

COUNCIL BLUFFS DEPARTMENT

MINOR MENTION.

Photo supplies and camera, 541 B'way. Miss Beatrice Tinley left last evening for Doon, Ia., to visit her brother.

Lilly camp No. 1, Royal Neighbors of America, will meet in regular session this evening at 7.30.

Dutch Boyington was arrested yesterday on the charge of intoxication and using obscene language on the street.

We offer special facilities to the man with a limited supply of linen. Work returned on such short notice at the Eagle Laundry, 724 Broadway.

Arrangements for the card party have been completed and will occur this evening. The affair will be one of the most brilliant of the season.

Wanted, places for young ladies and gentlemen to work for the season. R. E. Watt, secretary Iowa Business college.

Deputy Marshall J. T. Anderson is confined to his residence by a bad cold, and with what is feared will terminate in pneumonia. He has been sick a week.

There will be a special meeting of Star chapter No. 47, Royal Arch Masons, on Friday, for work on the 27th degree. All master masons are cordially invited to present. By order of the M. E. H. P.

Sheriff Kennedy of Guthrie county is in the city yesterday, on his way home from Clarinda, where he had taken Charles and Milly Phillipsworth to the asylum. The patients are man and wife, and are both demerit.

The manager of the Hevere house filed an information in Justice Cook's court last evening, charging one of his boarders with having jumped a horse. An officer of the court was sent with a warrant to arrest the man.

Chief of Police Channing was advised yesterday by the Chicago police that a fine dog, named "Bobby," had been stolen in that city and that there was a possibility that they had been shipped in the direction of Council Bluffs.

Special sale of stamped linens, beginning Saturday. For the next three weeks free instruction will be given with every purchase. See the new design for Christmas novelties. Free catalogues Mondays and Saturdays. -Misses Clark & Wetzel.

The proposed changes at St. Paul's church have not been begun, so services will be held there as usual tonight. The altar and canopy should be omitted. Bishop Worthington will visit the church for confirmation on Sunday evening, November 22.

Rev. T. W. Williams will commence a series of meetings at the Latter Day Saints' church next Sunday evening and continuing each evening during the week. The subscription for the new edition of "I Think Ye of Christ" will be closed on Sunday evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

The secret order directory committee will meet at 7.15 tonight at the corner of 14th and Iowa streets. All holders and carriers are requested, as it will be the important business meeting of the unit committee. Those who have been appointed by the various units to attend to this matter should be on hand to look after their interests.

Rev. J. C. Hughes, who succeeded President Brooks of Taber college a year or more ago, has been elected a layman, and pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city. He will fill the pulpit regularly until a permanent pastor is secured. Mr. Hughes will occupy the pulpit tomorrow at the morning and evening services.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" was presented by the Woodward Theater company last night at the Grand Opera house. The performance of their new play, "Calliope Camp," which has been written by Mrs. Anna Richardson of this city, at the Grand Opera house has already been sold at advanced prices. The Woodward will close their new management Sunday night with the "Gold King."

When the lodgers' quarters in the city jail were opened yesterday morning the fact was revealed that twelve men had spent the night in the court yard. They were taken to the iron bunk and the bare floor. The room, however, was well ventilated and comfortably heated, and the penitents strangely glad to find the situation so comfortable. Last night almost as many more who sought shelter last night, and all of the morning's crowd of prisoners were taken to the Dakota harvest fields. If all the stories are true told by the tramps who have passed through the city within the last few weeks, the men are working on the Dakota harvest fields that could be found in all other parts of the state.

The honest appearing German who succeeded in passing a number of bogus checks on Council Bluffs merchants is still at liberty, although he is badly wanted by the police to satisfy the demands of the creditors being lodged against him. The last complaint is Frank Schaeffer, a North Main street liveyman. The police are making determined effort to locate the forger. The forger is a French Swiss baker, named Emil Jeanet, who has been around Council Bluffs and Omaha for several years. He was also known as "The Baker" and has worked in various local bakeries. He has been following forgers for several years, and has proceeded with wonderful success in passing the forged checks.

C. B. Viavi Co. female remedy. Medical consultation free. Health book furnished. 309 Merriam block.

N. Y. Plumbing company, Tel. 250.

Forty Candles Kitchen. Big special sale of candles today at the Purdy Candy Kitchen. This is candy that is pure, Taffy, creams, chocolates, Boston chips, etc.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices.

