

THE SOROSIS

TRADE MARK REGISTERED.

Masterpiece of the Shoemakers Art.

STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

A Perfect footwear at a fair price, and the best at any price.

SOROSIS

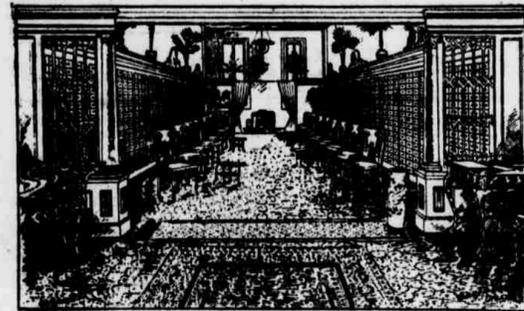

is helping to make American industries famous throughout the world.

Only in Europe are Sorosis Shoes sold for more than $3.50 (made necessary by the tariff duties). The price of Sorosis in this country remains $3.50, notwithstanding the reports circulated that they would be sold at $5 after October 1st.

AMERICAN WOMEN are quick to appreciate superior style, good value and sterling worth. Their phenomenal purchase of Sorosis shoes during the past four years is ample proof of their good judgment.

SINCE THE INTRODUCTION of Sorosis shoes into London, Paris and Berlin (where restrictive tariff duties have made it necessary to charge about $5 per pair) their sale has been wonderful. Sorosis shoes have completely reversed trade situations. Before their perfection imported shoes were largely sold in this country. Now the most eagerly sought for footwear in foreign cities is Sorosis, at a large advance in price over what you are privileged to buy them at in this country.

HOPE IS STRONG IN OHIO

Forsaker, Hanna and Others Open Campaign in Oberlin Vein.

ROOSEVELT HAS THEIR SOLID SUPPORT

All Come Out Emphatically for the "Let Well Enough Alone" Policy and for Its New Champion.

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 19.—The opening of the Ohio campaign here today by the republicans was considered the most largely attended for years. A feature of the occasion from the opening address of President Bushford to the closing speech of Senator Hanna was the appeal for the support of President Roosevelt. Governor Nash and Senators Forsaker and Hanna made addresses. When Senator Forsaker referred to President Roosevelt entertaining Prof. Booker T. Washington as a representative of the colored race there were demonstrations of approval by the many colored people in the crowd.

The great demonstration of the day was when Senator Hanna declared he did not intend to quit politics or resign as senator or chairman of the republican national committee. Mayor Johnson today mingled with his political opponents and was accorded a seat on the platform during the speaking. Senator Forsaker spoke as follows:

Forsaker on the Outlook.

"I have attended republican campaign openings in Ohio for twenty years. This is the greatest of them all. Everybody is here. Even sinners stricken with repentance; even Zacchaeus is in the tree (pointing to those in the trees) and he sees something that is coming our way. Although this is the first demonstration of this campaign, the enthusiasm is so noticeable as to show that the republicans of Ohio are determined that their verdict on November 5 shall be heard all over this country, for William McKinley and his policy and for his successor, Roosevelt. And he is a successor of whom we all may well be proud. If our democratic friends had only waited till today to hold their Ohio convention and write their platform, they would indeed have an issue; for day before yesterday President Roosevelt entertained at dinner Booker T. Washington, a representative of the colored race, and all over the country there are manifestations of democratic displeasure and even threat—we hear it given in their papers—that they will resign all the offices they hold. What a calamity that would be in Ohio, for they do not hold any here and in all human probability they never will."

There was a considerable demonstration when Forsaker concluded. Senator Hanna was next introduced and spoke as follows:

Hanna Cautions Contentment.

"I feel the inspiration of this hour. It is a republican day. This is republican weather. The bright sunshine has come through the gloom which has held over us like a pall for thirty days and more and in that time we have waited with bowed heads and aching hearts. Every prayer and ever tear came from the nation's heart and now that the time has passed when the flag is to remain at half-mast and can be again raised at the masthead, we are reminded of our duty. We are called into another line of duty and under these influences we feel the responsibility of good government."

"I will repeat my text of 1900. 'Let well enough alone.' We must acknowledge that the foundation of the prosperity which has come to us is the confidence that the people have in those who are controlling the destinies of this nation. And when you knock a single prop from under that structure you make a beginning which will end in the destruction of that confidence and bring us back again to the conditions of six years ago."

"Those are serious questions to every man; serious questions to our state and nation, and it is within our power to continue it as it is or to go back to the condition which Senator Forsaker has described."

"When President Roosevelt uttered those words to the American people which have been repeated here today he did it with the most serious intent to serve the best interests of his country and to insure and guarantee a continuation of this confidence among the people, and he meant every word of it."

"Let no yellow journals or blatant demagogues shake your faith in the conditions of this country today as affected by those who have the responsibility. I am not going to argue from politics or public duty. I have no intention of resigning my chairmanship of the national committee."

