LINCOLN, July 29.—(Special.)—The official records of the three regiments of Nebraska volunteers, on file in the adjutant general's office, show that 120 Nebraska soldiers have met death in the service of their country.

The first regiment was the heaviest loser, having twenty-one men killed in action, fourteen deaths from wounds, twenty-three from disease and one from drowning.

These figures are compiled from the monthly reports from the three regiments and are nearly accurate. No record has been kept of wounds received. The last report from the first regiment was for the month of May, and no information of any casualties since that time has been received by the military authorities.

SEVEN MEN OVERAWE MINERS

Lieutenant Spaulding Fails Purpose of Reenacting to Jump Claims.

PLAN IS TO RELOCATE THE NOME DISTRICT

Meeting is Dispersed by Detail of Soldiers in Order to Prevent Bloodshed—Few Ocean Craft at St. Michaels.

ST. MICHAELS, July 17 (via San Francisco).—Lieutenant Spaulding, Third artillery, U. S. A., and his detail of twenty-five men, returned on July 17 from Nome, having been relieved by a squad of a like number, under command of Lieutenant Craigie of the Seventh regiment, which arrived last week on the St. Paul from San Francisco.

Regarding his action in dispersing the miners' meeting, Lieutenant Spaulding says: "For several days preceding the meeting I heard that it was the intention of those interested in the meeting to pass a resolution throwing open the district for relocation. Such action as this would no doubt have caused bloodshed, as men owning their claims would not have permitted outsiders to jump them, consequently when the meeting was called to order by a man named Clark and the resolution had been read, I addressed the chair, stating that I was there to represent the United States government and would not permit them to pass such a resolution; that if they persisted I would clear the hall. I had stationed in the rear end of the room six men and a sergeant, with drawn revolvers. If they attempted a disposition on the part of the miners to remain I ordered my men to clear the hall, which they did. Later several small crowds gathered in the street, which I also dispersed. The next day I learned on absolutely reliable authority that men were stationed on the brow of the hill back of the town, waiting for the signal that the resolutions had been adopted, when they would rush for the claims and retake them.

The men at the meeting, especially the ringleaders, were much incensed at me for upsetting their plans, and threats were made to lynch me, but here I am. Out of the crowd of 500 who attended the meeting, I do not believe there were more than 100 bona fide claim owners. Many of them were men who have been run out of old claims in Alaska and want to get back to the town, waiting for the signal that the resolutions had been adopted, when they would rush for the claims and retake them.

MOTORMAN WITH DYNAMITE Brooklyn Striker Arrested with the Dangerous Stuff in His Possession.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Francis J. Curran, formerly a motorman on the Second avenue trolley line, was arraigned today in police court and held in $1,000 bail on a charge of having dynamite in his possession.

The detective who arrested him alleged that Curran intended to cause an explosion on the Second avenue trolley tracks.

City Inspector of Combustibles Murray said to the police magistrate that he had examined the stick of dynamite found on Curran. It was ready for use, being fitted with fulminate of mercury, and would have exploded if a car had struck it.

He said that the explosion of the dynamite contained in the stick would have blown up the tracks, wrecked the car and killed all on board.

The lumber interests claim to be entitled to a rise in the price of lumber, as there has been many years since there has been such a demand as the present season has shown and even with the advancing prices the demand continues to exceed the supply.

Athletic Sir Edward Greif Future Leader of the English Liberal Party Preferring in Many Sporting Pastimes.

(Copyright, 1899, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, July 29.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Sir Edward Greif, the foreign under secretary in Gladstone's last government, who is now generally designated as the future leader of the liberal party, played this week for a gold racquet and the championship of the English amateur tennis players against A. H. Miles, the holder of the championship. The championship tennis is played on a flagged court and is more akin to racquets than lawn tennis.

Sir Edward, who at the last meeting was beaten by Miles by three sets, this time, after a most exciting struggle, won two sets out of five.

Sir Edward is proficient in many pastimes. He is considered one of the best shots in England and is an ardent fisherman and splendid lawn tennis and racquet player, having been the amateur champion of the factor game as well as tennis. He keeps in constant training, has a wiry, athletic figure and is more akin to racquets than lawn tennis.

VOYAGE OF A CENTENARIAN Alice McMahon Arrives in Queenstown on the Umbra and Relates Her Experience.

