

BUILDING FOR NEBRASKA

State Exposition Commission Considering Plans Submitted by Architects.

Will Probably Decide Upon One Today

Availability of Space for Exhibits in Other Buildings Will in a Measure Affect Plans Agreed Upon.

The Nebraska Exposition commission commenced its second regular meeting at the DeLains late yesterday afternoon. It was nearly 5 o'clock before all the members had arrived in the city and the board was at once convened for business.

Before the meeting was done Mr. Dutton suggested that the commission first agree as to the commission which should be paid to the successful architect for his plans and detail drawings, it having been agreed at the last meeting that the commission would employ its own superintendent and mechanics.

Mr. Whitford said he had understood that the exposition management would pay the supervising architect a fixed salary, and employed his draughtsmen by the month to make all the detail drawing for all the buildings, and that the architect of the main buildings had been paid a fixed amount without regard to the cost of the buildings.

Mr. Boydton's motion did not receive a second, and Mr. Dutton wanted to fix the commission at 2 1/2 per cent. His motion to that effect was seconded by Mr. Poynter and an argument was made by all the members. The matter was finally settled on the basis suggested by Secretary Casper, who moved that the compensation of the architect be fixed at 2 1/2 per cent.

The architects were then invited to submit their plans, and each man was given ten minutes to explain his drawings. These were read by the order in which they appeared before the board, were: Zander of Omaha, Ritzenhouse of Hastings, Irwin of Omaha, Voss of Omaha, and Crockett of Lincoln.

The examination of these plans occupied the time of the board until after 6 o'clock and an adjournment was taken until 7 o'clock without making any selection of a plan.

In accordance with instructions issued by the commission the architects have been submitting their plans to all of the various associations of agricultural or kindred interests, requesting estimates of the money that would be required to erect the exhibits in their lines. The same letter was also sent to the various state institutions.

In reply to these letters estimates have been received from several of the parties addressed. Of the associations, the poultry men lead the list, their estimate being that about $6,000 will be required to make a display of the poultry industry in keeping with the magnitude of that business in this state. The bookkeepers are more moderate and ask for only $2,500. The agricultural interests are covered by an estimate submitted by Secretary Furnas of the State Board of Agriculture, who writes that he thinks that $12,000 will be the maximum amount which will be required to make a display of the products of Nebraska in a manner befitting its importance. The Nebraska Fish commission submits an estimate of $5,190 for a state exhibit of the fish industry.

SCHOOL FOR MUTES. For the state institutions one of the most interesting reports is made by Prof. J. A. Hillier of the Institute for the Deaf and Blind, who asks for about $1,200, and with this he proposes to make an exhibit which will be one of the most attractive features on the exposition grounds—a living school of deaf-mutes, showing the most advanced methods of instruction, including the method used for teaching the pupils the use of their hearing and speaking faculties. It is proposed to have this school in operation about an hour each day, with a dozen pupils a teacher and an attendant. In addition the exhibit will include examples of the work of the pupils which will be shown in the educational department.

The University of Nebraska will also be in the field with an exhibit which will be of much more than passing interest. The plan is stated rather briefly in the report, but it is able to make an exact estimate of the amount which will be required for the entire exhibit, but says that $600 will probably be sufficient for the university exhibit proper, exclusive of the dairy school and sugar school. The chancellor suggests that $2,000 might be required for the entire exhibit, and advocates the idea of having the state herd of about ten Jerseys, with attendants on the grounds showing the dairy school in full operation with the most advanced methods of handling dairy products, making butter, cheese, etc. With reference to the sugar school, the chancellor says that the importance of this school, and says that he has requested Prof. Nicholson to inform the commission regarding the amount of space which would be required for the exhibit, and the expense of making an exhibit of the best sugar industry of Nebraska on a scale commensurate with the extent and possibilities of the state in the production of sugar. It has yet been heard from Prof. Nicholson by the commission regarding the matter.

