

OPENING THE OGDEN GATEWAY

Oregon Short Line to Have No Favorites in Railroad Connections.

LETTING IN ALL ROADS ON EQUAL TERMS

Union Pacific Officials Give Little Credence to Press Reports—Views of Officers of the Other Lines.

The approaching segregation of the Oregon Short Line from the Union Pacific system continues to be the engaging topic of discussion in local railway circles. There was some consternation caused yesterday by the receipt of an Associated Press dispatch from Salt Lake City to the effect that it was definitely known here that the Ogden gateway to the Utah, Idaho, Montana and Oregon territory, now controlled by the Union Pacific, would be opened to other railroads soon after the line connecting to transact business on its own account.

The news was most joyfully received by the Burlington, the Rock Island and the Missouri Pacific roads. If the statement is correct, and railroad men generally believe that it is, the roads named would have a new and valuable territory opened to them. By means of traffic arrangements with the Rio Grande Western, Denver and Pueblo there would be received and delivered passengers and freight at Ogden from and to the Short Line. The result would be greater competition between Ogden and Omaha, a territory that is almost exclusively controlled by the "Overland route."

The other roads would at once put their traveling representatives up along the Short Line and seek to secure business this way that is now handled by but one line. Next to the Union Pacific the road that would suffer most from the opening of the Ogden gateway is the Northwestern. On account of its close relations with the Union Pacific other lines east of the Missouri river are somewhat handicapped in the race for business to points along the Short Line. It is believed that the Milwaukee, as well as the Rock Island and the Burlington roads, would profit by the deal. The Union Pacific would not have its hands tied, however, should the Short Line decide to sever or even strain its relations with the "Overland Route."

The opinions of prominent railroad officials on the rumors of the opening of the gateway to other railroads differ as the interests of their roads are affected. The opinions of some of the more prominent officials follow: General Manager Dickinson of the Union Pacific said: "I have no information on the matter. Even should action be taken later the announcement at this time while the Oregon Short Line is still a part of the Union Pacific system, is premature, to say the least. You say the Associated Press sent out a message from Salt Lake City. Well, if it is a newspaper man putting out a good piece of half to catch some news."

General Manager of the Burlington said: "This is a good thing for the Burlington and the Missouri Pacific. It would let them all into a territory where they desire very much to carry on business."

At the Missouri Pacific office it was stated that that road would be greatly benefited should the Ogden gateway be opened. At present that road cannot sell a ticket from Ogden to Portland, and the only way to route the passenger via Sacramento. Traffic arrangements with the Short Line at Ogden would be of benefit to both the Burlington and the Missouri Pacific. The management of that road is bound to operate it for the most money it can get out of it.

At the Rock Island office it was stated that the effect of such action would be very beneficial to that road, which connects with the Rio Grande Western at Colorado Springs. The Rock Island would then be enabled to get a long haul from Chicago to Colorado on traffic destined for Short Line points which it now delivers to the Union Pacific in this city.

Hutchison Becomes Chief Clerk Under Purchasing Agent Rhoades. Albert E. Hutchison, stationer of the Union Pacific system, in another Omaha man who will remove from here to Salt Lake City this week, having accepted the position of chief clerk to General Purchasing Agent Rhoades of the Oregon Short Line. Mr. Hutchison has been connected with the Union Pacific system for the past twelve years and during the past nine years has occupied the responsible position of head of the Union Pacific's stationery department. The Short Line will have no stationery department at the station, but the stationery will be ordered through the general purchasing office and be looked after by Mr. Hutchison.

No appointment has yet been announced to fill the vacant position of stationer of the Union Pacific. It is thought very likely that the management will, instead of appointing a stationer, consolidate the stationery department with the general purchasing department, having one of the attaches of the latter office superintend the work of ordering and distributing stationery. With the decrease in the extent of the Union Pacific system it is found that several of the lesser departments can be consolidated, and it is said that wherever practicable recourse to this method of cutting down expenses will be had.

Pittsburg & Gulf Cuts the Rate. The Pittsburg & Gulf has made a cut in passenger rates to southern points, and announces that if the other lines refuse to place the new short line rates in the Kansas City rate sheet it will take independent action. This action is regarded as a blow at the St. Louis roads, which have been getting the major portion of the business to Louisiana and southern points originating in and beyond this territory. The passenger rates to many points in the south and southwest from Kansas City will be cut from $2 to $3 by the Pittsburg & Gulf. The reductions will

AMEND JUDGE BREWER'S DECREE

Union Pacific and Western Union Telegraph Case Called Up.

