

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Peculiar Circumstances Surrounding the Death of Rev. Frank Mortimer.

WAS EXPOSED IN A FRIGHTFUL STORM

Financial Consideration Worried the Deceased in Addition to His Physical Condition—Was Formerly a Popular Chicago Minister.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 8.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Rev. C. Frank Mortimer, late of Atchison, Kan., was found dead in his bed at the Hotel Lincoln at 9:45 o'clock this morning. The deceased came to the hotel last Saturday on business connected with the Christian churches of the state and with the intention of seeking a charge. He was formerly a popular preacher on the West side in Chicago and was unwilling to take some of the places that had been offered him in the west on account of the salary involved. He was noticed last evening on one of the divans in the hotel balcony evidently in pain, but he made no call for medical assistance. This morning the chambermaid was unable to secure access to his room and called a porter. When the door was opened he was found lying full length on the bed. The arms were raised above his head and the position of the whole body indicated that he had passed away without a struggle or the consciousness that the end was near.

In the room, enclosed in an unsealed envelope addressed to his son, Fred Mortimer of Salina, Kan., he gives the details of his experiences in Lincoln. From this it appears that Saturday evening he took a car to the Cotner university, but while enroute the storm broke and the car lost its power. It was an open one and for nearly three hours Mortimer and his fellow sufferers were pelted by the rain drops and the wind wet through. Several of them had suffered greatly from rheumatism and neuralgia, and had taken morphine to ease his pains. The letter also indicated that he was anxious over the financial condition of the Cotner University and of considerable worry over personal finances. Consider Crim will hold an inquest tomorrow morning.

Asks for a New Trial.

Gorham F. Betts, by his attorneys, filed a voluminous document, labeled "Motion for a New Trial," in the district clerk's office this afternoon. There are forty-six assignments of error, and the majority of these assert that the court erred in delivering instructions to the jury, that it erred in stating the law to the jury, and that it erred in refusing certain instructions asked by the defendant. He also claims that the verdict is contrary to the law, the evidence and the instructions of the court; that the evidence was insufficient to warrant a verdict of guilty; that the two counts of the indictment were fatally defective in that they did not charge that the offense was committed in Lancaster county; that there is fatal variance between the proof and the indictment as to whom Betts received the warrant from, and that the second count of the indictment was vague and uncertain, in that it does not consider the fact that the officials or servants of the state the warrant was received by Betts. The motion will probably be argued Saturday.

Governor William Renfrow of Oklahoma has written Governor Crouse that he has appointed as delegates to the north and south railway convention Eugene Wallace of Oklahoma City, George Orput of El Reno, B. The water had gone down, so that this morning the body was found on the bank. The body was exposed above the surface. The coroner held an inquest and a verdict in accordance with the facts was returned.

It was difficult to get any information concerning the circumstances surrounding the man's death could be secured from the other railroad employees and a verdict was returned to his death accidentally was returned. It appears Hatfield had given notice that he was going to quit next Saturday, owing to the fact that the carriages of employees led to so many accidents in the yard.

A Correction.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 8.—To the Editor of this issue: In your dispatch yesterday you stated the meeting of the state alliance executive committee.

It is stated that the injunction of secrecy as to the proceedings was made at the request of Messrs. Thompson and Burrows. This is incorrect and is calculated to do injustice to the injunction of secrecy was made at the request of the committee alone. Will you have the kindness to make this correction as prominently as the statement was made? Yours truly, J. BURROWS.

Cooper, fired at him with a shotgun, with only a warning and some of the shot struck him about the right eye. Mr. Cooper then fled and was not seen again, when it was taken from him. It seems that Cooper has been drinking for some time, and being jealous of his wife, who was also in the store, he fired at her. The store was free in a drunken fit of jealousy. There is no cause for such suspicion, however. Mr. Souders is not seriously injured. Cooper is in jail.

