

LOOKING INTO THE HOSPITALS

Commission Wants to Know How Sick and Wounded Were Cared For.

KNOW ENOUGH ABOUT CAMPAIGN

Gets to Work at Huntsville, Where Many Santiago Veterans Are Now Quarantined - Weather Bad for Camp Inspection.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Oct. 26.—The war investigating commission today began the inspection of Camp Force, preparatory to the inquiry which will be instituted here later. The commissioners separated into parties of two for the purpose of inspection...

"We know all about the landing and the way the battles were fought," said General Dodge, "what we want now to know is how the sick and wounded were cared for."

In pursuit of this purpose a large number of surgeons will be called. The commissioners were greeted here by a mild snow storm and very muddy roads and decided to postpone the camp inspection and to begin the taking of testimony today.

The commission began the examination of witnesses today with General Louis H. Carpenter, who is in command in General Wheeler's absence. He had been at Chickamauga, Tampa and at Fernandina before coming here. He said that the camp at Chickamauga was too crowded. That at Tampa was unsatisfactory, but it was not deemed to be permanent. That at Fernandina was ideal. The food supply had been ample throughout, but quartermaster supplies were generally slow and there had been special trouble in securing tents. There was more difficulty in getting supplies at Tampa than elsewhere, because of railway congestion.

Volunteers Are Exacting.

Major Charles M. Gandy, the surgeon who was in charge of the medical supply depot at Tampa, said he had been able to fill all reasonable requisitions for medical supplies with promptness, but quartermaster supplies for which substitutes could be had were not supplied. Regular troops were easily satisfied, but the volunteers were exacting. Still, there were some delays and he mentioned one instance of supplies ordered from New York that were not received for two months. He had fitted out the Shafter expedition for Cuba and thought that in the main the expedition was fairly supplied. This was especially true of the first requisition. Half of the supplies he had on hand had been packed for Cuba and he had ordered a supplement shipment of two wagon loads. He had afterward heard that many of those stores came back to Tampa in the hold of the Troquais. He gave the name of Captain Munson as authority for this latter statement, and he was sure that Captain Munson would testify willingly and fully.

No Man Hungry.

During the afternoon session of the commission a number of officers who had served in the Santiago campaign and in Florida were examined. General G. S. Carpenter said the sick at Santiago had suffered somewhat on account of the deficiency of medicines and medical supplies, but this was the only deprivation of which he spoke. The troops did not receive full rations while in the field, but he was quite sure that no man in the command had gone hungry.

Captain George S. Cartwright, who had been aide to General Kent in the Santiago campaign, said that under the circumstances the commissary department had been quite efficient at Santiago. Lieutenant Farnsworth, general quartermaster at Santiago, gave the details of forwarding supplies and Lieutenant Garrison, chief commissary at Tampa, and Captain Thompson, who had held the position at Fernandina, told of the supplies at those two points. Mr. Farnsworth said that for a time it had been impossible to get full rations to the front. Messrs. Garrison and Thompson said the principal complaints they had heard about supplies concerned the bacon furnished.

Deaths Due to Premature Removal.

Major H. D. Thomson, surgeon of the Thirty-third Michigan, who had served in the general hospital at Montauk Point, after August 17, said that August there were 600 patients in the hospital and that there were eight in a tent. There were in the beginning of his service not sufficient cots and some men had to sleep on the blankets. Some of the members of the hospital corps were without training but he had known of but one instance in which hospital refuse was thrown out on the ground inside the tent. There were times when there were not a sufficient number of attendants. As a rule the surgeons were capable, but when he went into the institution there was a sad deficiency in numbers. He had heard no complaint of ill-treatment from patients, but there was criticism from outsiders. He thought deaths were caused by the removal of patients before they were in condition to be moved. Yet the removals were made to make place for others who were still sick and who otherwise would not have found a place in the hospital. In one instance he had been told to get 300 ready for removal, but when going through the hospital he had found only seventy fit to be moved and had demanded a written order. This order he did not get and therefore he removed only the seventy. He estimated that from 300 to 700 had been thus prematurely removed.

