

WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE

Home Committee Reports on the Capital National Bank Affairs. STATE FUNDS THAT HAVE SO FAR VANISHED.

Special System Under Which Money Was Received and Not Credited on the Books. Will Make an Effort to Recover It.

Lincoln, Neb., March 6.—[Special to The Bee.]—The feature of the opening hour of the special committee appointed to investigate the amount and condition of the state funds deposited in the defunct Capital National bank. The report was not complete and the committee asked for further time.

One thing is nearly ascertained. That is, the state of Nebraska did through her agents deposit at least $100,000 in the Capital National bank. It is not known whether the state to recover the same. And your committee further believes that some solvent party or parties are responsible and can be held through the courts will have to locate the responsibility.

In this connection the committee calls your attention to two bills introduced at this end as well as to investigate every state institution in the state, a degree of business negligence has been shown in the handling of such a move on the part of the legislature. It also calls your attention to memoranda taken from the books of the Capital National bank by Bank Examiner Grith, which will give a clear view to the situation. Said papers are marked "A," "B" and "C" and are made a part of this report.

What the Exhibits Show. Exhibit "A"—Statement of Bank Examiner Grith relating to State Treasurer Bartley's open account with the Capital National Bank. Exhibit "B"—Statement of Bank Examiner Grith relating to State Treasurer Bartley's open account with the Capital National Bank.

On motion of McKesson the report was referred back to the committee on the Capital National Bank. The committee will report to the house on the 10th inst.

How Big Bob Feels. Bay St. Louis, La., March 6.—The residents of this section of the south are nearly wild over the contest between Hall and Fitzsimmons. Most all their sympathy and money are for Fitzsimmons. He says that there seems to be some doubt about his having experienced more than his own share of the prize money.

DISCUSSING SOCIAL SORES

Police Commissioners Listen To and Answer a Committee from the Churches. MAYOR BEMIS' FLAT-FOOTED PROPOSITION.

He Offers to Head a Subscription to Build a Reformatory with $1,000.—No Action Taken on the Resolution.—The Discussion.

A large number of people interested in the "purity" petition were present last night at the meeting of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to plead their case. Besides the gentlemen there for this purpose there were several saloonists, gamblers and representatives of the "burnt district" present.

The matter was brought before the board by the reading by Clerk Brownie of a communication signed by C. A. Starr, Charles Bied, Rev. M. P. Hellings, P. L. Perine and J. H. McCulloch, in which the petitioners prayed to be heard before the board decided what would be done. Of course the request was granted.

Judge McCulloch started in. He said he did not think that the committee which represented the 4,000 signers of the petition was asking of the officers of the city except what they had already agreed to do when they took the oath of office, namely, to see that the laws and ordinances were enforced.

"Two weeks ago," said the judge, "Chief Seavey presented a report here which I must have contained many statements which he left it was a correct and honest report and that the facts as stated do really exist. In speaking about the lack of convictions in the case for violations of the Slocum law, the chief blames the prosecutors to some extent and certain other officers of the city who are either appointed by this board or by the mayor. We believe these things can be righted in a large measure.

Have Not Been Fairly Spoken. "Gambling can be stopped and the saloons closed on Sunday if the law is enforced. I am not familiar enough with the situation to say whether the police can crush out gambling or suppress the liquor traffic or drive out prostitutes, but they can at least see that the laws are enforced to the best of their ability."

On the Appropriation Bill. The senate then went into committee of the whole on the general appropriation bill. The first two items relating to the governor's office and the adjutant general were passed without a dissenting vote.
