AID RECEIVED IN HOLT COUNTY.

Clothing and fuel the principal requirements in this section.

O'NEILL, Jan. 27.—(Special).—The work of the State Relief Commission is being felt to a considerable extent in this vicinity.

A number of carloads of supplies have been unloaded here within the past two weeks and their contents have assisted materially in relieving the immediate necessities of the destitute families.

The success of crop failures in Holt and Boyd counties have left their aftermath in the shape of many families that would suffer this winter without outside assistance.

As a rule the people are in better condition than might be expected, their necessities are taken into consideration, and it is but the hardship on account of the lack of fuel.

INCREASING THE WATER SUPPLY.

Teacumseh City Council Wrestling with the Problem.

TEACUMSEH, Neb. Jan. 27.—(Special).—The committee appointed by the citizens of Teacumseh at a recent meeting, held for the purpose of considering a plan for the improvement of the water system, has reported to the city council.

Contrary to the expectations of many the report was favorable to the utilization of the big spring two and one-half miles northwest of town.

The committee contend that the expense that would thus be incurred is so great for the benefit that would be derived, and that the city's finances would not permit, even were it considered advisable.

It approves the idea of digging a ditch from the Nebraska river, allowing the water to pass through enough soil to properly filter, and using this water when the supply from the creek runs short.

The matter under advisement, which will probably result in the adoption of the plan, is a question of the most serious seasons no trouble is experienced in getting an abundance of water from the present wells.

Gave Up the Governorship that He Might Work for His People at Washington—Fettigrew and the Smooth Young Person.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE

1407 F Street, N. W. There is no more courageous man in the world than Senator Teller. He has passed through many thrilling experiences during his life-time, but on no occasion was his virtue more fully displayed than on the evening after the news of the assassination of President Garfield was received in Leadville.

"A miner coming from the shaft where he had been working all day, upon being informed that President Garfield had been assassinated in Washington, carelessly said: 'He died not too soon.'"

"That unfeeling and unparliamentary remark was passed from lip to lip, until everybody in the republic knew of it. Shortly after midnight a mob broke into the man's house and dragged him to a public hall where a lynch crowd was to be given him. He had absolutely no show for his life. The entire crowd appeared to be unanimous in a desire and determination to hang the man. The mob was carried to the hall, but hanging was regarded as too good for the man. The mob was dispersed and the man was released.
