ROYALTY SAID TO AGAIN BE IN POWER

Friendly Relations, However, Are Still Maintained with the Legation of the Provisional Government by the United States—Hints Dropped.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The chief interest in the Hawaiian situation now surrounds the instructions given to Minister Willis and the contents of the cipher message which was received after the arrival of the China.

While the same answer regarding instructions to foreign ministers is made at the department, "that such instructions are never made public," yet it seems that from time to time something does come out.

A number of people are now quite familiar with some important features of the instructions. There is no doubt of Minister Willis being instructed to make a restoration of Liliuokalani conditional upon full amnesty being granted to the men who engaged in the revolution and overthrew the queen.

Minister Willis, it is understood, was instructed to insist upon this because the president felt that the revolution would not have occurred had it not been for the assistance and co-operation of this government through the late Minister Stevens.

Guaranteed Protection.

Mr. Willis was instructed to say to these members of the government that the president felt that he ought to protect them to this extent, because he believed that had it not been for the authority of the United States used by Minister Stevens they would never have been led into the revolution.

The instructions, it is thought, requested the minister to first call upon the queen and tell her the president believed a great wrong had been done and after insisting upon amnesty declare the intention of placing her in control of the government.

She was also to be informed that it was the desire of the president that she should placate those who had been instrumental in her overthrow and sustain herself in authority without the assistance of the United States.

From the cipher dispatch it is believed that the State department has been informed that these conditions are satisfactory to the queen and had been accepted by her at the time the China sailed.

To President Dole it is understood that Minister Willis was instructed to say that the president felt that in maintaining the non-interference policy of the government, he felt it necessary to do this matter as a dispute had been referred to him, and restore the queen, and in sustaining the queen the president hoped to have the hearty co-operation of the members of the Dole administration, which he felt was entitled to commendation for what it had done to maintain peace in the islands since it had been in existence.

After having righted what it considered a wrong done by the government, the United States would assume the same policy of non-interference as in affairs of other powers.

Liliuokalani Will Comply.

It is thought that the queen was ready to comply with the suggestions, and that she will ask the members of the provisional government to aid her, because her friends, no doubt, believe that she can more easily sustain herself by having the assistance of those who were prominent in the revolution. The members of the provisional government will be willing, it is believed, to take such positions, because it is giving them just the power they would wish for in case they desired to take part in another revolution, which is possible, if there is no provision made to sustain the queen after she is restored.

It is upon the yet unpublished report of Mr. Blount that the administration depends for a complete vindication of its attitude. It is anticipated that there will be warm debates upon the subject when it comes before congress, which will bring out all the facts.

The information upon which the letter of Secretary Gresham was based will then have been made public, and while it is anticipated that the department matter will be disposed of, it is claimed that they will be sustained by such overwhelming evidence that the people who are disposed to look at the matter fairly will be compelled to acknowledge that the administration could do nothing else but restore the queen.

Placed on the Defensive.

There is no doubt but the administration feels that it is on the defensive, and that there is a tendency, especially among republicans and many democrats, to criticize its action. The claim that time will show beyond all doubt that it took the proper course is made with such persistency in various quarters, as if with the intention of creating the impression that there is a great deal in reserve for vindication purposes. There is no denying the fact that there are a great many men, who are partisans of the president, who feel that a mistake has been made, and who are endeavoring themselves to the restoration of the queen, and especially sustaining her by force of arms.

There are enough members of the administration who say that it is all right to restore the conditions that existed before the revolution, if it was brought about by the influence and assistance of the United States government or through the influence of Minister Stevens, but after that the Hawaiians should be allowed to settle their troubles in their own way.

In answer to the assertion made that the president and secretary of state are destroying a republic and setting up a monarchy, the statement is made that there never existed a worse despotism than that of the provisional government in Hawaii. An official of the department said today that "it was despotism of five persons and the people were held under their absolute control." He also asserted that there would be a great change in the sentiment of the people when all the facts were known.

Keeping Their Mouths Closed.

