A special from Washington says: The confirmation of the report that British troops were marching through Brazilian territory to that part of Venezuela claimed by Great Britain will, it is said, bring the international dispute to a crisis at once. In some quarters fears are expressed lest the negotiations be prolonged until England gets all the soldiers she wants in the disputed territory.

HAVANA, Oct. 30.—(Special Correspondence of the New York World-Special Telegram.)—General Campos arrived this morning unexpectedly and quietly, as he is in the habit of doing. After a few hours' rest he will leave for Matanzas, where the situation is becoming so serious that his immediate presence there is of great importance.

When the vast estates of the 5,000 people had recovered from the shock which the telegram seemed to cause there was a cheer that very nearly rent the building in twain. The general was met by a throng of well-wishers and congratulators on the way and patriotic declarations in their state platform concerning the leading questions before the American people and the assurance of their hearty cooperation in the success of the excellent state ticket.

REASONS FOR THE REFORMS

Eighth Warders Hear Arguments Against the City Hall Gang.

ENORMOUS COST OF RUNNING OMAHA

Nearly as Much Money Used to Carry on the City Government as the Entire State Expends.

Despite the threatening weather there was a good attendance at the meeting held under the auspices of the Citizens' league at Wolf's hall at the corner of Twenty-second and Cumings streets last night. There were a half dozen speakers, and none of them recognized the old adage in reference to the merit of brevity, and yet, when the last speaker wanted to cut his remarks short, he was met with cries of "Go on," and it was 11 o'clock before the meeting was concluded.

The meeting was called to order by J. J. Donnelly, Jr., and H. C. Miller was introduced as the first speaker. Mr. Miller reviewed at length the action of the various parties that led up to the conventions that nominated the Citizens' league candidates. He explained that it came from the hopelessness of trying to get reform in the county and city governments on party lines, and appealed to citizens to get together and cooperate in particular to lay aside their partisan prejudices this fall, and next fall if necessary, for the purpose of turning the dishonest ring out of office and placing the government into the hands of the men who are pledged to economy and honesty in the administration of city and county affairs regardless of party affiliation.

James Wolensky, candidate for councilman-at-large, addressed the meeting briefly. He said that the platform pledged to economy in city affairs and that he would so conduct himself that he would leave the office as he entered it, an honest man, a man who would not do anything to reduce the expenses of the city and who would have his hands clean of any and all matters that there would be no record in his accounts.

COST OF THE GANG IN OMAHA. The reform bill was introduced and spoke substantially as follows: "I have become more than ever convinced of the necessity of the reform bill. It is the only way to save the city from the enormous cost of the gang in Omaha. I have here an itemized list of the expenses of the city government for the year 1894, and I find that it costs within $37,000 as much to run the city hall as it does to run the state university, which alone costs $25,000 to support. The pentagon, the home for the insane, the Lincoln Hospital, and Norfolk, Normal school, Lincoln College, and the Home for the Friendless, Institute for the Blind, Asylum for Feeble-minded, and other institutions, including the capital at Lincoln. In proof of this, I have here an itemized list of twenty-four pages of typewritten figures compiled by the city comptroller and auditor of state. Continuing, he said: "I do not claim that city officials are thieves or boodlers, but I do claim they are poor business men, and are running the city in a way that is so extravagant that it is a disgrace to our people. I believe the city could be well governed at one-half the expense it costs today. I hope the day is not far distant when an honest man will be elected to the office of city treasurer, and that he will be able to reduce the cost of the city without first applying to lodge 125, as tonight's Bee proves they have had to herebefore. I believe that the city government is a damnable organization as it is now run. There will be no prosperity here. It makes enemies of the neighbors. It encourages crime, and it is a disgrace to our people. I believe the city could be well governed at one-half the expense it costs today.
