

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily (without Sunday), One Year, $4.00; Six Months, $2.50; Three Months, $1.50; Single Copies, 5 Cents.

Advertisements: First insertion, 10 cents per line; second and subsequent insertions, 5 cents per line. Classified advertising, 5 cents per line.

Statement of circulation: Total copies printed, 25,000; total copies distributed, 22,000; total copies on hand, 3,000.

It is now the senate that has to expedite its business in order to catch up with the president's pending nominations.

A few straggling spring elections continue to send in additional returns. It is the same old story. This is still a republican year.

It must be a pleasant relief for the president to turn away from veto messages and try his hand on proclamations to the seafarers.

If the number of immigrants arriving at our ports continues to fall off as it has in the last few months the western railroads will soon have no cause to quarrel about the distribution of the immigrant passenger business.

Private enterprise can supplement the work of public improvement in offering employment to Omaha workmen by encouraging new business ventures.

It is to be regretted that Secretary Lamont was unable to favor the local democracy with his views on the political situation.

Receiver Anderson of the Union Pacific interprets Judge Caldwell's decision in the wage schedule controversy as taking the receivers to task for their share in the matter.

We trust the returning members of the Omaha city council will meet no difficulties in trying to make their way through Utah.

Ex-Speaker Reed's caustic criticism of the man who carried an extract from his Boston speech all the way to Denver in order to twist its meaning into something directly contradicted by the context evidently hit the mark.

Senator Wolcott is the latest addition to the list of martyrs to the avenging edict, all because of his opposition on the floor of the senate to the bill compelling the Rock Island railroad to stop at towns outside of its regular stations.

Congress has at last passed a bill for the protection of game in the Yellowstone park and to give the circuit court of Wyoming jurisdiction over crimes committed within its borders.

The railroads set out to delay a decision by the State Board of Transportation upon their petitions for relief from the penalties of the transfer switch law.

Fifty members of the Kansas City Commercial club are just now making a tour of the principal towns of northwestern Missouri.

Real estate agents report an awakening in the realty market. In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of house and lot.

WOLCOT MONEY NEXT.

As determined by the democratic caucus, the next question that will engage the attention of the house of representatives in connection with the currency problem is that of repealing the 19 per cent tax on state bank issues.

It is reported that the proposition to abrogate the reciprocity treaties with Central and South American countries is meeting with strong democratic opposition.

A considerable number of democrats will refuse to be bound by the action of the caucus and will oppose any measure for the removal of the tax, whether accompanied or not with cessation of the tariff.

It will not be developed until some sort of test is made how many democratic representatives feel this way, but it would not be surprising if a majority should be mustered in favor of repeal.

Secretary Carlisle is understood to favor repeal, in common with the southern democrats generally, but this is of no great significance so far as the president is concerned.

Receiver Anderson of the Union Pacific interprets Judge Caldwell's decision in the wage schedule controversy as taking the receivers to task for their share in the matter.

It is to be regretted that Secretary Lamont was unable to favor the local democracy with his views on the political situation.

Receiver Anderson of the Union Pacific interprets Judge Caldwell's decision in the wage schedule controversy as taking the receivers to task for their share in the matter.

We trust the returning members of the Omaha city council will meet no difficulties in trying to make their way through Utah.

Ex-Speaker Reed's caustic criticism of the man who carried an extract from his Boston speech all the way to Denver in order to twist its meaning into something directly contradicted by the context evidently hit the mark.

Senator Wolcott is the latest addition to the list of martyrs to the avenging edict, all because of his opposition on the floor of the senate to the bill compelling the Rock Island railroad to stop at towns outside of its regular stations.

Congress has at last passed a bill for the protection of game in the Yellowstone park and to give the circuit court of Wyoming jurisdiction over crimes committed within its borders.

THE JENKINS INVESTIGATION.

The committee appointed by congress to investigate the now famous injunction order of Judge Jenkins has completed the taking of testimony at Milwaukee, and its members have returned to Washington.

It is reported that the proposition to abrogate the reciprocity treaties with Central and South American countries is meeting with strong democratic opposition.

A considerable number of democrats will refuse to be bound by the action of the caucus and will oppose any measure for the removal of the tax, whether accompanied or not with cessation of the tariff.

It will not be developed until some sort of test is made how many democratic representatives feel this way, but it would not be surprising if a majority should be mustered in favor of repeal.

Secretary Carlisle is understood to favor repeal, in common with the southern democrats generally, but this is of no great significance so far as the president is concerned.