WANTED FOOD OR BLOOD

Peculiar Tragedy in a Dodge County Farm House.

FATAL STRUGGLE OVER A PISTOL

Charley Carlton Engaged in a Desperate Encounter With August Goodman Which Results in the Death of the Latter.

FREMONT, Neb., June 8.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A man giving his name as August Goodman went to the home of Charley Carlton, a short distance from this city, about noon today and said he wanted to buy a farm. He was invited into the house and after talking a while demanded something to eat. Being refused he grabbed a revolver lying on a shelf. At the same time Carlton jumped for the weapon.

While the men struggled for possession of the pistol it was exploded several times. When Carlton disengaged himself from his antagonist he found that three bullets had pierced the desperate fellow's body and he afterwards surrendered.

The body was brought to the city this evening. In the pockets of the corpse were found two cheap pipes, tobacco, a small purse containing $3.50 and memorandum book in which were the names "Charles W. Keys, Papillion, Neb." and "The Ladies' Aid Society, in German, Farnam street, BEE building."

In an inside vest pocket was found a $20 and a $1 bill. He was dressed in a neat plain suit, with a white shirt, necktie and German, about 40 years of age, face smoothly shaven, sharp features, and looked as though he might be a laboring man.

At the request, however something new may be developed. He stayed at the Rowe hotel last night, and told the clerk he was looking for a span of mules.

THROUGH HIS MARE.

Broncho Harry Hisses His Defiance to the Humane Society. CHICAGO, Ill., June 8.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—"Broncho Harry," one of the leading spirits of the proposed cowboy race, which is to start from Chadron, Neb., on the 13th inst., stated to THE BEE correspondent today that the cowboys were determined to race and would brook no interference by any state, county or city authorities along the route. Each man would be fully armed and would fight should any one attempt to delay them.

They had the following open letter to a prominent citizen: "Your humane society does not reach us. Your decision is not against us. Your epistle (or epithet) is entirely out of context. Your great head only amounts to cruelty to animals. Therefore— 1. We, having three (3) horses started at different stations, consider your great gush out of order. Please state that the race will take place under the laws of the great state of Nebraska on Tuesday next, and if there be any interference between that state and the Nebraska state building (which is the headquarters of the perpetrators) shall receive a full meal of our western feed—i. e. buckshot, small shot or anything at all, to hold our western wares. Yours from the west, HENRY LONN, (BRONCHO HARRY).

Prof. David Swing sent the following letter to THE BEE correspondent tonight: "Two letters reached me today from Chadron, Neb., on the coming race. One letter comes from the humane society, the other from a professional man. These writers both state that the greatest cruelty will take place in Illinois. The cowboys are taking forty or fifty miles a day at first, and then make the race hot. The humane society confines one writer says that the cruelty of the race is in the fact that the cowboys are to spur, beat and ride without mercy. They expect to work their horses to death in three days. The humane society is to have a man to do all I can toward calling a halt to this mad race and thus saving the lives of our humane feeling in Nebraska.

When the gang of vagrants and drunks were lined up before Judge Fowler, Reifler was among the lot, but as he had no money, he was discharged. He had no money.

AMUSEMENTS.

Suppe's ever popular opera, "Fatinitta," which has been in the repertoire of at most every English opera company for almost a generation, was presented very creditably last evening at the Farnam by the Callow Opera company.

Notwithstanding that Miss Carrie Godfrey and Mr. Henry Leoni were missed from the cast, their substitutes, Miss Julia Callow and Mr. Charles C. Jones, of the Callow Opera company, acquitted themselves most acceptably. Mr. Huntington is a recent acquisition and has a fine voice. His first few performances wear off promises to prove a good "find." Miss Laura Millard as the Princess Lydia sang the raven's credo to herself as well as the organization of which she is the leading light. Mr. Martin Pachy as the war correspondent Julian Harde, harrangue and sang the raven's credo to himself as well as the organization of which she is the leading light.
