties that the season has produced were displayed in generous profusion and with a skill that made them artistically as well as intrinsically beautiful.

Mr. Whitelaw, during his summer visit in Europe, had abundant leisure to prosecute his search for novelties, and many of the finest things the European markets afford were displayed in the various departments last evening. The exhibition of dress goods and linens was particularly fine and called forth the most favorable comment. Another feature that created a great deal of enthusiasm was the hosiery display that filled one of the longest counters in the store.

Notwithstanding the fact that it began raining half an hour before the doors were opened, and continued for half an hour afterwards, there was a very large attendance, but not as large as the splendid display warranted, and for the purpose of giving the ladies who were prevented from coming out by the rain an opportunity to see the beautiful things the opening will be repeated next Tuesday evening.
