Misses Carrie and Anna Lee, who have been visiting with Miss Mabel Laey, returned to their home in Kewokuk yesterday.

Colonel J. A. Steadman has been invited to deliver an address at the Iowa State Fair, Des Moines, on Soldiers' day. He has accepted the invitation.

M. Pichel and wife of Mitchell, Neb., formerly residents of Lincoln, have returned to the city today to attend the funeral of Mrs. Pichel's father.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Leman arrived last evening from Chicago. Mrs. Leman is suffering from the illness of Mr. Hagen. His son and daughter also arrived yesterday.

The meals given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society in the evening are open to all citizens at their own expense. Dinners and suppers $1.25.

J. Bylander of Red Oak, a bootlegger, was brought in by federal officers yesterday and arraigned before Commissioner Steadman. His bond was fixed at $200. He secured the amount and was released.

Chief of Police Manning has given special instructions to the officers to keep a lookout for glass throwers, and to arrest any man caught throwing glass in the streets.

Another intemperate or excessively drunk Emil Schurz and Doctor Cornelius of the motor company left for Des Moines last evening to attend the sound money democratic convention, with an eleven hour honorarium from the free silver ranks.

Henry Brugenhenke of South Avenue left yesterday to attend the funeral of his father at West Point, Ia. The old gentleman was 80 years old and was one of the pioneers of that portion of the state.

J. Blademan, editor of a free silver paper at Red Oak, was before Commissioner Steadman yesterday. He was arraigned on a charge of grand jury in $200 bonds, which were furnished.

Workmen engaged in repairing the foundation of No. 3 house have discovered that the work was not begun a day too soon. It had been delayed much longer there would have been danger of the building falling.

The Atlantic Trust company instituted foreclosure proceedings in the district court yesterday against Margaret Burke to recover $1000. The mortgage was given by Burke to Myrster's addition. Two interest notes, one for $150, and the other for $67.50, are also made a part of the foreclosure.

Investment company and assigned to the plaintiff company.

Leo Anderson was severely injured yesterday afternoon while engaged chopping down a tree near the residence of his father, J. T. Anderson, on Upper Broadway. By some means the axe slipped and struck him on the back of the leg just beneath the knee. The large muscles were severed and a gash cut several inches wide and to the bone.

Some of the lacerations will be injured for life. It is feared he will be injured for life. The femoral artery was nicked, but not enough to cause dangerous hemorrhage. His father happened to be near by and secured a physician at once.

Ed Tietze, for leaving his team without a driver and unlighted on the streets, was fined $10 by Judge McGee yesterday morning. Tietze had been fined for the same carelessness caused a runaway that ended in the destruction of a carriage driven by Mrs. John Bono. The sentence was suspended upon the promise of Tietze that he would never repeat the offense. The fine of W. W. Hutchinson, convicted of the same offense, was also suspended upon the same promise.

The fine would entail a hardship upon their families. The lesson taught has been a wholesome one and will probably not be forgotten if the driver's fines are not taken from the family store.

A communication was sent to the school board and submitted to the members, but declined to be presented to the board at the meeting on Monday night, advocating the introduction of the kindergarten system in the public schools. The letter was from a committee of teachers headed by Lincoln, Neb., offering their services to the board and suggesting that their salaries could be provided by the state.

Each pupil attending and to be collected by the board. It was stated that the plan was followed successfully in Lincoln and other western cities, and had become quite popular. The proposition met with some favor from the members of the board, and it is possible that favorable action may be taken some time in the future.

FIRST DAY'S SESSION OF BIG CONVENTION.

President Kinzer Presides Over the Preliminary Gathering and the Routine Business is Pushed Through with Celerity.

The eleventh annual convention of the Iowa Christian Endeavor society was convened at the Endeavor tent at the corner of First Avenue and Seventh street at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

There were less than 300 delegates in attendance, but the officers were in no manner discouraged, as they had seen the streets filled with young men and women wearing the badges of the societies and knew that the delegates of the city or coming. The meeting was partly preliminary in character.

Many of the delegates had not reached the city and many who were in the city had been busy in getting located preparatory to the work of the week. Every incoming train during the day brought its quota of delegates and the committees on exercises and entertainment estimate that fully 1,000 delegates will be present at the opening session on the 1st.

The conference of state, district, county and local officers, held at 10 o'clock, in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, was an important one. The state officers: President, A. D. Kinzer; H. E. Roberts, superintendent of Iowa; W. L. Richards, superintendent of Cedar Rapids, who had been selected at the last state convention to superintend the work of placing a library in each church; Miss Hoover, superintendent of prison work; Mr. J. J. Pease, superintendent of correspondence.

A discussion as to the advisability of offering banners for Christian Endeavor work led to a resolution offered by Mr. J. J. Pease, recommending the organization to establish four banners: One for the largest accession of active members, one for the largest accession of new gifts, one for the largest proportionate gift by Juniors, and one for the establishing of the largest number of societies.

Informal discussions upon the best methods of raising money for carrying on district and state work; upon program committees; and upon the advisability of organizing county unions, occupied a good part of the morning.

