STATE CASH IN BROKEN BANKS

Some Analogous Features of the Recent Failures in Nebraska. RESULTS OF EX-TREASURER'S METHODS

Public Money in Excess of Legal Provisions Placed in Depositories and Involved in Subsequent Bankruptcy.

Lincoln, May 23.—(Special.)—Certain facts in connection with the relations that existed between ex-State Treasurer Bartley and three banks that failed recently at various points in this state have just been made public here and throw considerable light on the financial deals of the ex-estate official, who cannot satisfactorily account for all the public money that should have been in the exchequer when he gave up his office.

In the case of the bank at Orleans, the bank, as a state depository, gave a bond for $35,000. This bond entitled the bank to receive not over $17,500 of state money on deposit. As a matter of fact, $20,541 of state money was due the state from the Orleans bank when Bartley went out of office. When the supreme court decision on the depository funds was handed down Treasurer Meserve drew on the bank for $500, but the draft came back to him dishonored. About three weeks ago the Orleans bank finally paid the amount he had drawn on the bank, but an even $20,000 of state money still owing.

The situation with respect to the failed Orleans bank is very analogous to that of the failed bank at Omaha, but the latter was in Harlan county, not a great distance from Orleans. Several remarkable coincidences would seem to prove that the two banks of Orleans and Alma. The Alma bank failed the day after Treasurer Meserve came into office. It had given a bond for only $50,000, and it was legally entitled to receive as a state depository $25,000.

The failed bank at Omaha, however, was not a state depository. It had given a bond for $100,000, and it was legally entitled to receive as a state depository $50,000. The failed bank at Omaha, however, was not a state depository. It had given a bond for $100,000, and it was legally entitled to receive as a state depository $50,000.

It is believed that the $55,000 represented by the eleven certificates of deposit by Bartley was not a state depository. It was a private bank, and it was not a state depository. It was a private bank, and it was not a state depository.

BOARD CANNOT SELL THE BONDS. Adams County Denied the Privilege of Redeeming Its Securities.

Lincoln, May 23.—(Special.)—A couple of weeks ago a committee of county officers from Adams county came to Lincoln and met with the Board of Educational Lands and Funds, where it asked that Adams county might be allowed to redeem an amount of county bonds now held by the state, and which do not mature for a year or more. The board refused to do this because under the new depository law the banks of that county cannot take all of the county funds. The board has obtained a writ of habeas corpus, which has just given the following opinion:

To the Honorable the Board of Educational Lands and Funds: The board of Adams county has applied to you for a writ of habeas corpus to compel you to issue the bonds of Adams county, which do not mature for a year or more, to the county. The board of Adams county has applied to you for a writ of habeas corpus to compel you to issue the bonds of Adams county, which do not mature for a year or more, to the county.

The statute gives the board the power at any time to issue the bonds of Adams county, which do not mature for a year or more, to the county. The board of Adams county has applied to you for a writ of habeas corpus to compel you to issue the bonds of Adams county, which do not mature for a year or more, to the county.

Some years ago the supreme court decided that the board of Adams county has the power to issue the bonds of Adams county, which do not mature for a year or more, to the county. The board of Adams county has applied to you for a writ of habeas corpus to compel you to issue the bonds of Adams county, which do not mature for a year or more, to the county.

Without exception the reports from all parts of Nebraska indicate there will be a bountiful fruit crop this year. Reports from over the state are to the effect that an unusually large proportion of corn is being listed this year.

ROCK COUNTY'S COURT HOUSE

Important Point Decided by District Court at Bassett. BASSETT, Neb., May 23.—(Special.)—A special term of the district court was held here yesterday with Judges Westover and Kinkaid sitting together, for the purpose of having determined the question of the right of the people of Rock county to have the court house rebuilt without first having the money appropriated for that purpose by a vote of the people. The facts, briefly, in the case are as follows:

The court house in this (Rock) county had been built eight years ago from the proceeds of bonds voted by Bassett and vicinity. The bonds were sold to the building burned down last March and insurance to the amount of $3,250 was received by the county. The county board proceeded to apply to the state for a loan of $3,250, but that ended gave notice for bids for the rebuilding of the court house. Citizens of the town of Newfort applied for an injunction to restrain the county board from issuing any money or any other funds for the erection of the court house in excess of $1,500 without first submitting the proposition to a vote of the people. It was the intention of the board to use the brick foundation and two vaults of the former court house in the new structure.

The trial of the case yesterday the application for perpetual injunction was denied, Judge Kinkaid giving as his reason therefor that the board had no authority to erect a court house, but was merely repairing the old building, and that there is no statutory limitation on its authority to use county money for that purpose. The court held that the county board had no authority to issue a bond for more than $1,500.

Judge Westover based his judgment on the broader principle that the money was not a public fund, but was a private fund, and that the insurance money is the same property which the precinct donated to the county, only in a different form, and that the county board has no authority to authorize its use by the board in the rebuilding of the court house at a cost of more than $1,500.

This question has never been passed upon by the Nebraska supreme court, and without doubt that court will now get a chance to settle the law on this important point.

YOUNG PEOPLE TAKE DIPLOMAS. Nebraska High Schools Turn Out Mason City, Neb., May 23.—(Special.)—The high school closed Friday evening with appropriate exercises. The class of '97 consisted of six young women and one young man. Prof. Barnaby has given excellent work and the patrons are well satisfied.

The graduating exercises of the Bennett High school were given Friday night at the Presbyterian church. There were twelve members of the class who were graduated. The exercises were given by Rev. J. H. Corrie, pastor of the church. The exercises were given by Rev. J. H. Corrie, pastor of the church.

ARCADIA, Neb., May 23.—(Special.)—Prof. A. B. Fairchild, treasurer of Doane college, Nebraska, has received an address on educational matters at this place, and at that time he offered a six-years' scholarship to Doane college to the member of the graduating class of the Arcadia high school having the highest average standing. There has been a lively contest among the members of the class in final examinations for the scholarship which was won by Clarence Beard, who is only 14 years old. The scholarship was won by a general average of 96.47.

JUST AT THIS SEASON.

Spring the Most Dangerous of the Year. This is the most dangerous season of the year. It may be pleasant, may often seem attractive, but back of all the pleasant atmosphere there is danger! This danger comes in some form of sickness, some ailment, some attack of cold or influenza, and that is the use of a good, pure, strong stimulant. Nothing ordinary will do it. It must be something sure in its action and scientific in its preparation. The remedy nothing has ever equaled Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which is acknowledged today by physicians and scientific men to be the only pure medicinal whiskey on the market. Duffy's Pure Malt is always reliable and effective. People should not, however, purchase any cheaply advertised substitute, which is claimed to be "just as good" or "about the same thing."

The following is good advice from a prominent medical journal: "Pneumonia and other dangerous coughs, which result from a neglected cold, can always be avoided if a timely remedy is taken. When chilly sensations are felt they should be stopped immediately or serious consequences will follow. There is only one way known to the world of avoiding a cold or influenza, and that is the use of a good, pure, strong stimulant. Nothing ordinary will do it.