Receiver Anderson of the Union Pacific interprets Judge Caldwell's decision in the wage schedule controversy as taking the receivers to task for their share in the matter.

It is to be regretted that Secretary Lamont was unable to favor the local democracy with his views on the political situation.

Receiver Anderson of the Union Pacific interprets Judge Caldwell's decision in the wage schedule controversy as taking the receivers to task for their share in the matter.

We trust the returning members of the Omaha city council will meet no difficulties in trying to make their way through Utah.

Ex-Speaker Reed's caustic criticism of the man who carried an extract from his Boston speech all the way to Denver in order to twist its meaning into something directly contradicted by the context evidently hit the mark.

Senator Wolcott is the latest addition to the list of martyrs to the avenging edict, all because of his opposition on the floor of the senate to the bill compelling the Rock Island railroad to stop at towns outside of its regular stations.

Congress has at last passed a bill for the protection of game in the Yellowstone park and to give the circuit court of Wyoming jurisdiction over crimes committed within its borders.

THE PALMS OF DAVID.

Kansas City Star (Ind. Dem.): It is not fair to say that the snow gave unstinted satisfaction to the republican members who witnessed it.

Chicago Post (dem.): The plain duty of the democrats is to look this unpalatable traitor and all his vicious brood out of respect or success.

The Pittsburgh Post (dem.): The country will receive by Hill's speech no accession to the stock of information whether the senator will or will not vote for the tariff bill.

Chicago Inter Ocean (rep.): The only trouble with Senator Hill's exposition is that he makes his party the victim of a mistake when the country knows that the party is as responsible for the mistakes and as untrustworthy as it is its leader.

Omaha is vitally interested in the contest now being waged between the civil authorities of Utah and the industrial army in camp at Ogden.

It is a judge can of his own motion grant a new trial in one case for no other reason than to correct a "false impression."

There is little said now about the Wilson bill but the day after tomorrow the republican victories everywhere have silenced that non-sense.

The result of the recent elections means that the defeat of the Wilson bill will be quickly followed by a revival in all kinds of business.

It is becoming more and more evident that in considering the financial question many of the republican members underestimate the intelligence of their constituents.

The meaning of the Rhode Island election is not hard to understand. Her people have become tired of democratic inactivity and bickering.

It is not surprising that Governor Tillman has broken out in a new phase. His entire public career has marked him as an erratic and impulsive statesman.

What is most needed in Washington is a secretary of the treasury who would dare to say that silver when coined in the mints of the country was more important than the coinage of $5,000,000.

BEWILDERED SENATOR FROM KANSAS HAS A SLIM AUDIENCE.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The agreement made between Senators Harris and Aldrich went into effect today, and from 10 o'clock the tariff bill was under discussion.

Senator Morgan took the floor and referred to a manifesto of the Minnesota Democratic association, in which a number of the democratic senators were alleged to be in league with the Hill-Gorman-Pugh coalition in opposition to the tariff bill.

Senator Hale concluded his speech at 3:15 and Senator Peffer finished his speech, which began at 10 o'clock, at 4:30.

When Mr. Peffer began the second installment of his speech there was a fair attendance of senators on both sides of the chamber, but they gradually melted away.

Mr. Peffer's speech Mr. Quay made the point of no return, when Mr. Harris remarked that he regarded that suggestion as a violation of the agreement reached that the tariff bill should be considered between 1 and 5 o'clock each day without any dilatory motions.

Senator Anderson agreed with Mr. Harris in his understanding of the agreement, and remarked that one senator from the majority had been from the minority, as had occurred during the day, could hardly be called the sense of the United States.

Mr. Quay explained that he did not understand the agreement, and he had asked the speaker to ask him to withdraw his suggestion, but the ball had been started rolling and could not be so easily checked.

Mr. Peffer said he did not understand that an agreement between Senators Harris and Aldrich bound the rest of the senate, and he felt that it was imperative to move to an adjournment, an executive session, or to obtain a quorum.

Senators Mansfield and Harris explained the violation of the agreement reached that the tariff bill should be considered between 1 and 5 o'clock each day without any dilatory motions.

Mr. Peffer said he did not understand that an agreement between Senators Harris and Aldrich bound the rest of the senate, and he felt that it was imperative to move to an adjournment, an executive session, or to obtain a quorum.

Senators Mansfield and Harris explained the violation of the agreement reached that the tariff bill should be considered between 1 and 5 o'clock each day without any dilatory motions.