It was decided that the Endeavor, the state paper, recommend the organization of county unions, publish the list of county unions and publish the times of different district conventions, in order that there be no overlapping of meetings. The engagement of speakers or with the holding of the state convention.

How Can We Get Better Reports From Secretaries? How to Have Larger Conventions? The best method of Aiding the State Paper, were the topics discussed before the close of the conference at 12 o'clock.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION WAS CALLED TO ORDER at 2 o'clock by the president, Rev. A. D. Kinzer of Perry. After the congregational singing of a number of hymns, President Kinzer opened the session by reading a proper spirit for the first meeting of the association. It would be an index of the meetings to follow.

He then led a thirty-minute prayer, after which the secretary, Mr. J. J. Pease, reported on the work of the societies, yet it was thought no formal action could be taken by the conference, as each member of the conference had a different and embarrassing situation caused the subject to be dropped, although many instances were recounted whereby societies which had not been reported on had done the best work.

Question of Location to Be Ignored Until Funds Are Promised for the Transmississippi Affair.

The committee of thirty-five held a long and earnest discussion last evening of the plans for raising about $10,000 of stock subscriptions to the Transmississippi exposition. The meeting was held in one of the upper rooms of the city building. Nearly all of the members were present.

The necessity for prompt action was impressed upon the members by the announcement that the stock books would be closed September 1 and the statement in the Omaha evening papers that only $39,000 of stock remained to be taken was referred to. The question of location was the subject for contention.

All of the members favored East Omaha, but it was generally understood that the only way Council Bluffs could hope to have any voice in the matter was to be found in an argument backed up by a big stock subscription which should not be less than all remaining unsubscribed. George F. Wright stated that the terms of the bridge could be made with the East Omaha bridge company by which the use of the bridge could be secured for traffic purposes and the committee had formed the bridge company that in the event of its continued refusal Council Bluffs would oppose the East Omaha site.

The motor company did not favor the site on account of the large outlay of money it would entail, but had promised not to oppose the wishes of the city. Wright also stated that every man in Omaha who got down to real work and began the preparation of the soliciting committee the plan was proposed and adopted by dividing the city into districts and appointing committees for each district and separate committees for each class of business and professional men.

LIST OF COMMITTEES. Committee to solicit investment men, W. W. Loomis, P. R. Davis, H. H. Van Brunt; whole, house and manufacturers, William Moore, F. H. Hill, F. H. Keys; physician and professional men, Dr. M. Treynor, Macrae, Jr., P. C. Deussen, F. E. Hildner, Dr. W. H. George, S. Wright; horticulturalists and gardeners, J. P. Hess, J. P. Wilcox, Alex. Wood; postoffice employees and clerks, Fred Johnson, Fred DeGroot, W. C. Unthank; hotels and restaurants, original finance committee of nine; county, city and United States officials, A. Hazelton, E. H. B. Hughes, J. W. Palmer; traveling bankers, original finance committee; traveling men, Charles Edwards, E. P. Johnson, William G. Donald, R. J. Day, N. E. Ellis; second district, Broadway east of Fifth street, Main and Pearl streets, Fourth street, Main and Pearl streets and Sixth street from Fifth avenue to Sixth street, P. Gunneke, F. E. Hildner, T. R. Hughes, J. W. Palmer; third district, Broadway from Main to Eighth street, C. B. Randall, E. A. Troutman, J. P. Greenleaf, Fourth district, Broadway from Eighth street to the river, L. M. Schubert, W. C. Boyer, J. P. Hunt; fifth district, Broadway from Sixth street to Park avenue, L. A. Casper, Victor Jennings, Dell G. Morgan, J. W. Palmer.

The stock is divided into shares of $10 each. Not more than 10 per cent of it will be called for this year, not more than 60 per cent in any one year. Each subscriber to the stock will be furnished the stock he agrees to take, with the certainty that he will get a large portion of the original cost, if not all. The Midwinter exposition in California netted the stockholders $68,000 above par value, and the investment proved to be a profitable one.

Every member of the committees appointed is requested to meet at the city building this evening for the purpose of completing arrangements for holding the exposition. The meeting of the committees is of the utmost importance and there should be no absence. No excuses will be accepted for non-attendance. The chairman of each of the committees. Several other committees will be appointed by the committee of thirty-five.

Police Looking for Malleous Drivers. The police were looking yesterday for three young men who apparently attempted to deliberately run down and kill an infirm old man named Shively. The old man was on one of the crossings on South Main street when the young fellows came along in a buggy. He was not getting out of their way as fast as they desired and they apparently turned their horse in his direction and deliberately drove over him. He was knocked down on the granite pavement and badly injured. The young men made no effort to assist him or discover the extent of his injuries but whipped up their horse and disappeared. Strangers carried the old man to the sidewalk and subsequently conveyed him to the nearest hospital. An examination showed that he had received several severe cuts and bruises about the head and chest and internal injuries. The occurrence was not inclined to excite the young men on the plea of careless driving.