LETTING IN ALL ROADS ON EQUAL TERMS

Union Pacific Officials Give Little Credence to Press Reports—Views of Officers of the Other Lines.

The approaching segregation of the Oregon Short Line from the Union Pacific system continues to be the engaging topic of discussion in local railway circles. There was some consternation caused yesterday by the receipt of an Associated Press dispatch from Salt Lake City to the effect that it was definitely known here that the Ogden gateway to the Utah, Idaho, Montana and Oregon territory, now controlled by the Union Pacific, would be opened to other railroads soon after the line connecting to transact business on its own account.

The news was most joyfully received by the Burlington, the Rock Island and the Missouri Pacific roads. If the statement is correct, and railroad men generally believe that it is, the roads named would have a new and valuable territory opened to them. By means of traffic arrangements with the Rio Grande Western, Denver and Pueblo there would be received and delivered passengers and freight at Ogden from and to the Short Line. The result would be greater competition between Ogden and Omaha, a territory that is almost exclusively controlled by the "Overland route."

The other roads would at once put their traveling representatives up along the Short Line and seek to secure business this way that is now handled by but one line. Next to the Union Pacific the road that would suffer most from the opening of the Ogden gateway is the Northwestern. On account of its close relations with the Union Pacific other lines east of the Missouri river are somewhat handicapped in the race for business to points along the Short Line. It is believed that the Milwaukee, as well as the Rock Island and the Burlington roads, would profit by the deal. The Union Pacific would not have its hands tied, however, should the Short Line decide to sever or even strain its relations with the "Overland Route."

The opinions of prominent railroad officials on the rumors of the opening of the gateway to other railroads differ as the interests of their roads are affected. The opinions of some of the more prominent officials follow: General Manager Dickinson of the Union Pacific said: "I have no information on the matter. Even should action be taken later the announcement at this time while the Oregon Short Line is still a part of the Union Pacific system, is premature, to say the least. You say the Associated Press sent out a message from Salt Lake City. Well, if it is a newspaper man putting out a good piece of half to catch some news."

General Manager of the Burlington said: "This is a good thing for the Burlington and the Missouri Pacific. It would let them all into a territory where they desire very much to carry on business."

At the Missouri Pacific office it was stated that that road would be greatly benefited should the Ogden gateway be opened. At present that road cannot sell a ticket from Ogden to Portland, and the only way to route the passenger via Sacramento. Traffic arrangements with the Short Line at Ogden would be of benefit to both the Burlington and the Missouri Pacific. The management of that road is bound to operate it for the most money it can get out of it.

At the Rock Island office it was stated that the effect of such action would be very beneficial to that road, which connects with the Rio Grande Western at Colorado Springs. The Rock Island would then be enabled to get a long haul from Chicago to Colorado on traffic destined for Short Line points which it now delivers to the Union Pacific in this city.

Hutchison Becomes Chief Clerk Under Purchasing Agent Rhoades. Albert E. Hutchison, stationer of the Union Pacific system, in another Omaha man who will remove from here to Salt Lake City this week, having accepted the position of chief clerk to General Purchasing Agent Rhoades of the Oregon Short Line. Mr. Hutchison has been connected with the Union Pacific system for the past twelve years and during the past nine years has occupied the responsible position of head of the Union Pacific's stationery department. The Short Line will have no stationery department at the station, but the stationery will be ordered through the general purchasing office and be looked after by Mr. Hutchison.

No appointment has yet been announced to fill the vacant position of stationer of the Union Pacific. It is thought very likely that the management will, instead of appointing a stationer, consolidate the stationery department with the general purchasing department, having one of the attaches of the latter office superintend the work of ordering and distributing stationery. With the decrease in the extent of the Union Pacific system it is found that several of the lesser departments can be consolidated, and it is said that wherever practicable recourse to this method of cutting down expenses will be had.

Pittsburg & Gulf Cuts the Rate. The Pittsburg & Gulf has made a cut in passenger rates to southern points, and announces that if the other lines refuse to place the new short line rates in the Kansas City rate sheet it will take independent action. This action is regarded as a blow at the St. Louis roads, which have been getting the major portion of the business to Louisiana and southern points originating in and beyond this territory. The passenger rates to many points in the south and southwest from Kansas City will be cut from $2 to $3 by the Pittsburg & Gulf. The reductions will

Hutchison Becomes Chief Clerk Under Purchasing Agent Rhoades. Albert E. Hutchison, stationer of the Union Pacific system, in another Omaha man who will remove from here to Salt Lake City this week, having accepted the position of chief clerk to General Purchasing Agent Rhoades of the Oregon Short Line. Mr. Hutchison has been connected with the Union Pacific system for the past twelve years and during the past nine years has occupied the responsible position of head of the Union Pacific's stationery department. The Short Line will have no stationery department at the station, but the stationery will be ordered through the general purchasing office and be looked after by Mr. Hutchison.