Mr. Peffer said he did not understand that an agreement between Senators Harris and Aldrich bound the rest of the senate, and he felt that it was imperative to move to an adjournment, an executive session, or to obtain a quorum.

TALKS TO EMPTY BENCHES.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The agreement made between Senators Harris and Aldrich went into effect today, and from 10 o'clock the tariff bill was under discussion.

Senator Morgan took the floor and referred to a manifesto of the Minnesota Democratic association, in which a number of the democratic senators were alleged to be in league with the Hill-Gorman-Pugh coalition in opposition to the tariff bill.

Senator Hale concluded his speech at 3:15 and Senator Peffer finished his speech, which began at 10 o'clock, at 4:30.

When Mr. Peffer began the second installment of his speech there was a fair attendance of senators on both sides of the chamber, but they gradually melted away.

Mr. Peffer's speech Mr. Quay made the point of no return, when Mr. Harris remarked that he regarded that suggestion as a violation of the agreement reached that the tariff bill should be considered between 1 and 5 o'clock each day without any dilatory motions.

Senator Anderson agreed with Mr. Harris in his understanding of the agreement, and remarked that one senator from the majority had been from the minority, as had occurred during the day, could hardly be called the sense of the United States.

Mr. Quay explained that he did not understand the agreement, and he had asked the speaker to ask him to withdraw his suggestion, but the ball had been started rolling and could not be so easily checked.

Mr. Peffer said he did not understand that an agreement between Senators Harris and Aldrich bound the rest of the senate, and he felt that it was imperative to move to an adjournment, an executive session, or to obtain a quorum.

Senators Mansfield and Harris explained the violation of the agreement reached that the tariff bill should be considered between 1 and 5 o'clock each day without any dilatory motions.

Mr. Peffer said he did not understand that an agreement between Senators Harris and Aldrich bound the rest of the senate, and he felt that it was imperative to move to an adjournment, an executive session, or to obtain a quorum.

Senators Mansfield and Harris explained the violation of the agreement reached that the tariff bill should be considered between 1 and 5 o'clock each day without any dilatory motions.

Mr. Peffer said he did not understand that an agreement between Senators Harris and Aldrich bound the rest of the senate, and he felt that it was imperative to move to an adjournment, an executive session, or to obtain a quorum.

WESTERN PENSIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(Special to The Bee.)—Pensions granted, issue of March 29, were: Nebraska: Original—Alexander J. Thompson, Pender, Thurston, Additional—John B. Ingram, Hastings, Adams, Original widows, etc.—Margaret Parsons, Rulo, Richardson, Mexican war survivors, Increase—Charles W. Carpenter, Blair, Washington.

Original—Michael Hurd, Dubuque, Iowa; Barney Hanson, Strawberry Point, Clayton, Increase—William T. Morse, Des Moines, Polk, Release—Morris Elmer Smith, Pleasant Valley, Scott, Original widows, etc.—John J. Adams, Edna, Julia Goodwater, Marion, Lind, South Dakota; Supplemental—Beth Davis, Elk Creek, Union; Supplemental—Phineas F. Lull, Pueblo, Pueblo.

AFTER APPROPRIATIONS PASS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The republican steering committee of the senate met today for conference concerning the program to be pursued on the tariff bill. No decision was reached except to allow the debate to go on until the present arrangement as long as possible.

Amending the Immigration Laws. WASHINGTON, April 11.—Senator Chandler today presented in the senate an amendment to the sundry bill, which provides for making an appropriation of $20,000 for the enforcement of the immigration and alien contract laws.

New Banking Bill. WASHINGTON, April 11.—Representative Sherry of Connecticut introduced in the house today a bill to establish a bureau of interstate banks.

Republicans Afire Governor Flower. ALBANY, April 11.—The senate judiciary committee submitted a memorial from the Civil Service Reform league today charging Governor Flower with a violation of the civil service law.

Ill Again Commended. ALBANY, N. Y., April 11.—The house joint resolution commending Senator David Hill for his opposition to the national administration of the tariff and income tax passed the senate today 140 to 11, practically a party vote.

General Slocum Dying. NEW YORK, April 11.—General W. H. Slocum's condition is worse today. His recovery is doubtful.

BROWNING, KING & CO. The largest and best sellers of fine clothes on earth. Special Spring Sale. We have great hopes from the results of this sale, for by this means we will succeed in introducing one of the finest lines of Spring Clothing ever made up.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report. W.A. King's Patent. ABSOLUTE PURE.