Persons in the State department continue absolutely uncommunicative about any new phase of the situation. Some idea of the accuracy of published assertions that have been advanced as speculations and persisted in can, however, be had. This it is proved that the contents of this government will be that the provisional government of Hawaii came to an end by its own terms when United States Minister Willis notified President Dole that the United States rejected the project of annexation of the islands on the grounds that the government was only formed to act until the islands could be annexed. The law, however, limitations hold that the terms "until" a thing occurs terminates the easo only by the recurrence of the thing unless it is impossible to occur, and in this case the legal quibble as to whether the decision of President Cleveland to reject annexation made it impossible that annexation ever would occur.

Those best qualified to speak for President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham, who have been willing to speak at all, have expressed great confidence in the ex-Queen Liliuokalani has already been restored to her throne no later than last Wednesday. The equally confidential associates of those best acquainted with the character and resources of the provisional government, that she certainly could not have been restored without the best of friends, makes an assurance, apparently, in the confidence of those who claim that she has been restored.

Probably Used Force.

This has led to the inference that Minister Willis' instructions were to employ force, necessary to overthrow the queen, for which he was sent, and that marines were probably landed in Honolulu on Wednesday for an object in this official of the provisional government, the program proposed. But Secretary Gresham's formal acknowledgment of severed relations between the Hawaiian government and this government make it seem incredible that instructions can have been given to land marines in Honolulu for purposes of overthrowing the provisional government.

The confidence of those near the president that the queen has been already restored is thought to be due to their belief that the provisional government would yield immediately to the suggestion of the United States minister that the Hawaiian government be restored to the queen's administration. It is believed Minister Willis' instructions are, if the provisional government yields to his suggestions, to await further instructions.

A prominent official of the Navy department, after inquiring for news today, said: "I don't wish to yield to the land marines in Honolulu."

The favorable response of naval officers to a query for their opinion on the Hawaiian question is, in their opinion, not to feel free to express it.

Biography of Liliuokalani.

The original right of the queen to the throne of Hawaii was by nomination of her brother, King Kamehameha III, who was founded on custom, provided for in a mode of succession. When a monarch failed to provide a successor the choice reverted to the Hawaiian people.

Liliuokalani died in 1873, after a very brief reign, he named his successor. The House of Nobles chose David Kalakaua. He had a brother, King Kamehameha IV, who had played a banjo at dances for a consideration. His wife, Kapulani, had been the widow of a South Sea Island missionary. At one time she was a member of the Hawaiian royal household. Kalakaua's mother was of the blood of the old chiefs, as was his reputed father. It is generally believed that he was a negro barber. Kalakaua and his full sister, Liliuokalani, show wide divergence from the Hawaiian racial type.

The late Princess Kaiulani, who was the half-sister of Liliuokalani, was of pure native blood, and her appearance was in marked contrast to that of her brother and sister. A legend is told of her death, which is being widely instilled by the forces of foreign powers.

ON FRIENDLY TERMS.

Minister Thurston's Standing Not Affected by the Hawaiian Question.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Minister Thurston of Hawaii has not demanded his passports. His relations with this country are still, to all appearances at least, of the most friendly character. The fact that it is so after the conference he had with Secretary Gresham yesterday is considered by diplomats to be significant.

The Hawaiian government, however, will stand on its rights as an independent sovereignty, and its policy will be to regard as an act of war any movement looking to the restoration of the Hawaiian monarchy, and to remain a country that has declared war against his government. Its natural course would be to demand a passport and to depart without the limits of the hostile country. Minister Thurston, indeed, has no official information that this country has declared war on the Hawaiian government, but he has no official information that this country has declared war on the Hawaiian government, but he has no official information that this country has declared war on the Hawaiian government.

ON PRIVATE BUSINESS.

President Cleveland's Trip to New York City Expended.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—President Cleveland arrived here at 7:30 this morning. He was accompanied by Secretary of War Lamont, and a large number of his cabinet members. He had breakfast in his rooms about 10 o'clock, and afterwards made a private call on some of his personal friends and took a stroll in Central park. He had lunch with Dr. and Mrs. Bryant about 2 o'clock at their residence.