FOR A GEOLOGICAL EXHIBIT. Regarding the exhibit to be made by the university, Chancellor Nicholson has made a most interesting geological exhibit can be made of the geological freaks found in the northwestern part of the state. He has secured samples of the "devil's corkers," which are found nowhere else on the face of the earth.

Mr. F. M. Ford, secretary of the Woman's Board of Managers repeats the request made heretofore, that the commission set aside $5,000 for an exhibit of the best and feeblest mind have not written to the commission regarding the amounts which will be required for exhibits by them. It is expected that Superintendents Jones and Fall of the institutions named will attend the meeting of the commission to present their respective requests.

COLLECTING GRAINS AND GRASSES. When the board reconvened Assistant Secretary Casper called on for a report on the replies received from the various agricultural societies regarding the collection of grains and grasses for exhibit. He read a large number of letters received from nearly every section of the state. These letters were generally unsatisfactory and demonstrated that this method would never result in a collection which would be worth shipping to Omaha.

The members of the board were unanimous in the opinion that it was absolutely necessary that one or more men be appointed at once to gather these grains and grasses at once before it was entirely too late. In this connection a letter from Secretary Furnas of the State Board of Agriculture was read, stating that 10,000 "tufts" of wheat, oats, etc., would be required for decorating and that these must be gathered at once.

It was decided to employ one man at a salary of $65 per month to collect the necessary specimens of grains and grasses for decoration and for exhibits, and to store them in a suitable manner. E. D. Johnson of Lexington was elected to this position. The matter of selecting a plan for a state building was then brought up, and Mr. Poynter suggested that before proceeding any further in that direction an understanding should be had with the exposition management regarding the amount and location of the space which would be required for the state exhibits, and the amount of money which would be charged by the exposition. Mr. Poynter said it might be desirable for

CONTINENTAL CLOTHING CO. PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL. Lobeck Introduces an Ordinance Against Wine Rooms.

All members except the mayor were present at the regular council meeting last night. The principal feature of the session was an ordinance introduced by Lobeck for the purpose of abating the wine room nuisance.

It provides that no saloon shall have more than one wine room, and establishes a fine of $50 for every day that the ordinance is violated. It was referred to the committee on police.

The plans for repaving Farnam street from Twelfth to Thirty-sixth street were transmitted by City Engineer Rosewater and referred to the committee on paving and sewerage.

Treasurer Edwards asked for instructions in regard to the sale of the refunding and renewal bonds that he issued and was referred to the committee on finance.

Commissioner Sackett applied for permission to use the council chamber some afternoon during the next three weeks for the purpose of holding a public meeting for the expression of public sentiment relative to the 1898 assessment. It was granted.

The city electrician was authorized to expend $150 for laying out the conduit for the illumination of the city hall during fair week.

On motion of Mercer the council extended a formal invitation to the American Pharmaceutical association to hold its 1898 convention in Omaha.

An ordinance by Mount, providing for paving Twenty-seventh street from Leavitt to Mason was referred to the paving and sewerage committee. Another ordinance directing the board of public works to advertise for bids was referred to the same committee.

Ordinances were passed as follows: Repealing Eighteenth section of the charter which provided for the Twenty-fifth street from Indiana avenue to Cuming; repaving Twenty-sixth street from Half Howard to St. Mary's street; repaving Twenty-seventh street from Leavitt to west city limits; prohibiting the use of giant fire crackers.

FIVE FIGHTERS TAKEN TO JAIL

Found Guilty of Disturbing a Religious Meeting.

Five women, giving the names of Mrs. Dora Cockerell, Mrs. W. W. Browning, Mrs. John Woods, Mrs. Hannah Ryberg and Miss Lulu Ryberg, belonging to the famous Fligite religious sect in Sarpy county, were arrested yesterday in Justice Meador's court in this county on a charge of disturbing a religious meeting.

The information was sworn out by Rev. William J. Hetherall of the Westminster Presbyterian church, who testified upon which the charge was based took place at a camp meeting held on July 25 at Spring Grove in this county.

