Creedon Finds Moore a Foeman Well Worth His Best Efforts.

TEN LIVELY ROUNDS END IN A DRAW

Both Men Were Eager and Each Gave the Other Plenty of Work—Moore Made a Showing that Surprised the Knowing Ones.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—The much-talked-of meeting between Dan Creedon and Dick Moore of St. Paul, champion middleweight of the northwest, took place tonight at the Casino before 2,000 persons and ended in a draw.

In the first round Moore landed left and right on the wind, which Creedon returned with a blow on the stomach, after which a hot exchange followed.

In the second round Moore landed his left on Creedon's face and got a hard return, the round ending by fainting.

The third round started by Moore landing right and left on the jaw and right upper cut on the face. Creedon then commenced to force matters and landed two upper cuts.

During this round it was noticeable that Moore was fighting for the wind and Creedon for the body.

Both men went at it hammer and tongs in the fourth round. Moore scored two blows to Creedon's one and at the end of the round both men were puffing considerably.

During the sixth round it was give and take and at the end Creedon landed on the jaw, knocking Moore to the floor, where he lay until nine seconds had been counted.

After sparring for wind in the seventh round, Moore landed three soft hard blows on the face, while Creedon returned them with interest in the wind, and then landed a heavy blow on the face.

The eighth round was noticeable for exchanging blows, both men doing considerable execution, but Creedon seemed to have the best of the encounter.

Moore commenced action in the ninth round by landing with his right and left on Creedon's face, who sent in a heavy one over Moore's head.

In the remaining round nothing noticeable occurred, the men taking and receiving punishment, and at the end of the tenth it was a draw.

Creedon had the best of the fight and was stronger than Moore at the finish. He was more scientific and a harder hitter.

James Colville was referee, with Johnny Eckhart timekeeper for Creedon, and Daniel Murphy for Moore, and Spencer Williams for the club.

Moore was seconded by Charley Farrell, Billy Clark and Charles McGee of Boston, while Creedon's seconds were Howie Hodkins and Harry Walker.

MADE A PLACE FOR HARRY.

Veteran Wright to Be Chief of the League Empires This Season.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The delegates to the National Base Ball league convention have appointed Harry Wright, formerly manager of the Philadelphia Base Ball club, a chief umpire, to have general charge and supervision of all umpires.

It is said to be trying to get Wright to take charge of the proposed amendments. The committee on rules and the managers of the clubs went into session to resume their consideration of the proposed amendments. The session continued until late this evening.

President Young announced the result of the work of the committee on amendments. Changes in the wording of rules 41, 50 and 57 were made, and the new rules 53, made yesterday, was made to read as follows: "A foul ball is a fair hit if the ball falls in the infield."

Section 4 of rule 56 was amended as follows: "The umpire may remove a player for an act of insubordination, or for an act of insubordination as described in section 1 of this rule, or for an act of insubordination as described in section 2 of this rule, but under no circumstances shall he remove a player for violation of section 2 of this rule."

Section 4 of rule 68 was made to read: "In column four shall be placed sacrifice hits, which shall be counted as hits, but no one is out, or when only one is out, advance a base runner a base by a bunt or a sacrifice hit which results in putting out the batsman, or would so result if handled without error."

C. A. Byrne, Brooklyn club, exhibited the design of a silver cup, valued at $500, which will be awarded to the winner of the league, to be known as the "trophy cup," and to be played for in a series of three, five, seven, nine games by the club winning the first and second at the end of the season, the cup to be the property of the club winning it three seasons in succession. The fair play of the managers was to accept the report of the schedule committee, after which the committee adjourned until the latter part of November.

Kennel Club Meeting.

The Omaha Kennel club held a very large and enthusiastic meeting in the office of the present, A. C. Whinnery. Among those in attendance were Vice President J. H. McTague, Secretary E. L. Marston, Financial Secretary Charles Frenzer, Treasurer Fred Rath, J. C. Morrison, John T. Evans, L. Hutchins, and a number of other members.

A considerable discussion of the stock was reduced from $25 to $10 a share, and on these grounds the club was in receipt of several applications for membership, and a constitution were also thoroughly revised, some very important and essential changes being made. The question of a York show for the coming year was also thoroughly talked over, and the unanimous conclusion was to give such an exhibition in September. The show was held, while falling short of the organization's expectations, financially, was an unqualified success from every point of view, and received the most complimentary notices from the sportsmen throughout the country.

As an initial endeavor the show has never been surpassed, if equalled, in any city of the west. The fall show will be given on still more elaborate lines, and judging from the quality of the gentlemen interested themselves, a most satisfactory success will be the result.

The committee of twenty who have the matter in charge are in a position to guarantee that no interference of any kind will take place, their offer of a $50,000 purse was refused today by wire, but the committee believes that when their letter reaches New York the offer will be accepted.

It is absolutely certain the fight can take place here and no one is molested, either by the press or the public. The fight has been in El Paso and repeatedly said this climate suited him for training and fighting. Corbett, too, has many friends here.

In addition to breaking the ten-mile record Johnson reduced the American four minutes and over. He did the first quarter in 45 seconds. The American record is 48:48, made by Paulsen. Before Johnson started on his marvelous trip Nordveidt skated one-half mile in 1:25, which now stands as the professional record.