UNEARTH GERMAN INTRIGUES

Scheme to Secure Naval Stations at Both Ends of the Nicaragua Canal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—A special to the Journal from Washington says the State department has discovered a clever scheme on the part of the German government to acquire coaling stations or naval bases in both the Atlantic and the Pacific at points where they will come in direct conflict with the interests of this country when the Nicaragua canal is built. In this same connection the department has also unearthed what appears to be a breach of faith on the part of England toward the United States in Samoa.

Ever since the death of King Malleo the Germans have been running things in Samoa apparently independent of the triple protectorate exercised over it by the United States, Great Britain and Germany. Careful investigation has convinced the State department that Germany and England have made a secret compact, whereby the latter has agreed to the transfer of Samoa under the protectorate and has consented, for a consideration, to allow Germany to utilize the island as a coaling and naval station. While this pact between England and Germany is not an actual violation of the protectorate, it is yet practically a breach of faith on the part of England, because while professing the utmost friendliness to this country, it has given to its rival in the Pacific rights which may cause a serious clash. Germany is bent on securing naval stations as near to the proposed canal as possible. It has English ships in the canal and it is establishing a fleet on the Pacific end. For the eastern end it is working out a plan which may give the State department much trouble to circumvent. It is said that Germany is trying to secure a naval base at Santo Domingo. Should she succeed here the United States, which expects to build the canal, would find itself at a disadvantage at the outset. Porto Rico is to be the American naval base in the West Indies. It is admirably situated for this purpose, but should Germany secure a foothold in Santo Domingo it would be in a better strategic position for control of the canal than would this country. The republic of Santo Domingo is heavily in debt. Most of its bonds are held in Germany, and the kaiser expects to acquire a naval station by threatening foreclosure on his bonds. The president of Santo Domingo and Smithwood of New York, representing the applicants, who would be the customs revenues and stands responsible for the annual expenses of the republic, are holding conferences. Should it be disclosed that there is no other way to prevent Germany securing the coveted naval base, it is highly probable that the annexation of Santo Domingo to the United States will be promptly effected. It is asserted that annexation would be a small price for the United States to pay to prevent Germany acquiring a naval base at the very mouth of the canal.

YOUNG JAMES PUT ON TRIAL

Sentiment of Public Favorable to the Son of the Noted Missouri Outlaw.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—The trial of Jesse James, son of the noted outlaw, for complicity in the Missouri Pacific train robbery at Leavenworth, September 5, 1892, began in the criminal court here today. The day was spent in securing a jury. Prominent lawyers have been retained by both sides, a formidable array of witnesses has been subpoenaed and a battle royal is expected to ensue. Young James, who was up to the time of his arrest for alleged complicity in the robbery, had borne an excellent reputation, has excited great interest, and many of the best men in the city have come out in his defense. Chief of Police Sawyer's father-in-law declared that he has evidence sufficient to convict James. Frank James of St. Louis, uncle of the accused and brother of the famed Jesse James, is in the city to attend the trial.

Young James, James C. and R. L. Wofford, his attorney, were Judge John D. Wofford of the bench, alleging prejudice, thus necessitating a postponement. Judge Wofford promptly called in Judge Shackelford of Booneville, and set the case for next Monday.