Some day morning Constable Johnson served the warrants upon those named, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the corridor outside the justice court in the Karbach building was filled by friends of the prisoners and a throng of the curious. The court had read but the opening lines of the information when the women were taken into custody.

After order was restored the court proceeded to read the information and the hysterical sobbing and interjections of the friends of the women were heard until after the afternoon of July 25 the prisoners did disappear and otherwise make ridiculous a religious meeting held at Spring Grove. The five women were charged with giving their yells during the sermon and interrupting them with cries of "Followers of Satan!" "Did the devil ever get you to come to God?" and others.

To the question put by the court, "Guilty or not guilty?" an ominous silence was given. Then the little woman cried, "Guilty in the eyes of man, but innocent before God." Each of the others made the same plea and promises to the effect that "God would do for them." We are the servants of the Lord, Hallelujah!

The court passed sentence, fining each $10 and ordering that the grand jury be sworn. Mrs. Dora Cockerell, who is also charged with having disturbed the morning meeting at Spring Grove, is imprisoned in the city jail on a charge of disturbing a religious meeting.

When the sentence was passed, the five women in their feet in an instant, exclaiming: "We are the servants of Satan, we are the servants of Satan," cried the excited women as they shook their fists in the face of the court. "To jail! To jail!" they shouted.

Half an hour later the prisoners, in charge of Constable Johnson, were taken to the county jail. The sentence in the case of Mrs. Dora Cockerell thirteen days is the longest term of any of the women.

PARKER HAS AN EXPENSIVE DRUNK. Comes from Ohio and Falls by the Wayside. A. R. Parker of Toledo, O., who has been in South Omaha for some days, was robbed Monday of $135 in that city by a couple of colored women. Parker, who admits that he was intoxicated at the time, says that he met the women on the street at 10 o'clock and scuffled about the sidewalk with them.

The women suddenly left and then Parker scuffled about the sidewalk with them. The women suddenly left and then Parker scuffled about the sidewalk with them. The women suddenly left and then Parker scuffled about the sidewalk with them.

The police have arrested Kittle Owens and identified the two colored women who are always arrested when a case of larceny from the person occurs, but who have never been convicted of the charge. A big trunk and a valise, found in the room of the Owens woman, was also taken to the station. Fred Miller, who was in company with the woman, was also arrested. All three of the prisoners and the baggage were thoroughly searched, but no trace of the stolen money was found.

Parker is not at all certain that the women who were arrested are those who robbed him. Yesterday afternoon Detective Dempsey arrested Maud Stacey and John Simpson, colored, in the Third ward on suspicion. When the arrest was made, Simpson tried to throw a roll of bills. When the roll was reached it was found that the roll contained $129, which Parker identified as a part of the money stolen from him. The two prisoners have been charged with the theft.

Adelle Frazer was arrested last night on suspicion of having been one of the two women who stole $130 from A. R. Parker in South Omaha Monday night. Parker is of opinion that the colored woman is one of the persons who robbed him.

NEW HATS

On or about October 1st we will occupy our New Building, Cor. Farnam and 15th.

The new hats are ready. The prices are $2.50, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00 and 75c.

The styles are a departure from any former season and the colors are in stylish shades of brown and black. One thing Nebraska hats always excel in is service.

They are made right. They are dyed right. They hold their color. They retain their shape. If we don't ask as much money for our hats as other stores it is because we don't care to get rich so fast. We would rather take more time. We would rather sell a full stock Derby or Fedora for 75 cents and sell a thousand of them in the course of a season than to try and get a dollar and a half apiece for a hundred of them as some stores do.

It helps our other business. It makes us more friends. The less money we can get for a hat (or anything else) and make a small profit the better we can serve people who want to be economical, and these are the people we aim to serve. If anybody has ever bought a poor hat at The Nebraska 'tis outside our knowledge. If you have never bought a hat at The Nebraska we would like you to commence this season. You will never find a better time.