President Cleveland and Mr. Lamont returned to the hotel about 4 o'clock. The president was with Mr. Lamont, who is said to be dining at Dr. Bryant's, after which the party went to the Broadway theater, where Francis Wilson is playing "Ermine."

As he passed into the street he was cheered heartily. He and Mr. Lamont stepped into their carriage and drove to Jersey City, where they boarded the 12:30 express just at midnight for Washington.

During their walk to the theater this evening Secretary Lamont was asked about Mr. Cleveland's trip to New York. "There has been too much said about that already," he replied. "His health is all right."

The president simply smiled. Later in the evening the president said he had never felt better; that he had improved much in his health. "I am very glad to hear that," said a party who says that it is all right to restore the conditions that existed before the revolution, if it was brought about by the influence and assistance of the United States government or through the influence of Minister Stevens, but after that the Hawaiians should be allowed to settle their troubles in their own way.

Major Justice of Minneapolis Meets Them by Special Request.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—Major Justice met the ministers of Minneapolis at the First Baptist church this afternoon in response to an invitation to define his policy in regard to the closing of saloons on Sunday.

The mayor said he was endeavoring to enforce the laws and bring about the best moral results. There were fewer saloons, fewer young men taking their first drink in the lawless way, and the city was more respectable today in Minneapolis, he said, than when he was put in office. He should continue to do his own duty in his own way, as the pastors, having their mission to perform, saw best to perform their duties according to their principles.

LATEST DEED OF SPANISH ANARCHISTS

White Troops Were Marching Through Barcelona Streets to Embark for Melilla a Bomb is Discovered So Placed as to Explode in Their Midst.

BARCELONA, Nov. 15.—Reports are current here of another attempted dynamite outrage in this city. According to the story told, a detachment of troops, bound for a steamer which was to be sent to Melilla, was marching from the barracks down to the dock through crowded streets yesterday evening, when a man who was working upon a house along the route followed by the soldiers noticed a bomb which was attached to a burning fuse upon a balcony and in such a position that if exploded it would kill a number of soldiers on their way to Melilla. The workman is said to have made his way bravely to the balcony, where he put out the burning fuse and informed the authorities of this new outrage.

In addition the gates of the barracks at Villa Nueva, near this city, have been destroyed by the explosion of a dynamite bomb. Though the walls of the barracks were damaged, nobody was hurt by the explosion.

It Was a Hellish Plot.

It is stated Judge Comench has in his possession the names of all the persons who were connected with the bomb outrage at the Liceo theater last week, and that the culprits are in custody. The plan, if successfully carried out, would have involved a wholesale destruction of life. Each of the plotters was to carry a bomb into the theater and station themselves in different parts of the gallery. One was deputized to turn off the gas, and at a signal, the bombs were to be thrown. The man who was to put out the lights failed to find the meter and one of his companions, growing impatient of waiting for darkness, threw his bomb down into the stalls.

IN A LONDON PRISON.

Young Floyd Tells of His Connections with the Anarchist Cause.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—From a remark dropped by Frank Floyd, who, with Phillip Scheie, is now in Holloway jail awaiting extradition proceedings on the charge of robbing the Bank of Minneapolis, it would seem that Louis knows less about Scheie's affairs and the whereabouts of the remainder of the party than he is generally credited with knowing. The remark referred to was made during an interview which an Associated press representative had with the prisoner at Holloway jail today. It appears that President Richard T. Kirby of the Minneapolis bank called to President Gillig of the United States exchange here, who represents the bank, that he had information of the whereabouts of the remainder of the party, and that he had information of the whereabouts of the remainder of the party.

Mr. Kirby said: "Neither of us know anything. When we left home with Scheie I knew nothing about the money, and I thought of leaving on account of domestic troubles. I changed my name because I was afraid known as a friend of Scheie's and did not want to trace it to me. I think I have never had any money beyond what we spent.
