

Telephone 418-014. We close Saturdays at 6 p. m. Dec. 2, 1901.

Beautiful Bed Coverings....

Whether you're thinking of some body else Christmas, or of your own household needs, there's something here to please you. DOWN QUILTS—Pure, odorless down quilts like ours are the top luxury of bed covering. Prices $4.35, $6.50, $8, $10 each. WOOL FILLED COMFORTS—We just received a new shipment of the celebrated Merritt's Health Comforts. Physicians recommend them. Prices are $2.75 for 3 lbs., $3.75 for 4 lbs.—cheese cloth covered wool.

With extra silkoline cover, the prices are $4.75 and $5.75 each. Other wool filled comforts, with silkoline covers, we have at $2.50, $3.25, $4.00, $5.00 each. They are beautiful, every one of them.

THOMPSON, BEIDEN & Co.

land can be entered under the homestead act in tracts not exceeding eighty acres. Congressman Mendell of Wyoming today introduced the following bills: Appropriating $100,000 for the erection of a public building at Evanston, Wyo.; providing for the erection of a monument in the site of the Fort Phil Kearney massacre; providing for the exclusion of Chinese; providing for the medical care of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines.

HOUSE BEGINS BUSINESS

Speaker Henderson sworn in and an Army bill introduced. WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The opening day of the first session of the Fifty-seventh congress today furnished a spectacle that delighted the crowded galleries. The machinery of the house is set in motion by a noisy process, but the spectators today evidently did not consider it tedious, as they clung to their places through the entire proceedings, which lasted four and one-half hours, probably half the time being consumed in the monotonous calling of the roll.

The organization of the house was accomplished according to time-honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect.

The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

The organization of the house was accomplished according to time-honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect.

The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

The organization of the house was accomplished according to time-honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect.

The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

The organization of the house was accomplished according to time-honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect.

The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

The organization of the house was accomplished according to time-honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect.

The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

The organization of the house was accomplished according to time-honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect.

The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

proposed a government built and maintained in tracts not exceeding eighty acres. Congressman Mendell of Wyoming today introduced the following bills: Appropriating $100,000 for the erection of a public building at Evanston, Wyo.; providing for the erection of a monument in the site of the Fort Phil Kearney massacre; providing for the exclusion of Chinese; providing for the medical care of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines.

Among the other measures introduced were: By Mr. Sulzer of New York, protesting against the conduct of the war in South Africa. By Mr. Thayer of Massachusetts and Mr. Brownlow of Ohio, removing the duty on hides.

By Mr. Orey of Virginia, giving a tobacco bounty to soldiers. By Mr. Cousins of Iowa, to repeal the bankrupt law. By Mr. Fowler of New Jersey, to create a reciprocity commission.

By Mr. Hartshorn of Missouri, giving the right of citizenship to the Chinese. By Mr. Kempf, rear admiral at Taku, China, also to punish frauds at election of congressmen; also to make February 12 Lincoln's birthday, a national holiday.

By Mr. Flynn of Oklahoma, granting statehood to Oklahoma. By Mr. Jones of Washington, for a commission to investigate trade with China and Japan.

New Cabinet Portfolio. By Mr. Brownlow of Tennessee, creating a cabinet portfolio for labor and manufacturing; also amending the constitution as to define assaults on the president.

By Mr. Stephens of Tennessee, for the justice of the supreme court, and giving congress power to fix salaries. By Mr. Levering of Massachusetts, providing for a flexible currency, responsive to the needs of the country.

By Mr. McDermott of New Jersey, joint resolution amending the constitution so that the president may be impeached by the house of representatives.

By Mr. Moody of Massachusetts, for the protection of colored citizens against lynching. By Mr. Rucker of Missouri, to exempt wire nails, wire barbed wire, etc. from duty.

Defeat Fifteenth Amendment. By Mr. Kitchin of North Carolina, constitutional amendment repealing the fifteenth amendment also constitutional amendment forbidding any appropriation for sectarian purposes.

By Mr. Stephens of Tennessee, for the income and inheritance taxes. By Mr. Hopkins of Illinois, for a permanent census bureau.

By Mr. Shaforth of Colorado, constitutional amendment for woman suffrage. By Mr. Cushman of Washington, for election of United States senators by popular vote.

By Mr. McCleary of Minnesota (bill No. 1), to make oleomargarine subject to the laws of the state to which it is transported and to change the tax on oleomargarine.

By Mr. Rucker of Missouri, admitting New Mexico as a state. By Mr. Towney of Minnesota, increasing the tax on oleomargarine.

Maintain Money Parity. By Mr. Littlefield of Maine, amending and making more effective the act to protect trade against monopolies, etc., requiring the certificate of corporations to file reports with the secretary of the treasury.