(Copyright, 1899, by Press Publishing Co.) QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, July 29.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—I boarded the steamship Umbra on its arrival from New York this morning to learn how centenarian Alice McMahon had borne the journey from America. She intended to land at Queenstown, but her trunk being in the hold she had to go on to Liverpool. Deeply distressed at being unable to put foot on Irish soil today, she cried bitterly. Her eyes are bright and her hair is scarcely gray, but her skin is shrunken like parchment and very yellow. Her mind wanders a little at times. She can read well with spectacles and proudly said:

"I was never sick a day in my life. I greatly enjoyed the voyage across. I was not sick. This big ship is very different from Dundalk sixty-nine years ago, taking eleven weeks for the passage. On the voyage this time we had fine weather, but at that time I had all kinds of weather.

"America was a queer place then, but I was very sorry to leave it now. I don't expect to go back. I shall die in my native country, Monaghan, and be buried with my family. Every one was very kind to me aboard. All treated me like a queen."

When the correspondent inquired if she had ever been in love the old lady laughed and knowingly replied: "Who told you that?"

Then, recollecting that she could not land at Queenstown, she burst out crying, while her niece did everything to soothe her as she would a child.

Suicide Follows Murder. GREENSBURG, Ind., July 29.—At 11 o'clock today William Randolph, 37 years old, residing near Clarkburg, ten miles northwest of this city, shot his stepfather, Wesley Beckover, in the left breast. Young Randolph then shot the muzzle of his revolver to his temple and fired a bullet into his brain. He died instantly. Mr. Beckover's condition is alarming.

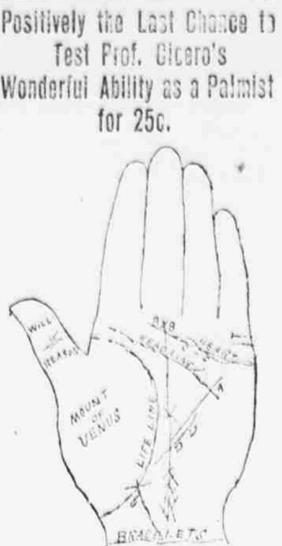

The Famous Food Delicacy Grape-Nuts.

Searching for some palatable, easily prepared dish for breakfast, it is like an inspiration to come across Grape-Nuts.

No cooking is needed. The food can be served instantaneously with a little cream or milk and the taste is that of the delicate crisp sweet of grape sugar, to be seen glistening on the small granules.

The grape sugar is produced from the starchy parts of the grains and is crystallized and deposited naturally during the processes of manufacture.

The taste of Grape-Nuts is most captivating. Don't let it lead you to eating more than 4 or 5 teaspoonfuls at any one time. The food is condensed and great volume is not required.

FALL BACK ON THE BOYCOTT

Rioting Gradually Subsides and Strikers Adopt Other Weapons.

BUSHNELL BELIEVES THAT STRIKE IS OVER

Discontented Employers Are Said to Be Hopelessly Beaten, but Militia Will Remain in Discretion of Axline.

CLEVELAND, O., July 29.—Although order has been practically restored within the city the railroad strike has received little aid from a general boycott of the Big Consolidated company and everybody who rides upon its cars.

The police have begun to deal with the rioters more severely. Hereafter, if they are again charged for misdemeanors, hereafter they will be charged with felony.

As a result of this fresh outbreak of lawlessness the plan to release the military force early next week will probably be abandoned and the soldiers retained for an indefinite period.

The explosive used was unusually powerful, the two rear wheels of the big car being broken and the axle and iron-work badly bent and twisted.

Cars were operated on several of the more important lines of the Big Consolidated company throughout the night, and today cars are moving on every line in the system.

Governor Bushnell has notified Adjutant General Axline, commanding the state troops here, that he entirely approves of his action in allowing soldiers to accompany a car to the Guard to perform special police duty.

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 29.—Governor Bushnell said today he had advised Governor Axline which lead him to believe the backbone of the Cleveland strike is broken.

The former strike occurred on Thursday, when about 200 stopped work. Having made no formal demands at that time Superintendent Gill induced them to return that same day and present any grievances. This they did, but toward last midnight they evidently grew impatient and about twenty-five stopped work.

Today all the boys in the main office went out and linemen and clerks were pressed into service. By noon the boys mounted on bicycles had visited all the branch offices and as many if not more than on Thursday have joined the strikers.

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—The Western Union messenger boys today went on strike for the second time this week and from all indications will remain out until the company agrees to their demands for higher wages or the boys' places are filled by others.