Lowney's chocolates have an enviable reputation for purity. Riekman's is the place to get them.

Mrs. Charles Johnson injured. Mrs. Charles Johnson had a narrow escape from being seriously injured yesterday afternoon in a runaway accident. She was driving a spirited horse on Main street, and when near the Burlington depot, the horse became frightened at the escaping steam of an engine. He ran away, and the efforts of Mrs. Johnson to control him were without effect. The horse struck a woman who was crossing the street, and the horse was going at his greatest speed, and Mrs. Johnson was thrown out upon the granite pavement with fearful force. A couple of heavy lay robes undoubtedly saved her life. In falling, she struck on her face, but the robes fell in a wad ahead of her. The many thicknesses broke the force of the fall, and the woman escaped with only some severe bruises. She was unconscious when picked up, but quickly recovered. The horse continued until he reduced the buggy to a complete wreck, and ended by becoming entangled in the wreckage in a vacant lot. Mrs. Johnson is a bride of only a few days.

All men's woolen hosiery go today at greatly reduced prices at Metcalf Bros.

Hughes wants everybody to have a new hat. So he has a special sale of hats today. Come early to 415 Broadway and avoid the rush.

Real Estate Transfers. The following real estate transfers were reported yesterday at the office of J. W. Spire: John B. Deplense and wife to W. J. Maxwell, 1/2 of ne 1/4, 23-77-39, $2,500. W. J. Maxwell and wife to Joseph A. Coffman, 1/2 of ne 1/4, 23-77-39, $2,500. Heirs of J. P. Cassidy to Christopher Childs, 1/2 of ne 1/4, 20-74-45, $1,000. E. M. Officer and husband to Christopher Buschfeld, nw 1/4 of ne 1/4, 27-71-45, $1,000.

MAKES QUITE A DIFFERENCE

Will Contest the Vote in Pottawattamie County.

TWO DEFEATED CANDIDATES OBJECT

Claims Based on the Alleged Incorrect Marking of the Republican Ballots on Which Two Voters Made Mistakes.

There seems to be no end to the jumble in the returns from Council Bluffs and Pottawattamie counties. After several mistakes in the count and the omitting of the returns from Norwalk township come the serving of a notice of contest by J. R. Lewis and G. A. Haynes. The two defeated democratic candidates for justice of the peace, Lewis is after Ovide Viena's seat and Haynes wants to step into H. O. Cook's judicial shoes.

The claims of the contestants are based on the alleged incorrect marking of the republican ballots on which the voters marked the square opposite the name of S. T. Walker, the independent candidate for justice. The presumption is that these votes were cast by republicans and were voted straight except where the name of S. T. Walker was marked. In this way they claim the vote on the three justices was lost if counted for Viena and Cook. The case is based on the decision of the supreme court of the state on the Marshalltown contest.

To substantiate their claims Lewis and Haynes must show that the votes received by Walker were on straight republican ballots and that the voter simply made a cross in the square opposite the head of the republican ticket and then switched over and crossed at Walker's name. This, the Marshalltown election holds, leaves the other two votes on justice in doubt and no one but the voter has the right to decide whether they should be given. In such a ballot the presumption is that the voter has cast a vote for four justices when he is entitled to vote for but three. Walker received 276 votes and if the other three justices were counted for Viena and Cook, he is entitled to vote for but three. Walker received 276 votes and if the other three justices were counted for Viena and Cook, he is entitled to vote for but three.

Since the election numerous charges of irregularity have been made. One of the latest made is against the returns from the First precinct of the Sixth ward. It is charged that the judges of election all crossed at the name of Viena and then turned out and are of the kind presumed in the petition, it will elect Lewis and Haynes.

Since the election numerous charges of irregularity have been made. One of the latest made is against the returns from the First precinct of the Sixth ward. It is charged that the judges of election all crossed at the name of Viena and then turned out and are of the kind presumed in the petition, it will elect Lewis and Haynes.