By Mr. Overstreet of Louisiana, to maintain the parity of the money of the United States. By Mr. Cushman of Washington, prohibiting the location of mining claims in Alaska.

By Mr. Kahn of California, for the designation of certain points on the boundary for the admission of new states.

By Mr. Curtis of Kansas, for the punishment of persons guilty of killing the president of the United States.

friend and brother, our father and the cheer of the nation, by the hand of the assassin. "O Lord, God, let Thy pity and grace come to all the people of this land by reason of this unspeakable calamity. And as Thy servant, the widow, sits alone and bereft may Thy comfort and consolation come to her.

Death Invades the Chamber. "And grant, O Lord, that we may duly feel the loss and sorrow attendant upon the departure from earth of our father, this body, a senator from South Dakota. Hear our devout prayers in behalf of Thy servant, the senior senator from New Jersey (Mr. Sewell) and grant that the means may be used for his recovery to health which may be best; and may he come to his place upon this floor again crowned with Thy loving kindness.

"Grant Thy grace to every member of this body and to all who are dear to them, and so may the spirit of our Father, our Father, be with us all now and evermore. Amen."

Credentials were presented of Charles H. Deitrich and Joseph H. Millard of Nebraska, Alfred H. Kitttridge of South Dakota and Paris Gibson of Montana. Mr. Frye administered to them the oath of office.

House and President Notified. Formal resolutions were offered by Mr. Cullom of Illinois that the house be notified that the senate was ready to proceed to business; by Mr. Allison that the hour of meeting of the senate be 12 o'clock noon.

By Mr. Hale of Maine that a committee of two senators be appointed to join a similar committee of the house to inform the president that congress was in session and prepared to receive any message he might desire to submit.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama was named as the committee. Mr. McLaughlin of North Carolina offered a joint resolution authorizing the importation free of duty of articles intended to be exhibited at the Charleston exposition and the transfer of the government exhibition at the Buffalo exposition to the Charleston exposition.

Mr. Hoar objected to immediate consideration, saying it was the universal practice of the senate to transact no business until the president had been informed that congress was prepared to receive his message. A resolution was withdrawn temporarily.

Recess was taken until 2 o'clock, but no report of the organization of the house having been received at that time, Mr. Gamble of South Dakota formally announced the death of Senator Kitchin at that time, July 1 last. He offered the usual resolution, expressive of the sorrow of the senate, and after its adoption the senate as an additional mark of respect adjourned until tomorrow.

HOUSE IS CALLED TO ORDER. Alexander McDowell Opens the New Session in the Hall of Representatives. WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The very handsome interior of the hall of representatives seemed much to the pleasure of the members of the general scene at the south end of the capitol, when Alexander McDowell of Pennsylvania called the new house of representatives to order at noon today.

The vast chamber had been repaired, repainted and completely refurnished during the recess. Many changes have been made for the comfort of both the members and spectators. The floor had been elevated to a greater angle, the new mahogany desks raised her on tier, making a sort of amphitheater effect.

At the conclusion of the roll call, showing 318 members present, Mr. Cannon of Illinois nominated David B. Henderson of Iowa and Mr. Hay of Virginia nominated Mr. Richardson of Tennessee for speaker. A roll call for the members of the house followed. The vote for speaker was: Henderson, 199; Richardson, 149; Stark of Nebraska, 1; Cummings of New York, 1.

Mr. Henderson was declared elected and was escorted to the chair by the other three men voted for. He made a brief speech. When the members had been sworn the formal resolutions were adopted and Mr. Daltzell offered a resolution to adopt the rules of the Fifty-sixth congress.

Richardson and Mr. Hepburn were each given five minutes and the previous question was then demanded. Every chair except those in the diploma and executive galleries was occupied when at 12 o'clock Mr. McDowell, clerk of the house, brought his gavel down, the buzz of conversation ceased and the clerk announced that prayer would be offered.

Prayer by Chaplain. The members and many of the spectators arose and stood with bowed heads as Rev. Couden, the blind chaplain, invoked the divine blessing. The prayer was as follows: "Almighty and ever-loving God, our Father and our God, Thy servant, the widow, sits alone and bereft may Thy comfort and consolation come to her."

Death Invades the Chamber. "And grant, O Lord, that we may duly feel the loss and sorrow attendant upon the departure from earth of our father, this body, a senator from South Dakota. Hear our devout prayers in behalf of Thy servant, the senior senator from New Jersey (Mr. Sewell) and grant that the means may be used for his recovery to health which may be best; and may he come to his place upon this floor again crowned with Thy loving kindness.

"Grant Thy grace to every member of this body and to all who are dear to them, and so may the spirit of our Father, our Father, be with us all now and evermore. Amen."