HAS A RUN OF HARD LUCK

Dropped a Small Fortune in a Worthless Speculation.

MINNESOTA FARMER OUT SEEKING REVENGE

Avoid Holmgren Proposes to Get Even with the Man Who Induced Him to Buy a Block of Worthless Mining Stock.

Avoid Holmgren, who calls Minneapolis his home, was worth $10,000 one year ago. Monday night he was a lodger at the police station because he was unable to spare enough out of his meager hoard to pay the price of a lodging. This sudden fall from comparative affluence to poverty was the direct result of a meeting Holmgren had with a swindler in Manitou, Colo., last summer, and his presence in this city at this time is but a part of a program which he hopes will result in the capture and punishment of the schemer.

Holmgren emigrated from Sweden ten years ago, and located at a Swedish settlement in the vicinity of Mountain Lake, Minn., a town some distance from Minneapolis. He began at the foot of the ladder as a common laborer on a farm, but during the ten years that followed his coming to this country, he practiced thrift and economy and the result was that a few years ago he found himself owner of an unincumbered 100-acre farm. In these years he had taken to himself a helmet and several children had arrived to brighten his farm home. With the accumulation of property and the instinct to gather more, and it was an account of this that he determined to sell his place and invest his money in business in Minneapolis with the prospect of last summer he succeeded in disposing of his farm for $12,000. After this sale and before removing to Minneapolis, Holmgren decided to reward himself and his wife for the years they had spent in toil by taking a vacation. The pleasure spots chosen were Manitou Springs, Colorado Springs and the other resorts.

BECAME INTERESTED IN MINES. It was while the party was in Manitou that Holmgren met Thomas K. Parkore, a rather smooth appearing individual with considerable capital at the Burlington's depot under consideration, but it was announced after the interview that no further information concerning the new structure would be given until the spring of the next year. In the afternoon President Perkins and General Manager Holmgren left for an inspection of the Burlington's lines west of the Missouri river. They will be gone about ten days. In order to anticipate the stories that will now come in from Wyoming and Montana regarding the Burlington's extension to the west, based on the visit of prominent officials, it may be announced on the best authority that the Burlington will not build the proposed extension to Great Falls, Mont., or in the Big Horn basin, Wyo., this year.

STOCKS WERE FORGED. It was then that Holmgren tried to convert his mining stocks into ready money, being confident that their sale would net him a neat profit on his investment. The result, however, was that the stock was placed on the market, however, it was found that the papers were forged. Holmgren, with the perspicacity which had gained him one success in another, decided to start again. He moved his family back to the vicinity of Mountain Lake and sought during the months which followed succeeded in laying up a little money. All the while, however, he was animated with the desire to have revenge on the swindler and finally the impulse could not be resisted. He had laid aside enough money that his family might live for a few weeks, and leaving this behind, he started out about a week ago upon the trail.

Holmgren came into the city on a freight Monday. He intends to leave for the mountains as soon as he is able to get a steal a ride. He is an intelligent looking man, about 35 years of age, and seems to be in earnest regarding his quest.

Catarth is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

HAYDEN BROS. Great Big Bargains. WASH GOODS. Black satens, fast color, 5c. Dress prints 4c. Men's gingham, good quality, 2 1/2c. Everything new in fine sheer summer fabrics. The finest French organdies now on sale at 25c a yard.

PAYMENT OF WATER COMPANY BILL. Rights of the Corporation Finally Recognized. After city officials have been protesting for months against allowing any of the bills of the Omaha Water company, on the ground that such action would be a formal recognition of the company and would sacrifice the right of the city to set up the claim that the contract had not passed with the water plant, it has now been discovered that all the water companies that have been watered by the city have been paid for their water bills. The two bills that this paid were those for water furnished to the library building during the months of August and September. The first was paid September 15 and the other December 5. The amounts are small in each case, but the effect is the same as though the city had paid the hydrant rentals. The bills came in with the other items approved by the library board and as this was before Comptroller Westberg required the various boards to certify bills with their vouchers they were approved by the council and ordered paid and the fact was not discovered until yesterday.