MARKS QUITE A DIFFERENCE. The announcement that the vote of Norwalk township had been thrown out caused a decided change in the attitude of the betting fraternity. This, it is claimed, gave Hager a majority of 2,320 in the district. A hot betting was on the congressional majority and several thousand dollars were laid against Hager getting 2,300 more votes than Genung. One of the betters interested in the election made an effort to verify the returns from the nine counties among the morning by telephoning and telegraphing to all the county seats. The figures he received from Hager's majority considerably below what it was first given out as. He said that his figures gave Hager but 2,330 ahead of Genung. There is considerable anxiety in the district of some of the men who settled on the first returns and all are now being held until the official canvass is made at Des Moines by the executive council. This will be done some time next week.

SATURDAY. The Last Day of the Ada Rehan Spectacle. Our contract for the Ada Rehan spectacle closes tonight. Thousands have called at our store to see this beautiful piece of work. Those who have not are cordially invited to come today, as you cannot afford to miss this opportunity.

SOME GRAND BARGAINS FOR THE OCCASION. 50c fine novelty dress goods at 25c. 60c all-wool novelty dress goods, beautiful patterns, 50c a yard. 50c fine novelty dress goods on sale at 25c a yard.

50c grade Bourette plaids on sale at 25c a yard. 1.00 grade black broadcloth silks at 75c a yard. 75c grade broadcloth black India silks, special cut, on sale at 44c a yard.

Black novelty dress goods, worth up to $1.00 per yard, on sale at 60c, 65c and 75c a yard. Heavy Scotch broadcloth, worth 40c, on sale at 25c a yard. Heavy shaker flannel, 81c a yard. White shaker flannel, 81c a yard. Unbleached Canton flannel 4c a yard.

Special prices on blankets and comforters. Good gray or white cotton blankets 50c a pair. Heavy gray blankets, extra large size, $1.25 grades, at 95c a pair. 12x18 grades, at $1.50 a pair. 12x20 grades, at $2.00 a pair. Best indigo blue prints, 3 1/2c a yard. Scotch plaid dress goods, 12 1/2c grades, at 5c a yard.

The Ladies' fleece lined underwear in natural or ecru, a bargain at 25c each. Men's all-wool fleece lined underwear, 50c each. $1.00 grade ladies' all-wool knit underwear at 75c each. Ladies' all-wool mittens, 10c a pair. Ladies' heavy double mittens, 15c a pair. Children's all-wool mittens, 10c a pair. Children's heavy double mittens, 15c a pair.

CLOAKS-CAPES. Ladies' heavy double cape, large storm collar, trimmed with braid and fur, value $9.99, on sale at $2.99. Ladies' heavy cheviot jacket with velvet collar, made in the latest style, a regular $6.00 garment, at $4.00. 50 ladies' fine jackets, worth from $10.00 to $18.00, on sale at $8.99 each.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Cut Glass Beautiful. Just received a complete line of the richest cut glass manufactured. Low prices. Rich designs. Useful articles. Jacquemin & Co., 27 Main street.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. There were a large number of colored people in Justice Cook's court yesterday afternoon to listen to the hearing of the charges brought against William Washington, Charles Turner, Anson and Henry Neally, by John Story, the Omaha man who was established in the back of the Diamond saloon on the night of the Bryant rally. After the evidence was all in the court dismissed the negro boys and ordered the case to be taxed up to Story.

Hoffman's fancy patent fur makes the best and most bread. Ask your grocer for it. Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Lundgard, the Tailor, 139 S. Main street.

PROTEST AGAINST THE CONTRACT.

Gunnella & Co. Object to the Bridge Arrangement with Campbell.

F. H. Gunnella & Co. have filed a written protest with the Board of Supervisors objecting to the action taken Thursday in letting the contract to C. E. H. Campbell for the building of the county bridges. Their communication sent to the board yesterday stated that they were ready to discount the figures on which the Campbell contract was made.

The grounds upon which the protest is based are that the contract was let without calling for bids and that the offer of Gunnella & Co. was not in any way considered. Gunnella & Co. state that they sent a letter to the board agreeing to submit estimates for the building of the bridges on plans and specifications to be drawn up either by the county surveyor or by themselves, several days before the contract with Campbell was signed. A representative of the board met with Gunnella & Co. at the board meeting yesterday and demanded that the communication objecting to the contract with Mr. Campbell be placed on record. This request was not granted and the protest not given any official recognition.