Credentials were presented of Charles H. Deitrich and Joseph H. Millard of Nebraska, Alfred H. Kitttridge of South Dakota and Paris Gibson of Montana. Mr. Frye administered to them the oath of office.

House and President Notified. Formal resolutions were offered by Mr. Cullom of Illinois that the house be notified that the senate was ready to proceed to business; by Mr. Allison that the hour of meeting of the senate be 12 o'clock noon.

By Mr. Hale of Maine that a committee of two senators be appointed to join a similar committee of the house to inform the president that congress was in session and prepared to receive any message he might desire to submit.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama was named as the committee. Mr. McLaughlin of North Carolina offered a joint resolution authorizing the importation free of duty of articles intended to be exhibited at the Charleston exposition and the transfer of the government exhibition at the Buffalo exposition to the Charleston exposition.

Mr. Hoar objected to immediate consideration, saying it was the universal practice of the senate to transact no business until the president had been informed that congress was prepared to receive his message. A resolution was withdrawn temporarily.

Recess was taken until 2 o'clock, but no report of the organization of the house having been received at that time, Mr. Gamble of South Dakota formally announced the death of Senator Kitchin at that time, July 1 last. He offered the usual resolution, expressive of the sorrow of the senate, and after its adoption the senate as an additional mark of respect adjourned until tomorrow.

of Indiana countered by asking if the McClellan resolution offered at the democratic caucus last Saturday would command forty votes on the democratic side.

Hepburn Sees a Point. Mr. Hepburn, in a five-minute speech, said that his views on the subject of the rules had been entertained by him for many years. He had even attempted to secure their modification in the Fifty-third congress, which was democratic, and upon that occasion Mr. Richardson himself had bitterly opposed the change. This ally raised a shout of laughter on the republican side.

Mr. Daltzell moved the previous question, which was ordered 176 to 143. Mr. Richardson moved to commit the resolution to the committee on rules, which was lost 112 to 185.

The resolutions then were adopted. Twelve o'clock noon, was fixed as the daily hour of meeting. Then under a resolution offered by Mr. Steele of Indiana the case, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their care in this country, established a permanent branch of the institute in this city at...

Give Veterans Choice Seats. Before the drawing began Mr. Sherman of New York asked unanimous consent that Mr. Gorton of Pennsylvania, an ex-speaker of the house, and Mr. Bingham of Pennsylvania, the father of the house, be allowed to select their seats without drawing.

Similar requests were made from the republican side in behalf of Mr. Richardson and Mr. Cremer of New York, who was a member of the Forty-third congress. The requests were acceded to.

The name of Mr. Wachter (republican) of Maryland was the last called. The seat drawing concluded, the speaker assigned the contested election cases from Alabama, Kentucky and Missouri to elections committee No. 1, those from North Carolina, Ohio and South Carolina to No. 2, and those from Virginia to No. 3.

The following committee on mileage was appointed: Messrs. Reeder (republican), Kansas; Stewart (republican), New York; Blaney (republican), Maryland; Leeds (democrat), Georgia; and Butler (democrat), Missouri.

Mr. Gorton of Pennsylvania, an ex-speaker of the house, and Mr. Bingham of Pennsylvania, the father of the house, be allowed to select their seats without drawing. Similar requests were made from the republican side in behalf of Mr. Richardson and Mr. Cremer of New York, who was a member of the Forty-third congress. The requests were acceded to.

Stark is Nominated. The roll of members-elect then was called by states, amid an ever-increasing uproar of voices, as conversation became general throughout the hall. When the clerk announced that 318 members were present, Mr. Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the republican caucus, placed in nomination Alexander Henderson of Iowa, and also a general appeal from the entire republican membership.

Mr. Hay of Virginia, chairman of the democratic caucus, to loud democratic applause, presented the name of Mr. Richardson of Tennessee. A great laugh for the name of Nebraska placed in nomination Mr. Stark of his own state, who now is the only other populist acting independently.

Messrs. Rumpel (rep.) of Iowa, McClellan (dem.) of New York, and McLaughlin (rep.) of North Carolina were also named. The result was: Henderson, 199; Richardson, 149; Stark, 1; Cummings of New York, 1.

Henderson Takes Chair. Messrs. Richardson, Stark and Cummings were appointed a committee to escort the speaker to the chair. As General Henderson approached the speaker's chair, Mr. Richardson the speaker was greeted with a great outburst of applause from both sides of the house. Mr. Richardson introduced him in half a dozen words.

The speaker addressed the house briefly, saying: "Members of the House of Representatives: This high honor which you have conferred upon me I profoundly appreciate. All that I desire is to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a presiding officer to express his appreciation of the confidence of his constituents and faithful administration of the law and the rules that govern this body. I will be glad to accept of the confidence of the members of this house, and I will be glad to do my duty as it does, with this generous expression of confidence from you. There is left yet another method for a