Will See Them Through.

"I am going to stay there and see Nash and Forsaker and others through if it takes ten years. This is no time to bring into this contest any side issues of state affairs, such as taxation, 3-cent fares, Henry George theories, or anything else of that kind.

CALEB POWERS MAKES DENIAL

Defendant Contradicts the Testimony of Culton and Gelles.

CASE WILL GO TO THE JURY THIS WEEK

Judge Cantrill Allows No Respite in the Proceedings, Though He Himself is Not in Good Health.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Oct. 19.—The defendant in the Caleb Powers trial occupied the court's time most of today and was still on the stand when adjournment was taken to Monday. John R. Ray, clerk to Appellate Judge White, was the first witness. He testified that an hour before Goebel was shot on January 30 Leader Guffy, the master of the court of appeals and son of Judge B. L. D. Guffy, said: "Goebel will never be governor. He will be shot before the general assembly meets this morning."

THIS IS GREAT WEEK AT YALE

Many Distinguished Guests Already Arriving at New Haven for Anniversary Festivities.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19.—This city today gave itself over to the proud university which tomorrow will begin the celebration of its 200th anniversary. The streets everywhere are flying the blue of Yale, intermingled with festoons of evergreen and in the center of the city scarcely a building is to be seen which is not decorated.

Many distinguished guests have arrived and every incoming train bears its quota of returning graduates and other visitors. The celebration proper opens tomorrow with exercises, religious and musical. On Monday there will be dedications, memorial services and addresses on law and medicine and the pronouncement of welcome by President Hadley. Monday night the spectacular procession will take place. Tuesday morning will be devoted to addresses; Tuesday afternoon is for the ball and the presentation of President Parker's oratorio, conducted by the author, and a concert by the Boston Symphony orchestra. Tuesday evening the college campus will be illuminated by 8,000 electric lights and the students will present an Elizabethan drama. That day's festivities will conclude with the singing of Yale songs, old and new, by graduates and students, including 3,000 voices, led by a band of huge proportions.

Wednesday, commemoration day, will afford the illustrious features of the bicentennial. President Roosevelt will be present to don the gown and hood of the doctorate of laws. The state's governor will be present and honorary degrees to the number of sixty will be conferred on men of letters and science of international reputation.

A musical program, dedications of new buildings and the farewell reception by President and Mrs. Hadley will conclude the season of Yale's greatest celebration.

PRINCESS HELD FOR FORGERY

Catherine Radswill Charged with Passing Paper with Bogus Signature of Rhodes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—Princess Catherine Radswill, the alleged robber of whose jewels from the Carlton hotel two years ago caused a big sensation, has been arrested at Capetown on a charge of uttering a promissory note for $10,000, with Cecil Rhodes' name forged as an endorsement. This princess is the Viennese wife of a Russian prince and should not be confused with the Princess Radswill of Mexican extraction.

A tradesman named Thomas Loug got judgment in Capetown a week ago against Princess Catherine for $5,750, money he had advanced on a promissory note for $10,000, drawn by her and purporting to have been endorsed by Cecil Rhodes, who pronounced the endorsement a forgery.

KIPLING IS AN ABSTAINER

Two Girls Reel Out of Public House and Teach Him the Lesson of Temperance.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.)

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—At Rottlingdean, on the Sussex coast, near Brighton, where Rudyard Kipling lives, it is said that Mrs. Kipling is the absolute ruler of the fire-eating post and everything appertaining to him; that he goes to his study and does his day's work in accordance with his better half's suggestion before any recreation is allowed him.

Kipling announces himself a temperance advocate. "I used to take a glass regularly," he says, "until one day, going along the streets of Manchester, I saw two 15-year-old girls reel out of a public house, stagger across the pavement and fall into the gutter. From that time I have been a total abstainer. So are all my household."

AN INTERNAL REMEDY.

A Pleasant Tasting Tablet—Simple, Convenient—Cures Every Form of Catarrh.

The use of inhalers, fouches, sprays, salves and powders for catarrh is a nuisance and inconvenience at the best and cannot compare with antiseptic remedies in tablet form for internal use. Internal remedies are the only ones which can really reach the seat of the disease, which is in the blood, and local applications can do more cure catarrh than rheumatism or kidney trouble, the excessive secretion in nose and throat being local manifestations of a deep-seated poison in the blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the most successful of the various internal remedies, is composed principally of highly concentrated antiseptics, which destroy the catarrh germs in the blood and cause them to be eliminated through the natural channels.

Progressive physicians use and advise Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because they contain no opium, no opiate, no enervating drug whatever, but are composed of Guaiacol, Hydrastin, Red Gum and similar catarrh antiseptics, and are so safe and pleasant that even little children may use them with excellent results.

Catarrh sufferers who have wasted time and money on local applications should not despair of a radical cure until a trial of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets has been made. A complete treatment may be purchased at any drug store for fifty cents.