REFUSE IN NAVIGABLE WATERS

Case Brought Up at Cleveland Which Will Establish Important Precedent.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26.—On application of the United States District Attorney Dodge Judge Ricks of the United States circuit court today granted a temporary injunction restraining the city of Cleveland from dumping river dredgings or other refuse into the lake, except by permission of the city authorities. The city authorities assert they will carry the case to the supreme court. The injunction, if made permanent at the final hearing, will set an important precedent at all points where it has been customary to dump refuse into navigable waters. In Cleveland it had been the custom for many years to dump all river dredgings ten or fifteen miles out in the lake from scows. It is alleged by the government that much of this refuse is washed back into the harbor.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Plea of Bankruptcy. PITTSBURG, Oct. 26.—Edward Grotzinger today entered a plea in bankruptcy, placing his assets at $225,253 and liabilities at $187,782. It is said the carpet firm composed of Edward Grotzinger and his son, Edward Grotzinger, jr., will not be affected. The petitioners' interest in the firm amounts to about $65,000. Mr. Grotzinger's failure was caused by his heavy endorsement of paper for his brother, A. Grotzinger, who failed last week.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Oct. 26.—Special Agent in Charge J. M. Fallon of the United States lake and refining plant here, owned by the Union Pacific railroad, it is reported, has been purchased by a company of New York, Chicago and Denver men, who will reopen the works. The property has recently been examined by an expert and a favorable report made upon it. The product of the soda lakes is sulphate of soda, which is used in enormous quantities in various manufacturing in the United States and at the present time sells for $9 a ton at New York. The soda taken from the Laramie lakes is almost chemically pure, the product containing 99.1 per cent of sulphate of soda. The area of the deposits is over 200 acres and the supply is believed to be inexhaustible.

BROKE A FLASK OF FIREWATER

And that is How the Reported Indian Uprising in Nevada Had Its Beginning.

AUSTIN, Nev., Oct. 26.—The reported Indian outbreak at Midas is greatly exaggerated. There is no danger at the present time. Friday an Indian named Ballard and a white man named McLeod took a load of hay to Midas. The Indian got drunk and was carrying a bottle of whiskey on the way home. The bottle broke and the Indian began to yell and threaten to kill him. On reaching the river the Indian wanted to get a rifle from John Schmalting, saying he wished to kill George Gooding, John Bowler and James Day. He could not get a rifle and started away for the time being, but later he found McLeod again and the latter in self-defense gave the Indian a terrible beating. The Indian was taken to Midas and placed in jail and is now in a very dangerous condition.

The Indians are greatly worked up over the affair and Ballard's brothers say that they will kill McLeod, but do not threaten others. The deputy sheriff at Midas asked the governor at Carson for arms and ammunition at the request of the people on Upper Reese river, who fear that the Indians may do mischief.

He entered the wilds of Alaska early in the spring and knew nothing of the war with Spain until his return to civilization. During his absence he was commissioned a captain in one of the immune regiments but was unable to reach the front. The reach of communication in the commission was not issued. He has returned, however, the original plan will be put into effect and he will be appointed a captain of one of the immune regiments destined for service in Cuba.

WILL STIMULATE SHIPMENTS.

General Manager Wilder of Swift and Company stated yesterday that he had received notice that the quarantine in Louisiana and Mississippi had been abolished. This, Mr. Wilder said, would have a tendency to advance the trade in the states mentioned, as the quarantine prevented in a great measure the shipments of meats from this point to the states bordering on the Gulf.

WANTS THE ALLEY GRADED.

J. B. Smiley has redrafted a petition for the grading of the alley between J and K streets and Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets. This petition came before the council early last spring but was sidetracked. Later on it came up and the city attorney was directed to draft an ordinance for the grading of the alley. When the ordinance came up on its final reading at the last meeting it was defeated. Smiley then secured the original petition and redrafted it. He says that he proposes to have the council grant the request of the taxpayers or keep the reason why. The persons who own property adjoining the alley are the ones who will pay the expense of the grading and he cannot see why councilmen from other wards who know nothing of the needs of the district should vote against the proposition.

Locate a Klondike.

The men employed in excavating at the west end of the Armour tract thought that they had struck a gold mine yesterday when flakes of a bright metal were found on the tracks where a drift from the cars had been flattened by the car wheels which were nearly as large as a dime and presented the appearance of gold. A sample was taken to a jeweler, where an acid test was made, and the metal was found to be a composition of iron and copper. The gold mine fever quickly subsided and the men employed on the grading quit staking out claims when the result of the test was made known.

In addition to this City Clerk Carpenter has had printed cards designating the places of registration and these will be displayed in the proper places on Friday.