One of the "Baker Gang" on Trial. Fred Baker, one of the "Baker gang" of car thieves, was placed on trial in the criminal court yesterday. Baker is charged with having broken into a B. & M. freight car and stolen a miscellaneous lot of goods.

BOSTON STORE LARGEST SHOE DEAL

The Entire Chicago Shoe Dept. of the Famous Continental Shoe Co.

PEYTON BOYS ARE CONVICTED

Jury Finds Them Guilty of Trying to Rob Blanche Kennedy.

JURY RETURNS A VERDICT OF GUILTY

Blanche Kennedy, who is the keeper of a gambling house in South Omaha, was assaulted by two men about 1 o'clock a. m. on the date named and was confronted by a revolver in the hands of one of the men. Kennedy was ordered to throw up her hands. He did not comply at once, but a shot which grazed his head hastened his movements and he obeyed orders. One of the men went through his pockets, but before they secured anything the noise of the shot aroused the people in the vicinity and the two men fled. Kennedy was subsequently arrested and identified by Kennedy as the men who had attacked him.

Without doubt the most wonderful remedy for pain is Salivation Oil. It sells for 25c.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS' OUTING

Go to San Francisco for the Annual Convention.

C. W. Henderson and F. L. Sanford, railway mail clerks residing in this city, are delegates from Nebraska to the national convention of the clerks in the railway mail service, which is to be held in San Francisco for four days, beginning March 15. A special train bearing about 200 delegates to the convention left Chicago yesterday afternoon.

Had Saved the Money to Pay His Way to Denmark. Hans Hansen told a tale of trouble to the police last evening. He resides in a dugout a half mile north of Dundee Place in West Omaha, and is a Danish immigrant. Hansen is in America but a year and a half and there are many little things which he does not like, among them a gang of tough young men who live in the precinct and who take pleasure in harassing him.

RETIREMENT OF GENERAL RUGER

Speculation as to His Successor in Local Army Circles.

The retirement of General Thomas H. Ruger on April 2 causes some speculation among officers in this city as to the probable successor as commander of the Department of the East. None of the officers here are willing to hazard a guess on the identity of the appointee as Ruger's successor. They point to the fact that Brigadier General Brock is a member of the Department of Dakota, is the ranking officer, while there is also good precedent for taking Major General Wesley Merritt, commander of the Department of the Missouri. They say General Sheridan went from Chicago to New York, as did also General Miles, and some of the officers of the Department of the Missouri might be similarly chosen. The officers say there is not much difference in the relative position of the departments outside of the Department of the East and the Department of the Missouri, but that the rank of the former is first, and the other third, with the rest of them about on a footing.

Asks for a Little Light. OMAHA, March 9.—To the Editor of The Bee: After reading the account of the trial of the modest Canon Whitmarsh has not been overcome; how Everts has shown no intention of retreat; I am not a Unitarian or Universalist or Hebrew. I have been the age of 16, and today at the age of 60, I do not know whether I am a Christian or pagan. It seems as if many one can take the Bible and build up a belief that may seem proper for himself. After reading the very laudable declaration of Cullingsworth in the city has thus left me with a feeling that "looking around at human kind he can see nothing but brutality and ruthlessness. Either the Creator is not all-powerful or he is not all-wise. A little cross-examination brought out the fact that these relatives have been dead for seven years. Starkweather is being held for investigation.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

They Kissed and Made Up. Mrs. Beach, who Monday afternoon made complaint to the police that her husband had threatened to kill her because she refused to live with him, went to Justice of the Peace Cookrell's court during the afternoon and caused the husband to be arrested. The man was kept in the county jail over night, but yesterday he and his wife settled their difficulty and the case was dismissed. Mrs. Beach was living at 1315

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

PEYTON BOYS ARE CONVICTED

Jury Finds Them Guilty of Trying to Rob Blanche Kennedy.

JURY RETURNS A VERDICT OF GUILTY

Blanche Kennedy, who is the keeper of a gambling house in South Omaha, was assaulted by two men about 1 o'clock a. m. on the date named and was confronted by a revolver in the hands of one of the men. Kennedy was ordered to throw up her hands. He did not comply at once, but a shot which grazed his head hastened his movements and he obeyed orders. One of the men went through his pockets, but before they secured anything the noise of the shot aroused the people in the vicinity and the two men fled. Kennedy was subsequently arrested and identified by Kennedy as the men who had attacked him.