The county board made the quarterly settlement with the overseer of the poor. Huntington reported that he had 106 families on the paper list during the past two months and that thirty-one patients had been sent to the insane asylum. The cost of caring for the poor during September and October was $1,361.67. This included all expenses for groceries, fuel, medical treatment, clothing and other matters. During the same time last year the cost of caring for the poor was $2,088.12, showing a saving of $726.45.

Brace Harris, member of the board, was tendered a pleasant surprise yesterday by the other members in the shape of a gold watch. Harris is a member of the board of the Board of Supervisors and is a member of the board of the Board of Supervisors. Harris is a member of the board of the Board of Supervisors and is a member of the board of the Board of Supervisors.

County Attorney Sandberg reported on the claims suit in the county court. He reported that during the summer diphtheria was epidemic in that part of the county. He reported that during the summer diphtheria was epidemic in that part of the county. He reported that during the summer diphtheria was epidemic in that part of the county.

Great clearing sale of hats today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

Men's woolen hosiery cheap today at Metcalf Bros. Big cut in prices. Monday evening the women of St. Paul's church will give an entertainment at Chambers' academy, opposite the Oglethorpe. There will be a musical program by the Monday Musical club, followed by dancing. Prof. Chambers' orchestra will furnish the music. Admission, 25 cents.

A CLEAR MAJORITY OVER ALL

Would-be competitors CLAIM to have made themselves heard in the CANVASS for the better patronage of Western Iowa and the GREAT state of Nebraska, but there is one CANDIDATE for the intelligent VOTE that up to the latest RETURNS places beyond doubt the original and genuine Sandwich Adams Corn Sheller has had a greater number of sales in this territory than all other corn shellers combined. It is hard work to get them fast enough, but we are hard workers, Catalogue and terms quoted on application to branch house.

Office Telephone, No. 86. Manager's Residence Tel. 303.

SANDWICH MANUFACTURING CO., COUNCIL BLUFFS.

DEFENDS BISHOP WORTHINGTON.

Rev. John Williams Expresses His Views of the Case.

OMAHA, Nov. 13.—To the Editor of The Bee: Now that the soft, white wings of peace begin to hover above the political world and one-half the people are no longer so much necessary or profitable to think the other half thieves, villains, apostates or anarchists, it may be well to begin to heal some of the wounds inflicted during the late war.

During the closing days of the political contest it was false to us here in Nebraska that Bishop Worthington had entered quite actively into the war for the union in the interest of Mr. McKinley. The report of what he had articulated all the evils to which the farmers of Nebraska and elsewhere are heirs to the over-education of the public school system, what the education of the sons and daughters of the farmers was carried too far and on the expense of the parents, and what the position for which they were not fitted by nature, and left the farmer for the city to swell the great army of those seeking after fortune or bread, to their own hurt and to the hurt of the farm and the nation.

Because of the apparently close connection that existed between what he said of the political situation in Nebraska and of the system of public education, whether he said of the latter was made to have a political bearing which was unjust to Bishop Worthington. To correct this error I permitted his permission to state his actual position on the school question as he expressed, or meant to express, himself in the New York interview. The report of what the bishop said as to the political situation was substantially correct, and of that nothing need be said except, perhaps, that it was not ecclesiastical bearing of significance whatever. The bishop's political convictions are his own personal possessions, and no member of the clergy is under any moral or ecclesiastical obligation to vote or think as he did, except as his own judgment and conscience may dictate.

From consideration of the political situation the conversation drifted to other topics. In the course of the conversation there was no connection between what he said of the political situation and his views on our system of public education. He told me that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship. He said that at that point, with what is known as the higher education, at the public cost, he should make no distinction upon the basis of intellectual fitness in each child. If the child was an idler in school, or if he did not possess intellectual ability to go on to a higher education, he should be left to his own devices. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had the power he would see that every child had compulsory education upon all the children of the nation up to the point of making them capable of fulfilling the necessary duties of citizenship.

What the bishop said of the sons and daughters of farmers was only an incident in an extended conversation. He had no connection with the political situation existing, and it had no special reference to the farmers of Nebraska. He was traveling in a carriage some time ago in the central part of New York. Noticing some valuable farms advertised for sale by the way he asked his driver why the owners desired to sell. He learned that the farmers' sons and daughters were grown up and had abandoned the farms for the city. Their parents had grown too old to work or to care for the farms, and they were left to the city. He said that he had no objection to the clergyman who held some radical views on the subject of public education, if he had