

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

Published every morning. E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily (Without Sunday), One Year, $5.00; Daily (Including Sunday), One Year, $6.00; Six Months, $3.00; Three Months, $1.50; Single Copy, 5 Cents.

OFFICES: Omaha: The Bee Building, 11th and 15th Sts. Chicago Office: 212 Chamber Street, New York: 100 Nassau St.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. Table with columns for Date, Total Copies, Paid Copies, and Unpaid Copies. Includes data for 1897 and 1898.

THE BEE ON TRAINS. All railroad newsboys are supplied with enough Bees to accommodate every passenger who wants to read a newspaper.

INSIST ON HAVING THE BEE. The mistake the Austrian Reichsrath made was in not importing a disciple of Tom Reed for speaker.

South Dakota sugar beets make a good showing in the reports from the chemical laboratory at the State Agricultural college.

War is always costly. Even the little war Great Britain is waging with the hill tribes of the Himalaya mountains in Northwestern India is costing $125,000 a day.

Oh for the privileges of being a state government. The advertisement for proposals for the new issue of Douglas county bonds says that a certified check for $500 must be deposited.

The educational value of the effort of many critics of the new Iowa code to find errors therein cannot be estimated.

Omaha business men have learned that they can fetch almost anything they go after if they stick to it unitedly and persistently.

Good municipal bonds command better bids and more active bidders at present than for years, if ever they had the same market before.

Omaha keeps its pace in the bank clearings record. An increase of 56.5 per cent for the past week over the corresponding week of a year ago.

Men who come to Omaha from other cities to live or to look over property for investment all express great faith in the future of the city.

William Jennings Bryan has often been characterized a horn demagogue. As an adept in the art of masquerading before the public he is admitted to have few if any equals.

In our platform last year we demanded arbitration of questions between labor and capital. Why? Because the laborer is the equal of the capitalist and the government was to decide between them.

Several senators have been reported as being of the opinion that there will be some affirmative action by congress in regard to Cuba.

We denounced government by injunction last year and in so doing we stood upon the principle which I have stated.

More of Bryan's St. Louis demagoguery: We are opposed to trusts. Why? Because we believe in equality before the law.

Whether there will be negotiations for a reciprocity treaty with Canada probably depends upon the action of our government in regard to the proposed international commission.

It is plain now why Chief of Police Sigwart was in position to insist on terms for his resignation.

Revenue is increasing and the treasury gold fund keeps on rising. There is still a gap between the government's income and its outgo.

Working the War Wires. The proneness of the Englishman to boast in the letters which he writes.

Canadian trade. On the other hand the reciprocal clause of the American tariff provides for a reduction of only 20 per cent in certain designated articles.

On the very contrary, the law is explicit in saying that the money is to be used to defray the expenses not of a county exhibit, but of the county's "participation" in the exposition.

We are glad to know that the Bakery's "Special Boston correspondent" has been interviewing Secretary Gage by wire for further elucidation of his currency plans.

The state labor commissioner of Missouri has just issued a report of the workings of the free employment bureau operated under his direction.

One of the subjects discussed at the recent meeting of the American Public Health association in Philadelphia is of particular interest to the users of hot air furnaces.

The citizens of Waco, Tex., who ordered Editor Braun out of town some time ago didn't know anything about the value of a live editor for advertising purposes.

The man who wants the courts to give him $50,000 for tipping off in advance the decision of the United States supreme court in the Bell telephone case is getting a better free advertisement for his business than any actress ever worked out of the most sensational divorce dodge.

It is plain now why Chief of Police Sigwart was in position to insist on terms for his resignation.

Working the War Wires. The proneness of the Englishman to boast in the letters which he writes.

VOICE OF THE STATE PRESS. Norfolk News: Mr. Bryan is studying French. He has talked so incessantly the past two years that his mother tongue must be somewhat worn out.

Hayes County Times: The cow and the hen are the standbys in hard times to furnish the wherewith for the comfort of a family and help along in paying off mortgages.

Norfolk Journal: The governor says the law in the purchase of lumber and building materials is a farce and he won't enforce it.

OUR OVERHEATED HOUSES. Injurious Effects of Breathing Furnace Dried Air. Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

The progressive temperature of the oratorical chamber at the observation of speakers in the New York City campaign.

TOLD OUT OF COURT. Plankinton—I understand that you had to go to law about that property that was left you.

Down in a Virginia town there lives a lady named Mrs. Hilda, who is generally disliked by all the other lawyers in the place.

BLACKLISTING A CONSPIRACY. The Verdict in a Celebrated Case in Chicago. The justice of the jury's verdict for $21,656.33 in the case of ex-Conductor Ketcham against the Chicago & Northwestern railroad.

SENSIBLE AND PROFITABLE. Shrewd Farmers Converting Corn into Fodder. The hopes of a substantial rise in corn, following the rise in wheat, which were engendered several months ago, have been disappointed.

POLITICAL DRIFT. The sixteen-eighths are out with an independent candidate for mayor of Boston.

There is fun ahead for the state Solons of old Kentucky. Nine women—and all women are beautiful in the eyes of the gallant colonels—are button-holing the lawmakers as candidates for state legislators.

Notwithstanding the collapse of municipal ownership in Philadelphia, in Boston it has brought about 50 per cent, and in Detroit the municipal waterworks, after 25 years of operation, has another 25 per cent cut in the cost if permitted to dispense with "political pensioners, superfluous bosses and useless clerks."

Some of our foreign admirers were exceedingly struck at the stipulation of speakers in the New York City campaign.

Down in a Virginia town there lives a lady named Mrs. Hilda, who is generally disliked by all the other lawyers in the place.

BLACKLISTING A CONSPIRACY. The Verdict in a Celebrated Case in Chicago. The justice of the jury's verdict for $21,656.33 in the case of ex-Conductor Ketcham against the Chicago & Northwestern railroad.

SENSIBLE AND PROFITABLE. Shrewd Farmers Converting Corn into Fodder. The hopes of a substantial rise in corn, following the rise in wheat, which were engendered several months ago, have been disappointed.

MADE OVER. An irritable man can be worked over into quite a fellow if he is fed properly.

SHALL HISTORY BE REVISITED? Brooklyn Eagle: The Thames through the bishop has spoken to the Hudson. We would that the Hudson with its revolutionary voices could speak to him.

New York Commercial Advertiser: It is altogether becoming that ambitious and college presidents should plead for international arbitration on religious and moral grounds.

Minneapolis Tribune: The talk of altering our historical text books in order to close on the past century has excited a feeling of contempt across the water and of derision in this country.

New York Sun: Bishop Doane of Albany delivered an address to the clergy of his diocese on the subject of the peace.

Yonkers Statesman: Jill—Is Gill a good judge of clear? Jill—I think he must be. He must have kept the best one.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Let's see, you must be Darlington's widow, didn't you?" "Yes."

Philadelphia North American: "There's mighty few perfect gentlemen nowadays," said the gambler of the old school.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

MADE OVER. An irritable man can be worked over into quite a fellow if he is fed properly.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.

Roll me a cigarette, Faddette. Ever my own dear girl, Faddette, my dear, And you make cigarettes like a Spaniard.