JURY RETURNS A VERDICT OF GUILTY

Blanche Kennedy, who is the keeper of a gambling house in South Omaha, was assaulted by two men about 1 o'clock a. m. on the date named and was confronted by a revolver in the hands of one of the men. Kennedy was ordered to throw up her hands. He did not comply at once, but a shot which grazed his head hastened his movements and he obeyed orders. One of the men went through his pockets, but before they secured anything the noise of the shot aroused the people in the vicinity and the two men fled. Kennedy was subsequently arrested and identified by Kennedy as the men who had attacked him.

Without doubt the most wonderful remedy for pain is Salivation Oil. It sells for 25c.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS' OUTING

Go to San Francisco for the Annual Convention.

C. W. Henderson and F. L. Sanford, railway mail clerks residing in this city, are delegates from Nebraska to the national convention of the clerks in the railway mail service, which is to be held in San Francisco for four days, beginning March 15. A special train bearing about 200 delegates to the convention left Chicago yesterday afternoon.

Had Saved the Money to Pay His Way to Denmark. Hans Hansen told a tale of trouble to the police last evening. He resides in a dugout a half mile north of Dundee Place in West Omaha, and is a Danish immigrant. Hansen is in America but a year and a half and there are many little things which he does not like, among them a gang of tough young men who live in the precinct and who take pleasure in harassing him.

RETIREMENT OF GENERAL RUGER

Speculation as to His Successor in Local Army Circles.

The retirement of General Thomas H. Ruger on April 2 causes some speculation among officers in this city as to the probable successor as commander of the Department of the East. None of the officers here are willing to hazard a guess on the identity of the appointee as Ruger's successor. They point to the fact that Brigadier General Brock is a member of the Department of Dakota, is the ranking officer, while there is also good precedent for taking Major General Wesley Merritt, commander of the Department of the Missouri. They say General Sheridan went from Chicago to New York, as did also General Miles, and some of the officers of the Department of the Missouri might be similarly chosen. The officers say there is not much difference in the relative position of the departments outside of the Department of the East and the Department of the Missouri, but that the rank of the former is first, and the other third, with the rest of them about on a footing.

Asks for a Little Light. OMAHA, March 9.—To the Editor of The Bee: After reading the account of the trial of the modest Canon Whitmarsh has not been overcome; how Everts has shown no intention of retreat; I am not a Unitarian or Universalist or Hebrew. I have been the age of 16, and today at the age of 60, I do not know whether I am a Christian or pagan. It seems as if many one can take the Bible and build up a belief that may seem proper for himself. After reading the very laudable declaration of Cullingsworth in the city has thus left me with a feeling that "looking around at human kind he can see nothing but brutality and ruthlessness. Either the Creator is not all-powerful or he is not all-wise. A little cross-examination brought out the fact that these relatives have been dead for seven years. Starkweather is being held for investigation.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Nebraska City Water Works Case. Judge Munger yesterday listened to an argument upon the report of Referee C. H. Marple in the Nebraska City water works case. He found that the city had the right to lower the price of hydrant rent from the figure agreed upon in the contract with the company, but also found that the city could compel the company to live up to its contract so far as it related to furnishing good water and plenty of it. The report is being considered and the court has taken the matter under advisement.

Advertisement for Nebraska Clothing Co. featuring a $2.00 suit and a special March sale of furniture. The ad describes the quality of the suits and the variety of furniture available at reduced prices.

Advertisement for CHAS. SHIVERICK & CO., featuring a special March furniture sale. The ad lists various furniture items and their prices, including Mahogany sideboards, chairs, and tables.

Advertisement for SAPOLO Vose & Sons' Pianos. The ad promotes the quality and value of their pianos, highlighting new conditions and the expertise of their tuner, A. C. Mueller.

Advertisement for GLADHAYS DIAMOND SOAP. The ad emphasizes the soap's effectiveness in cleaning and its pleasant fragrance, noting it as a better and cleaner alternative to other laundry soaps.

Advertisement for TURKISH L. M. CAPSULES. The ad claims that these capsules restore manhood and improve health, specifically mentioning their benefits for the brain and nerves.

Advertisement for THE BEE newspaper. The ad highlights the paper's role in reporting on local and national news, its sports editor, and its commitment to providing timely and accurate information to its readers.

Advertisement for BAILEY THE DENTIST. The ad promotes Bailey's services as a pioneer in dentistry, offering a wide range of dental treatments and a comfortable, professional environment.

Advertisement for 'The Best Machines for Keeping Time' featuring American Waltham Watches. The ad describes the precision and reliability of these watches, available in various styles like 'RIVERSIDE' and 'ROYAL'.

Advertisement for Pozzoni's Complexion. The ad promotes a skin treatment that produces a soft and beautiful complexion, suitable for all skin types.